CITY AND VICINITY.

DR. C. H. LAVELL, of St. Paul, Minn., can be consulted with reference to diseases of the eye and ear, at the office of Dr. Lavell, Wellington street.

PROBABLY LIGHT to moderate winds, cloudy to fair and continued cold weather, with snow flurries in some localities. Slightly higher temperature.

SITUATION WANTED.—A young, capable man desires a situation as coachman, in which line he has had experience. He is willing to make himself generally useful. Address at Whig office.

"THE coming of the Princess" is the title of the new volume of poems by Mrs. Kate Maclean, of this city. It is a volume of which every Canadian may be proud. Procure a copy at Stacey & Walpole's and send one to your friends.

SPECIAL AUDITORS.—The special Auditors, appointed to go over the books of Mr. Irvine, late County Treasurer, have not yet concluded their labors. They have yet the work of two years to go over. Possibly they will be through by February 28th.

MONTH'S MIND.—A solemn mass requiem was celebrated this morning at St. Mary's Cathedral for the repose of soul of the late Mr. Martin Walsh. There was a large attendance of the friends of the deceased, testifying to the respect in which he was held by them.

GOOD CONTRACTS.—A Cleveland pork packing company has contracted with the propellors "Africa" and "California" to carry its freight to Montreal, each propeller to make a trip once a week. The pork will be shipped to England. Formerly this freight went via New York.

FINES AND FEES.—The return of the Police Court clerk for 1880 shows that $493.50 were collected on fines for breaches of city by-laws; $250 on fines for breach of liquor licences acts; and $397.80 on costs, a total of $1,141.30. One third of the liquor fines go to the Government.

BARGES PURCHASED.—Capt. S. Fraser has purchased the barges "Gaskin," and "Southampton," and the steamtug "Indian." The last named is now lying at this port. She will undergo alterations in order to fit her for the timber trade. Capt. Fraser has made an excellent charter from Bay City to Kingston.

ALGOMA MISSIONS.—The Diocese of Ontario, though the youngest diocese in Canada but Niagara and Algoma, was in 1878 and 1879 the second largest contributor to the support of missions in Algoma. Montreal led in 1878 and Niagara in 1879. As a church's life is measured by its missionary spirit Ontario Diocese is to be congratulated.

KINGSTON ELECTION.—At the second anti-syndicate meeting, held in Toronto on Friday evening, a Mr. Livingston made a speech remarkable for its wildness and width of subject. Among other things he said it had cost over $600,000 to defeat Sir John A. in Kingston. No wonder the money market has been in a panicky condition, $300 a vote is a very respectable valuation.

THE NEW BISHOP.—A meeting of the ladies of St. Mary's congregation was held yesterday afternoon after Vespers, to make arrangements for the decoration of the Cathedral and the Episcopal throne on the arrival of the new Bishop. There was a very large attendance. After a committee has been formed to make the necessary arrangements the meeting adjourned until next Sunday afternoon.

A DREADFUL STORM.—Judge Price returned from Court at Adolphustown on Friday and Saturday by sleigh. On Friday evening he reached Bath after facing the bitter storm, the wind being very high. From the description given the storm was comparatively light in the city. On Saturday he had a very hard struggle with snow banks in order to reach the city, having to break his own track in most places.

MARINE.—The ship "Garden Island" left Androssan, Scotland, on Thursday afternoon for Havana, Cuba, coal laden.—The owner of the schr. "Grantham" has concluded a contract in accordance with which she will carry oak from Tyrconnell and Port Stanley to Kingston at $90 per 1,000 cubic feet—an excellent rate. This figure is equal to $100 from Toledo. The "Jessie Breck" refused a charter from Toledo to Kingston at $90.

OFFICIAL APPOINTMENTS.—On the assumption that Mr. Duff, jr., has been appointed Deputy Clerk of the Division Court the Mail charges the Attorney-General with scandalous jobbery. The "outrage" will be spoiled by the simple announcement that Hon. Mr. Mowat has not been making things pleasant for his relatives, but that Mr. Robinson, voluntarily and of his own accord, closed the position of assistant to Mr. W. Tandy, who will probably accept it.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. W. McDougall has again found comfort within the Tory fold.

A telegram states that Mr. Letellier de St. Just is dying at Riviere Ouelle, Que.

By the upset of the sleigh in which she was driving, Mrs. Siddons has been severely injured at Youngstown, Ohio.

Mr. William Harty and Dr Mackenzie of Kingston, attended the funeral of the Very Rev. Vicar General O'Connor, of Ottawa.

Mr. Graham, Secretary of the Church of England Temperance Association, lectures in St. George's Hall to-morrow evening.

Prof. Robertson, the linguist, left to-day for Whitby, in the High School of which place he has been appointed teacher of French and German.

It is stated that Mr. Sothern's malady was inflammation of the lungs complicated with disease of the kidneys. It is also said he suffered from a cancerous affection.

The pleasing intelligence comes that the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie has greatly improved in condition, and that his medical attendants pronounce him out of danger.

Some London rumours say that Mr. Gladstone will be made a peer with the title of Earl of Hawarden, and others that he will receive the title of Lord Liverpool.

Rev. D. M. Gordon, B.D., of Ottawa, preached in Queen's College yesterday afternoon, and in St. Andrew's Church last evening. His sermons were plain but very practical.

T. C. Wallbridge, who represented North Hastings in the Legislative Assembly from 1863 until the Union, died at Belleville on Saturday morning. He was the youngest brother of Hon. Lewis Wallbridge.

We have received a copy of Bishop Cleary's farewell address to his late parishioners in Dungarven. His Lordship assures them that he will never forget them, that he will "never ascend the holy altar without thinking of Dungarven and praying for its welfare."

Land League.

There was a large attendance at the adjourned meeting of the Kingston Branch of the Land League last evening. Mr. M. Flynn presided. The business transacted was the election of officers:

President—Ald. T. H. McGuire.
First Vice-President—Mr. H. Hayden.
Second Vice-President—Mr. John Behan.
Treasurer—Mr. P. Delaney.
Secretary—Mr. Jas. Garrigan.
Executive Committee—The above officers and Messrs. T. Malone, P. Daley, John O'Connor and John Shanahan.

After several short addresses from several members the meeting adjourned.

A LUDICROUS SEARCH.—The Reporter states that Robert Dickson, a stranger who worked for a few days in Gillies' shop, Gananoque, and boarded with John Lee, left a few mornings ago taking $3 in cash from Lee's house. The Chief Constable followed him to Landowne station, and not knowing him, actually got him to hold his horse while he overhauled a tramp. Afterwards he discovered that the accommodating friend was the man he wanted and arrested him accordingly. He was committed for trial.

FREETHINKER'S PAMPHLET.—Mr. Allen Pringle, of Selby, a Freethinker, has had another edition of 4,000 copies of his pamphlet—reply to Wendling, Archbishop Lynch, Bystander, and others—printed for gratuitous distribution. Mr. Pringle's productions will no doubt be extensively read. The students of Albert College, however, treated them with disrespect. They heaped the books in a hole made in the snow and set fire to them.

GILDERSLEEVE VS. MCDOUGALL.

A Case of Legal Interest Before the Court of Common Pleas.

There was an appeal by defendant from the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas, discharging a rule obtained by him to set aside a verdict obtained by plaintiff. This was an action for breach of contract tried before Osler, J., at the Assizes at Napanee. Plaintiff, who resides at Kingston, wrote to defendant at Montreal asking for an estimate for forging a cross head for a steam engine for a steamer, to be finished at Kingston, and of the best material. Defendant telegraphed that he would do the forging for seven cents per pound. Plaintiff replied by letter on the same day, admitting the receipt of the telegram, enclosing a drawing of the work to be done, with instructions to have it shipped as soon as possible. Defendant replied by a letter, saying he would forward the forging as soon as possible. The article was duly manufactured and despatched by plaintiff, but, having been set up in the steamer, it turned out to be defective, broke, and caused considerable damage. At the trial the plaintiff proved the contract by means of the letters and telegrams which had passed between himself and defendant. Plaintiff living in Kingston and defendant in Montreal, the latter was sued as a British subject out of jurisdiction, and shortly after the issue of the writ applied to set aside the service on the ground that the cause of action did not arise within Ontario. This application was refused upon the plaintiff undertaking to prove at the trial of the case that the cause of action arose in Ontario. At the trial the defendant moved for a non-suit on the ground that the undertaking had not been complied with. A verdict was found for plaintiff for $85. In Easter term last a rule nisi was obtained by defendant to enter a non-suit, and in June the rule was discharged. From this judgment defendant now appeals, and the argument was heard on Friday, judgment being reserved, as the Mail, Dr. McMichael, Q.C., for appellant; J. Bethune, Q.C., for respondent.

Snow Cleaning.

A correspondent of the News, writing on Saturday, spoke of "the tardiness of the corporation, which at this late hour in the day, does not seem to have made any preparation for cleaning off the public crossings and boardwalks in the different parts of the city." The writer was either misrepresenting matters with an object, or was presuming upon statements without enquiring into the facts. At a very early hour in the day the Mayor, with the concurrence of the Chairman of Streets, saw that all the men available for shovelling were set at work, and further then this arrangements were made for having a larger force within call for future emergencies. The City Engineer found it difficult to procure workers, and the clearing of the snow did not proceed as rapidly as was desired, but it went on steadily from 7 a.m. Some of the crossings had to be shovelled off three times, the snow being so deep as to be thrown back again by the street traffic. There are hundreds of crossings as well as a mile at least of walks for the corporation to clear, a work very difficult to accomplish within a few hours. But when a correspondent says it was not yet entered upon late in the afternoon he states what every citizen knows to be a palpable falsehood.

Insurance Assessments.

Judge Price to-day gave his concluding judgment on the appeals against the assessment of 1881. It is on re Gildersleeve, McGill and Macalister, against assessment of insurance stock. The Judge finds the only question to be: "Are the shares in an insurance company personal property, and as such liable to taxation?" He cannot see that section 8, of Cap. 27, 43 Victoria, by striking the words, "Shares in incorporated companies" out of sub section 8 of Section 2 of the Assessment Act has, in any way, limited or altered the legal effect of sub section 8, or rendered such shares any the less personal estate. His Honor admits that he is not able to harmonize a deal of municipal legislation or see the effect intended by the erasing of the above quoted words, but is quite clear that "the personal property of an incorporated company," mentioned in Sec. 1, C. 27, 43 Vic., is quite distinct from the shares held in such company. The appeals were otherwise dismissed without costs, and if necessary His Honor will determine the value of stock assessment.

Coming of the Princess.

The authoress, Mrs. Kate Seymour Maclean, has laid upon our table a neat copy of the recently announced edition of her poems. We have already published the favourable comments of better judges than we claim to be, but we may add for ourselves that a perusal of the volume has added greatly to the good impression formed in advance. Kingston is most surely the cradle of Canadian bards. The birth place of Sangster, and the home of McColl and Kate Maclean it may well be proud of its literary distinction. The editor of the Canadian Monthly, in introducing this new volume, says that the poems are not only of a high order of merit but possess a "large measure of art and instinct."

Ontario Gazetteer.

Mr. J. H. Kelly, an old journalist, is in the city, in connection with this projected work of R. L. Polk & Co., of Toronto, which has received the endorsement of the Dominion Government. The publishers promise to establish a directory that will merit the confidence of the business public, and become a permanent and standard publication. It will contain one of the most complete books of the kind published, as any one can see by an examination of the specimen copy. To-morrow, Mr. Kelly and two others will commence the canvass which will last for probably three weeks. Messrs. Polk & Co. have published directories for several of the States.

ENTERTAINED.—Mr. James Williams, the Reeve-elect of Kennebec, was tendered an oyster supper a few evenings ago by his friends.

IRREGULAR MAILS.

An Explanation of Considerable Interest to our Business Men.

There having been some grumbling respecting the irregular arrival of the United States mails, Postmaster Griffin sought an explanation from the Superintendent of Railway Mail Service, Second Division, Mr. R. C. Jackson, New York. The questions asked were:

"Why do the Boston & New York mails reach here at the same time?

"Why do we often receive the New York mail frequently two days old?

"At what hour is the mail for Kingston despatched from New York? When is the mail for Kingston despatched from Boston?

"Why are papers and circulars longer on the road than letters?

To these enquiries Mr. Jackson replies:

"The mail for Kingston, Canada, is despatched once daily by train 13, leaving New York at 9 p.m. At Albany this train receives the mail from Boston, which is despatched at 6 p.m. As the train does not stop at Rome, and it is not considered safe to have the mail thrown off at that point, there is so much of it that it cannot be safely delivered all the mail for the Ogdensburg and Rome R.R. is put off at Utica, to be picked up by train 54, which follows 13. But for some time past this train has been running late, and fails to make the connection at Rome. You will explain the cause of delay as you frequently receive two mails on one day. I have repeatedly urged upon the railway officials the importance of this connection and respected them to have train 54 show up at Rome so that the mails can be delivered from that train, but this they have steadily refused to do, claiming that they cannot make this additional stop in make schedule time. The matter is now in the hands of the General Superintendent of the service at Washington, D. C. In regard to circular mail you doubtless understand that the same exposition is not used in its despatch as in the case of letter matter.

A Snow Blockade.

Three Kingstonians, Messrs. J. Dacey, J. McCammon and Miss Wilson, were on a snow blocked train on the R. W. & O. RR. They left Oswego at noon on Friday last and did not reach Cape Vincent until Saturday at 3 p.m., after thirty six hours they tasted but a few mouthsful each of food. There was quite a number of persons on the train. The ladies were waited upon very attentatively. They were distant at first, but, as one of the boys says, "hunger fetched them." One of them during the early part of Saturday bewailed her fate and expressed a desire to have a piece of goose or turkey. After she had buzzed away for some time one of the Kingstonians arose and beseeched her for mercy's sake to quit her talk about turkey—as it was putting a wire edge upon his appetite. Turkey, forsooth! He would be satisfied with any kind of food. A can of milk was passed around and quickly swallowed. The Kingstonians astonished the Cape Vincent hotel keeper by their gastronomic feats. They arrived home yesterday morning.

Nearly Gone.

On Friday evening a man, much intoxicated, was carried out of a hotel, placed on a sleigh and started for his home in the terrible storm. He was so drunk as to be unable to drive his horses, and the lines were tied to one of the stakes. The horses meandered up Princess Street until the common was reached, when they turned off the road and collided with a tree. Later on Mr. Smith, jeweller, while returning home saw the team. He waded to them and was surprised to find the horses, sleigh and man nearly buried in the snow. Mr. Smith failed to rouse the man. He finally drove the team to McConnell's Hotel, carried the benumbed man into the house and had him thawed out. When the man's "silvery whistle" was able to pipe, his first utterance was, "Give me a drink." But for Mr. Smith the individual would doubtless have perished.

Interim Session.

To-day John Shambo was arraigned before Judge Price on a charge of stealing gill nets from John Hopkins, of Ernesttown, in February, 1878. Last October Shambo and Shepherd were found guilty of a similar offence. The prisoner's lawyer contended that the nets produced in Court were the same as those said to have been stolen last September, and that Shambo had already served a term for stealing them. The Judge was not perfectly satisfied that the nets produced were the same, and, in consequence, discharged the prisoner, but not without a reprimand.

Patrick Burns was to have been tried for stealing pigeons, but Genge, one of the principal witnesses, could not be found. The case was adjourned until to-morrow.

Lost and Found.

It was reported in the city yesterday that a man named James Darcy, residing near Odessa, had perished in the snow storm. The man was certainly missing, and on Saturday and Sunday friends turned out in force, some with shovels, to search for him. Darcy, however, was enjoying life at the house of Mr. D. Hamilton, all unconscious or careless of the excitement which his absence was occasioning, and the scrutiny which the roadsides between the Cataraqui toll gate and the Five Mile House was receiving from those who expected to find his remains in a snow bank. When found, however, the anxieties of his friends gave place to the greatest rejoicing.

SCHOOL POPULATION.—The recently issued Educational Report gives the subjoined figures as the school census of Ontario cities. They include all persons between the ages of 5 and 16 years: Toronto, 17,500; Hamilton, 7,950; Ottawa, 6,300; Kingston, 4,600; London, 4,600; Brantford, 2,857; St. Catharines, 2,815; Belleville, 2,610; Guelph, 2,431. Kingston, though third in gross school population, was fifth in the record of average attendance.

W. C. T. U.

The Annual Meeting and Annual Report—Election of Officers.

On Friday the annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held. The attendance was very good. After some preliminary proceedings the Recording Secretary, Mrs. M. Farrel, submitted the following report:

It is with feelings of deep thankfulness to God for His continued blessings in permitting us to still dwell where we may labor for Him, that we render our report for another year's work of warfare against that mighty foe, intemperance. During the past year we have held monthly meetings from November to May inclusive for business and devotion. The only work undertaken was the visiting of poor districts, gaol, House of Industry, hospital and the holding of gospel and temperance socials. These socials have been held for two winters on Thursday night of each week in the Sydenham street school house, where tea or coffee with bread and butter was served to the poor people attending, thus providing them with one comfortable meal in the week in a warm bright room. Admission was gained by tickets distributed by the members of the Union. This plan helped to preserve order, as only those who conducted themselves well received tickets of admission for the next week. No children under twelve years of age were admitted without parents or guardians. After their bodies were warmed and fed we commenced our meeting with reading of the scriptures, singing and prayer. All joined heartily in the singing of the hymns. Then the ladies in charge read their some selections, generally in a story form with a good moral on temperance, household economy, training of children or other kindred practical subjects, after which one of our city pastors always addresses the meeting, presenting the gospel in a plain and simple manner to those poor ignorant, and careless people, few of whom ever heard it elsewhere. The average attendance was about one hundred. Our object is to bring them to Christ, as we believe that is the only hope of reforming drunkards, and of keeping the young from forming intemperate or other evil habits. Although we have not yet known of any being brought within the fold, we should still work on nor be discouraged, but ever remember the gracious assurance from God's own word, "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth bearing precious seed shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." But are we so sowing? Are our hearts so filled with love and piety for God's poor that we weep while we work for them? If so then let us not be weary in well doing, for in due season we shall reap if we faint not. Christ himself said, "Men ought always to pray and not to faint." Then let us honor Him by believing prayer, unceasing labor, and laying hold of His promises claim them as our own.

The election of office bearers followed with this effect:

President—Mrs. Mowat.
Vice Presidents—Mrs. Thos. Hendry, Mrs. McRossie, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. McCraig.
Secretary—Mrs. Jas. F. Leslie.
Assist. Secretary—Mrs. J. W. Farrell.
Corrs. Secretary—Miss Dickson.
Treasurer—Miss Trenhel.

PROSPECTUS.

The Company is authorized to lend money on the security of Real Estate, the Stocks, Bonds, Debentures or other securities of Investment and Joint Stock Companies, Municipal Corporations, &c., and may purchase, acquire, hold, sell and convey the same as pleasure. It is expressly stated in the Act that nothing in it contained to authorize the Company to engage in the business of Banking or Insurance, or to buy, sell or deal in Real Estate, except in so far as may be necessary for the conduct of its business; and any Real Estate which the Company may become possessed of by foreclosure of mortgages must be disposed of within seven years.

The capital of the Company admits of being very profitably employed, as may be seen by the Financial Statement. In addition to the revenue derived from the investment of the shareholders' capital, a considerable revenue will be made by the issue of debentures bearing a low rate of interest; the difference between the amount paid by the Company for such funds, and the rate at which they are invested, constituting the extra profits realized for the shareholders.

Two-thirds of the capital of the Company consists of PREFERENCE STOCK, and one-third ORDINARY, in shares of $50 each, the holders of which cannot be called upon for more than the amount remaining unpaid on their respective shares. The holders of Preference Stock first claim on the profits to the extent of 8 per cent. per annum, and on the capital to the amount paid up on their shares. Further, they receive a bonus of one per cent (making a total of nine per cent.) whenever the earnings set aside for distribution amongst the stockholders in any financial year of the Company amount to an earned ten per cent. on the paid up capital, but do not participate any further, the holders of Ordinary, in compensation for the priority yielded to the Preference in respect of both capital and dividends, being entitled to the residue. Dividends are payable quarterly, in January, April, July and October.

The By Laws provide that the Board shall consist of five Directors. Any shareholder is eligible for election, but when sixty days after being elected must qualify to the extent of $5,000 stock, with all calls paid.

The capital of such Companies, chiefly owned by shareholders, is in Canada, where it is, much appreciated by investors. It is intended to supply two separate classes, one proceeding from those who desire to have their investments particularly secure, and the other from such as prefer ordinary security in view of larger returns. Moreover, all the benefits, appertaining to an equitable investment stock, can be obtained by holding suitable proportions of each class.

The business of the Company being confined to [illegible] class investments, the Preference offers a degree of safety and a reliability in respect of dividends [illegible] be surpassed, and it is especially desirable for investors to whom safety is a consideration. A gradual [illegible] in its market value may also be confidently expected to take place as it becomes better known—an important consideration to those who may have occasion to sell their shares at some future time.

The Ordinary Stock is as safe as the majority of investments, and, on an average, is expected to pay handsomely, and to reach a very high price in market value. The Directors, however, look upon it as more suitable for those who are actively engaged in business than any other class of Investors.

The Preference or the Ordinary offer very special advantages in the respects set forth, and by selecting either one or the other, according to individual circumstances, the Directors are confident subscribers will derive every satisfaction from their investment.

DIRECTORS REPORT WITH FINANCIAL STATEMENT, and FORMS OF APPLICATION FOR SHARES, can be had at the Company's Office, or by mail, on addressing the Managing Director. Applications for Stock will take precedence in their order of receipt on regular forms.
