Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. Whilst their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

Ayer's Sarsaparilla!

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ. Organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulceration of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony' Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from Internal Ulceration and Uterine Diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Sturtevant, of Bordentown, N. J. The plant has leaves six feet in diameter. On Monday last it unfolded its first flower, a creation of great beauty.

The sculling race between William Elliett, ex-champion of England, and Geo. Gaisel, of Harlem, for $500, came off over a three mile course on Flushing Bay, N.J. Gaisel led until near the rounding stake, when he got wide of his course, allowing Elliott to round the stake with three minutes lead, which he increased on his return stretch. Elliott's time was 23 minutes.

In Gilbert & Sullivan's for thcoming opera, "Princess Pearl," the hero is Strephon, the son of a fairy mother and of a father who is only fairy from the waist down. The plot mixes fairies and mortals comically. The queen of the fairies is very fat and gross, while a lord chancellor figures as quite ethereal. The men of the chorus are peers in coronets and robes.

The English harvest, after all, came out much better than was anticipated, so the farmers generally have more more money at their command than they have had for several years past. The root crops, as well as the cereals, have been wonderfully good.

In his stirring address, on Tuesday, Mr. Gladstone thanked God for the success in Egypt. He thanked the army and its skilful General. The war proved that the army was composed of men as brave as their forefathers ever were. The war has been carried on at from a love of peace and on the principles of peace. He trusted that Egypt would again be prosperous and happy.

PEOPLE who reside or sojourn in regions of country where fever and ague and bilious remittent fever are prevalent, should be particularly careful to regulate digestion, the liver and the bowels, before the approach of the season for the periodic malady. The timely use of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is a valuable safeguard against the malarial scourge. It is acknowledged to be the best blood purifier in the market.

The fight between Goss and Hill, at Jackson, Miss., was with new, heavy long lashed whips. Two lines were drawn eight feet apart, and these were toed by the combatants, who were stripped to the waist. The victor was to be the one who stood longest at the scratch. A great crowd witnessed the brutal exhibition, which lasted three hours, and resulted in a draw. Both were terribly lacerated and exhausted, but neither would acknowledge himself beaten.

FAIR WARS.

Why linger round the sunken wrecks,
Where old armadas found their graves
Why slumber on the sleepy decks
While foam and clash the angry waves?
Up! When the storm blasts rend the clouds
And winged with ruin sweeps the gale,
Young feet must climb the quivering masts
Young hands must reef the bursting sail.

Leave us to fight the tyrant creeds
Who felt their shackles, feel their scars;
The cheerful sunlight little deeds
The brutes that prowled beneath the stars;
The dawn is here, the day star shows
The spoils of many a battle won,
But sin and sorrow still are foes
That face us in the morning sun.

Who sleeps beneath yon bannered mounds
The proudly sorrowing mourner seeks—
The garland bearing crowd surrounds?
A bright haired boy, with beardless cheeks
'Tis time this "fallen world" should rise
Let youth the sacred work begin!
What nobler task, what fairer prize
Than earth to save and heaven to win?

IRISH IMMIGRATION.

Sir C. Tupper's Investigations in Mayo and Galway—Visit of an Irish Philanthropist.

Shortly before leaving for Canada Sir Charles Tupper paid a visit to the West of Ireland to investigate the prospects of emigration to this country. He was accompanied by Mr. Tuke (who administered the fund raised by the Duke of Bedford's Committee for the promotion of emigration from Ireland) and spent some time in Galway and Mayo, where he conferred with the clerks of the Unions, visited the people in their homes, and heard the views of landlords and others interested in the subject. On his return to Dublin Sir Charles and the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Trevelyan, had a long interview on the administration of the fund voted by the Imperial Parliament for emigration. Subsequently Major Gaskell and Mr. Reddington, appointed by the Government to administer the parliamentary appropriation, went over from London and overtook Sir Charles at Belfast, discussing the whole subject. Vere Foster is a gentleman who has devoted most of his comparatively small fortune to assisting servant girls to emigrate to Canada and the United States. Recognizing that these girls, if they remain in Ireland, will in most cases marry and rear families, with prospects of poverty, whereas, in America they may rear their families with a prospect of comfort and independence, he issued circulars to all the Catholic clergy and national teachers in the west of Ireland inviting applications on behalf of proper persons for the assistance he was able to give, the balance being made up from other sources. In this way he has sent out 15,000 female servants, and contributed towards their passage not less than from £15,000 to £20,000 of his own money. He has several times crossed the Atlantic in the steerage in order to ascertain how emigrants were treated on the voyage. He expends annually a large amount of his private means in prizes for proficiency in schools. He came out with Sir Charles Tupper on the Parisian, and has remained in Quebec to examine the provisions for receiving emigrants there. He will visit Montreal with a like object, and then go to the North West.

The Guards in Egypt.

The Guards were in the best of spirits, both officers and men, and the thought that they were already well to the front made amends for deficiencies of commissariat and transport. Those who think that Pall Mall dandies cannot rough it like soldiers are thoroughly mistaken. I have had experience of many regiments, and I never saw such cheery, uncomplaining alac
