H. H. DOWNS'
Vegetable Balsamic
ELIXIR!

This valuable medicine is purely vegetable; the discovery of which was the result of many years' close study, in order to discover the cause, the symptoms and the cure—viz.:

Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Croup, Asthma, Influenza, Pleurisy, Hoarseness, Spitting Blood, Bronchitis, and every species of oppression of the Chest and Lungs. In all cases where this Elixir has been duly administered its efficacy has been invariably manifested, convincing the most incredulous that is not incurable, if properly attended to.—Consumption at its commencement, is but a slight irritation of the membrane which covers the lungs; then an inflammation, when the cough is more observable, but rather dry; then becomes local fever and the pulse more frequent, the cheeks flushed and chills more common. This Elixir in curing the above complaints, operates so as to remove all morbid irritations and inflammation from the lungs to the surface, and finally expel them from the system. It facilitates expectoration.

IT HEALS THE ULCERATED SURFACES

and relieves the cough and makes the breathing easy. It supports the strength and at the same time reduces the fever. It is free from strong opiate and astringent articles, which are of so drying a nature as to be in great danger of destroying the patient; whereas this medicine never dries or stops the cough, but, by removing the cause, generally destroys the hectic before the cough is entirely gone. Consequently, when the cough is cured the patient is well. Send address for pamphlets giving full directions for cure of pulmonary diseases. Price 35cts. and $1 per bottle. Sold everywhere.

CITY AND VICINITY.

THE rush to Stacey & Walpole's book store still continues, and so far the clearing sale is a grand success.

ST. PAUL'S S.S. CHILDREN'S CONCERT.—This evening at 7:15 in the school room the children will be assisted by an effective orchestra.

PROBS.—Fresh to strong north-westerly to northerly winds, cloudy to fair weather, with flurries of snow, stationary or slightly higher temperatures.

OPENED TO-DAY.—A choice of 250 styles of ladies' and children's hats, at 25 per cent. less than usual prices. All wool Java canvass, Congress cloth, or Paris net, at S. Burgess & Son's.

A YOUNG MAN writes: "I have used Mack's Magnetic Medicine and am much pleased with the result." It has cured me after doctors and other medicines had failed. See advertisement in another column.

BEGINNING THE SEASON.—The prop. Cuba will open up the season as she leaves Toronto on Saturday next for Ogdensburg via Kingston, Gananoque, Brockville and Prescott. Capt. McCorquodale will sail her again this season.

GOOD BUSINESS DAY.—It is the general opinion that for a long time there had not been a finer business day than that of Saturday. Every store-keeper reports that he had a rush, and that the country people made extensive purchases.

TRUE BILLS.—The two Gananoque youths, Howard and Looher, who outraged a girl on an island opposite that village, and were arrested and committed for trial, have had true bills returned against them by the Leeds Grand Jury.

A WITNESS NECESSARY.—Mr. F. A. Wise, of Ottawa, Superintendent of the Rideau Canal, arrived the city last evening. He was subpœnaed as a witness in the Chancery case of Gamford v. Pierce, but his presence was not necessary, as the case was settled.

ANOTHER DOSE.—On the 17th of this month Jack Coulter will receive his second dose of the cat (24 lashes) for attempting outrage upon a woman named Campbell in this city. Will the public cry out against his punishment as in the case of young Chatterton?

STILL THEY GO.—The Grand Trunk train from the east, due at 11.07 did not arrive in Toronto yesterday till 1.30, the delay having been caused by the engine jumping the track near Kingston. The train arrived in two sections, with a large number of persons on board for Manitoba.

COUNTY ELECTIONS.—The Napanee Standard must not be too confident about Lennox and Addington. Mr. Allison is in a fair way to redeem the former, and if Mr. Britton runs in the latter he will not be the leader of a forlorn hope. Mr. Britton is not a stranger in the constituency.

THE STREET RAILWAY.—Manager Oliver, of the Street Railway Company, is in Toronto. It is hinted that new men will take a controlling interest in the concern. The road above Gordon street is now being repaired. The Directors meet on Saturday next to consider matters of moment.

A MARKED DIFFERENCE.—What is the difference between the speech made by Mr. Thomas White in Parliament, on March 18th and that delivered by him last evening? One has been described by the Montreal Gazette as the best of the session; the other has been voted by a Kingstoman as the driest of the season.

MARK THE ROUND TRIP.—The schr., named in honor of Ontario's Premier, arrived here at 1 a.m. from Big Sodus, where she had delivered a cargo of ore and was windbound for several days. She will load stone at Portsmouth for Charlotte. There is little pleasure in working on a vessel at this time of the year.

DESERVED ATTENTION.—The Napanee Express pays our local contemporary some attention for having failed ignominiously to give anything like a full report of the Napanee tragedy on the day it occurred, and resorting to the contemptible expedient of decrying our report, and for that purpose copying a scurrilous paragraph from the Napanee West End paper.

FATHER BRETTRAGH'S CASE.—No information can be secured relative to the citing of Father Brettragh before Bishop Cleary yesterday. The meeting was in St. Mary's Cathedral. It was strictly private, none but the members of the Diocesan Committee being present. What conclusion was arrived at is not known, as none of the priests will say anything in regard to the proceedings.

APOSTOLIC ORDER.—Two clergymen sitting in the inner circle of the Opera House last evening, noticed that there were just twelve chairs upon the platform, and they concluded that the Tory party were bound to do things in apostolic order. They carried the idea out by selecting a chair for Judas Iscariot, upon which a prominent lawyer subsequently dropped to the amusement of those in the secret.

WHAT'S THE NEWS?

Laconic Arrangement of Items of Local and General Interest—Gossip that is Readable.

THERE was no scampering out of the meeting which Mr. Paterson addressed.

Adjutant General Powell says there will not be a review on the 24th May. That settles it.

Had Mr. White's speech last night a tendency to raise the price of flour? Quotations are up to-day.

The audience in the Opera House last evening was largely Reform. That fact was clearly demonstrated.

If we lived in Toronto and wanted a morning paper, and could only afford one, we would call in the World.

Report says that a Kingston barrister, who bought a Manitoba property for $175 a few years ago, has sold it for $2,500.

Mr. John Simpson, of Cataraqui, would like to import some improved stock from Michigan, but the prohibitory cattle law forbid.

No one smiled at the Opera House last night but the endmen. The interlocutor and his supporters yawned several times.

The votes of the working-men are not wanted by the Conservative Leaders in this city. Labour was utterly ignored at Mr. White's meeting.

The latest regarding East Toronto is that Mr. Bunting is to be the Conservative candidate. Mr. W. H. Beatty's name is also mentioned. But Mr. Davin will not retire.

The directors and officers of the Midland Central Fair Association accompanied the Agricultural Board and City Council to the Crystal Palace grounds this afternoon.

Gentlemen at the political meeting wondered why so many doctors should be paraded. The reason is plain enough. The party in the city is quite sick at present, and has called in the medical men to administer White's pills.

The Kingston correspondent of the Montreal Gazette says Mr. D. W. Allison's chances in Lennox are absolutely nil, that he is generally looked upon as a pretty weak man. Time will tell. We have a hat at stake on the result.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Col. Hance is in town.

Mr. T. White, M.P., was to leave for Ottawa this afternoon.

Mr. F. C. Ireland has been elected one of the Council of the Institute of Accountants.

Hon. Mr. Mowat will remain in the city until to-morrow. A day or two's rest here will be of benefit to him.

Rev. Father Lonergan, of Montreal, was in the city on Monday attending the funeral of Sister McGillivray.

Mr. Marcus Rossin, who did business in Kingston about 1840, died on his way from Toronto to Mayence, where his daughter resides.

Mr. G. W. Ross, M.P., will lecture on "Intellectual Forces" before the Lennox and Addington and Kingston Teachers Associations. He is a very popular speaker.

Mr. William Wild, editor of the Farmers' Advocate, London, is in the city, his purpose being to attend the meeting of the Provincial Arts and Agricultural Association.

Rev. Gavin Lang has accepted the call given him by the West Parish of Inverness, Scotland, but will not leave St. Andrew's, Montreal, until a successor is appointed. He took his present position in 1869.

Death From Apoplexy

To-day at noon Michael Glynn, aged 55 years, a pensioner, dropped dead in Mrs. Hogan's hotel, corner of Barrack and Ontario streets. Glyn arrived at at the house yesterday. He went to the Artillery Park and drew his pension, amounting to over $14. He remained at the inn until he died. At noon he was eating his dinner, and was laughing and chatting merrily with a comrade at the table when suddenly he seemed to choke and struggle for breath. Dr. T. M. Fenwick was summoned, but medical skill was of no avail. Death resulted from apoplexy. Glynn was an old-time citizen, well known at the Police Court, where he frequently appeared on a charge of public drunkenness. He had $8 on his person and his discharge paper. He served in the British army for 21 years and 1 month, and was connected with the 48th Regiment, Northampshire Buffs. In 1867 he was discharged from Chelsey Hospital. His pension was eight pence per day.

Buffalo Robes Recovered.

In January last there were three buffalo robes stolen from the stables in Tete du Pont Barracks. The officers reported the matter to the police, and the case was looked up, but the officers would not have search warrants issued until to-day. In fifteen minutes after the warrants were issued Detective Sullivan found the robes in the St. Lawrence Hotel. They were taken to the Police Station, where they now are. The proprietor of the hotel claims that he purchased them from a soldier named Cooper for $7. At present this fellow is in durance vile, convicted of other larcenies at the barracks. A good deal of property has been missed during the past few months.

Early Voyageurs.

The Messrs. Radcliffe brothers, from Oswego, arrived in Toronto yesterday in a trim little yacht, they having been cruising for the past week on their way to Kingston. They were obliged to put into Fort Darlington on Saturday, owing to the storm, and were detained there until Monday morning. After taking in a stock of provisions they proceeded on their cruise, intending to sail around the lake.

STOCK FOR THE PROVINCIAL.—It will be remembered that last year a New Yorker brought for exhibition to the Midland Central Fair, several head of cattle, but owing to an order-in-council was prevented from landing his stock. There was disappointment in consequence. At the Provincial Fair no doubt many Americans will desire to make exhibits of cattle so that it will be desirable to have this order rescinded. The neighboring Americans should be great patrons of the Fair.

DAIRYING IN THE VICINITY.

Review of the Business in Leeds and Pittsburgh—Some Disadvantages of Great Moment.

As some of the dairymen sent their last shipment of cheese to England, they are later than usual in paying their patrons up in full. The accounts, however, show that the price realized, after paying all expenses, is about 9c. per gallon of 10 lbs., or about half a cent less than that of 1880. The dairy business is steadily increasing, in proof of which we would mention the fact that Mr. James Birmingham, proprietor of South Lake factory, received during the past season 300 tons of milk. His is the only factory in these townships in which cheddar cheese is made, and the very satisfactory result of producing 1 lb. of cheese from 10 lbs. of milk was also accomplished. His cheese is probably the best in this locality. Mr. Birmingham is also an excellent salesman.

Mr. Ruttle, of Leeds factory, received 260 tons of milk. A lively competition has existed for some time between Mr. Birmingham and Mr. Ruttle, but it would be invidious to say which had the best of it.

Messrs. Dillon & Maitland, Brewer's Mills factory, received 217 tons of milk. They guaranteed their patrons 1 lb. of cheese for 10 lbs. of milk, and sustained a slight loss thereby.

Woodburn factory, owned by Mr. Josiah Abrams, gives good satisfaction, as the cheesemaker, Mr. Smith, is a first class hand, and has had charge of the factory several years.

Mr. Jas. Marten, owner of Cushendall factory, has completed his first year in the business, and, judging from present indications, he is likely to be very successful, his patrons having every confidence in him.

Joyceville factory, owned by Mr. Michael Murphy, has not been quite so successful as formerly, owing to the rivalry of Woodburn and Cushendall.

PRICES HERE AND ELSEWHERE.

It is a general impression that the manufacturers charge too much for making the cheese. Now we have collected from the Globe, Mail, and Western Advertiser the returns from fifteen factories in the western part of the province, and in not a single instance did any of them pay their patrons as much as in either Leeds or Pittsburgh; and the charges for making were also higher. In some of the factories referred to more than a 1,000 tons of milk were received, and not one of them was able to average 1 lb. of cheese to 10 lbs. of milk. In only one instance was cheese sold higher than here.

PREJUDICE TO THE FACTORIES.

Some people indulge in a practice that is neither fair towards the factory owner, the cheese maker nor the other patrons, that is, in keeping part of their milk, and the best part, at home in the Fall. For the first three months it will take more than 10½ lbs. of milk to make 1 lb. of cheese, while for the last three months less than 9½ will do it; and as by a general average the inferior milk of June and July realizes as much as the rich milk of the Fall months, those who put in large quantities of milk towards the last of the season lose heavily.

DAIRYING AGAINST STOCK RAISING.

If the accounts were made up at the end of July, and again at the end of the season, it would remove the injustice so far as the patrons are concerned, though the manufacturer would still be a loser. An effort should be made to do justice to all parties, as the dairy has become a very important source of income to the farmer. Some farmers, however, stoutly maintain that there is more money in grain than stock. Such men mostly have none but scrub cows that are not fit to enter in the opening, and are charged occasionally with a fine stock for stealing a mouthful of hay or straw from the barn door. If they would have less old, idle and useless horses in the country and more good cows it would add materially to their welfare. We hope soon to see as much interest taken to improve dairy cows as in introducing Percheron horses.

PROFIT OF DAIRY COWS.

Dairy cows will each give a return of about $20 for six months, though some will make over $30. A cow that will give a ton and a half of milk in six months is considered first-class, but some have been known to exceed this. Mr. Wm. Beattie, Pittsburgh, sent ten tons from six cows; Mr. Peter McCallum put into Brewer's Mills factory over 27 tons, the cheese from which realized nearly $570; Mr. Thos. Conner sent to Woodburn 24 tons. And yet it is only a few years since the first of the factories were built.

POLICE COURT—WEDNESDAY.

Fun for the Boys—Clearing Private Grievances in Public—Little Episodes in Passing.

The proceedings at the Court this morning were quite interesting, as the numerous assault cases brought out many spicy little scenes in private life, the secrets of which were relished by the audiences. There is always a comical side to the petty troubles; people fume and rage over trifles; to see them describe their grievances is really laughable.

DAMAGE TO A WINDOW.

The first assault case was that of Thomas Todd v. John Simpson. Both are shoemakers, and defendant was accused of having broken the former's windows. Mrs. Todd took the stand and said that one of the windows of her house had been broken by Simpson, at least so her little boy had informed her. The deed occurred on Good Friday night. The damage amounted to 20c., the pane broken being 8 x 6 in. in size. She alleged that the damage was the result of an old grudge against her husband.

Mrs. Lovett, the landlady, appeared in a cloth hood with white frilling, which set off a pleasant face. As soon as she had entered the stand she burst into tears, and only by the united efforts of counsel and Magistrate could the lachrymosal current be stayed. She saw two men break the window, but couldn't say who did it. She denied having said that Simpson did it. This statement seemed quite too too. Mrs. Todd, with a long drawn "Oh, Mrs. Lovett!" broke out afresh, and a lively passage occurred between the women. Mrs. Todd accused Mrs. Lovett of perjuring herself. The defence put in no evidence and Simpson was dismissed.

FUN IN A BROKER'S SHOP.

George Davy was next accused of assaulting his brother-in-law, Wm. David. The row occurred in complainant's shop on Princess street. It was caused by some remarks relative to Davy's mother. David was accused of treating her badly. He resented the insult and called Davy a liar. The epithet was returned with emphasis. The door was opened for Davy to make his exit, but he refused to retire. A tussle ensued and David's fine cloth coat was torn. The fragmentary portions of the garment were exhibited in the court. Davy went out of the shop with a son of David's pulling on his collar, and Mr. David pushing him from behind. The case was enlarged until to-morrow. More evidence is wanted.

A CASE OF PETTY TRESPASS.

Thomas Moore was charged by Samuel Mockridge with petty trespass, having entered his shop on Princess street, with a companion, and accused complainant of "working under prices and spoiling the tailoring business." Moore said he was in liquor when he used the expression. Mr. McGuire said that the chief offence consisted in the remarks made about a lady in the house, but the city by-laws did not permit of any action being taken for abusive language under the circumstances. For the remarks made a public apology was made. Afterwards the Magistrate imposed a fine of $5 and costs for the trespass. Another person assaulted Mrs. Mockridge, as well as broke the shop window, but a summons cannot be served upon him.

A SINGLE DRUNK.

Samuel Gilmore acknowledged his drunkenness and was dismissed—the usual disposition of such cases.

A Cleveland Event.

The Cleveland Leader contains a lengthy account of the opening of the new organ in the Scoville Avenue M. E. Church, in that city, on Wednesday last, and of a vocal service under the direction of Mr R. Tandy, late of Kingston. Our contemporary adds: "Mr. R. Tandy, musical director, late of Buffalo, is a gentleman well known to musical circles East and in Canada. He is a tenor of great ability, and is already being sought after to take prominent parts in musical entertainments now being prepared in this city."

SPIRITS BY THE SCORE.

Celebrating the Thirty-Fourth Anniversary of Spirit Manifestations.

The thirty-fourth anniversary of the spirit manifestations in this country was celebrated by the Brooklyn Spiritual fraternity in the Brooklyn Institute, on Washington street, near Concord. Among those on the platform were ex-Justice William Coit, a well known Republican politician; D. M. Coles, formerly a deacon in the Gethsemane Baptist church; S. B. Nichols, President of the fraternity, presided. Mrs. E. J. Grant, soprano of Holy Trinity, daughter of ex-Surrogate Dailey, sang "Nearer, my God, to Thee." Ex-Surrogate Dailey read a paper on "Spiritualism and its opponents face to face," and Deacon D. M. Coles spoke upon "The formative power of spiritualism."

J. V. Mansfield, "the spirit postmaster," said there was such a rush of spirits into the hall that he felt overpowered, and had become confused as he entered the room, and during the speechmaking he had retired into the corner, where he wrote the names of the spirits he saw until his paper gave out. He had put down the names of 140 spirits, and he said he would have put down many more had he had more paper. Several persons in the audience said that they recognized names read off as those of friends who were in the other world. Mrs. Margaret Fox Kane, who, with her sister Katie, thirty-four years ago last night, heard the first spirit raps at Hydeville, took a seat at a small table, close to the legs of which she placed her feet, the end of her skirt, while she folded her hands across her lap. The spirits began to rap on the table like rats scampering over the floor.

"Are the spirits present?" asked the Chairman solemnly.

"Rap, rap, rap," went the spirits, while Mrs. Kane smiled.

A gentleman in the audience asked whether the spirit would spell out by raps the name he would write on a piece of paper. The spirits went rap, rap, rap, which the Chairman said meant, "I don't know."

"Will the spirits try?" asked the gentleman.

"Rap, rap," went the table, which being again interpreted, meant, "I don't know," caused a burst of laughter. The Chairman said that all that had been promised was that the spirits would rap on the platform, and as the raps had been heard nothing more would be asked of them. E. W. Wallis went into a trance while the audience sang "Shall we gather at the river?" and, with eyes closed and rolling eyes, he predicted a brilliant future for spiritualism.—New York Sun.
