CITY AND VICINITY.

To-day's Probabilities.

Moderate winds, fair slightly warmer weather with some showers at night.

A Street Rumor.

It was rumored on the streets to-day that there is a boom in the Lee property at Portage la Prairie, which is built by Kingstonians, owing to the near location of the Manitoba and North Western RR. works.

Police Court.

Canadian McMahon, for drunkenness, was fined $2 and costs. A lady was charged with tearing down a fence between her yard and that of a neighbor. The evidence was not conclusive and a dismissal followed.

The Assimilitis Returning.

The I. C. B. U. will commence their usual weekly Assimilitis on Wednesday evening next, Oct. 3rd, in their hall. Stanley's quadrille band has been engaged for the occasion. Next Wednesday being the opening night dancing will be kept up until 2 o'clock. Tickets 25c.

Cataraqui Railway.

The rails have been laid for the Cataraqui Railway, and the grading is now proceeding. The line will probably be opened in a month. The road crosses the river at three places. Two iron and a wooden bridges have been erected. The iron bridges are quite long.

The Sale Continued.

The auction sale at 288 Princess St. will be continued on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock and every day during the week until the whole stock is sold. To accommodate the large number of ladies who it is impossible to serve during auction hours, private sales at auction prices will continue from 9 to 5 o'clock.

Married in Napanee.

The marriage of Dr. Leonard, a graduate of the Royal College, Kingston, and Miss Frances Clapp, daughter of Mrs. W. V. Dulhie, occurred in St. Mary Magdalene's Church last Wednesday Ven. Archdeacon Bedford Jones, assisted by Rev. Mr. Parker, of Trenton, officiated. There was a wedding breakfast at the bride's mother's, after which the couple left for Montreal, attended by a profusion of good wishes.

Military Appointments.

Major Henry S. Smith, 47th Batt., is appointed to act as Aide-de-Camp to the Major General commanding the Militia, from 1st Oct. next until further orders.

Capt. E. Eshan, R.E., Instructor in Fortification, Military Engineering, Geometrical Drawing and Descriptive Geometry, Royal Military College, is promoted to be Professor of the Art, from 13th July, 1889.

Monthly Returns.

During September 97 persons registered at the police station. Of this number 40 were convicted before the Magistrate, fined or sent to prison.

The vital statistics sent to the City Registrar are: Births, 30; marriages, 17, and deaths, 8.

A statement showing the value of imports and exports with collections during the month of September, 1889: Imports, $134,333; exports, $49,930; collections, $13,626.04.

Redpath Has Intentions.

Last night Capt. Abbie declared her intention. Unless she gets married we may expect her to accept the franchise conferred upon women by Sir John. Last night Lizzie Rosie Smith said she thought it too bad to come so far from home, when Abbie remarked, "The Yankees have an awful opinion of we Britishers." Great laughter followed the remark. It hasn't taken Abbie long to develope into a full steel Canadian.

Fifty Years of Married Life.

Yesterday was the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. J. Benbow, late City Assessor—in other words it was his golden wedding. Mr. Benbow is one of our oldest and most respectable citizens. He is an Englishman by birth, but he has resided in the city since 1830. He entered the army in 1837, (during the rebellion) and from 1839 until 1871 was attached to the Adjutant General's office. The house in which he was wedded still remains, and is now occupied by Sheriff Ferguson.

A Sunday Movement.

Rev. Finlay McCuaig, of Chalmers' Church, will have an audience with the Postmaster General in Ottawa on Thursday and present a petition against the Sunday mail service. This petition is 150 feet long and bears 5,000 signatures. The names are in double column. The signers live between Montreal and Toronto, and consist of nearly all the business men in the towns and cities along the line of the G.T.R. It is held that the service is no doubtful benefit to the public, that so formerly the people were well enough convenienced.

ROMAN CATHOLIC SYNOD.

THE OCCASION OF THE LAST MEETING—THE PUPIL PARTICIPANTS IN IT THAT NOW SURVIVE.

Bishop Phelan's Successors and What Course of Ill—Connecting to the Diocese—The Synod as It Was and as It Is Now Constituted—An Event of Great Importance in Church Circles.

This evening the Synod of the Diocese of Kingston opens in St. Mary's Cathedral. It is one of the events which distinguish the regime of His Lordship Bishop Cleary. Bumbinqueers are always in order, and so we give first a short sketch of the diocese. It was erected in 1826, at which time this city was chosen as the site of the See, such a circumstance taking place by authority of Pope Leo XII., the document dating Jan. 27th of that year, by which the Province of Upper Canada was, with the concurrence of the Governor, separated from the Diocese of Quebec. It relates in the old chronicles that when Bishop Macdonald had given his allegiance to George IV. he made choice of the Church of St. Joseph as his Cathedral—the building which still stands on the corner of Bagot and William Streets. The diocese, as now constituted, embraces the Counties of Glengarry, Stormont, Dundas, Grenville, Lanark, Leeds, Frontenac, Addington, Lennox, Prince Edward and Hastings, an extensive territory, the supervision of the Church in which entails great responsibilities. Dr. Cleary's predecessors were Right Rev. A. McDonnell, who died in 1840; Right Rev. Dr. Remigeus Gaulin, died Nov., 1857; Right Rev. P. Phelan, died June, 1857; Right Rev. Edward John Horan, died February, 1857; and Right Rev. John O'Brien, died August 1st, 1879. The first Bishop of Kingston, Right Rev. A. McDonnell, was appointed by Pope Pius VII., and for several years resided in Glengarry, with the title of Bishop of Rhesina.

MEETING OF THE LAST SYNOD.

On the 17th of August, 1853, Right Rev. P. Phelan, Bishop of Carrha, called to Kingston those who had the care of souls for the purpose of spiritual exercise. On the 22nd of August Bishop Phelan further announced that the Diocesan Synod would be held immediately after the retreat. The clergy assembled here on Monday, Sept. 5th, and continued in retreat for five days in Regiopolis College. The retreat was conducted by Rev. Father Driscoll, S.J. At its conclusion the Synod opened in the chapel of the Blessed Virgin Mary, in Regiopolis College. Pontifical Mass was celebrated by Bishop Phelan. Revs. P. Dollard and J. H. McDonogh, (uncle of the present priest at Napanee) assisting. At the conclusion of the services the Secretary read in a loud voice the profession of faith and the decrees of the Council of Trent, to which all the Fathers present assented. Father Driscoll followed with an eloquent sermon.

ELECTING THE OFFICERS.

The Synod then proceeded to the election of officers as follows:

Promoter—Rev. E. Macdonald.

Vice-Promoter—Rev. Oliver Kelly.

Secretary—Rev. J. Chisholm.

Assistant Secretary—Rev. P. Dollard.

Assistant Master of Ceremonies—Rev. J. Ouster.

Chanters—Revs. J. F. Cannon and Caroles Funk.

None of the above clergymen are at present living, and out of the entire company of thirty-one priests present the following only survive: Rev. Father R. Higgins, Kingston; M. Makay, Tyendinaga; J. Mend, Tyendinaga, and Monsignor Farrelly, Belleville. On the second day of the Synod mass was said for the deceased Bishop Macdonnell. Bishop Phelan was celebrant, Revs. P. Dollard and P. O'Connell (now of the Ottawa Diocese) assistants. This concluded the meeting of the Synod.

THE ANNOUNCEMENTS YESTERDAY.

Rev. Father Twohey made the following announcements at the Masses in St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday: In accordance with the indiction of Synod placed at the entrance to the church, the Synod will commence on Monday evening at 3 o'clock by the assembly of the clergy for private session. This will be the second Synod of this diocese—the first having been held in the year 1853 under Dr. Phelan. The chief purpose of the present Synod is to promulgate in solemn form the decrees of the First Provincial Synod of Toronto, held in the year 1873, forwarded to Rome for revision, and received last year, revised and approved of. For the legal validity of Provincial decrees in each Diocese promulgation by the Bishop is required. The solemn form of such promulgation is by means of Diocesan Synod—hence the assembly of the clergy in this Cathedral to-morrow.

THE ORDER OF THE PROCEEDINGS

will be regulated as follows: The clergy meet the Bishop in the sanctuary on Monday evening at 5 o'clock, when a preliminary session will be held to arrange everything for the following day—appoint officials, explain the decrees, etc. The decrees having been revised and approved by the Holy See, do not admit of discussion but only of explanation by the Bishop, that their purpose and limitations may be accurately defined. On the following day, (Tuesday) the mass de Spiritu Sancto will be solemnly celebrated by the Bishop in pontificals, with attendant Ministers in Canonicals at which all the clergy of the Diocese assist wearing the stole the symbol of priestly authority and receiving the Blessed Eucharist at the hands of the Bishop. At the conclusion of the mass the sermon will be preached on "the nature and functions of Synods in relation to church discipline" by Father Kelly, the Bishop's Secretary, after the sermon the solemn opening of the Synod will be announced to the people, after which the congregation retire and the Bishop and clergy proceed with the order of the day.

THE PROVINCIAL DECREES

now about to be published chiefly regard clerical discipline and the relations between its clergy and their Bishop, and the general laws of the church. Any legislation that may affect the laity will be explained to them by the Bishop in the form of pastoral letter at the proper time. He also announced special prayers to be offered in the Cathedral each evening until the second day of November as ordered by Encyclical letter of His Holiness.

Josh E. Ogden, business agent of "Jos. Murphy's Combination," is in the city. Joe will appear here, in "Kerry Gow," on the 10th inst. He will have a big reception.

The superannuation of Sergt.-Major Bell would be a real public service. The public would be satisfied to pay Lim $600 to stay at home. At the station he is only an obstructionist and annoyance.

James Goodwin, of Ottawa, one of the largest Canadian contractors, died very suddenly in the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, yesterday. Mr. William Harty has left to attend the funeral.

Mr. N. Marshall, Toronto, has put an electric indicator in the British American Hotel, and has an order for a similar thing for the Windsor Hotel. The instruments, in the offices, are quite ornamental.

Personal Intelligence.

Mr. T. W. Benson, M. P., Leeds and Grenville, sails for Canada from England about the 1st October.

Miss Alice Brophy and Miss Kate Somers, of Gananoque, have left to attend the convent at Williamstown.

Rev. Mr. Phillips, late of England, an eloquent preacher, occupied the pulpit of the Queen Street Church last evening.

The Rev. Dr. Sullivan, the Lord Bishop of Algoma, will sail by the Beaver Line steamship "Lake Winnipeg" for England on Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Brown, who has been in the city for some time, preaching in the Primitive Methodist Church occasionally, leaves on Thursday for Edgerton, James County, Mich., where he has received a good appointment.

The Rev. Donald Ross, of Lachine, who leaves in a few days to take a professorship in Queen's College, Kingston, was the guest at an "At Home" given by Mrs. Cushing, at which he met a large number of clergymen of Montreal.

Mr. W. J. Robertson, managing editor of the Canada School Journal, spent Saturday and Sunday in the city. He has gone eastward, but will return to the city at the latter part of the week and attend the Teachers' Convention.

W. S. Macdonald, of New York, has notified Rev. H. Auston that he intends putting in Christ Church a handsome memorial stained glass window in memory of the late Col. Stone, the founder of Gananoque.

A Very Old Friend.

We, on Saturday, had a call from Mr. Walker, of the head office of the Montreal Transportation Company, who entered the forwarding business half a century ago, and has ever since been connected with it. He has been a member of several firms, has seen a dozen changes in the style of crafts in use and the means of transporting freight, and will not be surprised at great developments in the future. Mr. Walker is yet active and exceedingly useful, and the M. T. Co. no doubt appreciate his service at its true value. Few in the city will now remember him, but in marine circles he is known as the Kingston manager of the first steamboats which run the rapids.

Sergt.-Major's Best Together.

The policemen were paraded this morning and inspected by the Commissioners. The men had no complaints to offer. We have one, however, to present against the Sergt.-Major. This morning the Chief gave a Wabo reporter a verbal order that he could see the police register and from it secure the monthly returns. The Sergt.-Major was so informed but refused to allow of the examination. A written order had to be got from the Chief. If this refusal happens be continued we shall see what the public think of it. If the Sergt.-Major is of more importance than the Chief it is time the people knew it.

MIDLAND CENTRAL FAIR.

THE EIGHTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE NEW AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION —A GOOD RECORD.

Efforts to Establish the Midland Central—Effects of Local Jealousies—Long Service Without Much Result—Present Position of the Institution and Its Promise of Continued Success—An Interesting Historical Review.

The 18th February, 1852, saw gathered in the Court House a little knot of nineteen gentlemen representing the city of Kingston and the counties of Frontenac, Lennox and Addington, and one and all imbued with the feeling that was but then, as it were, simmering on the surface, of benefits to the agricultural interests by the formation of societies for the discussion of agricultural matters and the holding of competitive exhibitions. "The County Agricultural Society of the United Counties of Frontenac, Lennox and Addington" was the outcome of the meeting, with a "members' list" of 118 names and subscriptions amounting to £64 10s. This society, however, had but a short existence and expired by Act of Parliament before the close of the year. On the 26th February, 1853, a meeting of the "inhabitants of the County of Frontenac interested in the agricultural prosperity of the county" was held at the Court House, when "The Agricultural Society of the County of Frontenac" came into existence, also under Act of Parliament, its members meeting periodically and discussing subjects interesting to agriculturists, but, so far as the records show, holding

NO EXHIBITION UNTIL 1854.

In September, 1853, strenuous efforts were made by the Association to secure the holding of the next "Provincial" in Kingston, and the co-operation of the counties North and East, Prince Edward and Hastings was sought for that purpose, but to little avail as Kingston was passed by in favor, we believe, of Cobourg. Feeling how unfairly the claims of this district were treated induced an attempt (in 1857) to effect a union with the neighboring counties for the purpose of holding a "yearly united Counties Exhibition previous to the great annual Provincial Show, by which the products of the farmers and mechanics of this section of the Province, by having a more thorough knowledge of their own united resources, would be better enabled to compete with other parts at the annual fairs of this Province." Communication was held with the various neighboring County Societies, but although the idea was reported on favourably the Societies "had not funds in hand to dispose of for the purpose," a reason which, to our thinking, bespoke a feeling of jealousy lest Frontenac should be the 'lion' and the proposed union take place. In 1859, however, it would seem that the representations made, aided perhaps by the fear that at no remote date the counties of the Midland districts might, by uniting seriously inpair its prospects, the Directors of the Provincial consented once again to honor Kingston with their Exhibition. Whether it ever came off and with what results at the time of writing we have no means of ascertaining, but from 1857 to 1872 it would appear as if the "County Show"

HELD UNDISTURBED EMPIRE,

In October of 1879 efforts were again made for the long agitated union, but with as little prospect of success as before. Believing that perseverance will ultimately overcome most difficulties, the Directors of the County Association made in the following year another and final attempt to induce their neighbours to "join in an annual central, and for that purpose a meeting was held on the 17th Dec., 1874, attended by delegates from the societies of the surrounding district," to take into consideration the advisability of taking action to unite for the purpose of holding a united central show in some place between Brockville and Belleville and to be decided upon by the said delegates. The feeling was unanimous that a Central Fair was desirable. The delegates, however, not feeling that their societies would give up towards its support any portion of their Government grant, but that it could be supported by the members' subscriptions, corporation grants and gate receipts, the success of the Guelph Central being quoted in supported of such views, upon Kingston fell the onus of the initiatory steps and the carrying into effect of the proposed idea. An influential committee was appointed and thus the Midland Central Fair was to stand or fall as it should win favour with the multitude. That it has been well received and appreciated by the agricultural interests this the eighth annual show fully proves, and besides the benefit conferred by the knowledge disseminated through the annual gatherings it has satisfactorily filled the gap left by the angel-like visits of the Provincial. Unlike London, and having in mind the almost unparalleled success of the recent Toronto Exhibition, we are far too modest claim for the Midland Central the title of the "Great Show," but then London was always an ambitious city, and in its eyes its individual crow the whitest. We do claim, however, that our fair, with its "hundred and one" attractions, will be the most successful, not even excepting the unlucky Provincial, that this section has seen. The managers have spared no trouble in catering for the expected crowds, and East and West, North and South flaming posters, and an unlimited distribution of prize lists have proclaimed the bill of fare. Railroads, steamboats, street cars, et cum hoc omnis chance down to the more humble truckman, have made gigantean calculations as to the how they can best accommodate the public and best fill their coffers; whilst hotel keepers, saloonists and the proprietors of other establishments that profess to administer comfort to the inner man, (and who would be without a stomach at such a time) have requisitioned for supplies with a reckless prodigality that will, we fear seriously affect the Christmas turkey, but that all will be filled, pleased and accommodated we have no fear. Father Flavius having been duly propitiated by a complimentary ticket ladies need not be afraid of appearing in their most killing costumes.

LAUNCHED INTO EXISTENCE,

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE WEEK.

So well has the show and its attraction been advertised that every one must know all about them. The quoit match, in which the crack players of Belleville will pitch against our Kingstonians, comes off on Wednesday; the bicycle race, which will be an exciting contest between the leading amateurs of the city and neighbouring towns, will be run on Thursday; and there will be a grand day for the school children on Friday. The entries are equal and in some classes ahead of previous years, and so far as one can see everything promises for a most successful exhibition.

FATAL RUNAWAY.

Dash of a Team of Horses—Boy's Heroic Efforts to Check Them—A Sad Result.

A lamentable accident occurred on Saturday evening between five and six o'clock. During the afternoon Timothy Kennedy, in the employ of Mr. D. Strachan, brought a load of lumber from the mill in Barriefield to the city. He was accompanied by his little son Michael, only 10 years of age. The material had been delivered at its destination and father and son started for home. A stop was made at the market square. Mr. Kennedy desired to get some tobacco at Conroy's store, and, we are informed, the lad said that if the check lines were loosened he would drive the horses (Strachan's) to the fountain for a drink. Mr. Kennedy, a moment later, heard a noise and rushing out of the store, saw the horses in the act of running away. They were quite close, and he and failed. His son was seated upon the waggon, and, holding the lines, was doing his best to stop the animals. They headed for home, and went down Ontario street at a lively rate, followed by several vehicles, the occupants of which sought to head off the run-aways. The cries of the boy indicated his alarm, but he held the lines and exhausted himself in trying to pull up the fiery steeds. At the barracks he was fatally hurt, but just how there is a difference of opinion. Some say the runaways collided with a stationary rig, but one who was quite near says such was not the case. He says the waggon, standing in the way caused the galloping horses to sheer to the left, that the hind wheels caught in the track, and that in consequence the reach was broken. Then the team curved suddenly to the right, the boy was jerked forward, fell in front of the wheels and ran over. He was picked up, a terrible sufferer, placed in a buggy and conveyed to the surgery of Dr. T. W. Fenwick. His father was quickly by his side, deeply grieved and broken hearted. We cannot picture his feelings; they are indescribable. The little fellow, while consciousness remained, made as he looked most tenderly at his "pa," and, while he could, talked of what had happened. Dr. Fenwick says he saw at a glance that the lad was dying, but he applied remedies and did what he could to alleviate the pain. For an hour life lingered. The boy in that time did not speak; he was in a kind of stupor, and gradually sank. The injuries were internal and doubtless the heart and lungs were affected. The body was subsequently removed to Mr. Kennedy's home at Barriefield, and the bereaved father was offered all the sympathy which the calamity could elicit. The horses, after the accident, ran as far as the bridge, which was opened and the roadway blocked by a gate. Thus they were brought to sudden halt.

ESSAYED TO CATCH THEM

THE SCENE STILL HARDER

WHAT WE CLAIM.

To all who desire to increase their flesh and strength, enrich and purify their blood, invigorate their mind and body, we claim that by proper use of Paul's Phosphorized Compound, a preparation of PURE RED spelled with PHOSPHORUS the best Nerve Tonic ever used, will more speedily and perfectly accomplish these important results than any other combination ever used. For hundreds of years it has been known that Flax Seed on even meals taken in the form of porridge, was employed in the animal economy. In Flax Seed Emulsion Comp. all the PATENTIFIC, SOOTHING and HEALING properties of Flax Seed are obtained in the most easily digested form and united with the most active nutritive ingredients of Phosphorus making a most elegant and valuable preparation; even the most sensitive and delicate can take it, and of the same time it is more easily digested than the damaged grains demanded when it calls for a prescription of other nutritive. Ask your druggists for particulars. Read the following testimonial:

OUR OPENING AN IMMENSE SUCCESS!

IN THANKING OUR MANY FRIENDS FOR CALLING ON US YESTERDAY, we beg to apologize for being unable to attend to all as we would like, there being such a rush. Mrs. Spence and her assistants had more than they could do, but would be glad to see all back that could not get waited on, when we are sure they will be suited, our Stock this season being the largest ever shown in the city and new Goods arriving daily as they come from the manufacturers.

Sept. 26. RICHMOND & BOYDEN'S

APOLOGY.

WE OWE THE PUBLIC an apology on account of the dirty, dusty and disarranged condition of our Store during the past few weeks, caused by plasterers, carpenters and and painters in the enlargement and improvement of our premises and also because our Stock has been run down and poorly assorted, as we did not deem it wise to receive new goods in the dusty condition of things.

TO KEEP PACE with our requirements and accommodate our largely increasing trade we have to extend our premises, and have now one of the neatest and most convenient stores in the city of Kingston.

OVER FIFTY CASES of new fall stock to hand.

HAINES & LOCKETT,

CITY BOOT STORE.

WE HAVE CONFIDENCE in stating that we are in the position to offer prices and a variety which cannot be obtained elsewhere. Facts are stubborn things—statements amount to nothing. Call and be the judge.

TERMS CASH. Goods marked in plain figures.

☞ We are the largest retail dealers in Boots, Shoes Trunks, Bags and Travelling goods in Canada, buying and selling for cash, with leading establishments at
