A TALE OF A DAY IN MAY

I have another song to tell you about Madge,
I think
As we sat by the fire together,
While the firelight red kissed the gold on her head,
And outside was cool spring weather,
I prayed that the warmth would remain her heart
But, alas, with a sting of dismay,
"O, not in the cold must your story be told"
She exclaimed in her petulant way.
Love told in winter,
When the world is white
Melts like the snow flake.
Vanishes from sight.

When the moonlight lay on the shining land,
And the music of stillness was heard,
And the glittering eyes of the stars in the skies
All bade me speak the word
"O, not by the light of the pitiless moon
Will I listen to you," she said,
"Moonbeams are like hosts of gliding pale ghosts
And all things look dreary and dead"
Love told by moonlight
Has no power to move;
Cold and chill is moonlight,
Warm and sweet is love.

When the fruit was hanging purple and ripe,
And each flower was fainting in light,
And the golden sheaves and the golden green leaves
Were all bathed in the burning light,
Then I said "My love, O, listen to me"
But she answered and smiled at the sky,
"The birds, dogs and bees, and even the breezes,
Are doating and why may not I?"
Tell not love at noontide,
'Tis too grave a thing;
Flowers and goats are basking
Birds too hot to sing

"Madge, Madge, said Madge, though I love you so well,
I'll be put off no longer, I swear;
My patience is great, but you've tried it of late,
And next time I will force you to hear."
When the clear green waves are lapping
Upon the yellow sand,
And the fresh salt wind is blowing
Toward the sunny land,
In the early, early morning,
When the glad young day looks sweet,
And the clear air washed with dewdrops,
Then I heard her little feet.
She came and stood beside me;
And in the morning glory
I looked into her fairest eyes,
And told sweet Madge my story.

Printed and very plain directions for the application of the Ointment are wrapped round each pot. Holloway's alterative Pills should be taken throughout the progress of the cure, to maintain the blood in a state of perfect purity, and prevent the health of the whole body being jeopardized by the local ailments; bad legs old age's great grievances, are thus readily cured, without confining the patient to bed, or withdrawing from him or her the nutritious diet and generous support so imperatively demanded, when weakening diseases attack advanced years or constitutions rivaling premature decrepitude.

THE "Myrtle Navy" brand of smoking tobacco has stood the test for over ten years, and during that time it has lost no friend and gained scores of thousands. This lengthened experience shows that it is no mere passing fashion which has gained it the approval of the public, but its superiority in the essential qualities which make a first-class tobacco.

BE ASTHAD IN TIME, and do not allow what may appear to you as a simple bad cold now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which invariably proves fatal in the end. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent those unfortunate results. Take it at each day draught will have it.

NEW TAY BRIDGE.

A Great Structure—One That Will Endure—It Will Have 85 Piers and Great Substantiality.

Noticeable progress is now being made with the new Tay Bridge. The material is being rapidly prepared at its different places of manufacture, and the appliances of the engineers and builders are all in place and in active and successful use. The bridge when finished will be of brick on the Wormit bank. This abutment, which is 80 feet in length by 12 in breadth, with wing walls 40ft. in length, is completed to the spring of the arch. So also is the first pier on the south side—a huge brick structure on the face of the cliff 56 feet in length by 8 feet in breadth. The height of this from the foundation to the spring of the arch is 36 feet. The second pier is being rapidly brought to the height of the first. It is founded in the bed of the river on 7 feet deep of concrete. On this to high water mark there is a superstructure of blue brick, then a layer of granite on which will be raised the arch of red brick. Nothing has been done at the third pier, but for the fourth and last of the brick piers on the south side the cofferdam is nearly completed, and the progress of the structure will be speedy. The cylinders being laid are each of malleable iron, 15 feet in diameter, about 13 in height, and about ten tons in weight. Cylinders of this size will form the foundations as far out as the last of the brick piers of the old bridge. Thence to the beginning of the fallen piers the diameter of the cylinders will be 17 feet; for the piers throughout the gap will be 23 feet. The cylinders are thickly lined with brick, and are filled with concrete.

At the north end of the bridge considerable progress has been made. Two piers are completed to the girder level. They are founded on concrete, on which is laid a heavy layer of Aberdeen granite. Strong iron rods are carried through the granite from the concrete, to which are bolted the iron pillars which are to carry the girders. There are four pillars on each pier, each weighing about five tons. From the end of the curve outward to the gap the cylinders, like those on the south side, will be of malleable iron, and like those on the south side of fifteen and seventeen feet diameter. Fully an eighth of the work on the river has been done, and it is needless to say that, after the foundations, the work on the superstructure will be easy and rapid.

THE MARKETS.

Canada eggs in New York are weak and lower at 17½c.

Among the New York dry goods men it is said that the present season promises to be very active. The spring trade was very dull, but the western men are increasing their summer orders and are meeting their engagements promptly.

In cheese the Canadian market is very weak, and sales could not be made at outside rates. The offering, however, is light. Private cables report the Liverpool market weak and lower. Montreal quotes at 9½c. @ 10½c. There is very little life in any of the markets in New York State or Canada.

Good hops have been offered in Montreal at 30c. @ 35c. per pound, but no sales. There are several sellers to one buyer, with more hops offering than at any time since the decline commenced. The brewers are well supplied. The New York market is very unsettled and the movement slow. The London market is quiet and steady.

The low price of wool is accounted for. In the American market the supply of woolen goods exceeds the demand, that is there has been over-production. Fully one-third of the mills in the United States have shut down and in New England alone 750 sets of cards are idle, thus decreasing the consumption by 825,000 pounds per diem. Under such circumstances our farmers will have to be content with a moderate price for the cut. The high rates for mutton and lambs will, however, make the business of sheep raising profitable.

In England the price of cattle has sustained the heaviest decline this season. In London the market is completely demoralized, values having receded ½d to 1d per lb., or equal to $15 to $20 per beast. In Glasgow, Liverpool and Edinburgh the panic was scarcely less severe. The sudden change from a fairly active and steady market is almost unprecedented. It is owing to excessive importations from the United States, Canada and the Continent, just at a time when hot weather set in and reduced the demand to a minimum. There has also been a heavy decline in imported beef from 14½c. to 11½c.

The Algoma Election.

This election is now on the tapis, perhaps be a useful hint to intimate that an absolute lead at the polls may be obtained by the judicious distribution to the electors of Parsam's Cure Extractor, the great remedy for corns. Every sufferer would be made happy, and would certainly vote for the person affording him relief. Safe, sure, painless. Beware of dangerous substitutes. They are now being offered as "just as good." Use only Putnam's. For sale at N. C. Polson's drug store.

THE Most frightful scourge of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain in the back, it hurries the sufferer to a premature grave. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal result. Take it in time.

SAMSON lost his strength with his hair. Thousands of men and women lose their beauty with theirs, and very large numbers restore the ravages of time by using the famous Cingalese Hair Restorer. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by all druggists.
