MAGURN V. MAGURN.

Summary of the Judgment of Chancellor Boyd—Decision against the Defendant.

As great interest has been taken by many in Kingston in the above case we are asked to give further particulars than those appearing in last night's issue. The facts have already appeared in the News, and are further set out in the judgment of the learned Chancellor as follows:—"The main facts requiring consideration in this case are not open to much controversy. It is established that the husband was born at Kingston, on the 1st April, 1843, that his parents were permanently resident there, his father being in the Canadian Civil Service. He went to the United States while still a minor in 1862, with a view to make his way in the world. He eventually settled in Chicago in the United States without any settled abode till the latter part of 1868, when, as he says, he took up his residence at St. Louis, with the intention of making it his home. There he carried on business, lodging in different houses until April, 1870. He then formed a partnership, and before his marriage began to travel from place to place in the prosecution of that business. It used to take from two to three years to go the round of his circuit. He would return to St. Louis at intervals, once in '72 and again in '73, but had no immediate connection with it or residence there till 1876, though, as he says, he looked upon it as his headquarters. The marriage took place at Detroit in October, 1870. He had no home to take his wife to, and she joined him in his travels for the whole of the first year of the marriage and a part of the second. The remaining part of the second year the wife was at Kingston, where the husband's father lived. The third year of marriage she again travelled with him and towards the close of that year (1873) they rented and that was their home till May, 1874. The eldest child of the marriage was born at the husband's father's house at Kingston, the second was born in a rented house in the same place in November, 1875. The husband says that in May, 1874, he returned to resume his permanent residence in St. Louis. He rented a house there on 12th May, 1874, which, to use his own words, was to give his wife a "permanent home." The lease was for a short term, which expired on the 10th April, 1876, and he then took his wife to St. Joseph, in Missouri, on the 14th of April, where he stayed with her till the 28th of the same month, and then left her there in lodgings and returned to St. Louis. His petition for divorce on the ground of his wife's desertion was filed on the 26th April, 1877, in which it was charged as the ground of the suit that his wife had absented herself without reasonable cause for the space of one year next before the 26th April, 1877. The decree of divorce was obtained by default after personal service on the wife on the 15th June. This result was communicated to the wife by a letter from the husband, written on the 26th June, 1877, in which he says, "I have closed the office at St. Louis." He was again married in September, 1877, and went to England a year afterwards, a country to which, as he says himself, he had intended to go for years. He engaged in business in England till September, 1881, when he removed with his family to Toronto, after having written to his first wife in May, 1881, that "Canada was his home."

A HOUSE AT KINGSTON,

OPINION OF THE JUDGE.

Having outlined the dates and transactions of this migratory life I may say that I am not disposed to value his present declarations of what his intentions were in going to St. Louis either in 1868 or 1873. Previous to that time he had been contemplating a separation from her. He had been taking legal advice in Indiana, and found that it required three years of domicile there to give jurisdiction, and in the very month in which he rented the house he admitted that he had come to the conclusion that it was useless for them to go on any longer living together. I find that his residence in St. Louis was in order to comply with the law of the State of Missouri, by which it is necessary that the party plaintiff should reside in the State at least one year prior to bringing the suit. This he observed, and by that law he was, it may be legally, divorced from his wife in a manner and by a decree which is now incontrovertible in that State. But what I have to deal with is Does that division operate in this Province so as to bar the plaintiff's claim for alimony? It is conceded that she is entitled to alimony if not excluded by decree of divorce. I have to determine this question by the law of England as made applicable to this Province by the Chancery Act.

QUESTION OF A DOMICILE.

The marriage of a domiciled Canadian living in the States with an American woman imposes on her the status of a Canadian wife with all the rights and privileges incident thereto. All questions as to the permanence and dissolubility of such a marriage depend upon Canadian law so long as the domicile continues to be Canadian—Harvey v. Farnie, L.R. 8, app. 43, and other cases. It then appears that the two important points to be ascertained for the disposal of this litigation are, (1) what was the domicile of the husband at the time of the marriage, and (2) what was his domicile at the date of the divorce. The husband's domicile of origin was unquestionably Canadian. Was it ever changed? My conclusion is, it was not. The evidence entirely fails to disclose one of the essential requisites of a change of domicile. There is no satisfactory evidence that the defendant went to live in the States or look up his abode there at any point of time with a settled or fixed intention of adopting that country as his home. There is no evidence of his having any fixed abode there when he married, or his having acquired any such permanent place of abode there before his marriage. The residence for a year before the divorce suit I regard as merely an expedient to found jurisdiction in the local court, and falling the short of an acquisition of domicile. The relations consequent upon this marriage could not in this country be altered by the causes complained of by the husband.

My conclusion is that the plaintiff is not affected in this country by the divorce, and that she is entitled to judgment in her favour with costs. The amount will be $40 per month, as paid by the husband at an earlier stage of the litigation, unless a reference is desired by either party, in which case the Master will fix the amount.

CONGREGATIONALISM.

Meeting of the Congregational Union of Ontario and Quebec—A Good Exhibit.

The 13th annual meeting of the Congregational Union of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec opened in London on Wednesday. It promises to be a most important session of the body, as many questions of interest to the denomination will be brought forward. Among other matters which will engage the attention of the Union will be the reorganization of their missionary work in Manitoba and the North West, as well as the two Provinces which the Union represents. A discussion will also take place over the subject of extending the College and University work, and in connection with this will be the selection of a successor to the Rev. Dr. Wilkes, who is retiring from the Presidency of the College. It is probable that Rev. Dr. Stevenson, pastor of Emmanuel Church, Montreal, will be the choice of the Union. Another important subject of consideration will be the adjustment of the relation, in mission and general church matters, existing between the denomination in Canada and the old country. From a summary of the statistics of the Church for 1882 it is learned that out of 41 of 90 Churches in Ontario and Quebec only some 63 sent in reports, as against 67 the year previous, so that the figures given are fully one third less than the actual numbers: Stations (not churches) 50; preaching stations on Lord's Day, 97, average attendance at Sabbath services, 14,000; under pastoral charge, 20,000; additions to membership, 700; Sabbath Schools, 75; officers and teachers, 817; scholars on roll, 7,289; baptisms, 438; number of church edifices, 78; sittings, 25,000; value of parsonages, $31,625, total value of church property, $453,750; church debts, $143,350; total amount raised for local and other purposes, $92,000; increase over previous year, $10,300. The Province of Ontario, of course, contributes a much larger proportion of these numbers than Quebec. Congregationalism has obtained a firm foothold in Manitoba and the North-West and is likely to make rapid progress.

Dr. A. Jenkins, Great Falls, N.H., says—"I have prescribed it and can testify to its seemingly almost specific virtues in cases of dyspepsia, nervousness and morbid vigilance or wakefulness."

Wait a Minute

And read this. You may be troubled with corns, and if not at present they may take root in the near future. Therefore want to tell you what to use in order to make a perfect cure, and especially what to avoid. Of course like the majority of people you will want to use the best that is to be had. That is Putnam's PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR. Sure, safe, painless. Avoid, then, the article "just as good" or the something else "a good deal better." You will regret using anything else than Putnam's, for it doesn't burn, and you can't tell what the others will do until you try. Don't live to be sorry when you can so easily prevent it. Polson & Co. props.

Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of Food, Yellow Skin, when, for 75 cts., we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer guaranteed to cure them. J. G. King, Wholesale and Retail Agent.

A Fine Hit.

When the proprietors of Burdock Blood Bitters put this renowned medicine on the market they hit it exactly. They hit dyspepsia, indigestion, and liver and kidney complaints a hard blow from which they will never recover.

My Mother

Has been using your Burdock Blood Bitters as a liver remedy, and finds them very efficacious. Chas. L. Ainsworth, 41 Vance Block, Indianapolis, Ind.

B. C. Bruce, druggist, Tara says: I have no medicine on my shelves that sells faster or gives better satisfaction than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and the sale is constantly increasing, the past year being the largest I have ever had. One of my customers was cured of asiarth by using three bottles. Another was raised out of bed where he had had laid been laid up for a long time with a lame back, by using two bottles. I have lots of customers who would not be without it ever night.

Dr. W. Armstrong, Toronto, writes: I have been using Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda for Bronchitis from which the best results. I believe it is the best Emulsion in the market. Having tested the different kinds, I unhesitatingly give it the preference when prescribing for my consumptive patients, or for Throat and Lung affections.

PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable preparation, safe to keep and to use in every family. The simplicity attending its use, together with the great variety of diseases that may be entirely eradicated by it, and the great amount of pain and suffering that can be alleviated through its use, make it imperative upon every person to supply themselves with this valuable remedy, and to keep it always near at hand.

For all disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters are unsurpassed. They strengthen the whole muscular system, give a healthy complexion, bring back the keen edge of appetite and arouse into healthy action the whole physical energy of the human frame.

The Most frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain in the back, it harrows the sufferer to a premature grave. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal result. Take it in time.

TO DEAR MOTHER.

In memory of the late Julia E. Kirkpatrick, died May 2nd, 1883.

I see near the church a grave all alone,
That reminds me to-day of a sister dear gone.
A dear loving mother, good, gentle and true,
As pure in her heart as the heavens are blue.

Yes, I love that dear mother, no tongue can express
That unspeakable joy to know she's at rest.
At rest with our Saviour, in joy that's untold;
May we meet her in heaven in that beautiful fold!

Yes, dear mother, we miss thee and weep over thy loss,
And father is lonely though he bears up his cross.
But our Saviour will guide all the left to his care,
Till we reach the bright realms and find mother there.

They Speak for Themselves

Dublin, Ontario, Dec. 6, 1882.—This is to certify that I have used Polson's NERVILINE for Rheumatism, and have found it a valuable remedy for all external pain, and would cheerfully recommend it to the public.—N. T. Kennedy.

Leeds County, Jan. 8.—We are not in the habit of puffing patent medicines, but we cannot withhold our testimony as to the great value of Nerviline as a remedy for pain. We have pleasure in recommending it as a never-failing remedy.—Rev. H. J. Allen, Benj. Dullson and many others.

P. A. Churchill states: There seems to be no end to the success of Nerviline. I send you a few testimonials, and can send you plenty more if of use to you.

A TRUE MEDICINE.—Fountain of Health is a wonderful tonic invigorator and blood cleanser. It regulates to healthy action the Liver, Stomach, Bowels and Kidneys. One bottle contains sufficient for one month's medication, and costs one dollar.

NATURAL REMEDIES for diseases, as, and has been, the faith of the people in all ages and countries. A potent combination of herbs, roots and barks, called Fountain of Health, put up in dollar bottles, by cleansing the blood, cures almost all diseases.

CURE FOR RHEUMATISM. The acrid poison of impure blood, resulting from Torpid Liver, Bowels or Kidneys is deposited by circulation in the muscles and joints. This causes inflammation and intense suffering. We guarantee four bottles of Fountain of Health to cure the worst case in existence.

A VITAL QUESTION.—The vast amount of fluids taken into the human organism must all be strained and purged of all matter not needed to supply the growth and wastes of the body. If the kidneys fail in their office there is nothing like Fountain of Health to restore them. Cost $1.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

—FOR—

Restoring Gray Hair to its Natural Youthful Color.

Advancing years sickness, care, disappointment and bereavements all turn the hair gray and either of them the first to be affected prematurely. Ayer's Hair Vigor by long and extensive use, has proved that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, often restores the growth, and always restores to the faded locks the youthful color and beauty. This brushy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened—new hair is grown with lively expression. Falling hair is checked and exhausted, thin hair thickens, and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—uses which result from disease of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume and valued for the soft lustre and richness of hue it imparts.
