CANTYRE CASE.

How the Pair Were Married—Lying About Miss Chaffey's Age—Legal Argument

The true inwardness as to how the marriage of Miss Chaffey with the famous Lord Cantyre alias Allan took place has at last transpired in the evidence which was taken on Tuesday at Montreal in the case of the young lady's guardians against "His Lordship" to annul the marriage, which goes to prove that a deliberate lie was told, first to the issuer of the marriage license, and again to the Rev. Mr. Galbraith. On behalf of the guardians five witnesses were examined by W. H. Kerr, Q.C., among them being the two Misses Senkler, daughters of the Judge, one of the guardians, who deposed that they were with Miss Chaffey and Allan continually, and that they heard nothing of the marriage at Batavia, which also Mr. R. W. Richards, one of the guardians, proved that Miss Chaffey on coming of age would be ENTITLED TO $170,000.

He also proved that his brother was never present in Perth during Allan's visit and consequently could not have given any consent to the marriage.

Mr. F. J. Reynolds, Barrister, of Brockville, proved the law of Ontario, and that the consent of the guardians was necessary to the marriage under the will of Miss Chaffey's father. S. Lebervean, Advocate, testified that the Saturday of Carnival week Allan called upon him and consulted him as to the necessary proceedings to be taken in order to be married at once. Witness told him that if he did not wish the banns published he would have to get a license, and in such case two bondsmen would be necessary. After some conversation this plan was decided upon, and the services of the carter who was driving "His Lordship" and another were enlisted for this purpose. They then went to the office of J. M. M. Duff, Issuer of Licenses, when Mr. Lebervan introduced Allan to Mr. Duff's clerk, where he left him. In a short time Allan returned to his lawyer's office, stating that a hitch had occurred, as he stated to the license clerk that the lady was under twenty one years of age, and that in consequence the license could not be issued.

ANOTHER SLY MOVE.

They next visited Mr. Cushing's office in company with witness, to whom the representation was made that the young lady was over twenty one years of age. The license being obtained the next move was to look for a minister, and the Rev. Mr. Galbraith having been decoded upon, the party proceeded to his residence, where he No. 2 was told in answer to a question of the reverend gentleman as to whether Miss Chaffey was of age or not. The marriage was then duly performed in presence of witness and the carter, after which Cantyre and his bride proceeded in the direction of the city, witness leaving them thereupon.

Joseph Dentre, Q.C., who represented Allan, declined to cross examine any of the witnesses, so that the argument will be entirely on the law issue as far as the defendant's case is concerned.

The Sting Within.

It is said there is a rankling thorn in every heart, and yet that none would exchange their own for that of another. Be that as it may, the sting arising from the heart of a corn is real enough, and in this land of tight boots a very common complaint also. Dyman's Painless Corn Extractor is a never failing remedy for this kind of heartache, as you can easily prove afflicted. Cheap, safe, painless. Try the genuine and use no other. N. C. Polson & Son, Kingston, props.

Like all sterling remedies, Northrup & Lyman's Vegetable and Dyspeptic Cure deserves a fair trial. It would be absurd to suppose that this or any other medicine of kindred nature could produce instantaneous effects. For the thorough removal of chronic dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and other ailments to which it is adapted, its use should be continued some time, even after the chief symptoms are relieved. That it then effects complete cures is a fact established by ample and respectable evidence.

Persons of weakly constitution derive from Northrup & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda a degree of vigor obtainable from no other source, and it has proved itself a most efficient protection to those troubled with hereditary tendency to consumption. Mr. Bird, Druggist, of Westport, says: "I have a man whom one was considered hopeless, and by the use of three bottles of this Emulsion his weight was increased twenty pounds."

Be Advised in time, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple back ache now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent these unfortunate results. Take it at once. Any druggist will have it.

Mr. C. P. Brown, Crown Land Agent, Sault Ste. Marie, writes: "Two or three of my friends and myself were recommended to try Northrup & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, in preference to Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. We prefer your Emulsion, and think it better for the system than the Syrup." &c.

Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, Warren Co., N.Y., writes: She has been troubled with asthma for four years, had to sit up night after night with it. She has taken two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and is perfectly cured. She strongly recommends it, and wishes to act as agent among her neighbors.

A. Mayton, Merchant, Wentworth, writes I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public "one of the best medicines they have ever used;" it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, etc., and is worthy of the greatest confidence.

For all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters are unsurpassed. They strengthen the whole muscular system, give a healthy complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite and arouse into healthy action the whole physical energy of the human frame.

SEASONABLE ESSAY.

Putting Down a Carpet—What it Means to the Man Who Attempts it—Hire an Expert.

(Milwaukee Sun.)

The pens of some of the most learned and able writers of the age have been directed to showing up the horrible suffering a man endures putting up stoves, fitting stove-pipe, and other delightful and refreshing household duties, but the giant labor which devolves upon many men about this time of the year, of putting down a carpet has not received the attention it deserves. If you see a man on the street at this season, with a weary, sad, dejected look, on his face, his back bent forward and weak, his thumbs and fingers wrapped up in rags saturated in arnica, and who walks with an uncertain, limping halt, like a knee sprung horse, it is pretty safe to believe that he has just been through the annual tug for all wrestling match with a carpet. Just at this time this country is fairly swarming with unfortunate men who have been down on their knees for the first time in a year, and who swear more than they can repent of in a years time. There is probably no other household duty that devolves upon a man that he so heartily despises as that of tying his legs up in a double bow knot, jumping up in a little wad over a carpet, and striving between gasps for breath and muttered imprecations to hit a little insignificant tack in the corner of a room. The tack persists in standing on its head just at the time when the man plies the hammer with a frenzied effort, and he stops a moment to let about four gallons of perspiration soak out of him. It is worth double the price of admission to watch a man put down a carpet, and men who are not troubled with such laborious and heartrending duties have been known to go more miles to see a man attempt to "down" a rebellious carpet than they would to see the biggest prize fight that ever was. From the time the victim begins to think about his prospective task he is mad, and he grows madder until the grand tableau, that usually takes place about the time the task is finished, and puffing like a whale, and swearing at every jump, he goes down town and hires a man to come up and tackle the carpet. But he usually commences by taking the carpet in a roll and throwing it down in the center of the room, where he stands and chares at it and swears he will have it down in fifteen minutes at the outside. He drags a corner of the carpet up into a corner of the room and puts in the first tack "just as easy," and he keeps all along one side of the room, driving in a tack, pounding the "mop-boards, and knocking his thumb and fingers at every other rap. Then he gets madder. He proceed sto stand or sit on the very part of the pet corthat he wants to stretch up to the side of the room, and he pants like a locomotive, and wears off some more skin from his hands. His knees get sorer every minute, he gets a crick in the back and he prospers like a tin water cooler on a hot summer day. About this time he is so mad that it seems as though he would burst, and his boots are full of perspiration, and he makes a last convulsive effort to lift the edge of the carpet so that he is standing on and hold it in place with his teeth, and with his head wedged against the wall he strikes wildly at where he supposes the tack to be and mashes his thumb flatter than the proceedings of the star route trial, he jumps up with a yell and swears that is the last time he will ever touch a carpet and goes and hires some one to do it, just as he always has done before. There are thousands of men in this country who never will know what it is to labor with a carpet and stand on their heads in a hot room for four hours at a time, but there is a very large class of deserving men who are compelled to suffer at the hands of the treacherous carpet, and they are worthy the warmest sympathy of their more fortunate fellow men.

Why compel them to take those vile and nauseating medicines, when Puttner's Emulsion is so palpable and nice, and produces better results than any other. ## AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR—

Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Vigor and Color.

Advancing years seldom turn hair prematurely white without premonition of a change in the color, or even the hair, unobtrusively offered to mean the growth, and always serve to restore its color when faded or gray. It also gives the nutritive organs a healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus healthy, soft, and lustrous, it becomes glossy, pliable, and manageable, has but to be seen to be appreciated. Falling hair is checked, and established thin hair thickens, and faded or gray hairs recover their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—states which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair the Vigor is pronounced by its customers and agreeable perfume, and to impart the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
