REMINDERS.

WEDNESDAY

Masonic Lodge of Instruction—7 p.m.

CITY AND VICINITY.

PROBS.—Moderate to fresh south westerly to westerly winds, fair warmer weather.

OFFER REFUSED.—Mr. A. Swanson has refused an offer of $100 for a yearling colt by Conroy's young "Ethan Allan." It pays to raise the best stock.

GRAND MASTER'S SALE.—Mr. T. Rigney has purchased from Capt. Short, of "B" Battery, the thoroughbred horse "Grand Master," paying therefore $500.

THE CLOSING ENTERTAINMENT of the Young People's Association of Chalmers Church will be held in the basement on Thursday evening next, the 24th inst., at eight o'clock. Admission 15 cents. Good programme.

BURNED OUT.—The house in which Dr. H. Yates has resided at Quebec caught fire a few days ago, and before the flames were extinguished considerable damage was done. Mrs. Yates lost a number of articles.

A RELIC REMOVED.—The small wooden shop on Ontario street, so long occupied by Mrs. Maclean, near Princess street, is being torn down to make way for a sightly building. It was a venerable relic of Kingston as a village, being at least fifty years old.

ASYLUM STATISTICS.—Frontenac county has sent the largest number of inmates to Rockwood Asylum, 173 in all. Carleton comes next with 111, and Lanark next with 76. No Congregationalist has yet been an inmate, though over 1,300 professed one religion or another.

COTTON MILL.—The collectors are continuing their canvass for stock subscriptions. One gentleman has offered to double his amount if others will do likewise. Business men in Montreal, Toronto, and other business centres, have signified their willingness to take stock if necessary.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?—To-day Messrs. Heath & Gunn received a letter from a chemist in Edinburgh, Scotland, asking for particulars regarding Zopeza and Electric Bitters. He had seen the advertisement in the British Whig. He wanted to establish an agency in that old Scott sh city.

CROSSING THE CHANNEL.—The body of Edward Bush, who died of pneumonia at Moak's Camp, arrived by last evening's train from the Mississippi. It was conveyed to Watertown to-day, crossing the channel in an ice boat. Another body, that of an American woman who died in the hospital, also crossed the ice this afternoon.

THE FARLEY BLOCK.—Mr. John Branigan has, by arrangement between the Government and the claimants of the Farley property, upon Rideau street, secured the tract of land. The city corporation might have claimed it as an escheat, if it had taken action some time ago, but probably the heirs made a good case before the Government.

POLICE COURT.—P. Donohue, drunk, was fined $5, or in default two months' imprisonment in gaol. M. Kelly and W. Thompson were accused of drunkenness. They were discharged. Thos. Sheriden was fined $1, or in default 10 days' incarceration, for drunkenness. A sailor was fined $8 for disorderly conduct at a Brock street hotel.

EVANGELISTIC.—After leaving Montreal, where for three weeks he laboured successfully, Rev. Mr. McKay proceeded to Melborne, Q. He has been there holding a long series of evangelistic services, which close on Saturday, when the evangelist will go to Inverness and resume the revival, the religious results of which about a year ago were so remarkable.

DIED IN PRISON.—The St. Thomas Journal states that O. F. Ollard, an attorney who was implicated in the theft of $500 of stamps from Ridgetown post office in 1877, and afterwards arrested and convicted of a similar offence east of Toronto, died in Kingston Penitentiary some time ago. We have thus gone to a considerable distance from home for news.

FOR THE WEST.—Messrs. Folger & Hanley have ticketed through to Fisher's Landing, Kalamazoo, and Bay City a large number of persons who have resided along the line of the K. & P. RR. The same firm has also arranged for the passage west of a large party from Odessa, Sydenham and Ernesttown. So they go, composing a portion of the 55,000 which the Detroit Free Press says leave Canada for the United States yearly.

TUMBLED OFF THE BRIDGE.—Michael Kelly, a granger from Hinchinbrooke, arrived in the city last evening by the K. & P. RR. The train reached the station about 9:30 o'clock, and Kelly, after alighting from it, wandered in the wrong direction, going towards the Cataraqui Bridge. In the darkness he walked over the crib work and fell upon the ice a distance of several feet. The police were informed of the accident and took Kelly to the station house where he remained during the night. His back was considerably injured.

WIND WAFTS.

From Various Sources and on a Variety of Minor Themes.

"The spring street cleaning began to-day.

—How awful smart you are, Mister Vennor!

—The City Engineer has been lying ill since Saturday.

—The traffic facilities of the G. T. R. are being fully tested.

—The funeral of the late Mr. J. Rand took place to-day.

—"B" Battery and the Military College cadets paraded this afternoon.

—A dog show will be one of the attractions of the market square on Saturday.

—Kingstonians now fill two out of three of the chief civil service positions in London.

—The City Auditors report a probable surplus of $2,000 in last year's corporation accounts.

—Belleville will have a regatta on May 24th. Kingston yachts are expected to compete.

—Chown & Cunningham are preparing for the erection of an addition to their foundry property.

—The stock of the cotton company is nearly all subscribed. Shares may be selling at a premium ere long.

—Belleville has had its usual flood. It does not appear to have cooled the newspaper men to any appreciable extent.

—An extra engine was run over the K. & P. RR. this morning to pick up the freight which has been choking up the various sidings.

—A Brockville man offers to supply Mr. Vanderbilt with a flag stone 25 x 15 feet, for which the millionaire says he will pay $5,000.

—In anticipation of a good season the vessel and steamboat repairs are more thorough than have taken place for some years.

—Belleville is really going to advertise itself as a proper site for manufactures. Allah be praised. It will be known to the world at last.

—Notwithstanding the thaw, the ice is yet quite thick, excepting where there are currents, where it has become thin, and in some places has entirely disappeared.

—Messrs. Elliott are shipping cattle to Halifax for transportation to England. A train load purchased in the west, will probably pass Kingston to-morrow.

—Two men lodged in the police station last night who had tramped it from the Welland Canal. They took the great shoe line for Ottawa this morning.

—Forty car loads of phosphate are being shipped from Richardson's for Chicago. The fertilizer is in good demand in the west. It is worth from $11 to $12 per ton.

—Fifty years ago Queen street was known as Grave street and Colborne street as Garrison street. The House of Providence, in more recent years, was an officers' mess.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Hon. Alex. Mackenzie is better.

Dr. Beatty, of the Consus staff, was in the city to-day.

Mr. J. Elliott, cattle exporter, leaves for England to-morrow.

Mr. Dickie, Inspector, visited the office of the Division Court Clerk to-day.

General Rosser, of St. Paul, is to be the chief engineer of the Canada Pacific Railway.

Mr. R. J. Ramage, of Megantic, Q., visited Kingston on a sorrowful mission, the burial of his brother.

Senator Howlan and lady are in the city visiting friends before proceeding to Prince Edward Island.

Mr. T. White, M.P., has gone to the assistance of the Tory candidate in East Northumberland.

Senator Macdonald, of Victoria, is mentioned as the one most likely to be appointed Lieut. Governor of British Columbia.

The Port Hope Guide nominates Hon. Edward Blake as the Liberal candidate for East Durham at the next general election.

Dr. Holland has disposed of his interest in Scribner's Magazine for $150,000. He will, at Alexandria Bay, during the summer, write a novel.

Mr. F. W. Stockwell, of the new English Canadian Land Company, is in Quebec, and a meeting of the Quebec directors will probably be held to-day.

Mr. Gilmour has started his new shingle and picket mill at Trenton, and the work on the new saw mill is being pushed along as fast as possible. It is not likely that Mr. Gilmour will make any effort to retain his seat in the Town Council as Reeve.

Truth of March 10th says: The Princess Louise left Kensington on Saturday on her way to Italy, and will remain abroad for two months, during which time he will visit Florence, Naples and Vienna. Her Royal Highness will probably return to Canada on May 26.

Concert in Pittsburg.

A concert, to provide funds to buy a library for S. S. No. 9, Pittsburg, was given in Granite Block, the residence of Mr. Franklin, last Wednesday evening. The first piece rendered was a duet by Mrs. Franklin and Mr. J. Birmingham, entitled "If William only knew." On an encore they gave "Stolen Sweets." Mr. W. J. Franklin brought down the house with an adaptation from Will Carlton, entitled "Emma and I are out." Mr. Stark recited the woes of a bachelor in the comic recitation "The Buttonless Man." Miss Emma Harding sang "My Jealous Beau." She was loudly encored and gave "Kissing on the Brain." After readings and recitations from the scholars, which were well done, the concert was closed by a one act farce. In it Misses Birmingham, Hughes and Franklin and Mr. Maybee took part, entitled "The Country Schoolmaster," in which the difficulty of courting three girls at once was well depicted. The whole affair was very successful, the amount realized being the nucleus of a good library. A similar concert is to be given at Mr. Harding's next week for a like purpose. It is to be hoped that other sections will follow the example and lay in a good supply of healthy reading for both young and old.—J.S.B.

TIMBER TRADE.

A Vessel Man Gives his Opinion as to the Season's Prospects.

It has been stated that the article appearing in the Wats of Monday respecting the timber trade was published for the purpose of helping the freights, or at least to create a flurry among vessel men and cause them to hold out no longer for higher rates. Such is not a fact. The article was simply the statements of marine man with whom we conversed. To lay a Wats reporter interviewed a vessel man who is holding off for higher freights. He claimed that the trade prospects were similar to those of 1872. Vessel men who then snatched at first offers were badly sold. They took $75 to $90 on timber from Toledo, while those that held out until later in the season were better paid. The "Edward Blake" was quoted as having got $140, and the "China" $155. The "White Oak," he said, in 1872 received staves $75 per m. from Bay City which price equalled $160 on timber. This year he had offers of $100 for oak from Bear Creek on Lake St. Clair and $120 from Ludington. Offers had also been made to him from Duncan City, and ports on Lake Huron and Lake Michigan for cargoes of elm and pine. Nearly all the timber vessels have been engaged to carry oak, yet there is nearly as much pine and elm for the shipment of which as many more vessels will be required. Thus, he believed that rates must advance and that he is justified in waiting for such a thing to take place. Timber men don't like rafting and rafting has will have to be done with the stuff on the Georgian Bay. This timber will have to be first rafted and taken to Wanhanshene there placed on the Midland RR., and carried to Port Hope where it will be again rafted. To do all this work necessitates a great expense. There is walnut at Chicago for which no charters have been made; pine on Lake Superior and Lake Huron only partially secured; elm in large quantities on Lake Michigan for but a portion of which there are vessel contracts, and a lot of oak at another place which will require two vessels for the entire season. For these reasons our informant said he felt confident that the rates will be higher and that those who have already chartered their vessels will regret their hasty action.

MOVING ICE.

Down the river the congealed is passing away.

Napanee reports that the ice is going out of the river very fast.

At Mill Point the bay is not clear, but clear water is visible in many places.

The Port Dalhousie harbor is free of ice. The ice on the lake is breaking up fast.

The heavy current near Bell's Island in Cataraqui Bay has caused the ice to disappear at that quarter.

The ice on the head of the bay was thirty-two inches thick last Friday, pretty good for the 18th March.

At Bath the ice is said to be as sound as a rock. Persons are crossing it with horses, and there are no signs of it breaking up yet.

There is open water for a distance of perhaps half a mile, between Wolfe Island and Cape Vincent. Much open water can be seen off the Penitentiary bar.

The ice on the Ottawa river has begun to move. Should the present mild weather continue it will not be surprising if navigation opens there the first week in April.

"Break it in, Jimmy!"

Last night two men passed up Queen street and halted in front of a peculiar house wherein formerly lived an old acquaintance. The police had closed the establishment, but this fact was not known to the two callers. They stealthily approached the house at the midnight hour. One tried the door. It was fastened. He tried it again, then rapped, and receiving no response became impressed with the idea that he wasn't wanted. Then his ire arose. After conversation in which the demolition of the door was discussed and decided upon, one of the men prepared himself for work. He walked to the outside of the sidewalk, then bounded and jumped against the door. He was encouraged on by his companion who frequently exclaimed, "Break it in, Jimmy," while he himself vainly endeavouring to rake down the shutters. They continued the ruction for half an hour, disturbing the entire neighborhood. Finally some one told them that the house was vacant, and they departed feeling no doubt very cheap.

Marine Notes.

One of the Captains is our authority for the statement that the Royal Mail steamers will commence running about April 25th.

The steamers "Maud" and "Pierrepont" are being prepared for service. The latter will probably venture to break her way to the islands about the middle of next week.

Capt. J. A. Porte, of Trenton, has made a commencement in fitting out his steam boats. Mr. R. Davis, of Wolfe Island, went up with three men last week to make some repairs on them, which will take three weeks.

Call to Dr. Jardine.

The second Presbyterian congregation of Brockville has unanimously agreed to give a call to Rev. Dr. Jardine, the salary to be $1,200 to begin with. The Presbytery of Brockville will have a special meeting on April 1st to receive the call and forward it to the Presbytery of Chatham, N. B., which meets on the 5th. We hope Dr. Jardine will accept the call, and thus become a neighbor.

Cotton Mill.

Several of the subscribers are among the strongest anti-national policy men of Kingston. It is gratifying to find them taking advantage of that much abused policy by embarking in an enterprise which will pay them handsomely.—Ottawa Citizen.

The amounts of stock were subscribed for after Mr. Stock, the expert, had stated that with or without the national policy the mill should prosper. How's that?

IN MEMORIAM.

Death of Mrs. Scott—The Sympathy Felt for the Orphaned Children.

[illegible]
Autumn's cold blast.
The far above our sight.

When the aged die, full of years and good works, grief is entirely out of place. Death to them is welcome and gracious, but when man in the pride of his strength is stricken down and woman in the prime of her womanhood is laid low, then do we realize what a slight hold we have of our earthly possessions, and are ready to exclaim, "Alas! for those unfinished lives, those noble plans unfulfilled, those noble purposes cut short, and those useful enterprises checked in their inception!" It is said that the keenest bereavement is that felt by a mother for the loss of her child, but nothing endears so much public sympathy as when a mother is suddenly taken away from her children. These sentiments suggest themselves to the mind by the death of Mrs. Scott, wife of Mr. James Scott, and widow of the late Robt. Donaldson, Pittsburg, which took place last Friday evening. Her first husband died some six or seven years ago, and about two years ago she was married to Mr. Scott and appeared to be perfectly happy in her second matrimonial relations. She was of a very friendly and sociable disposition, and made many warm friends since moving into the neighbourhood in which she died. Her newly-born infant occupies the same grave with its lamented mother. The best medical skill was in constant attendance during her short illness, but to no purpose. She was buried at the Sand Hill Cemetery; and notwithstanding the bad roads and unfavourable weather her funeral was numerously attended (by nearly a hundred carriages), the religious rites being performed by the Rev. Mr. Foster, who made an exceedingly touching reference to the amiable disposition of the deceased. She leaves a family of seven children, but our sympathy is altogether with the three youngest, who are little girls; and it was indeed a touching sight to see the oldest of the three driven hurriedly home from school to see her mother breathe her last. The following lines are peculiarly appropriate to the condition of these children, who are thus without either father or mother:

Thou hast gone, dear mother, to take thy rest,
To find repose on thy Saviour's breast.
And thou hee lest not in thy calm deep sleep
The bitter tears that thy children weep

Thou hast gone, dear mother, no more thou'lt come
When the day declines at our desolate home.
We may list in vain for thy welcome tread,
For thy home is now with the silent dead.

Thou hast gone, dear mother, our peace hath flown,
Our hearts are pining alone, alone.
But your loving care we will ever bestow
A shadow of Heaven wherever we go.

Thou art gone, yes gone, we shall meet no more,
Till in love we join you on the sinless shore,
Where anthems elysian shall never more cease,
When reigneth Immanuel the Prince of Peace.

COM

Cotton Mill Prospectus.

It is proposed to erect a mill of about 10,000 spindles as early as possible in the fall of 1881, for the purpose of manufacturing cotton fabrics.

The company shall not be organized until $150,000 is subscribed, when the provisional directors shall call a meeting of the shareholders, to elect a board of directors, and to complete the organization of the company.

As soon as stock is subscribed for to the amount of $150,000, or to a less amount, provided the stock subscribed for any bonus promised will together amount to the sum of $150,000, five per cent., and five per cent. within one month thereafter, and balance as may be called by the directors as required, provided no call more than twenty per cent. be made in one month.

The experience of the cotton manufacturing industry of Canada for two or three years past, and the large quantities of cotton still imported, warrant the belief that the stock of this company will be a safe and remunerative investment.

As an indication of the prosperity and lucrative nature of cotton manufacturing in the Dominion, the market price of the shares of the companies now in operation is worth quoting, for example: Dundas Cotton Co., 128; Montreal Cotton Co., 250; Canada Cotton Co., 130; V. Hudon Cotton Co., 187.

Capital, $200,000, in 4,000 shares of $50 each.

The Company to be incorporated under the Joint Stock Act of the Province of Ontario, whereby the liability of each shareholder is limited to the amount of shares held by him.

Bishop Cleary.

Information has been received from a reliable source to the effect that the Bishop of Kingston sails from Ireland today per steamship "City of Chester." He will, on his arrival, remain in New York for a few days, the guest of a priest with whom he is personally intimate; otherwise he would have accepted the attentions of Cardinal McCloskey. From New York he proceeds to Toronto, thence to this city, which he will reach about the 7th of April. The Administrator, who had a letter from his Lordship yesterday, has addressed a letter to the clergy of the Diocese, requesting them to say, at daily mass, a collect pro navigantes that the Bishop may have a safe and prosperous voyage across the ocean, and the clergy are also requested to desire the people to make prayer to the same end.

Mayor's Medal.

The Mayor has intimated his intention to continue the Mayor's gold medal to Queen's University during his term. Principal Grant states that it will be presented to the student winning it at the convocation to take place on the last Wednesday in April.

EX-MONK WIDDOWS.

A Row in Church—A Very Successful Advertising Dodge.

Some three months ago the well known ex Monk Widdows arrived in Kincardine and announced a lecture at the town hall. The subject, of course, was relating to his experience in the Roman Catholic Church. Rev. Mr. McDonough, pastor of the Canada Methodist church, advised his congregation to give Widdows a wide berth, and the consequence was that the lecture was very poorly attended. The lecturer referred to the interference of the Methodist minister at the time, and promised to return some future day and enlighten the people, on which occasion he would expect a large house. He was as good as his word, and last Saturday appeared in Kincardine, announcing a lecture on Sunday, at 3 p.m., in the town hall, and also one for last evening. On Sunday morning Widdows attended the service at the Methodist church, evidently taking delight in

LISTENING TO THE SERMON

of the rev. gentleman who had previously denounced him. Just before the sermon, in connection with the other announcements, Rev. Mr. McDonough again requested his congregation not to attend the lectures of Mr. Widdows. At this juncture Widdows stood up in the congregation and gazed at the minister, which seemed to annoy him very much, and he ordered the man to sit down. This Widdows refused to do until all the free advertisements were given, when he took his seat. Subsequently he moved up from near the door to the second seat from the front, ostensibly for the purpose of better hearing what Mr. McDonough had to say. During the service Widdows frequently ejaculated, "Praise be to God!" "Amen!" and other such expressions in a tone which still further annoyed the pastor, and after the service was over Widdows followed him into the vestry and demanded an explanation. Mr. McDonough, who was in the act of putting on his overshoes, ordered Widdows off, telling him that he wanted to have nothing to say to him.

WIDDOWS REFUSED TO GO OUT.

He was a second time told to leave, and Mr. Geo. Sturgeon, one of the church officials, had to put the lecturer out of vestry. Widdows then called out, "Coward! Coward!" to Mr. McDonough, and several of the congregation grabbed him and carried him bodily out of the church. When the affair became noised abroad the utmost excitement prevailed in the town, and the result was a big audience gathered at the town hall to see the itinerant ex-monk who had bearded the Methodist parson in his own vestry. On Monday Mr. Sturgeon laid information against Widdows for disturbing the service and the matter came up before a bench of six magistrates yesterday. After hearing the evidence Widdows was acquitted. Fully 500 people assembled at the magistrates' court in the town hall and the sympathy was divided. Widdows appeared to have a great number of friends in his affair from the fact that Rev. Mr. McDonough had attempted to interfere with freedom of speech in advising his people not to attend Widdows' lectures. After all Widdows got what he desired—plenty of advertising. He knows what rigid opposition is worth, as he showed in London three years ago. Mr. McDonough would have served his purpose much better by quietly ignoring the ex-monk's presence in the place.
