The Best Field for EMIGRANTS.

An immense area of Railroad and Government Lands, of great fertility, within easy reach of permanent market, at extremely low prices, is now offered for sale in Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington Territory.

These lands form part of the GRAIN BELT of the Pacific State, and are within an average distance of 200 to 300 miles from Portland, where steamships and sailing vessels are directly loaded FOR ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Grain at Portland, Oregon, commands a price equal to that obtained in Chicago.

The early completion of the Northern Pacific R. R. is now assured, and connection is effected, cheap and quick transportation and good markets both East and West. The opening of this new overland line to the Pacific, together with the completion of the network of 3000 miles of railroad in the O.R.A.N. Co. in the valleys of the great Columbia and its principal tributaries, renders certain a rapid increase in the value of the lands now open to purchase and pre-emption. There is every indication of an enormous movement of population to the Columbia River region in the immediate future.

Lands show an average yield of 40 Bushels of Wheat per acre. No Failure of crops ever known.

Railroad Lands offered at the uniform rate of $2.50 an Acre.

The GREATEST LIVING AUTHORS such as Prof. Max Muller, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. A. Froude, Prof. Huxley, R. A. Proctor, Edw. A. Freeman, Prof. Tyndall, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Frances Power Cobbe, Prof. Goldwin Smith, The Duke of Argyll, Wm. Black, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Macleod Craik, George MacDonald, Mrs. Oliphant, Jean Ingelow, Thos. Hardy, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Turguenieff, Carlyle, Ruskin, Tennyson, Browning, and many others, are represented in the pages of

Littell's Living Age.

In 1881 THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-eighth year, admittedly unrivalled and continuously successful. During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the most eminent authors, above named and many others, embracing the choicest Serial and Short Stories by the Leading Foreign Novelists, and an amount

Unapproached by any other Periodical in the world, of the most valuable Literary and Scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the foremost Essayists, Scientists, Critics, Discoverers, and Editors, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

THE LIVING AGE is a weekly magazine giving more than

Three and a Quarter Thousand double-column octavo pages of reading matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

"It is therefore invaluable to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and complete compilation of an indispensable current literature. Indispensable because it embraces the productions of the

ABLEST LIVING WRITERS.

"In no other form can so much thoroughly good reading be got for so little money; in no other form can so much instruction and entertainment be got in so small a space." Philadelphia Times.

"There is no other publication like it. It is known and read by all who desire to keep abreast with the cultivated thought of the English speaking world." Episcopal Register, Philadelphia.

"It reproduces so fully the choicest articles from the foreign magazines, that one who takes it does not feel the need of anything else in the way of foreign periodical literature." The Advance, Chicago.

"Its frequent issue and ample space enable it to give all that the very ablest of living writers furnish to periodical literature on science, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics and criticism, and to add to this the full complement of the best that there is in fiction." The Interior, Chicago.

"Gives the best of all, at the price of one." New York Independent.

"Terms with the choicest literature of the day." New-York Tribune.

"It is, by all odds, the best eclectic published." Southern Churchman.

"It enables the reader at trifling expense, considering the quantity and quality of the reading furnished, to keep pace with the best thought and literary work of our time." Christian Union, New York.

"One cannot read everything. No man will be behind the literature of the times who reads THE LIVING AGE." Zion's Herald, Boston.

"We know of no investment of eight dollars in the world of literature that will yield equal returns." The Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

"It has no rival." New York Evening Post.

Published weekly at $8.00 per year, free of postage.

Club Prices for the best Home and Foreign

LITERATURE.

"Possessed of THE LIVING AGE and one or other of our vivacious American monthlies, a subscriber will feel himself in command of the whole situation." Phil. Evening Bulletin.

For $10.50 THE LIVING AGE and any one of the American $4 Monthlies (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar) will be sent for a year, postpaid; or, for $9.50 THE LIVING AGE and the St. Nicholas, or Appleton's Journal, or Lippincott's Monthly.

A LUMP OF CARBON.

Tell me lump of Carbon burning
Burst to the glowing grate
While thy flames rise twirling, turning
Quoich in me this purposelyearning
Ages past elucidate!

Tell me of the time when, waving
High above the primal world,
Thou England pine-tree, lifting
Thy proud head above thee shifting
Of the storm-cloud's fighting hurled,
While the tropic sea, hot lating,
Round thy roots its billows curled

Tell me, did the Mammoth, straying
Near that mighty trunk of yours,
On the verdure step and graze,
Which thy simple base displays,
Or his weary limbs, down laying,
Sleep away the lazily hours?

Perchance some monstrous saurian sliding,
Waddled up the neighboring strand,
Or leapt into its native sea,
With something like activity,
Though all ungainly on the land
While near your roots in blood stained tray
Maybe two leathr beasts colliding,
Bit and fought their lives away.

Tell me, mouldy Palm-corpse, was there
In that world of yours primeval
Aught of man in perfect shape?
Was there good, and was there evil?
Was it man, or was it ape?

Tell me, lump of Carbon, burning,
Land in the glowing grate,
Lies there in each human face,
Something of the monkey's trace?
Tell me have we lost a link?
Stir thy coal! burn and think.
While thy red flames rise and sink
Ages past elucidate.—Chambers' Journal.

METHODIST MISSIONS.

The Anniversary Meeting in the Sydenham St. Church Last Evening.

The annual missionary meeting was held in the Sydenham St. C. M. Church last evening, the attendance, as usual, being very satisfactory. Mr. B. M. Britton occupied the chair, and on the platform were the members of the missionary deputation, Rev. Messrs. Suth erland, German and Steinhauer; the Rev. Messrs. Elliott, Hagar, Flanders, Brock, Principal Grant, Dr. Skinner, and Mr. Henry Cunningham.

The meeting was commenced in the usual manner. The choir sang an excellent selection and the Chairman made an auspicious opening address, in which the mission cause was referred to as an enterprise, investment in which was very profitable. Allusion was also made to the historic relations of that church, reminiscences connected with which could never be forgotten by him, especially the great missionary breakfast which gave Dr. Evans such an enthusiastic send off. The record of the church had been a good one, not, perhaps, as good as it might be having a force in reserve the exercise of which would place it in the first position.

READING THE REPORT.

Rev. Mr. Flanders read the printed report. It set forth that an accumulating debt, from 1875 to 1879, embarrassed the Central Board in its operations, not only preventing any extension of the work committed to its management, but crippling the work already undertaken. It became evident that a hindrance so formidable could not be endured any longer, and hence, at a gathering of influential friends in Toronto, it was resolved to adopt a plan of liquidating this debt by raising an additional sum for the extension of missions, and of enlarging the Superannuated Ministers' Fund. The various Conferences of the Dominion, and that in Newfoundland, had most liberally sanctioned the movement, so that this fifty-sixth report will be distinguished amongst all others in recording the free-will offerings of a devoted people. The annual reports from the mission stations show evidences of spiritual growth and prosperity. The remittances of Kingston during the past year amounted to $1,294.63.

COMMITTEE FOR THE YEAR.

Rev. Dr. Elliott moved, seconded by Rev. Mr. Brock, that the following be the Missionary Committee for the year: Messrs. H. Cunningham, E. Chown, Dr. Skinner, Dr. McCammon, J. Shaw, J. Trenaman, B. Bailey, W. Skinner, T. Rudd, A. Bamford (Treasurer), and W. McRossie (Secretary).

Miss Maggie Bamford sang "Green hills far away" very nicely, and then the audience settled back and listened attentively to the sensible

ADDRESS OF REV. MR. GERMAN.

The reverend gentleman is now located in Picton, but for four years he was a resident of the North West, and had therefore a personal knowledge of the capabilities and wants of the country. He prefaced his speech, however, by reading from the report of the anniversary proceedings held in the M. E. church of New York in 1829, that Rev. Mr. Case, Indian missionary for Upper Canada, addressed the meeting, after which a hymn was sung by seven native children from the Indian schools, one of whom was Henry Steinhauer, who occupied as he spoke a seat on the platform. This announcement was greeted with loud applause. Then Mr. German contrasted the past with the present in regard to missionary liberties, remarking that whereas in Carey's time open hostility was encountered now perfect freedom was vouchsafed to all, and there were more openings than could be filled. Describing the character of Keewatin, Manitoba, and the North West Territories he said, that beside having boundaries many times greater than Ontario, and several times larger indeed than all the rest of the Dominion put together, the greater portion of the land, in Manitoba especially, was either fit, or could be rendered fit, for cultivation. Much of it is as fertile as that on the banks of the Nile. The

PRODUCTIVENESS OF THE SOIL

was demonstrated by the yield of potatoes weighing from 1 to 4 lbs., and averaging 300 to 600 bushels to the acre. What a paradise for Irishmen! Turnips weighed from 21 lbs. to 36 lbs.; cabbages from 20 lbs. to 25 lbs. in weight, measured 4 feet in circumference, and were solid to the core. In the Globe he observed that a writer, who had travelled across the great North-West, said it would grow potatoes, oats and barley, but he had his doubts about the wheat. Why, after furnishing sufficient for the bread supply, that country exported thousands of bushels. The population was made up of Englishmen, Irishmen, Scotchmen, Indians, Icelanders, Mennonites and half breeds. He never saw such a city as Winnipeg, the nationalities being strongly mixed and possessed of energy and pluck not even surpassed in Ontario. As for the Government if it was good here it was the same there. The educational advantages were good, having excellent schools and colleges and a Provincial University modelled after the London University, having one curriculum and one examining board. The

PEOPLE WERE PATRIOTIC

also none loved their country more. As for the churches they were doing a grand work. The Presbyterians and Episcopalians and Methodists had the strongest branches in the North West. He referred to the humble beginning made for Methodism by Dr. Young, and enlarged and developed by his successors until in Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Selkirk and elsewhere some 24 missions had been established, and the number will be increased as soon as there are funds to sustain them. The temperance question held an encouraging position in the new country. The Scott Act had been passed in some of the counties of Manitoba, and would soon prevail in the whole province, all classes and creeds working harmoniously to the accomplishment of this end. It pays to send missions to the North West. Speculation was going on. Men have invested much money in 1,000, 2,000 and even 10,000 acres of land and are not so far getting any return. "Are they foolish? Not at all. The land is becoming more valuable, and by and by it will yield a handsome dividend. So with the missions. Just now they may be unproductive, but by and bye they will be a source of great wealth to the church.

The choir sang another selection very creditably, the voices being well balanced.

AN INDIAN'S REMARKS.

Profound respect was shown to Mr. Steinhauer, the Indian missionary, who has been serving the Church most ably since 1829, over half a century. The Chairman gave him a warm introduction, and extended to him, on behalf of the audience, the hand of fellowship. Mr. Steinhauer felt somewhat embarrassed in beginning, but once fairly under way his narrative of personal experiences proved most interesting. He was commissioned as a missionary 23 or 30 years ago, but for 14 years before that he was connected with the mission work. His wigwam he created at White Fish Lake, and began his labors in what was then known as the Saskatchewan country, the natives of which were very hostile, very cruel, and very immoral. The advent of the missionaries among such people was not unattended with danger. The Indians would not hear their acquaintance, but they sought the Indians and by favors such as smoking matches, in which the "wild man" delighted,

BROUGHT THEM IN QUIETLY,

and gradually converted them. Following the influences of Christianity the people became industrious, from which fact he argued that men must first be christianized before they can be civilized. He pictured, in his own impressive way, how he had founded his mission, his work being very successful. He admitted that he had suffered many privations but that the difficulties of pioneer life had been greatly overcome. There had been a great deal of talk, he said, about troubles with the Indians. He did not anticipate such a thing, not so long as the Indians are counselled and guided as they are at White Fish Lake by Christian chiefs. He proceeded to say that while stopping at a hotel in the Lower Provinces he found one day that he suddenly became the object of much attention, that first there was a commotion in the passage, that then he became conscious of persons peeping at him, the door of his room being ajar, and that finally he was approached by one who asked, "Are you Sitting Bull?" to which he answered, "No, sir, I am not Sitting Bull, but I am sitting here." He was aware that Sitting Bull had tried to induce the Canadians to make mischief, but had not succeeded, nor would he succeed as long as the Canadian Government dealt fairly and carried out their promises. The Indians on the other side of the lines had rebelled because they were driven to it.

Mrs. Rockwell sang "Consider the Lilies" in fine voice.

DR. SUTHERLAND, OF TORONTO,

closed the programme of the evening by an address at once remarkable for its fervour, fluency and effect. He first presented some of the facts in connection with the missionary enterprise. He had read in print, and heard it stated in speech, that Methodism was dying, some had even gone so far as to say it was dead, and a post mortem had been ordered to ascertain the cause, when one of the liveliest of corpses was found. When they could gather together such a meeting and obtain in a year free offerings to the extent of $181,000, besides some $70,000 as the first instalment of the fund for relief and extension, it was an indication of life in the old dog yet, and there was a disposition to retain it in a still greater degree in the future. The missionary field was enormous in size, so large that there was work for all and room for all to perform it. He briefly sketched the successes and necessities of the enterprise in various parts of the world, dwelling most upon those of the North West and the Pacific coast. The idea of the Church was to give aid where there was substantial reason for it but to encourage a spirit of self help and cease to act as a prop when it could be avoided. He disapproved of the divisions of the work into small missions and declared it an unrighteous proceeding to set up church against church to the injury of one another, and the detriment of Christianity. Having paid who composing the noble band of missionary labourers he discussed the financial aspect of the subject. Last year the ordinary revenue was $151,000. The grants to domestic missions had got to a point at which they could not be continued without reproach, and yet it was difficult to make increases and refuse the calls upon the church for extension. An increased liberality was suggested. The membership of the church in Canada was 122,000, and dropping off the old 22,000, and calculating that the 100,000 gave 5 cents weekly, systematically, the return would be $260,000. The Sunday school scholars numbered 125,000. Dropping off the 25,000 and supposing that 100,000 gave 1 cents per Sunday the fund of the Missionary Society would be augmented by nearly $60,000. If such sums were realized annually the missionary service of the church could be reinforced and made more efficient in the North West, in the Lower Provinces, on the Pacific Coast and in Japan. What was wanted in the Church to-day was not the timid fearful action, always prophetic of disaster, but the grand, aggressive movement, fearlessly reaching out with faith into the regions not yet touched by the gospel. Under such circumstances the results of the next ten years would surpass those of the past fifty years.

A TRIBUTE TO THE HEROES AND THE HEROINES

Principal Grant followed with a few words to the business men of the city commending the missionary enterprise as a safe investment.

Then the collection was taken up. It amounted to $818.

The meeting closed with the doxology and benediction.

A Good Account.

"To sum it up, six long years of bed-ridden sickness and suffering, costing $300 per year, total $1,800, all
