MONDAY.

Opening of the Schools at 9 a.m.
Special Meeting of City Council, 8 p.m.

There is something radically wrong with our Board of Health. Meeting after meeting is called and no business can be done for want of a quorum. No one should accept a seat at this important Board who is not prepared to attend its meetings with something like regularity. This, from the Montreal Star, shows that Kingston is not the only place in which the leading citizens are negligent of the duties for which they are appointed.

Hon. A. Mackenzie has sailed from Glasgow on the Circassian. Before embarking he addressed the Greenock Chamber of Commerce. In the course of his speech he combatted Sir Alex. Galt's proposal to form a federal union of the British Empire, and said that Canada would never submit to have their domestic affairs legislated upon at Westminster. He also stated that the general feeling in Canada was one of satisfaction with the existing state of affairs.

ADOPTION OF STYLE.

The announcement goes broadcast that the Marquis of Lansdowne will have attached to his staff a functionary whose duty it will be to supervise the list of invitations and see that Rideau Hall is not visited by any one whose acquaintance is calculated to reflect upon the aristocratic household. We grant that there is occasion for discretion in the dealings of vice royalty with the populace, remembering the exhibition which some young men made of themselves when Lord Lorne virtually opened the doors of his home to all who chose to enter. The present Governor-General has endeavored to make himself as agreeable as possible, and he has been somewhat princely in his hospitality. The latter portion of his reign has been marked by a greater degree of freedom and sympathy with the people than the first portion, and the reason has not been far to see. His Excellency has extended his favours to the deserving, has cultivated acquaintance with the more eminent and in discriminating he has avoided the ostentation which so offensively characterized the early official conduct of Col. DeWinton. Canada is largely democratic in sentiment. The people love the Queen, and, as Mr. Mackenzie said in his recent Scottish speech, nothing can induce them to sever their connection with the British Empire; but their ways are plain, they have the off hands bonhomie of the Americans, and have no admiration for snobbery. The Marquis of Lansdowne does not seem to understand them or he would not countenance what appears to be the transfer of social exclusiveness from England to Canada, in other words the erection of a barrier beyond which the natives must not go. It is unfortunate that the Marquis should come to Canada with a prejudice against him from a class whose feelings have been affected by his alleged tyranny in Ireland, but it is more unfortunate that there should be an unpopularity because of the regulations of an understrapper who may know little of the country or the conditions of the people. The rumour which we discuss may not be correct. We hope it is not, in which case a great deal of unpleasantness will be removed.

DISASTER UPON DISASTER.

Last week's additions to the wreck of life are the most significant of this most significant year. The volcanic eruption, described as the greatest calamity which has visited the earth since the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, is the most awful. Its effects are appalling, and the saddest side of the story may have yet to be told. Upheavals like that at Java are circumstances over which there can be no human control; but the Riverdale disaster is not to be classed in this category. That accident is clearly the result of some one's bungling and inefficiency, because, sound in shell and properly managed, boilers seldom collapse suddenly and send boats to flinders and innocent souls into eternity. The New York World puts the situation fairly when it says:

"There are public officers whose duty it is to examine, test and certify to the safety of steamboat boilers. It is pretended that in this case the legal inspection had been carefully made. If it was made and the customary certificate issued the officer performing the duty must have been either negligent or incapable. If he certified that the boiler was safe he certified to an untruth, as the explosion proves.

It is now said that the boiler must be raised before any opinion can be expressed as to the cause of the explosion. When that is done there will be a mass of technical testimony and nobody will be to blame.

"Yet manslaughter has been committed through somebody's neglect, and somebody ought to be punished. Until someone goes to jail for such criminal carelessness the lives of the travelling public will not be worth much."

Accidents do not make the impression upon Governments or Government officers reasonably to be expected. Those having to do with the inspection of hulls and machinery should perform their duty fearlessly. They are appointed for that purpose, and they should brave the reflections of a few individuals in order that the public may have not only fair protection, but that protection which is legally their due. The Canadian Government has been awakened to the necessity of great care in the equipment and stability of craft plying upon our river and lakes—the Asia event will never be forgotten—but even greater rigidity could be exercised without over-doing the thing and verging upon the limit where justice ceases and injustice commences.

The Hero returns from 1,000 Island Park (Saturday) prompt at 6 p.m. by way of Rideau and the Middle Channel. Six hours sail and one full hour at the Park for 50c.

MARINE NEWS.

The Propeller Prussia in Bad Shape—Jumbo Will be Here—General Harbor News.

The smell of sour grain pervades the atmosphere about the M. T. Company's quarters.

The schrs. S. P. Smith and Guiding Star go to Oswego to charter for coal to western ports.

The schr. D. G. Fort is loading lumber at Rathbun's for Oswego. She clears to-morrow.

The schr. Great Western has had a new boom put in her. She arrived from Port Hope yesterday with 10,576 bush. corn.

The schr. Fannie Campbell, with timber for Garden Island, was struck by a gale on Lake Erie yesterday and lost a mizzen mast.

The barge McCarthy went on the Kingston dry dock this morning for repairs. The barge Montreal goes on as soon as possible for general overhauling.

The Sailors' Union at Buffalo and Chicago have advanced the rate of wages to $2.50 per day. The rate in Canada is $2 per day.

A few days ago a man rushed into an office and exclaimed, "Jumbo is down at Swift's," and away the people rushed. They were sold, of course, though they saw a barge bearing the name "Jumbo," which plies between Kingston and Ottawa, and is now on her way to Kingston with lath and shingles.

The forwarders, in view of the shovel hers intention to advance the rates for working in the holds, talk of putting in steam shovels by which, it is claimed, more work can be done than by many men. The steam shovel is attached to the leg of the elevator and draws the grain up to it. Mr Albertson, of Buffalo, is here endeavoring to push their sale. The shovels cost about $300 each.

Work on the steamer Spartan has been carried out steadily and with complete success. Besides a thorough repair of the damage for which she was in dry dock at Detroit the vessel has been put in excellent order. It is now announced that she will be ready for sea, and be placed on the regular route between Owen Sound and Port Arthur about the fourth of September.

The steambarge Saxon, where near Charlotte, was commanded by Captain J. D. Van Alstyne, and was bound from Toledo to Montreal with a cargo of wheat. She was built at Kingston in 1873 and registered 351 tons. She valued A 2½, was valued at $7,300 and owned by Phippen & Co., of Belleville, Ont.

Capt. Daniel Harrigan never gives the moon time to grow on the Mystic Star. On Wednesday he had to go to the Cape to report and he did it without stopping his schooner. While working off the north shore, with a head wind, and after standing in toward the Cape, he jumped into his boat, went ashore and reported and caught his schooner again on the next tack.

On Wednesday the prop. Prussia was pumped out and floated and about to start for Ogdensburg for repairs when a mishap occurred and she went down again. She is now in a worse position than before, and barges will have to be procured to complete the work of bringing her to the surface. The water is above her hurricane decks. The Brockville Recorder alleges that after the craft was raised the working force of the steam pumps was noticed to weaken and the water in the hold gained so rapidly that but a short time elapsed before she was down again. It is said the engineer in charge of the work on the wrecking tug Watertown allowed the water to get so low in one of the boilers that the fire had to be drawn out, and an sufficient steam was not generated to work both pumps the boat filled.

MORMONISM AND EXPOSES.

The "Rev. Frank Young" swindled others besides Spangenberg on Saturday. He went to McKelvey & Birch's and purchased a small stove and water cooler, valued at $13. He presented a cheque, but John Charles refused to cash it as he knew neither him nor the one in whose favor it was drawn. The man then asked that the articles be sent C.O.D. to Brockville. They were sent, and the five here are only out the freight both ways.

The "reverend" humbug also called upon Mr. W. M. Drennan, furniture manufacturer, and inspected some articles, valued at $15 or $20. Said Mr Drennan last evening:

"I did not know the man, and I sympathized with him when he had been too late to draw what money he owed of from the Bank of British North America. He then presented a cheque, one of the famous Savings Bank's, for $35, and asked me if I could cash it. I did not do so, not because I suspected the fellow was a swindler, but because I did not have such an amount over and above my requirements on hand. He went to Muckleston's, got the money, paid me the $16 and departed. I was to send the goods to St. John Church, Brockville. They will come back I suppose in due time." One of Muckleston's clerks said the cheque was cashed because Drennan was with the swindler, and that the loss would have to be borne by Drennan. What does Melville say?

The "Rev. Frank Young" is described as a man 5 feet 9 inches in height, smooth face, close cropped, fair haired and browned in complexion.

INSURANCES SETTLED.

Mr. D. Munro, of Cornwall, who is Adjuster for the Royal and Guardian Insurance Companies, was here yesterday and settled the following:

Mrs. Donald insured in the Guardian, loss $2,494; insurance settled for $1,333.33.

Mrs. Brown insured in the Royal, loss $1,619; settled for $1,012.

William Adams, loss, $20; covered.

William Urquhart, loss, $30; covered.

LAYING A STONE

An Interesting Ceremony which Occurred Yesterday at Amherst Island—a History.

Yesterday was turned a red letter day in the church history of Amherst Island, the occasion being the laying of the corner stone of a new Presbyterian edifice. A large contingent went from Kingston by the steamer Hero. They were met at the steamboat landing, and in carriages, conveyed to the site of the ceremony, about a mile and a half from Stella Point. The proceedings commenced at 2 o'clock with the singing of the 100th Psalm; then Rev. T. S. Chambers, Clerk of the Presbytery, read the scroll to be placed in the cavity of the stone. It gave the name of the present pastor of the congregation, Rev. J. Cumberland, and those of his predecessors—Rev. Messrs. Machon, McCurdy, McIntosh, Steele and MacLennan—three of whom are deceased. The site was generously presented by the Allen family, and the structure is to be of stone, Gothic in style with tower and spire. The architect is Mr. R. Gage, Kingston, the contractors, Mr Welsh, Picton, masonry, and Messrs. Irving & Downey, Picton, carpentering.

DR. WILLIAMSON NOW OFFICIATES.

After prayer by the Rev. R. J. Craig the stone was laid, in due form, by the venerable Dr. Williamson, who made an interesting address. He referred to the wonderful changes that had taken place on the island within the century, since it was a primeval forest, peopled only by the red men, the traditions of the past being converted into the "cultured hill and dale" of the present. He alluded to the praiseworthy exertions of the congregation in the erection of this edifice, and hoped there would be such unity of service on the part of the people that when the church was opened it might be declared entirely free from debt. He suggested that the almost ones should aid those who had done so much towards the object they had in view. He concluded by expressing the pleasure which he experienced in observing the presence of so many members of other denominations. They exhibited the essential oneness of those who love the Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Notwithstanding that they differed in some respects they could labour together to promote a feeling of mutual kindness and good will among the members of Christ's body.

THE CONCLUDING CEREMONIES.

Another hymn was sung and the benediction was pronounced by Rev Mr. Brown, of the Canada Methodist Church.

The company now returned to Stella Point, to a beautiful grove, where lunch was served. At 4 o'clock the Kingston men started for the city, but the Amherst Islanders remained for some time at the grove and greatly enjoyed themselves. When the church is completed it will be an ornament to the Island and a credit to the congregation.

Contributions to the building fund will be received by the Rev. James Cumberland or Mr. Allen, Treasurer, Stella.

ATTEMPTING BLACKMAIL.

Louisa Murphy, the grass widow of one Moore, now in the Kingston Penitentiary serving a two years' term, has had to jump Toronto in order to escape arrest for blackmailing. Her victims were prominently connected, commercially as well as socially, and some of them were persistently hounded down, and so regularly robbed that they actually left the city for a time to escape the toils of the pitiless blackmailer. The girl began her unfortunate trade when she about 15 years of age. She peddled lead pencils, won the confidence of the merchants and clerks and then worked them for money. Several years ago she called on a wealthy lawyer, represented to him that she was enceinte, and that he was the father of the unborn child. The lawyer was startled and denied the charge, but she persisted and declared that if he did not provide her with money on which to live she would expose him. With unblushing effrontery then did a girl cowed the legal light, and succeeded in getting together about $1,500 although her story was a down right fabrication. Her last attempt was not a success. She was 18 years of age, with sweet blue eyes, peach-like complexion, usually chiselled features and rich golden hair. Stepping into the establishment of a white-haired merchant she said to the head:

"I want $500, and at once."

"My goodness, child, what for?"

"Three years ago, when I was a mere child you took a gross advantage of my innocence, and now I want my pay."

The merchant was overcome with surprise, but on recovering he ordered her out of the place. Notwithstanding this rebuff she called at the store several times, and finally called at the house with the intention of exposing him to his wife. The merchant had related his experience with the blackmailer, and when the fair Lily called the door was shut in her face.

The young blackmailer cannot be found now, though greatly wanted.

WEDDING AT GRENVILLE.

The people of Grenville and vicinity flocked to the C. M. Church on Wednesday, the 8th inst., to witness the tying of the tropical knot between Mr. Cortland Homer Wartman, late of that place, now of La Verne, Iowa, U.S., and Miss Emma, daughter of Mr. John A. Leonard. The church was decorated with evergreens and bouquets. About 8 p.m. the wedding party arrived, consisting of the bride, Miss Adele Walker and Miss Letitia Cameron, bridesmaids; the groom and Mr. C. D. Wartman and Mr. Anthony Leonard, groomsmen. As the party passed up the aisle to the altar Miss E. Spencer played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Church, Rev. J. H. Grant. As the happy couple retired from the church Mendelssohn's "Spring and Edwards" sang very sweetly, "Bridal Flowers," and many enjoyed a wish for their future happiness and prosperity. Before leaving for their home at LaVerne Mrs. Wartman was presented with many beautiful bridal gifts.

AN AWFUL EVENT.

Dreadful Character of the Java Eruptions Becoming More Apparent—Harvest of Death.

London, Aug. 31.—Advices from Batavia say that after the sudden subsidence of volcanic disturbances in the Kingdom of Bantam on Monday a feeling of relief was experienced, but at 10 o'clock at night the craters became active again. The Papayandayang shot out three distinct columns of flame and its surface was covered with a fiery lava. A whirlwind accompanied the eruption, carrying off houses, trees, men and animals. A shower of ashes covered the roofs of houses at Demanc. Off Point Cuay floating pumice formed a layer two feet thick, through which vessels forced their way with great difficulty. The rise of vapor produced the appearance of columns several thousand feet high, based on the edge of the crater. Suddenly the mountain

SPLIT INTO SEVEN PEAKS.

In the seams thus opened could be seen great balls of molten fire. From the fissures poured clouds of steam and lava. The exhalations of carbonic acid gas killed birds and animals in large numbers and a few human beings. The great fissures opened seemed to act as safety valves through which the lava gently flowed into the valleys. Volcanic fires, though still burning at last advices, had lost most of their fierceness. One of the queer incidents was the sudden rising on Tuesday of 14 new volcanic mountains in the Straits of Sunda, forming a complete chain in between Point St. Nicholas, on the Javanese coast, and Hoga Point, on the coast of Sumatra, almost on the tops of what had been Merak and the middle islands, which sank into the sea on Monday. In Bantam, where 1,300 persons were first supposed to have perished, the bodies of 2,800 have already been recovered. 300 were inhabitants of the interior town of Warange. At Talatra, on the coast 300 bodies were found. From all over the islands came reports of the loss of life and property. Estimated at 75,000, the killed will not prove excessive. On the lowlands where the waters receded hundreds of mangled bodies are lying. A sanitary corps has been formed and the corpses will be burned as fast as possible. The Island of Serang, just off the coast, was completely inundated, and to tell the tale of the disaster and death. At Cheribon there was no great flood of waters, but the loss of life and property by the falling of rocks and the flow of lava must have been very considerable. Batenorong suffered very seriously, as did Samarang, Jokjokurta, Surakerta, and Sarabova, while the meagre reports from the lesser towns indicate that their loss was as great in proportion. The Thousand Temples, at Brambanan, were very much damaged, and some of them totally destroyed. Some of the towers of the noted Temple of Borabrodo were crushed in by huge falling rocks. While there can be no accurate estimate formed at present of the loss of life, it must be apparent, when it is considered that the island has a population of 30,000,000 people, that the death list will foot far up into the thousands. As the last advices the eruptions were still continuing, although their violence had altered somewhat, and it is feared that the end of the disaster will show it to have been one of the most frightful ever known in the history of volcanic eruptions.

TERRIBLE STORM.

New York, Aug. 31.—The Telegram's special from St. John's, N. F., says the fleet of the U. S. fishing vessels, which arrived, report a violent storm on the Great Banks on Sunday, when hundreds of dories were away from the vessels overhauling trawls. Scores of dories were turned upside down and the wreckage strewn in every direction. One French banker lost four dories and all the crews. It is computed that an hundred dories and eighty men have been lost. Most of the dories were swept by the waves from the schooner decks. The remainder collapsed in the sea.

MURDER CONSPIRACY.

Dublin, Aug. 31.—The evidence adduced at the examination of Dr. and Patrick Connolly, and their sister, charged with implication in the murder conspiracy, indicates that a conspiracy was formed to accomplish private and not agrarian purposes. Witness Duneen said Dr. Connolly forged the name of John Carroll, rent warner, to the bill by which Carroll's property was to be left to the Connollys. Duneen, who was to murder Carroll, was to receive £30 of the sum expected to be realized by the murder.

TRANSPORTING MUSKRATS.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—Recently the Marquis of Lorne commissioned W. P. Lett, City Clerk, who is a well known sportsman, to procure for him some live muskrats for transportation across the Atlantic. Mr Lett entrusted the task to two Indian trappers who so far have captured two of the varments in good shape. The present Governor General and his father have taken considerable interest in the acclimization of Canadian animals in Scotland and on the ducal estates there is a colony of Canadian beavers.

JOE IN TROUBLE.

Hamilton, Aug. 30.—Capt. Joseph Ludgate, of the Salvation Army, who was recently fined for disorderly conduct and frightening Joseph Baird's horse, has defied the laws of the country. A distress warrant was consequently issued on his goods and chattels, and the return of "no effects" was the result. Should the Captain not slip out he will likely be placed in the County gaol in accordance with the judgment.

BALLOU'S LIABILITIES.

Boston, Aug. 29.—The Star to-night says: "We are authorized by the suspended firm of George William Ballou & Co. to state that the report in all the papers yesterday, to the effect that the statement shows liabilities at $750,000, is incorrect, and that the true amount is between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

RESULT OF THE STRIKE.

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—Master Workman Lavery, of the Telegraphers' Brotherhood, has been discharged from his position here as the Associated Press operator. It is reported that this is a significant sequel of the strike.

EXPLORERS RESCUED.

Naples, Norway, Aug. 31.—It is reported that the steamer Obel Obi has arrived with members of the Dutch expedition to the Arctic, which sailed on the steamer Varna. The Varna foundered on July 4th. The members were rescued near the Island of Waigatz.

Testimonial from Capt. Joshua Harper.

SACKVILLE, N. B., Feb. 13, 1877.

J. H. Robinson, Esq., St. John, N. B.

Dear Sir,—Early in October last I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs. After having a bad cough for about six weeks I had a very severe attack of bleeding from the lungs while on a passage from Queenstown to Dover. I had daily spells of bleeding for some days until I lost about two gallons of blood, and was so weak as to be scarcely able to stand. I put back to Queenstown, where I received such medical assistance as enabled me to get home.

I saw an advertisement of your Phosphorized Cod Liver Oil Emulsion in a paper. I immediately sent and got half a dozen bottles, after taking which I feel myself a well man again. My weight, which was reduced to 120 pounds, is now up to my standard of 152 pounds. Seeing what it has done for me I can confidently recommend it to others afflicted with lung diseases.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) JOSHUA HARPER,
of the barque "Mary Livermore."

PAIN-KILLER.—The testimonials borne to the efficacy of this valuable medicine are sufficient to warrant its introduction into every house. Our own opinion is that no family should be without a bottle of it for a single hour. In flesh wounds, aches, pains, sores, &c., it is the most efficacious remedy we know of. A bottle will last a very long time, and its low price places it within the reach of all.—Sun, St. John, C. E.
