GOOD NEWS FROM HOME.—If George Edwards, who was last heard of six years ago when on his way to Kingston, will send us his address we can put him on the track of money which has been lying for him in Ireland for some time.

DEATH IN LOCOMOTION.—Yesterday the third son of Mr. John McRory, ex M.P., of Longhboro, died from typhoid fever. He was first taken ill with measles. He was about 17 years of age. Mr. McRory and his family will be deeply sympathized with in their affliction.

YOUNG THIEVES.—This afternoon at 3 o'clock the two little lads who stole the pipes and purses from George McGowan's show case were brought before the Magistrate. The lads, only about 8 years of age, were too young for imprisonment. They were sent below and will receive gentle admonition with a birch rod.

THE SEALING OF BY-LAWS.—T. L. Snook made mention to day at the Police Court of the fact that all by-laws passed by the Council should be signed and sealed in the presence of the Aldermen in session. This has not been the custom. Few be laws are ever sealed in the Council. Few would be of effect if they were found to be illegal on this ground.

STRUCK BY A BLOW.—Miss Horeback, of Marvale, was stepping between two freight cars at Sharbot yesterday, she got her dress entangled in the draw bar and as she jumped off the couplers was thrown down. Her head came in contact with the rail. She was stunned and suffered much from nervousness. Drs. Couthe and Hickey waited upon her. She was able to reach home safely last evening.

TAMPER TO PERTH.—The Ontario & Quebec R.R., from Sharbot Lake to Perth, is being pushed through as fast as possible. Hundreds of men are on the line. By the end of July trains will be running over the line. A grand blow out is expected at Sharbot Lake or Perth, when the line is opened. A through passenger train from Kingston to Sharbot Lake to connect will be put on the K. & P. R.R.

GREAT STORMS.—The storm on Saturday morning was very severe in the surrounding country. At Clayton, N.Y., a barn belonging to D. G. Dury, containing eighty tons of hay and forty three head of cattle, was struck by lightning and consumed. A dwelling was also struck at Cape Vincent. The lightning struck a house in Watertown occupied by one Heyster and passed through a room occupied by three children, who were unharmed. At Black River a chair factory was burned.

A GAME OF BILLIARDS.—On Saturday evening there was an interesting billiard match at the Windsor Hotel. It was witnessed by many persons, and was between the genial Martin O'Brien and General Tom Thumb. The little midget handled his cue in a professional manner. Some of his shots were remarkably brilliant. He beat Martin at every game, even in the two in which he was allowed liberal discounts. It was amazing to see the little man mounted upon a box pinching the balls about in a lively manner. In many instances he used the billiard rest. General Tom and his party may spend the summer in our city.

It is expected that the vote will be taken about the 1st June, and if the $10,000 shall be granted, work will at once be commenced and the branch be in running order towards the latter part of the summer.

SALVATION ARMY NOTES.

What Was Made at the Banquet—Barrack Scheme Being Abroad—Amusement Services on Tuesday.

A crowd had collected at the City Hall on early on 6 o'clock last evening.

On Tuesday night a chicken gave Abbie a chance for $100. She thinks that sort of thing can't be repeated too often.

If the barracks go up on Queen Street, as proposed, good-bye to the opening and extension of Bagot Street for a number of years.

Captain Abbie says she doesn't see any objections to an invitation to tea, and if a subscription of $50 to her barracks is thrown in she won't protest.

Up to the 1st April the Army paid some $20 for the use of the City Hall. Abbie thought she was going to get it for nothing, but she did not calculate upon such little incidentals as the gas bills.

Some $600 have been paid on the lot for the barracks. It has been borrowed. Abbie expects the people to be liberal in order that she may be able to recoup her friends as soon as possible.

If Lieut. Kyerson were free to accept engagements as a tambourine player she would command about $75 per week. In the Salvation Army she is content with as many cents.

On Saturday night it was announced that on the banquet night the cash receipts (sale of supper and admission tickets) amounted to $874. There was promised, in subscriptions to the building fund, $600. The total sum was $1474.

Lieut. Kyerson says the Salvation Army has great reason to be thankful for the manner in which they have been treated in Kingston. None of the officers have been arrested as the officers elsewhere have been.

The Captain says the success of the movement is enough to make her feel big and give her a touch of pride, but she prays God to keep her small. For a little woman she had made quite a stir in the community.

Captain Abbie says she supposes by and bye some people will want the Mayor to suppress the Salvationists, but she doesn't think His Worship will listen to them. She knows he's going to help them right along, hallelujah!

Only some $20 or $30 of the amount promised for the erection of the barracks have been paid. Capt. Abbie reminds the people that their promises must be redeemed before the 1st June. Any one who finds it troublesome to send her the money will be called upon.

The band did not play in the streets yesterday afternoon. It met the procession from the Market Square at the door of the City Hall. It has improved so much as to be capable of giving sacred overtures while the collection is being taken up.

The Salvation Army's officers say they are not like quack doctors who advertise something and offer you to persons in California and England for cures. The remedy for sin is always convenient, and so are the references. Every soldier proclaims the efficacy of the cure.

Lieut. Kyerson, as she entered Portsmouth on Friday evening, was asked if she didn't like to attend prayers. She replied that she did not like anything which was not in accordance with her commission, that a soldier cannot indulge in play when on duty. She's right, and I'm glad she ever joined the Army.

PAY UNION REACHED AT LAST.

The Gurney case was decided at the Police Court this morning. As usual there were some interesting scenes and the sparks flew between the counsels. It is presumed, said a court of fool, that T. L.'s belligerent attitude is the result of his connection with the Salvation Army. He contended that the by law was abrogated by the statutes passed since 1880. The Magistrate, in finding Gurney guilty, and fining him $7 and costs remarked that much of the time of the courts and officials had been occupied and a great amount of unnecessary and most harsh language had been used. The City Commissioner had only done his duty he had acted only as he should do considering his position. It would have been unfair to others who paid their licenses to overlook defendant, whose own evidence showed his willingness to pay the amount previous to his licence being refused for 1883-84. The City Solicitor had only done what he ought. He was there to prosecute and his conduct was perfectly right. The Magistrate imposed a higher fine than he would otherwise have done owing to the way in which the case had been conducted. The fine was to be paid forthwith, or in default by distress, defendant would have to go for a term of 20 days to the county gaol. T. L. Snook was informed that the usual time for appeal would be granted.

LAYING THE STONE.

HAVE KINGSTONIANS ON AN EXCURSION TO SHARBOTT LAKE TO WITNESS AN INTERESTING CEREMONY.

A Village Crowded With People—A Beautiful Spot for a New Church—The Money on Hand—Homeward Voyage—Arrival in the City at 7 o'clock.

Yesterday morning at 8:45 o'clock a special train, consisting of eleven cars, left the K. & P. RR. station, drawn by two engines. The cars, only six of which were coaches, were crowded with about 600 Kingstonians, whose objective point was Sharbott Lake, where the foundation stone of the new Roman Catholic Church was to be solemnly laid by His Lordship Bishop Cleary. The morning was bright and beautiful and the air warm and balmy. It was a genuine May day. The train was run at a rapid rate considering the great load of human freight the engines had to draw. Halts were made at many stations along the way and delegates of ardent Catholics taken aboard. Bedford junction turned out the largest number. Sharbott Lake was reached about noon and the village was found alive with people. The main street, down which the railway runs, was crowded. Perry's hotel was jammed full. The town from Flower Station and points inwards brought about 300 persons, those together with the villagers, navvies and others from the surrounding country and the Kingston company made the number of visitors nearly 1,300. Soon after their arrival a procession was formed of acolytes, priests and people. His Lordship followed in the rear dressed in full pontifical robes and supported on right and left by Fathers McWilliams and Spratt. The choir of St. Mary's Cathedral were in attendance and rendered an appropriate processional hymn.

THE PROCESSION MOVED

eastward from the village, up an acclivity and soon came upon the ground which had been generously donated for church purposes by Wm. Doran Esq. The site is about an acre in extent and from it a charming view can be had both front and rear. To prevent the view being obstructed Mr. Doran donated the property immediately in front which runs to the water's edge. The view is delightful, the many verdant islands can be seen to advantage and the village, which promises yet to be an important junction, is also overlooked. The spot is a fitting one for a church. Father Dwyher who has been indefatigable in his labors to push forward the scheme of an edifice, went out on Friday to prepare for yesterday's ceremonies and well he performed his duties. On the highest point a board erection was put up and inside of this an altar was arranged. It was nicely decorated and had all the ornaments usually found in the church. The outside was dressed with flags and evergreens and on the summit stood a high cross of evergreens. Several Sisters of the House of Providence made the decorations. The Bishop, priests and acolytes were conducted to the sanctuary, where Mass was immediately performed in the presence of a great company. The choir standing upon a rocky promontory rendered the following effective.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

Agnus—Haydon.
Gloria—Farmer.
Credo—Credo.
Sanctus—J. D.
Benedictus—Sanctus.
Gloria Patri—Gounod.
Agnus Dei—Haydon.

Prof. DesRochers performed effectively upon the organ, and the solo singers were Mayor Touchbornt, Mrs. O'Reilly, Messrs. J. Bajus and C. Kane.

At the conclusion of the Mass His Lordship advanced to the front of the constructed sanctuary and for a short time addressed the multitude. He spoke of God's commission to His twelve Apostles who went out into the world to preach and baptise in His name. The commission given the apostles has been handed down to their successors, and it was the Church's duty to plant the cross everywhere. He stated that he was present to bring Jesus Christ to the people, for where the Church is there He shall be. The foundation stone was to be laid, a beautiful structure reared, and on its summit would be the cross telling the people that Jesus abode within. He intended to send them a priest to dwell among them, and it would be his duty to be a father and a friend, to comfort and visit them in sickness and sorrow, and to anoint and prepare them for death. He intended to make Sharbott Lake the head of a mission, and services would be held at Palmerston and Mississippi at frequent intervals. He testified his delight at taking the gospel to the people.

LAYING THE STONE.

The company then reversed their positions and crowded towards the right corner where a huge granite stone, about 22 inches thick and 40 inches wide was lying. It was a fine looking stone and properly prepared. A platform was erected near the rock. His Lordship, priests and attendants proceeded to the spot, and, after a short service, the stone was crossed on each side and sprinkled with water. In an orifice at the top was placed a bottle containing a Latin inscription of which the following is a translation:

"On the day before the Nones of May in the year of our Lord, 1883; the sixth of Leo XIII, Christ's Vicar, happily ruling his Church, and forty-sixth of Queen Victoria possessing the throne of Great Britain and Ireland in peace; the Most Illustrious and Most Reverend Lord James Vincent Cleary, Bishop of Kingston and local ordinary, in the third year of his Pontificate, in presence of a numerous assemblage of clergy and people blessed with solemn rite and laid this Primary stone of the Church of St. James, the greater Apostle, near the Lake, commonly called Sharbot, in the County of Frontenac, in the Dominion of Canada."

LAYING THE STONE.

A few coins of the realm were also placed in the stone. The Bishop then laid the bottle in the receptacle and poured the cement around it, and over it, placing a capping stone and cementing it down. His Lordship announced that the stone was well and truly laid and invited the people to lay their offerings upon it. He led by a donation of $100 towards the building fund. John Ryan and Company gave $100. Mrs. W. E. Whalen presented a hammer, decorated with ribbons, which was used for tapping the stone. Mrs. W. Irwin, Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Howes waited upon the table where the money was conveyed. For upwards of an hour the money poured in. The day's offering amounted to over $600. Father Twohey has now over $1,600 in cash with which to build the church. He thinks it will cost $2,400 and he will have that amount by the date of the dedication. The size of the church has not been determined. The day's ceremonies concluded without accident. On the return trip Kingston was reached at 7:20 o'clock.

LIST OF COMMITTEE MEN.

The following composed the Sharbot Lake Committee having charge of the arrangements: Messrs. W. Doran, W. M. Irwin, W. Venn, W. E. Whalen, J. Flood, P. Carley, — Stone, J. Byron, T. Clark.

The following were the Kingston committee men: Messrs. P. Smith, P. Walsh, J. L. Smith, A. Hanley, P. Daly, W. Duffy, J. J. Tobin, W. Leahy, J. McMahon, J. O'Brien.

Both Committees worked well and the day's programme was carried out without a jar. The Kingstonians looked well after the excursionists and succeeded in getting them comfortably in the cars both outward and inward. Everybody was satisfied with their endeavors to make the trip enjoyable.

BROCK STREET CHURCH.

On the fourth page of this issue we give a synopsis of the last sermon of Rev. A. Wilson, in the Brock Street Presbyterian Church. He announced last evening that on Sunday next the pulpit will be occupied by a stranger pursuant to his appointment, and that on the Sunday following the Rev. Mr. Leishman will declare the pastorate vacant. Mr. Wilson said he found it would be impossible to wait upon the members of the Church, and bid them adieu as he would like, that they would have to take the will for the deed. His induction in connection with the Carlton Street Church, Toronto, was fixed for the 17th at 8 o'clock. He would still be in the same Synod, and not so far away that he could not drop down occasionally and see how they prospered.

ROYAL COLLEGE AHEAD.

W. G. Anglin and J. F. Kidd, graduates of the Kingston Medical College, stood the highest of all those who went up for examination before the Medical Council. They succeeded in taking honours in eight out of nine subjects. This speaks volumes for the instruction given at the Royal College in this city. W. G. Anglin sails on Thursday for Liverpool. Thence he goes to London to walk the hospitals. J. F. Kidd goes to a place near Ottawa, where he will enter partnership with a physician in good practice.

WILLIAM DAVID

is now in business again keeping a beer shop in the place formerly occupied by Mr. Dennis, next to Robinson's carriage shop. Wm. David has on hand a large assortment of household goods. All he wants is the people to come in—he is sure to sell. He has a lot of new clothing, tweed suits for $6.75; navy blue and diagonal pants $1.85.
