Daily British Whig.

Hon. Mr. Mousseau had 511 in his election two years ago in Jacques Cartier. On Wednesday he got 109—a reduction of 402. Such a change in popular opinion may not in this case be a matter of much significance to the Tories, but were a Reformer the winning candidate he would be reminded of the handwriting upon the wall. Should Mr. Mousseau be unseated and a new election occur that handwriting will be more distinctly read.

This week a number of ladies went forward for examination for admission to Columbia College, New York. This is the privilege for which so much agitation was made last year. The College is by no means a weak one, seeking popularity. Recently $1,000,000 was furnished it on a proposed new endowment of $4,000,000. A College chapter cost ing $125,000 is to be built. The College afforded instruction to 1,513 persons last year—School of Arts, 285; Mines, 284; Law, 400; Political Science, 30; Medicine, 543.

The election is going on in Algoma to day, the candidates being Mr. Lyon and Mr. Plummer. Some time ago the Conservatives were quite sure their standard-bearer would be returned. To day they are not so sure. One, writing from the constituency, says the chances for his party "are all up, as the Grits fixed the place four months ago." The "fixing" is all moonshine, but defeat is apparent and excuses are in order. If the Tories had charge of the arrangements they could have made the election of Mr. Plummer certain; they could have easily gerrymandered the constituency out of shape and appointed a Returning Officer to reject the man with the majority of votes, if a Grit and thereby merited, a la Jim Stephens, the present of a watch and chain and card of thanks.

TORY JUBILATION.

Great jubilation is expressed in the Tory papers over the dismissal of the petition against the member for East Grey. They are particular to give prominence, to what the Judges said of the purity of the election, and they point to the bitterness which actuated the Grits in proceeding with the case. Under these circumstances, as the Globe points out, "it is interesting at this stage to compare the position of Major Grey with the positions occupied by Mr. Phelps and Mr. Fauquier. Major Grey was thoroughly cognizant of the profuse treating done on his behalf, and on one occasion joined in the invitation to "come and drink"; and yet he escapes even the payment of his own costs. Mr. Phelps conducted his election with the strictest propriety, so far as his own conduct and that of his recognized agents was concerned, but was unseated because a hotel-keeper, who happened to be a member of the convention which nominated him, broke the law by selling liquor on polling day. Mr. Fauquier was profuse in his treating, but was disqualified for treating a meeting of sixteen persons, while Major Grey escapes though he joined in the invitation extended by his friend and agent, Mr. Wallace, to a crowd of half the number." The law that unseated Mr. Phelps should also have unseated Major Grey, and this all will admit who are actuated by motives of fair play.

THE UPPER CHAMBERS.

"You will find, in looking over the course of the House of Lords for the last fifty years that where they had not been able and had not the courage to reject a good measure they had generally gratified an unhappy propensity by mutilating it. I should not be at all surprised if the day is coming when the people of England will be asking themselves, Why is it necessary that every measure that passes the House of Commons should be pared down to a minimum so that it may pass the House of Lords?" Thus speaks John Bright, one of England's foremost statesmen. We are not now disposed to discuss the former usefulness of the British Upper Chambers. It may have been a necessary institution in the long ago, but at the present date it is without a redeeming feature, it has not essayed in recent years any important reforms, and has not braved public opinion so far as to insist upon the mutilation in which its partisan leaders indulged when the Commen's legislation was before them. Among the events of the near future will be the abolition of the timid and non-elective parliament of Canada as well as of England. The day is past when, in this country especially, it is necessary to maintain an expensive house, whose members are the mere registering machines of a trickly politician, and who afford a convenient channel for hurried and unwholesome law making. Tory papers in Canada feel inclined to attack the English Upper Chamber, but they do not say ought against the more worthless imitation which Canada supports.

Opening a New Church.

In June Rev. W. W. Madge was transferred from Kingston to Montreal and given charge of the St. Lawrence Methodist Church. He has had the building remodelled, and a few days ago the re-opening occurred. Rev. W. Jackson preached in the morning, and Rev. W. Galbraith in the evening. The church debt was removed by the proceeds of a social on the evening after the church was re-dedicated.

A TRAIN ROBBERY.

A Contractor Loses $200—Thurston Simser Arrested and Denies the Charge—Particulars.

This morning a rough looking character with his face blue marked by a powder accident, one eye gone and a hand sadly wrecked, appeared at police quarters, and reported that he had been robbed. He had a warrant issued for the arrest of Thurston Simser. Afterwards he was interviewed. He said his name was James Magher, that he was a contractor on the Ontario & Quebec RR. near Arden, and that his home was in Cornwall near which place he owns a large amount of property. Simser also possesses an estate near him and is foreman on Magher's contract. Two weeks ago Simser went home and some days ago Magher followed him. Last night they started on the midnight train for this city en route to Arden. Magher asserts that after boarding the train he fell asleep, and on the same seat with Simser. He had the utmost confidence in Simser, but on waking up he saw Simser placing back his (M.'s) red pocket-book. He examined it and found that $200 in bills were gone, although between $3,000 and $4,000 in notes still remained. Simser was accused of the theft and stoutly denied it. On arriving in Kingston the two men went to Hogan's Hotel. Here Magher remained, but Simser left. This morning police assistance was secured. Magher is a nephew of Purcell, of the firm of Purcell & Ryan, contractors. He had a contract near Thunder Bay, on the C.P.R. While in the tunnel on that line he was blown up and sadly wrecked. His fingers were blown off his right hand and his eyes damaged.

Shortly after the warrant was issued the police brought in Simser, a stout man, about 38 years of age. His face was flushed, an indication that he had been drinking. His garments were searched, but only $45.20 were found on his person. Simser said he had been arrested for the first time. He was taken up stairs for trial, but the Magistrate perceiving his condition would not hear the case. We sought permission to interview Simser but were refused, owing to the Attorney General's instructions in regard to reporters' visits to gaols and lock ups. Simser, however, said he was not guilty, that Magher was drunk when he stepped on board the train at Cornwall, and that he (Simser) paid his fare to Kingston. The case will come up to-morrow. Simser has secured legal advice.

Items From Yarker

On Thursday evening the band gave a garden party the object being to raise money with which to pay for their instruments. Mr. James West's garden was beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns and a good time was spent. The religious people, however, would not patronize the affair especially after attending camp meeting.

On Friday afternoon the Sabbath School held their annual pic-nic in Mr. West's garden. A very pleasant time was had.

On Monday J. A. Shibley, J. P., held a court at Talkin's Hotel. The first case was that of an assault at a hotel in Clarks Mills. Miles Carroll, accused David Bell of striking him. The Magistrate fined D. Bell $5 and costs.

John and Charles Watson, farmers near Petworth, sought damages from Richard Lilley whose dog they said killed six sheep. No direct evidence would be brought that the dog did the mischief so the case had to be dismissed.

A farmer named Grant was fined $3 for neglecting to feed his horse he having it under a hotel shed a day and night without any food.

Experiences in Other Places.

Gurton vs. Heller, who was so roughly handled in the City Hall on Tuesday evening, has had hard experiences elsewhere, but in no city or town has he been submitted to the indignities heaped upon him here. Heller wanted to hire the hall in the summer, but felt that he could not fight down the opposition of the Salvation Army, and so he went westward, his dyed moustache and antiquated tile becoming conspicuous as far as Sarnia. When he struck Kingston the other morning he carried a gripsack which everybody fought shy of, believing that it contained something which might suddenly "go off and break things." He hid it somewhere until the night of the performance, and then the mob "vented their spleen upon it." Heller says he has a young and beautiful wife somewhere in the east, and she has besought him to cease his adventures and settle down. He thinks he will take her advice. He cannot stand another shock like that administered to him here.

The Saved Army.

The headquarters of the Saved Army have been transferred from Portsmouth to Napanee. The following officers have been elected:

General—H. Lindsay, Portsmouth.
Major Moore, Napanee.
Capt. Atkins, Portsmouth.
Sergants—Misses Grasse, Snider, Huff, Wm. Bristol, Jas. Stafford and W. N. Sager.
Corporals—Frank Detlor, J. Hearns, Robt. Baldwin, Misses Richardson, A. Wilson and Ainsley.
Treasurer—Chas. Stevens.

Major Moore was also appointed local Lieutenant and Delegate for the district. The meetings are to be carried on the same as Moody & Sankey's—as a feeder to the churches.

The Army will branch out all over the province. Already there are corps at Portsmouth, Collinsby, Battersea, Odessa and Napanee. A new corps has been started at Picton. Sergt. Will A. Brinton will take command of the Odessa corps. The meetings in Napanee are largely attended.

FOUL PLAY TO O'DONNELL.

Dublin, Sept. 28.—The Nation accuses the British Government and American Legation in London of foul play towards O'Donnell in the hope that he might implicate the friends of Parnell in a conspiracy to murder Carey.

London, Sept. 28.—O'Donnell's examination was to-day.

ANOTHER VESSEL SUNK.

The Peerless at the Bottom—A Raft Broken Up—The Latest from the Lakes.

The schr. Jessie Macdonald, Oswego, 144 tons coal; schr. Maumee Valley, Chicago, 14,808 bush. corn; prop. Niagara, Chicago, 24,171 bush. corn, have arrived in port.

The schr. Typo, owned by Bleyer Bros., of Milwaukee, and wrecked on Amherst Island, has been abandoned to the underwriters. She was insured for $12,000, $7,000 in the Boston Marine, and $5,000 in the Mechanics' & Traders.' The cargo of wheat was insured for $24,000 in the Continental, one of the "Big Four" companies.

Belleville yachts have a race to-day for the Barber & Leslie trophy. The cup is embossed and chased and very handsome.

The Empress of India will be withdrawn from the Port Dalhousie route next week, on account of the boisterous weather.

The City of Toronto has one of her wheels off, and the other is being taken off to enable her to get to Muir's dock at St. Catharines, where she will be made over so as to pass through the St. Lawrence canals.

The Norway's bow is out of water but her port-holes are open. Everything is safe. Her deck load has not budged, and the team of horses are still on board. Captain Cyrkbeck, of the Norway, complains bitterly of the negligence of the harbor tugs in letting him go ashore without making an attempt to help him. The same tugs allowed the Hercules to go ashore in broad daylight. It is a disgrace to the harbor that vessels in distress should not have assistance near at hand. The cargo of timber is owned by Flett & Bradley, of Hamilton, and is not insured.

The steamer Chieftain and schr. Denmark have gone to the rescue of the schr. Norway, at Port Colborne.

Owing to the storm the steamer Algerian has been delayed, and will pass down to Montreal on Sunday instead of to morrow morning.

Messrs. Garner & Williams have been awarded the contract, a $1,400, for building the life boat house at Wellington.

The tug McArthur is all safe in Port Burwell with one shaft broken. The raft she had in tow is parted, though one crib is still at anchor off Kage Dock near Port Stanley. The other two cribs are ashore at Tyrconnel, one shift unbroken and one partly wrecked. The one at anchor rode out the gale all right. The owners of the raft are looking after the timber. No loss or damage to the timber is anticipated.

The schr. Peerless, of Hamilton, sank Wednesday night, twelve miles south of Pt. Peter; all hands were saved. She was loaded with iron ore, from Belleville to Cleveland, consigned to Cleveland Rolling Mills, and insured for $6,500 in the New York Pool. She left Belleville the 15th inst. and experienced very heavy weather, losing her flying jib and all her top sail. About nine o'clock Wednesday night she commenced leaking, and after three hours work at the pumps, the crew, consisting of seven men all told, took the small boat and succeeded in making land safely, two miles east of Port Peter. The Peerless was a Canadian vessel of 200 tons capacity, built at Oakville some years ago, but was rebuilt in 1881 and classed B1. She was owned by Capt. James Savage, who commanded her.

Obituary—Late Mrs. Jesse Shibley.

On last Saturday the people of Sharbot Lake were shocked to hear of the sudden death of one of its inhabitants—Mrs. Jesse Shibley. On the previous night she was attacked with paralysis and suffered very much until death came to her relief. Yes, death came and took away a noble and kind hearted woman. Her kind acts and deeds of charity can never be effaced from our memory. She lived not for herself alone but delighted in relieving the suffering. In the hour of trouble she was ever ready to lend a helping hand. In truth we can say a mother in Israel has fallen by the hand of death. To know her will was to esteem and respect her for her many good qualities. Her remains were conveyed by train on Monday morning to Harrowsmith where a large number of relatives and acquaintances were awaiting the arrival of the funeral.—Com.

Absurdities of Youth.

Last night we had the misfortune, in visiting the Victoria Hall, to become seated among several young men whose little side whiskers and celluloid collars were their distinguishing characteristics. They were intensely funny, or rather intensely silly, and snickered and giggled immoderately, and yet it would have distressed them to state what the rumpus was all about. It may be in order to enquire if the payment of 10c. gives any one the privileges of the house, and if these privileges embrace the right to annoy others who have an interest in the proceedings? It may also be in order to say to these disturbers that hereafter they should do their mashing where it is more popular and among people of the nickle-plated order.

SCANDAL AND INSANITY.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Edward R. Harrison, a well known tobacco salesman, has been to the lunatic asylum. He has been living with his wife at Monroe while he had a second wife here. Both are respectable and only learned of their husband's conduct recently. The unpeasing scandal and speculative issues caused Harrison's insanity.

A QUEER STORY

Quebec, Sept. 28.—A gunner of "A" Battery, who was away a day or two from his guard, reports that he was drugged in a sailor's boarding house and placed on board a ship leaving port. He did not recognize his position until the ship was in the river, when the Captain, refusing to send him ashore, he watched his chance and seeing a boat near jumped overboard and was picked up and put ashore. He has been unable to recover his regimentals.

CAMPAIGN IN ULSTER.

Almost a Fray Between the Orangemen and Parnellites—Soldiers and Police Keep Order.

Dublin, Sept. 27.—The parliamentary campaign in the north is becoming more exciting. The extremely high state of party feeling has led to bloodshed in several instances and the province of Ulster promises scenes of the liveliest character. Frantic appeals have been made to Orangemen, inciting them to attack the Catholics, and threats have been freely uttered that Bulfast rowdies will be brought to support the cause of law and order with bludgeons. But the National leaders refused to be terrorized. At Dungannon a monster League meeting was held at which Mr. T. P. O'Connor, Mr. Wm. O'Brien, M.P., and Mr. Healy, M.P., were the speakers. Thousands of people were present from neighboring towns, all determined to resist any attempt on the part of Orangemen to repeat their demonstration at Dungannon. While Mr. Healy was deep in his denunciations of the Land Act a procession of Orangemen, accompanied by several bands of music marched down Main street just beyond the Royal School and organized a counter meeting. They were addressed by Mr. J. W. McCarthy, M.P., and Mr. Harman. To prevent a renewal of the riotous proceedings of yesterday a troop of Lancers, 100 Infantry and 300 police officers had been sent to Dungannon, but even this precaution failed to deter the excited element from attempting to break up the meeting of the Home Rulers. Their efforts were, however, frustrated by the Constabulary and Lancers patrolling the streets. At the close of the League meeting an attempt was made by a body of Orangemen to mob Mr. Healy. A strong force of police drove them back and escorted Mr. Healy to the railway station in safety.

London, Sept. 27.—A report is in circulation that Mr. Parnell has been shot. A despatch two hours later from Dungannon states that a car containing a supposed Parnellite was fired into, but the occupant was hurt. This probably explains the rumour that Mr. Parnell had been shot.

The Chronicle has issued a postscript stating that there is great excitement in Dublin owing to a rumour that Orangemen have shot Parnell. It is certain that Parnell is wounded, that the bullet went through his body. Another account says the affair was accidental.

Dublin, Sept. 27.—The report that Parnell is shot is false. Parnell is in England.

Ballina, Co. Mayo, Sept. 28.—Crotty, landlord, was shot this morning at his residence in Kimmry Park. He had been wounded several times.

ANOTHER BOILER EXPLOSION

Albany, N.Y., Sept. 28.—Early this morning the boiler of the steamer J. S. Robinson exploded, instantly killing Capt. George S. Warner and Wm. Cleary, fireman, and seriously injuring Fred Tinslar, engineer, who was blown into the water and narrowly escaped drowning, and Willard. Durand and Melville Ryan, deck hands. Richard Van Zandt was also injured. Capt. Robinson, of the Hattie M. Betts, was blown from the pilot house on the wharf and severely injured indeed. The Betts is damaged $1,000. The tug Cora, alongside, is a total wreck, and the C. P. Grout, lying ahead, had her joiner work carried away and machinery damaged. The Robinson sank immediately with the body of Cleary. One section of the boiler was hurled 400 feet against the top story of a three story building, crushing in a portion of the wall. Another section crushed in the roof of the coal barge E. M. Downes.

TRIED FOR BIGAMY.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Royal LaTouch was in court in New York yesterday, charged with bigamy. He met a widow named Hill in 1878, on the railroad train in Chicago on which the body of Mrs. Hill's husband was being conveyed to a place of burial. He professed love and soon after married Mrs. Hill. She charges that in 1880 he married his wife in Philadelphia and at the same time supported the complainant in Newark until his double dealing was accidentally disclosed. His Philadelphia wife died; he then began to live with another woman in Philadelphia whom he introduced as his wife. He is now charged with bigamy.

STRIKE OF MINERS.

Pittsburg, Sept. 27.—The strike of coal miners in Connellsville threatens to home general throughout the coal region. Two firms offered their men an iron-clad oath to avoid placing check on the tipples as required by the new law. The other operators were expected to follow suit and the strikes which now exist at the several works will spread. The miners are paid by the waggon load which they ask shall be of a uniform capacity of 33½ bushels. The operators are using waggons which vary from 32 to 33 bushels. Mine inspectors have been sent for, but before they can act the check weights must be at work.

PRISON LABOR QUESTION.

New York, Sept. 28.—The Tribune's Buffalo correspondent says that during the convention recess yesterday, the Committee on resolutions heard the labor reformers arguments in favor of a plank against contract labor in the prisons, also an argument in favor of the anti-monopoly plank. A hot discussion occurred on the tariff plank, which was settled by omitting the reference to the tariff.

RECOVERING TAXES.

Albany, Sept. 28.—Judge Samuel Hand, referee in the tax suit brought by the State against the Western Union Co., rendered a decision in favor of the State for $176,593. This is for taxes for only one year, but determines the balance of the taxes in favor of the State, making the total amount receivable about $620,000.

REPORTS OF FROST.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The reports of frost in the last two nights continue, but as a rule the corn is pretty well out of danger on the high lands in Illinois and Iowa. The crops in Wisconsin are very badly injured. The frost will only injure a fringe of the corn belt.

It is safe that among the Chinese, the Lairds of Insects are used medically to give strength to feeble. Caterpillar Syrup they consider a specific for Bronchitis; Dried Toads are taken to give tone to the system, while the horns of the rhinoceros, the bones of tigers, the jaws of tigers, and the wings of bats all have a place in the Chinese Pharmacopœia. A simple remedy containing well known ingredients is nothing thought of by a patient and their doctors seem to be quite of the same mind. How different it is with us outside barbarians in this respect, where the elegant preparation, of pleasant taste, composed of well known and well tried remedies, such as embodied in Robinson's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Lacto Phosphate of Lime is not only sought after by the patient but is recommended and largely prescribed by the most intelligent physicians.

For sale by Druggists all over the Dominion.
