MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 20, 1883.

CITY AND VICINITY.

FROM.—Moderate to fresh to southerly to westerly winds, fair to cloudy weather with showers and some local thunder storms.

COUNCIL MEETING.—A meeting of the City Fathers is called for this evening, but there is little business of importance to be transacted. A by-law granting the $1,000 to the school board may come up for adoption.

A YACHTSMAN DROWNED.—A sailor on Warner's yacht fell from the boat at Chaumont on Saturday and was drowned before help could reach him. The unfortunate man was George Montry, of Cape Vincent.

THE LIGHTNING.—On Saturday during the storm a horse owned by Robert Anderson, near Wilkesbolme, Pittsburgh, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Some inmates of the dwelling house were stunned by the lightning.

THE MAID'S RAMBLE.—To-morrow afternoon is the only time during this week that the citizens will have an opportunity of going down the river on the steamer "Maud" to the camp ground. The summer is slipping away and soon the pleasures of sailing will be past.

GONE BACK TO WORK.—This morning two of the telegraphic strikers went back to work in the office here. Three more will receive word to-morrow whether they will be reinstated. It is probable that the two who stood in with the company during the strike will be retained.

BROKE HER ARM.—By an accident to a buggy in which Mrs. Gage, mother of Robert Gage, was sitting, her arm above the elbow was broken to-day. She also received other injuries, being quite unwell at the time of the accident. She was removed to the residence of her son-in-law, Ald. Irving.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.—General Fisher and Governor St. John, of Kansas, spoke yesterday afternoon at the Park to a great crowd. Mrs. Toomans, of Picton, spoke in the evening. The Women's Christian Temperance Union will begin their services to-morrow. The attendance at all the services were exceedingly large.

FROM NEW YORK.—Frank Phillips and Charles Gill, striking operators from New York, are visiting their old homes here. Mr. Gill intends returning at once to secure his old place. Mr. Phillips will probably go out west. He was the one who sounded the whistle in the New York office, and, it is said, for this action he was placed in the "black book."

GOES FOR SIX MONTHS.—On Saturday afternoon George Williams, a sailor, while drunk entered the bar of the Queen's Hotel and stole from the till $10 in bills. He was afterwards arrested and the money secured. This morning he was convicted and sent to the Central Prison for six months. The young man felt very badly over the affair. He has received an impressive temperance lecture with practical demonstrations.

A MEAN ACT.—On Saturday evening a peculiarly dressed individual, bearing two boards upon which were advertised the merits of the "Elk" cigar, passed up Princess street and created considerable amusement. Several boys fired stones at the boards, but the meanest trick was done by a fallen Salvationist, who, while driving along, deliberately struck the sign bearer with a whip. A policeman took a note of the act and the offender will appear in the police court in a day or so.

QUOIT MATCH.

The Royal Club had a match on Saturday afternoon, in the cricket field, with the following result:

Hinds	31	Miller	25
McCormack	31	Quigly	25
Dodd	31	Fenwick	26
Mathews	31	Hall	27
		Meneham	31

The club go to Belleville on Friday by the mixed train at 7 a.m. They hope to give a good account of themselves.

MAKING AN ENGAGEMENT.

A gentleman met Captain Abbie on Saturday and after introducing himself said he wanted to engage her. The little lady blushed and seemed startled at such a business-like way of proposing to her. She, however, recovered sufficiently to ask who he wanted her to be engaged to. The gentleman then said that a large concert would be held in the city on Christmas and as all the churches would be represented he wanted to secure her as one of the attractions. He felt that her solos would be inspiring. The Captain could not contain herself and bursting into laughter told her interviewer that she didn't know where she was going to be on Christmas, but she thought she would not be in Kingston.

The Bishop of Ontario has licensed Mr. Carman, school teacher, Gloucester, to act as Lay Reader for the mission of Gloucester.

The Bishop of Ontario has appointed the Rev. Herbert Bathurst Patton, formerly incumbent of the mission of Gloucester, to succeed the Rev. Samuel Mortimer at Bell's Corners and Huntsdale.

Dr. Lamb, Archdeacon of Ottawa, when in Rome purchased four Alpine walking sticks. Each stick has a crook resembling a pastoral staff. The Archdeacon has presented one each to the Bishop of Ontario, the Dean of Ontario, and the Archdeacon of Kingston, retaining the fourth for his own use.

Rev. Mr. Tighe, of Frankford and Trenton, left last week for his new charge at Lanesboro. Previous to taking his departure he was presented with a gold headed cane, suitably inscribed, and a handsome set of silver mounted harness, accompanied by two complimentary addresses.

HE WAS MESMERIZED.

A Poor Deluded Man—In King Hall's Clutches—A Second Wonder Turns Up.

Yesterday afternoon a dude amongst the young fraternity halted in front of the police station. His clothing seemed to have been handed down from 1760, and his feet encased in stilettos in the real yet unartistic folds. He explained that he had been mesmerized in Toronto on Saturday evening and by some peculiar means brought to Kingston. He asserted that two men with razors guarded him but that he got away at one time and though they followed him to Kingston he escaped and was amongst them. He could not explain the cause of his being mesmerized, but there was no doubt of the act. The policemen led him into the "bar" for a sleep, every one being of the opinion that he had been mesmerized, but by King Alcohol, and the razors and ropes were only the result of a too frequent look down a bottle. This morning he was straight and it was found that he had been living in Barriefield.

During the rain storm this morning a man, his wife and child dropped into the police station for protection. The man is an Egyptian pedler making his way to Hamilton, where a brother lives. He was selling beads to secure subsistence while on the march. The dusky individual had been through the bombardment of Alexandria, and on his body and limbs he bore the marks of many wounds. His scalp was also cut with a sword. His daughter during the terrible time was shot in the head. Out of 20 friends none survived the siege. He fought with the British and was at Cairo and other important places. The father talks little English. The party left Alexandria for Canada six months ago.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. Edward Blake passed westward on the steamer Passport on Saturday afternoon.

Geo. Stitchwell, who has had charge of the dock at the T.I. Park for years, broke a leg a few days since.

D. J. Waggoner, Crown Timber Agent at Prince Albert, has arrived safely in the North-West.

Rev. Mr. Campbell, M. E. Minister at Frankford, died on Thursday. He was one of the bearers at the funeral of the late Rev. Mr. Waite, who was buried at Stirling, and soon after was taken sick with the same fever.

On Friday evening the congregation of St. John's Church, Belleville, presented their retiring incumbent, Rev. R. S. Forneri, with an address and $100 in gold. Rev. Mr. Forneri has accepted the rectorship of Adolphustown.

KINGSTON THE SEASON.

Social life at Alexandria Bay is at its height. Hops are enjoyed at both hotels every night. A full dress ball is given at the Thousand Island House each Saturday evening. Since last Saturday evening there has been a quiet smile going the rounds of a small circle at the expense of a couple of "unveiled" young gentlemen, who paid $5 for "a couple of waltzes," while the management only asked for gratuitous contributions from those participating. The Flat hop, F. Babbage, M.D., doing valuable service at the Thousand Island House by providing his novel out-of-door accommodation.

HALLELUJAH CIRCUS.

It is More Popular To-day Than When Opened in Opposition to Barnum.—Are You Saved?

A great many went to the pic-nic at Carleton Island to-day.

The attendance in and around the tent last night must have numbered over 2,000.

A member of the army yesterday morning contributed $10 towards the barrack fund.

Cockney Bill didn't have a chance last night to deliver his message. But it'll keep.

Sergt. Moore says he is through with serving the devil. His Satanic Majesty is the meanest old codger he ever met.

Last evening one of the Salvationists passed the water about in the tent and received the title of the "Hallelujah water carrier."

It is becoming quite fashionable now to begin experiences with snatches of song. All the vocalists, however, do not shine as soloists.

There were two Captains and three Lieutenants at yesterday's meetings. Lieut. Stephenson, of Ingersoll, is home on sick leave.

The band is increasing in size and it plays very acceptably. The music was always attractive, and that feature is now more popular than ever.

The collections yesterday appeared to be better than usual. The Captain doesn't want any more coppers. She has already more than she knows what to do with.

Rev. Mr. McKay, who has just completed a three months' evangelistic tour in the North-West, read the scripture at last night's meeting and spoke of his preaching, through an interpreter, to the Pagan Indians. Like the Salvation Army he has been operating under canvas.

Capt. Abbie yesterday morning pledged the Salvationists "to do anything for Jesus," and when it came to a march out and sitting upon the platform they fulfilled their promise. The "experiences" of two medical students made a deep impression.

The treatment of the Salvationists in Hamilton must be pretty rough, judging by what Capt. Kaiser says of it. She has been out nights, when in the darkness, a shower of boots came, and men and women were struck and cut in the face.

Capt. Kemer is called the hallelujah drummer, but she didn't play the drum yesterday. She is a modest but earnest worker, especially distinguished by her red jersey and brass buttons. Her addresses were brief and to the point. Once or twice she skipped lightly sideways, rock a way fashion, but she did not dance nor did she say aught to indicate her fondness for levity.

"The Whirlwind" declares that he is not down upon the clergy, but that he wants these men to do their duty as well as Capt. Abbie. He says he is depending upon a power greater than his own, and that Capt. Abbie could not go 14 seconds in her own strength. And the little Capt. adds, "That's so."

They say something good is going to happen to-day at the pic-nic. The gossips found the assumption upon a remark made by Capt. Abbie a night or two ago—that she wanted all her friends at Carleton Island as she had something very particular to say to them. Some people think it awful queer that she should take them so far out of town before breaking the secret.

Captain Abbie yesterday fairly warned the people that they must give liberally to the barrack fund. She says the work is now going on, that soon $300 will be due, and that the contractor needn't go to her for the money as she hasn't got it. She says if the builders now swooped down upon her she would be "scart." Those who have the wealth should give; if they don't they'll have sickness and doctor's bills, and a lot of expenses. Surely nobody wants these things to happen.

THE RECENT TOURNAMENT.

The Cape Vincent and Watertown papers give accounts of the Firemen's Tournament on Wednesday. The Eagle condemns the action of the Oswego corps, and says its treatment was unrelled for. The Kingston Department paraded the principal streets, calling forth words of praise from all. "The steamer exhibition was witnessed by a large number of people. Kingston has a well drilled and gentlemanly Department, and their steamer is No. 1 in every particular. With cold water the boys succeeded in throwing a good stream in less than seven minutes from the time the fire was lighted. It was a fine exhibition, and the management is under the greatest obligations to the Department for their uniform desire to please all present. Of course Kingston received the $100 prize, and if it had been ten times this amount it would have been paid with pleasure."

The Times says Kingston may be congratulated on having such a fine steamer and Company. The papers give a number of little skits, amongst which are the following:

"The Salvation Army have a good band."

"Chief Horney made many friends in town."

"The Kingston girls are all handsome."—Marshal Cornair.

"Editor Wood, as the originator, is to be congratulated on the complete success of the tournament."

"With Edwin Horney as Chief Kingstonians may well be proud of their Fire Department, which has a very fine record."

"The jolly fireman, Billy McCammon, made an endless amount of fun for all the boys."

"Chief Horney is the right man in the right place, and made a host of warm friends at the Cape."

MARINE NEWS.

The Steamer Glenfinlas Burned—A Heavy Loss—Fearing the Arrival of a Cyclone.

The tug Admiral D. D. Porter and four barges with timber have arrived at Oswego.

Another silver watch has been found off Salmon Point by the light-house keeper, Mr. L. Rudgin, supposed to have belonged to some one on board the ill-fated schr. Folger.

The Admiral D. D. Porter, Capt. Sullivan, is at St. Catharines with her barges. They were detained on Lake Erie for some time by adverse winds. The Porter was put on the dry dock for repairs to her rudder.

The steamer Hero went down to the St. Lawrence camp ground on Saturday with an excursion from Stirling. She came up this morning. The steamer Watertown went up the Bay in place of the Hero.

On Lake Michigan the other day there was much excitement. For several minutes it was as dark almost as night, and, fearing that a cyclone was upon them, without the slightest preparation, they thought their time had certainly come. Men from various vessels tell of their companions and the masters dropping on the deck in prayer. On one schooner the Bible was brought out of the cabin, and the captain and crew knelt and prayed. Suddenly the scene lightened up again, and the dire threatenings had all vanished. The captain, who is a fine vocalist, broke out with "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and the crew helped him with a will, and all say they never felt happier in their lives.

On Friday night about 10.35 o'clock the propeller Glenfinlas, lying in the new canal at St. Catharines, was found in flames. The engine was sent for, but before it could reach the spot the fire had attained such headway that it was found impossible to get it under control until the vessel, with her valuable cargo, was totally destroyed. The Glenfinlas was the first steamer built by the late Commodore Shaftsbury, of St. Catharines, and was launched under the name of the Brantford. It has since been twice rebuilt, having sailed under the name of the Calabria, and after having been a second time rebuilt at Port Dalhousie was named the Glenfinlas. She had on board a valuable cargo of corn, whiskey and hides, from Montreal to Duluth, and the loss on vessel and cargo will amount to $60,000, on which there is very little insurance. The boat had been tied up in the canal for the past few days, pending repairs to her machinery. The origin of the fire is a profound mystery. There on the boat had barely time to escape with their clothing. Capt. Zealand, thinks the fire originated in the vicinity of the boiler, and was possibly caused by the firemen raking over the coals, as he had done this a few moments before the fire was discovered.

A YACHT RACE.

On Saturday there was a fine yacht race at Clayton, and a Kingston craft carried off the honors. Six boats entered. The course was an excellent one, and the wind, to use a nautical phrase, was "a wholesale breeze." The Laura, owned by T. McK. Robertson, went to the front and won the $30, beating the Laura, of Oswego, (an old Kingston boat) by 7½ minutes.

☞ "My skin, which has been covered with scaly sores, has become clean, smooth and soft as a lady's. My hands were covered with little dry scabs. They have disappeared and I'm better than I have been for twenty years, using Dr. Benson's Skin cure.—A. M. Noble, Selma, N. C., July 5, 1883.
