A CIVIC HOLIDAY.

AND HOW IT WAS SPENT BY OUR CITIZENS TAKING RECREATION ON LAND AND WATER.

A Big Pic-nic at Chaumont Grove—Lacrosse Match—Viewing the Attractions at the Camp Ground and Alexandria Bay—A Mishap to the Steve.

Our civic holiday was generally kept. The people gave themselves up to recreation and pleasure, and the weather favored all their out-door movements. There was glorious sunshine most of the day, and a wind which freshly blew and tempered the heat that would otherwise have been unpleasant to bear. The appearance of the city was becoming to a holiday. Business was suspended, the various industries were closed, the hum was unheard, flags waved and numerous festoons from many flag staffs, and the citizens seemed to be pleased with the one interruption in the usual routine of events. There was only two attractions in the town—the lacrosse match between the Maple Leafs and the Dominoes Clubs, which occurred upon the cricket field and attracted a large audience, and the spirited base ball match. A great many indulged in pic-nics and excursions which were the order of the day, and proved successful in all cases, especially in a financial sense.

THE TRIP ON THE STEVE.

Two excursions occurred on the river, and upon boats which stood well in public estimation. Both were to leave about the same time, 2.30 o'clock, but it was 3 before the Steve left her dock, the long delay having been occasioned by an accident to one of the wheels. The Methodist Episcopal people held most of their friends and they carried out their programme after all, the boat making a trip as announced, calling at the Camp Ground, at Alexandria Bay and returning to the city at 10 o'clock. She carried about 300 who appeared to have enjoyed the excursion and happily spent the afternoon. The moonlight excursion had to be cancelled in consequence of the mishap.

The Maud had 500, and after a delightful sail through the Mille Chaux Channel, reached the Thousand Island Park at 4 o'clock. About half the passengers disembarked, and the balance went on to the Bay, stopped 15 or 20 minutes and then set out on the homeward journey, the Primitive Methodists, performing the chief, rendering some very fine choice music. In this vocal exercise Rev. Mr. Harris was an efficient leader, and he did not spare his voice in order to gratify those who clustered about him. Rev. Mr. Jolliffe was on board renewing the friendships he made when a pastor in this city. Just prior to setting out upon this cruise he performed the most dignified of all ceremonies—he wedded a couple who, not to interfere with his engagements, and to gratify the bride's ardent wish, bestowed the nuptials by a day. The newly married couple was on board. They had a somewhat unique inauguration of the honeymoon. The trip was agreeably and quickly accomplished, the precious cargo being delivered in Kingston at 9 o'clock, the best hour's run, in the moonlight, being perhaps the most appreciable. The officers of the boat were thanked for their courtesy and care, and "our Jim," the steward, was warmly complimented upon his catering. He merited all that was said in his favour.

A WALK IN THE PARK.

The Whig's correspondent lounged at the camp ground and buttonholed with the Kingstonians, who there compose quite a colony. A few of them have elegant summer homes and they are very hospitable.

"How many people have you now on the ground?" we asked an officer of the Park Association.

"I don't know precisely, certainly more than ever before, probably 3,000. The season has been a great success, notwithstanding the cold and unfavorable opening."

Here and there were the new cottages which the real estate speculators have erected. Some are not very ornamental, but comfortable; others are furnished to meet the wants fancy, regardless of cost. Near where we contemplated the marvellous changes wrought in five years a hotel grandeur occurred, a plot of ground, originally costing but $75, being sold for $4,000. The future of the place appears to be bright.

SPORTS AT THE TABERNACLE.

In the way of intellectual treats the Association has made ample provision. The Temperance Convention is now in progress. On Tuesday night Prof. Foster made an address of great power, he traced the effects of temperance in Canada for fifteen years, dealing first with the evils that had been prevented, and second with the good that had been accomplished. The results were encouraging to the advocates of the cause. Prof. Foster is now a member of the House of Commons, his election, in New Brunswick, taking place since last he appeared as a lecturer in the park.

Yesterday afternoon the speaker was Rev. W. Stevens, Chaplain of Auburn Prison, a man of the physique, with black hair and chin whisker and a face which lights up pleasantly on conversation is given to the more elevated thoughts. His theme was the liquor traffic, which he discussed vigorously and with telling speech. He spoke feelingly, as one who had suffered the loss of friends through intemperate habits. His anecdotes were interesting, he knew how to point a moral and adorn a tale, and at frequent intervals there was hearty applause.

Rev. E. F. Rand preached at the Thousand Island Park on Sunday evening. His sermon was decidedly a young sermon, but notwithstanding this he made a good impression.

SALE OF WHISKY IN VARIANS.

A "mill of distress, he said, comes from Ireland, and similar, the English-speaking people everywhere. Their depression was believed to be exceedingly great, and lamentable. The people remained, called for land reform and rent reductions. He would not debate questions of a purely political character, but he pointed to one fact: that while the Irish contributed but $10,000,000 in rent that year $100,000,000 in whisky, he would not say that the rents should not be reduced, but he did say that the amount squandered in liquor added to the rent, would go a long way towards the purchase of the land. It is not, said he, the rent so much as the liquor traffic that dazzles and impoverishes that country. In conclusion he sketched the various calls for action on the part of the temperance people. He said the annates of $50,000 calls demanded the suppression of a curse which made them criminals and prisoners.

Last night Col. Bain, of Kentucky, described as a "phenomenal orator," lectured, and not a few of the excursionists remained over to hear him.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

The great hotel at the Park looks well in the day time, but its appearance is heightened when lit up by gas in the evening.

The Maud to-day has an excursion from Cape Vincent down the river. She is engaged by the Adams Centre Band, whose objective point is Round Island, where the musicians have a club house.

Two steam yachts were passed, bound from points near Kingston to Alexandria Bay. They carried various fishing parties, while their skiffs were towed, a couple dozen of them, making a long and imposing display.

Clayton and Alexandria Bay are now most lively. The climax of the season has been reached. Two weeks more and the visitors will be thinned out and the hotel men counting up their profits.

The steamer Flower City is now in a well advanced condition upon the stocks. The boat was burned last summer, and would have become a total and worthless wreck but for the assistance rendered by the steamer McArthur, whose salvage bill was collected at Utica, if we remember aright. The Flower City has a model which is much admired, and a Kingston firm may build a boat like her.

An unpleasant incident happened at Alexandria Bay. The Customs officers tied up the steamer Algerian, of the Royal Mail Line, because she did not carry papers showing that she had not passed inspection by Americans and been certified to as fitted for the service in which she was engaged. A fine of $800 has or will be imposed. The case will be referred to the Washington Government, meanwhile bonds of a satisfactory kind had to be furnished by the Captain. The Algerian is not the only boat that will be tied up and submitted to a heavy assessment if the law is not observed. A tugboat is now being kept for the Canadian steamer whose Parent made himself offensive towards the Customs authorities and shut out the hope of leniency being exercised.

ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY'S PIC-NIC.

The success of the pic-nic, held under the auspices of St. George's Society, was fully equal to expectations. The pic-nickers did not wander strongly upon the ground in the morning, but in the afternoon great was the rush to Chaumont Grove, and when the last and sixth boat load left, her contribution on the island the gathering numbered 1,400. The refreshments were, therefore, very large, at least $600. The Grove was in splendid shape and the best of order was observed during the day. The various amusements were under direction of committees appointed by the Society, and nothing stronger than lager beer was sold or brought upon the ground. The carriage to and from the city of the pic-nickers was safely done, the boats being handled with special care. The Ferry Company never gave better satisfaction in regard to the running of their boats. We append a list of the winners in the games and sports, for which we are under obligation to Secretary Le Richeux.

ENGLISH MILLIONARIES.

Men Who Were Worth A Million Pounds Sterling, Not Including Land or Houses.

(London Spectator.)

A little more than ten years ago, having an interest in that curious and little studied subject, the history of property, we published a list of all British fortunes exceeding £200,000 personalty which had been transferred by death within the decade. That list, which was the first of its kind, excited at the time a preponderous amount of interest, and showed that within the ten years ten persons had died in Great Britain leaving more than £1,000,000, fifty three leaving more than £500,000, and 162 leaving more than £250,000. We proposed to repeat the list at the end of another decade. The list of personal estates exceeding £1,000,000 is as follows:

1873.—January 11—Sir David Baxter, ironmaster, Dundee, £1,085,000; August 25—Baron Wolverton (4. Glyn), Lombard street, £1,500,000; December 27—Mr. T. Barnes, banker, No. 8 Bishopsgate-within, £1,300,000.

1874.—June 13—Mr. E. R. Longworthy, Victoria Park, Manchester, £1,200,000.

1875.—April 17—Mr. Joseph Love, Mount Beulah, Durham, £1,000,000.

1876.—August 20—Mr. James Baird, Cambuslang, Ayrshire, £1,200,000.

1877.—June 9—Mr. John Pemberton, Heywood, Liverpool, £1,000,000.

1878.—October 26—Mr. John Penn, The Cedars, Lee, Kent, £1,000,000; December 14—Earl of Dysart, No. 34 Norfolk street, Strand, £1,000,000; December 21—Mr. R. Thornton, Stretham Hall, Exeter, £1,000,000.

1879.—June 21—Mr. Crawshay, Cyfarthfa Castle, Glamorgan, £1,200,000; June 28—Baron L. N. de Rothschild, No. 148 Piccadilly, £2,700,000; December 27—Mr. J. R. Mills, Kingswood Lodge, Tunbridge, £1,200,000.

1880.—March 27—Duke of Portland, Cavendish Square, £2,500,000; April 10—Mr. J. Williams, Caerhayes Castle, Cornwall, £1,000,000; May 1—Mr. Thomas Wrigley, Timberscombe, Lancashire, £1,300,000; October 30—Mr. Mackenzie, Pawley Court, Bucks, £1,000,000.

The wealthy of the world are invested in England very largely indeed, especially the Spanish Americans, who find it convenient to place a section of their often gigantic fortunes beyond the reach of plunder. But excluding a Rothschild, whose wealth is of a separate kind, there is no double millionaire in the list, and no man whom the rich Americans and the cosmopolitan Jew millionaires, with their fingers in every pie, would allow to be possessed of a first-class fortune. No one approaches even at a distance, the wealth of W. Vanderbilt or Jay Gould, and no one's personality enables us to compare him with a first class English landed property.

AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY.

For those in need of order clothing, having contracted largely for the Fall trade, I have decided to sell Summer suits, "made to order," at the following prices: $13 tweed suits reduced to $12; $18 Scotch tweed suit reduced to $16. All other Summer material reduced in proportion. Those in need of the above will save money by calling on J. Provost, New York Clothing Store.

Like Lightning.

The rapid action of the "great pain cure," Polson's Nerveline, in removing the most intense pain, is a matter of wonder to all who have used it. There is nothing surpassing it in the remedy, for it is made of the strongest, purest, and most efficacious remedies known in medicine. Nerveline cures toothache instantly, cramps in five minutes, neuralgia after two applications, rheumatism is at once relieved by its use, and the same may be said of all kinds of pain. Sample bottles costing only 10 at Kings drug store. The large bottles only 25 cents. Polson's Nerveline sold by all druggists.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Want of Life.—Derangement of the liver is one of the most efficient causes of dangerous diseases, and the most prolific source of the so melancholy foreboding which we worse than death itself. A few doses of these noted Pills act wonderfully in depurating bad spirits, and repelling the direst attacks made on the nerves by excessive heat, impure atmospheres, over-indulgence, or exhausting excitement. The most shattered constitution may derive benefit from Holloway's Pills, which will regulate disordered action, tone the nerves, increase the energy of the intellectual faculties, and revive the failing memory. By attentively studying the instructions for taking these Pills and implicitly putting them in practice, the most desponding will soon feel confident of a perfect recovery.

Be Aware in time, and do not allow what may appear to you at a simple bath ache now, to run into a disease of the kidneys, which eventually prove fatal in the end. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure will at once ease your pain and positively prevent these unfortunate results. Take it at once. Any druggist will have it.

Too Much frightful ravage of humanity is Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. Commencing with a little pain in the back, it carries the sufferer to a premature grave. Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is the only known remedy that prevents the fatal result. Take it in time.

W. A. Edgar, of Prescottville, was cured of liver and kidney complaint after life was despaired of. He had remained from ten to fifteen days without an action of the bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cured him, and he writes that he is a better man than he has been for twenty years past.

If you would escape the ravages of the scourge of the summer season, children season, keep Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry at hand for use. In that and all other forms of bowel complaint, it is infallible.

"When all other remedies fail" for bowel complaint, cholic, cramps, dysentery, etc., then Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry comes to the rescue. Thus writes W. H. Crocker, druggist, Wabenhem, and while that the sales are large and increasing.

Nothing known to medical science can surpass the healing properties of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in cholera morbus, dysentery, cole and all bowel complaints.

The Ontario Female Institute continues to unfeminine girls and the principal diagnosis with age and all other artificial light. The only the Triangle Dyes. 10c.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are free from all cruds and irritating matter. Concentrated medicine only, very small, very easy to take, no pain, no griping, no purging.

M'DERMOTT'S SCHEMES.

How He Earned Blood Money from the British Government—Sketch of His Career.

The Brooklyn Eagle publishes an authoritative history of James McDermott's connection with Fenian Brotherhood, his betrayal of the dynamite conspirators, &c. McDermott learned that Dr. Gallagher and his brother were going to England to blow up buildings and followed them, having first obtained a letter from O'Donovan Rossa authorizing him to correspond for his paper. In Dublin McDermott sought Mrs. Cody, who supplied food to the Phœnix Park murderers, and by the lavish use of money wormed from her the name of the persons who paid her for supplying food to the assassins. She only saw his true nature when she learned of the arrest of the parties whose names she gave him. Featherstone Rossar, the accredited agent, was then in Cork, and McDermott did not succeed in entrapping O'Malley. McDermott convinced Featherstone that he was not a spy, and became quite intimate with him, although O'Malley warned him repeatedly. At a meeting of sympathizers McDermott made a blazing speech, and proposed to poison Capt. Plunkett, the resident Magistrate for Cork. That night the plans for

were decided. Next day McDermott left for London and met O'Connor under the name of Dalton. The day after his arrival at London Sir William Harcourt stated in Parliament that he had been offered information for $20,000 of numerous plots for the destruction of public buildings. McDermott showed Dalton all the public buildings, and he is the personage who gesticulated so violently in company of Dalton opposite Westminster Palace. It was decided by McDermott and Featherston that a box of nitro-glycerine should be brought up to Liverpool by Deasy. He was warned not to take any documents to Flanigan, to whom the dynamite was consigned, but before he left, McDermott gave him a note to Flanigan signed with Featherstone's name stating, "This is Deasy, a good man, and the person who brings you nitro-glycerine." Deasy was arrested on his arrival, and the note led to the capture of Flanigan and conviction of him and Deasy. That night and O'Malley got possession of his note book. Following the arrests of Deasy and Flanigan came the capture of Featherstone, O'Harilly, Carmody and Morgan. On the night of arrest "McDermott disguised himself as a minister and urged O'Malley to fly with him. The latter knew it would be the signal for his arrest, and declined. When Featherstone was arrested he saw he had been duped by McDermott. The conspirators also learned that McDermott was a witness at a secret inquiry when the Cork conspirators were held for treason. They tried to induce him to return to Cork for the purpose of killing him, but he escaped to France. On returning to the United States several attempts were made to kill him, but they failed.

O'DONNELL GOT BACK IN CORK
