What a snare literary pride is, any way! N. F. Davin, in a spirit of severe criticism, has handled Mr. J. G. Bourinot's emigration pamphlet rather savagely for its errors in grammar and construction. Now the Montreal Star of Saturday retorts upon Mr. Davin by pointing out errors in his little critical pamphlet. Truly in the midst of wisdom we are in grief also.

Don't let us talk of Egyptian, Afghan or Ashantee barbarism any more at present. Saturday's record of murders, faction fights, vigilance committee executions and slaughters, show us we have nothing much to boast of on this continent. The trouble in most cases are far south, but even at Syracuse, N.Y., it has been necessary for hands of four hundred men to turn out against armed and vicious tramps. And then there is our own Biddulph. But the most startling of all the crimes is the Louisiana one. When an armed crowd will march into a dancing hall and at a word of command shoot down dancers, surely there must nearly be an end not only of civilization but of courts.

IMPROPER VERDICTS.

At Hamilton, Whitby and several other places where the Autumn Assize Circuits have been held cases of seduction have been tried. Almost invariably the plaintiff has proved the act as occurring after a promise of marriage, and yet the verdicts have been trifling in amount, say $200 damages, as in the Hamilton case, where there was no defence. Since a girl's honour and prospects in life cannot be weighed in a financial scale of that kind it clearly is evident that juries are allowing their personal opinion of seducers to influence their verdicts. This probably is the explanation of the result in the M. Namee Whelan libel case, for nothing but prejudice against the plaintiff in sympathy with the warrior of the Post in his journalistic quarrel could have inspired it. Surely society is not being sufficiently protected and vindicated by such light punishments for the ruin of young girls. The verdict of damages proves in each case that one has been ruined by the defendant, and even if men do look down with contempt upon the woman who yields they ought in all conscience make the male seducer's punishment somewhat commensurate with the suffering of his partner in the sin—not to say his victim. A man can never suffer as does a woman, for the weight of her indiscretion is looking her down, while the man can pay a small verdict and recover himself, being as free as ever to earn his living and be happy without the good will of society, if needs be. Be the seduced ever so curtious she is entitled to a provision at her seducer's hand sufficient to place her above absolute want all of her life. The common run of verdicts advertises that it is cheap sin for a man, and this means great injury to the social fabric. And what a warning this tendency of public opinion should be to weak women!

CHIEF JUSTICE WOOD.

A great mind and the victim of an implacable hatred is now at rest. On Saturday Chief Justice Wood, of Manitoba, received a death stroke upon the bench, dying literally in that harness which he wore with a stirring industry, never flinching and never tiring. The deceased was one of the greatest intellects, without a doubt, that Canada produced, and one fault alone kept him from towering above the ordinary statesman as conspicuously as one tall spire can rise above another. While Treasurer of Ontario he displayed a most wonderful talent in figures, often making a brilliant budget speech, bristling with facts and statistics, without an attempt at preparation for many days previously. As a political stump orator the Canadian has yet to be found who has excelled him. Those who have heard Big Thunder in his best efforts are never likely to forget him, and the Reform party by giving him to the bench perpetrated an act of self immolation. A man of such strong characteristics could not fail to make enemies among the high handed Tories of Manitoba, and he has been persecuted as few men ever were on the bench. And what has he was a worthy judge, leaving his imprint indelibly upon the laws of Manitoba in a way that will make their infant years a credit to the province. He has sunk into rest, and be his virtues great or little he has silenced his enemies in a tragic way such as must touch their hearts even.

The Hon. Edmund Burke Wood was born in 1820, near Fort Erie. His father, a farmer, emigrated from Ireland early in the century, and settled in Upper Canada. Young Wood attended the Common School here and completed his education at Oberlin College, Ohio. Edmund Wood taught school for a short time, was admitted as an attorney in 1858, and commenced practice in Brantford. Soon after he received the appointment of Clerk of the Courts of the newly formed county of Brant, but shortly resigned, and was called to the Bar and entered into partnership with the late Peter Ball Long in Brantford. For the constituency of South Brant in 1868 he was returned by a large majority. He was a supporter of the Macdonald-Dorion Government sitting in the House until Confederation. Upon the formation of the Ontario coalition Government by J. Sandfield Macdonald at the time of Confederation he accepted the portfolio of Provincial Treasurer till December, 1871, when he resigned office, but continued to sit in the Assembly. He was pressed at the following election to offer himself for West Durham; was returned, representing that constituency until appointed Chief Justice of Manitoba in 1874.

The President left Alexandria Bay on Saturday. A crank applied at New York, on Saturday, for permission to carry a pistol with which to shoot the President.

MARINE NEWS.

Harbour Again Lively—Receipts of Grain—Mr. Algerian's Escape—The Str Picton's Wreck

The Kincardine is ashore at Detroit.

The schr. Annie Falconer, from Toledo, is reported inwards, light.

The prop. Ocean lightened 6,500 bus. of corn, and proceeded to Montreal.

The schr. M. Hall has arrived from Toronto with 5,000 bushels of wheat.

A stiff gale blew from the south to-day. It interfered with forwarding operations in the harbour.

Garden Island—The schr. Anglo Saxon has arrived from Toledo with 107 pieces of oak timber for Calvin & Co.

The tug Folger towed down the river yesterday the schrs. Sweepstakes and Barker, grain laden, from Chicago to Ogdensburg.

A freight of 5c per bushel is being offered for the carriage of barley to Buffalo from Wellington, lake shore, Prince Edward County.

Rathbun's Wharf—Arrivals—Steam barge Adventurer, Westport, lumber; steambarge Heney and three barges, Ottawa, ties; steambarge Nile and consort, Ottawa, ties.

The schooner Glenuffer, laden with oak timber from Toledo, ran ashore above South Bay Point in a fog. The tug John A. Macdonald went to her assistance and succeeded in getting her off and towing her to Garden Island.

The schr. M. L. Coyne, in entering the harbour yesterday, run upon the shoal off Point Frederick. The Bronson pulled her off. The Captain complains that the buoys were removed off the places where he had always known them to be. They must have been shifted by the action of the water.

Kingston & Montreal Forwarding Co.—Barge London, Montreal, 150 tons pig iron, for the Canadian, Engine & Locomotive Co.; barges Ox and Victoria, Montreal, the former with 1,100 tons, and the latter with 700 tons salt, to A. Gunn & Co.; barge Rapid, Montreal, 30 tons of earthenware, for Robertson Bros.

Captain Frank Pro Tem, of the schr. Anna M. Foster, and ex mate of the schr. Fitzgerald, is expected to arrive this evening from Oswego. His well wishers are keeping a sharp lookout, as Frank often is to join the happy band of benedicts and remember the boys.

The Hamilton Spectator says—When the Picton ran ashore off Lake Erie her boats were found to be valueless. The best boat when launched had a hole stove in her bottom by the man who jumped into it. The other boat was sprung, and the metallic lifeboat sank. The crew got ashore by means of a line brought to them by a man who swam out to the shore. Twenty minutes after the Picton was ashore about 40 feet of her bow parted in a light sea, and within 24 hours the whole vessel was in a rolling wood.

Montreal Transportation Company—Arrivals since Saturday: Schrs. Pulaski, Chicago, 22,000 bush. wheat, F. B. Gardner, Chicago, 24,479 bush. wheat; M. L. Coyne, Chicago, 30,534 bush. wheat, St. Louis, Toledo, 22,000 bush. wheat, American, Chicago, 19,000 bush. wheat. Tug Bronson left for Montreal with six barges carrying 100,000 bush. wheat, 125 tons of phosphate, 40 tons of soapstone and 16,000 bush. peas. The tug Bronson also towed to Prescott the schr. Stampede, laden with 18,000 bush. of high mixed corn for J. P. Wise.

The pilot of the str. Algerian reported on Friday that there was amiss with the lights of the two upper light ships on Lake St. Louis, that coming down he could not see the middle light until he had passed it. He, however, fortunately saw the vessel itself in time to avoid getting aground, but had to pass inwards in another channel and turn back to get into the proper course. Captain Howard called on the agent of the Department of Marine and urged immediate action or some of the steamers would be found on the shoals. The agent left for Lachine to rectify what ever was wrong.

The str. Gipsy has ceased to run. The water became low, the proprietors were afraid of damaging the hull. The Ottawa Free Press says the str. Gipsy supplies a long felt want. A boat for the Rideau route must neither be too large nor too small, and be so constructed as to carry a good many passengers and supply them with sleeping accommodation. The str. Gipsy has proven herself the right boat in the right place. To make two trips a week between Ottawa and Kingston is harder than to accomplish double the distance on other waters, the locks and stopping places taking up nearly half the time. In two seasons the str. Gipsy has not missed a trip. This was something marvellous. Of course such a boat requires careful handling and such she must undoubtedly have had from Captain Fleming and those acting under him.

A Pretty Bad Scamp.

The young Duc du Morny, who has gained an unenviable notoriety among roues by luring to ruin and driving to suicide the Russian actress, Julie Feyghine, is not the sort of a man most women admire. He is pale, a tow haired, emotionless, simpering fop, with little force of character and less personal magnetism. He has hitherto possessed two claims to distinction, an abhorred name, and a washstand set, basin, pitcher, sponge bowl, soap dish, brush box, perfume flask, tumbler and hand mirror, all of solid silver. To these he has now added a third and greatest, the death of Mlle. Feyghine, on which he plumes himself with unostentatious exultations. He only regrets that the doctors did not extract the fatal bullet that he might have it mounted on a breastpin to wear as a trophy of his conquest, and it is said that he has offered a reward to any grave robber who will secure it for him.

Lame Back and Weakness.

Toronto, Oct. 10th, 1878.

DEAR SIR,—About three weeks ago I fell from a ladder about twelve feet, across the banister of the stairs, and was taken up for dead. Since that time I have suffered from severe pains in my back and side, with great weakness, unfitting me for business, and get little ease until I used one of your Electric Belts and Insoles, which have relieved me very much.

Yours truly,

JOHN OVENS, 126 Yonge St.

IRON WORKS.

Suggestion of the Finance Committee—Mr Robins Invited to Visit the City—Local Advantages.

On Saturday evening the Finance Committee met and discussed the proposed iron works. After some consultation it was decided to write to Mr. Robins and state that he could procure the most accurate and satisfactory estimate of the advantages of the city by visiting it. The Committee felt disposed to say that they thought Kingston was more favorably situated than any other place in the Province for an iron working establishment, having unexcelled shipping facilities, and being the outlet of the vast mineral region tapped by the Kingston & Pembroke RR. The letter, inviting Mr. Robins to come here and have a conference with the Council, was despatched on Saturday night.

A MAN OF BUSINESS.

Mr. M. Robins is described by those who have had dealings with him and know whereof they speak as a man of great business tact and ability, possessed of the energy necessary to float a scheme of the magnitude indicated by his correspondence. He was Assistant Manager of the London and Canadian Land Company, but a few months ago resigned his position and visited England. In his new departure he represents British capitalists, whose favour, through him, it is hoped Kingston will win.

THE DRAWBACKS HERETOFORE.

The Smelting Works have not heretofore been founded in Kingston or elsewhere in this country, because the iron mines have not been sufficiently developed to show the extent of supply and value of the ores. One who has a knowledge of the minerals of the county to-day remarked: "There is plenty of rich magnetic ore, and the practice of the Americans has been to mix it with hematite or the inferior ores in their own localities. I am not prepared to say that in this vicinity there are the varieties, a mixture of which will produce a good quality of metal. In the past, too, mining in this country has been spasmodic. The mines which have turned out the most ore next to those back of Kingston are near Ottawa, and operations in connection with them have been most unsteady. In some years the product has been very large; at other times there has been an utter suspension of the work. The present condition and future prospects of our mines are matters which will receive the attention of those who purpose expending $1,000,000 in the new industry."

THE LIEN POLICIES.

To the Editor of the British Whig.

MR. EDITOR,—In reply to the communication of "Agent," which appeared in your issue of the 7th inst., I wish to say for his information that all the light he desires in our lien plan of assurance he may have, provided he calls on me at my office, in the Windsor Hotel, at any convenient time. "Agent" is so much bent on doing good to the benighted inhabitants of Kingston that he may be regarded as a second Howard in his philanthropic efforts to do good. Your correspondent appears to possess a very profound knowledge of English grammar, as will be seen in the following quotation: "I wish to give the citizens of Kingston a peep into these very accommodating lien policies, that is for the Company." I believe it is a fundamental principle taught in every old grammar, that every verb must agree with its dominative in number and person, and also that a relative pronoun agrees with its antecedent in number and person. Now in the light of the above rules of syntax I ask "Agent" what is the antecedent of "that?" If it relates to "policies" it should have a plural verb, and not "is" as erroneously expressed. The whole of the quotation I give is very ambiguous in meaning, and at first sight a person would suppose the policies are for the Company and not for the assured. "Agent," again, promises to wait patiently till Mr. John Patton explains. I would here say that Mr. John Patton has not the least intention to explain the first principles of our lien plan of assurance to "Agent," unless he complies with my previous request. If he wishes information on the subject we would recommend him to apply to Professor Wright, the great Actuary of Boston, and he will ease his mind on a subject that appears to trouble him so much.

As to the advice given me by "Agent" to leave off Quakerism out of my business, or at least out of the canvassing part, I wish to say that I am not a Quaker, nor the son of a Quaker, neither do I set myself up as a model canvasser; but anything I do I try to the best of my ability to tell the truth and work as faithfully as I know how, for what I consider one of the best Companies in Canada. If I fail to be successful the responsibility will not rest on "Agent" who tells me "the is sure I would not secure a large number of risks when so much of the powers of speech are required."

This may be all very true but I might ask are not the powers of speech like those of the body to be improved by cultivation and close application. In conclusion I now bid your anonymous correspondent good bye, as I am fully resolved in the future to treat such with silent contempt. An enemy who assails his antagonist from behind a masked battery is more to be dreaded than ten men who may fling their arrows thick and fast in the face of those who may have some chance to defend themselves from such assault. Our policy holders in Kingston are as respectable and intelligent a class of gentlemen as can be found anywhere, and I consider it would be an insult to their intelligence to suppose that they assured in our Company without understanding what they were doing or without knowing our methods of insurance. And the Ontario Mutual should recommend itself to every man on account of its promptness in paying death claims, all of which have only averaged 1½ days after the date of the proofs of death were completed.

Yours, etc.,

JOHN PATTON,
General Agent, Kingston.

Why He Was Honored.

Ibraham Bey, who has been rewarded for his fidelity to the Khedive with a large gift of money, certainly deserved it. He was the Prefect of Police of Cairo during the rebellion, and in spite of all that Arabi could do he maintained the nominal authority of the Khedive in the city throughout the whole period of the rebellion. When Arabi, after the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, tried to incite the Arabs to pillage and plunder Cairo, the intrepid Prefect arrested him, and after welcoming the British troops under Gen. Lowe he hastened to hand over the distinguished disturber of the peace to that officer.

LAND LEAGUE.

A Reorganization Decided Upon—The Present State of the Order.

New York, Oct. 9.—At a meeting here yesterday Dr. Wallace, President of the Land League of America, said, the Land League, as Patrick Ford wants it, is dead, but the Land League as the people of Ireland wants is more alive now than it has been for two years. The stories that the League was rent by dissensions is untrue. The League is closing up its lines for battle. On the 17th of this month the League will proclaim what will be the new attitude in the struggle for Ireland's justice.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 9.—A meeting yesterday formed the nucleus of a new and more aggressive organization, to take the place of the Land League here.

London, Oct. 9.—A correspondent writes that as a concession to the feeling of the Catholic clergy throughout Ireland, all the Bishops except Archbishop McCabe, have extended general permission to the priests in their diocese to take part in the Mansion House evicted tenants aid movement, and in the new Labor League and Industrial Union, founded by Parnell. The writer says several minor church dignitaries have consequently become priests of branches of the League, and will participate in the Dublin conference.

Davitt, in a speech at Wexford yesterday, declared that the Land League had inculpated the principles which were internally indestructible, but he was disappointed at the outcome of the agitation. When the whole Irish race had rallied to cry for the abolition of landlordism, the League had, by one tremendous sweep of the Government, been arrested in its career. The Government had been furnished with a pretext for action by the outrages committed by some of the Irish people. Pleading for justice at Westminster, he said it was useless. The people, he said, should rely on the determination of the Irish people at home to arraign landlordism before the civilized world as the cause of crime and disorder.

PATRICK FORD'S LETTER.

On last Monday, Oct. 2, I sent to Mr. Patrick Egan, Paris, a cable transfer of $17,424.81. This, with drafts sent by mail the same day, and advances on behalf of the Land League to Mr. Redmond, whose vouches I hold, makes a total since last remittance of $48,334.91.

And with this remittance it is with a keen sense of pain I make the announcement will close the columns of the Irish World to the Land League Fund.

The reason for this action is that there is no longer a Land League in existence. What was the Land League is a thing of the past, and in its stead appears that beggarly nondescript, with its cronies and whine, the Mansion House Relief Committee. The hat is being again passed round "for poor Ireland."

A reaction has set in. Rather, a halt has been given to the logic of the movement.

My Brothers be not discouraged. If for the time being things look dark, know that it is but an eclipse; it will pass, and Ireland's sun, coming forth in its brightness, will warm, enlighten, and gladden "a land that has had a long night and will inevitably have a glorious day."

PATRICK FORD.

CHIEF JUSTICE WOOD.

Sudden Death of the Judge from Paralysis—A Seizure While on the Bench.

Winnipeg, Oct. 7.—Chief Justice Wood was seized with a paralytic stroke this afternoon shortly after four o'clock while hearing a case on the bench. His Lordship was speaking, and it was noticed his voice was gradually becoming weaker, and finally he fell backward on his chair. A gentleman present rushed to his aid, and medical assistance was called in. He was removed in carriage to his residence, but it being his third attack very little hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Winnipeg, Oct. 8.—Chief Justice Wood died last night at eight o'clock from paralysis with which he was stricken four hours earlier. He never rallied from its effect, and he never spoke. Too-day reference was made to his death in several of the churches, and the "Dead March in Saul" was played. Deep regret is generally felt at his unexpected end, for although passing into his sixty second year, and apparently failing slightly in health, it was generally considered that some years of usefulness were still before him. His remains will be interred on Tuesday at St. John's Cemetery.

AMERICAN DESPATCHES.

Summary of the Leading Events Occurring in the Neighboring Republic.

Washington, Oct. 9.—It is asserted that Guiteau's skull was stolen from the medical museum before the skeleton was mounted and another skull put in its place.

It is rumoured that Folger will tender his resignation at a Cabinet meeting in New York to-morrow.

Oil City, Oct. 7.—W. B. Archibald, one of the heaviest operators here, has failed and gone crazy. He has been a heavy loser. His business the past month averaged a million barrels daily, and 191,000 barrels were sold at the exchange yesterday, under rule, for his account. Archibald's losses are said to have been the result of failures outside the firm. One of the firm, at Albany, N.Y., is said to have "laid down" on him for $75,000. The failure does not cause any panic, though oil has declined somewhat, partly in consequence of this affair.

Challenge to the World.

New York, Oct. 7.—Duncan Ross, of Louisville, Ky., yesterday deposited $1,000 with Richard Fox, of this city, and issued a challenge to any man in the world to contest with him for $2,000 and the athletic championship of the world. Ross will contest against Donaldson, McRae and Duffy, of Scotland. He is as willing to meet three as one man, the first place only to count. He will give the same odds to Hugh McKinnon and A. A. McDonald, of Canada. The challenge will remain open for three months. The contest must take place near Louisville.

Broken by a Whale.

Halifax, Oct. 9.—The steamer Mount Lebanon, which arrived here from Baltimore with her propeller lost, reports that at about 1 p.m. of the 26th, the weather being clear and the sea smooth, there was a sudden violent motion of the ship without apparent cause, and when the engines stopped it was found that the propeller was gone. It was then noticed that the ship had just passed through a large school of whales, and it is probable that the propeller was struck by one.

Rev. Dr. Bell, Toronto, has been visiting the city. He is a Trustee of Queen's College, and one of its best friends. He was the first student entered upon its books in March, 1842, received the degree of B.A. in 1847, and that of LL.B., in 1874.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The Gist of Various Telegrams on Various Themes.

Moore, a desperado, escaped from the Central Prison on Saturday.

No one has a right to own a horse without keeping St. Jacobs Oil on hand.

Farmer Hogan was shot in the thigh at Ballina on Saturday and died to-day.

James Fitzgerald desperately fought burglars in Toledo last night, and killed one. He was left in a dying state and relieved of $300.

Lymot, unseated for Madawaska, (N. B.,) did not seek re election. Mr. Nedeon, Government supporter, was elected by acclamation.

The stock market was very dull this morning and prices were easier than on Saturday. The money market continues tight.

Duchaine, the Belgian defaulter extradited from Montreal, has been delivered up to the Belgian authorities in Brussels.

Burglars attempted to blow open the safe in McFarlane's auction rooms, Toronto, without success. They carried away a quantity of silverware.

Another defaulter, in the person of a Mr. Harnett, assistant City Attorney, has turned up in Montreal, but the amount of his defalcation is not known yet.

Events in Egypt.

Constantinople, Oct. 9.—All the Powers except England, Russia and France have agreed upon the principle of license tax which the Porte proposes to levy upon foreigners doing business in Turkey.

Paris, Oct 9.—The Republique Francais refuses to believe that the British Foreign Minister will set aside Egyptian control without consulting France.

Alexandria, Oct. 9.—Two natives, convicted of murdering Ribton and Cattane on the 11th of June, were executed this morning. No British troops were at present. Perfect order prevails.

Cairo, Oct. 9.—A movement is on foot to convene the Chamber of Notables and proclaim the entire independence of Egypt by withdrawing the general tribute paid to Turkey.

Alexandria, Oct. 9.—The arrivals of cotton exceed all estimates. It is likely that the crop will be over 2,000,000 kantares.

Steamship Lost.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 9.—The steamer Herder, from New York, Oct. 5th for Hamburg, with 288 passengers, was lost near Cape Race last night. All hands were saved.

A TERRIBLE HIGHLANDER.—A good story is told in connection with the battle of Tel-el-keber, illustrative of the inability of some of the Highlanders to understand the various significations attached to English words. In a charge of one of the Highland regiments an Egyptian soldier cried out for quarter to a Highlander, who had his claymore raised to strike. "Tam your soul," replied Sandy, "She has nae time for quarterin, sae she'll just cut you in twa," and suiting the action to the word a divided Egyptian was the result.

ONE dose of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters will relieve sick headache. One bottle effects a cure. Price 25c. per bottle.

BIRTH.

At Elm Grove, October 6th, the wife of J. P. H. Ferris, of a daughter.

In Kingston on Oct. 8th, the wife of Mr. John A. Reid, of a daughter.

DIED.

In Kingston, on the 8th inst., Catharine Graham, relict of the late John Carey, in her 67th year.

The funeral will take place from her daughter's residence, Mrs. Haley, Ontario Street, at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.
