Opifer per Orbem Dicor.

Patronage, or the power of appointment to public positions of emolument, is popularly supposed to be one of the strongest levers of power in the hands of public men. There are two sides to this question. The power we speak of is not always an unmixed blessing or advantage. One of the most harrassing embarrassments that must frequently embitter the life of members of a Government must be the numberless applications and conflicting claims on the part of supporters. Neither is it always a party advantage to possess this power. The Garfield-Conkling disruption proves this to a demonstration. This Republican quarrel is simply and solely over the spoils of office and as to who should and who should not receive a fat appointment. From these and similar considerations a strong argument is deducible in favour of a Civil Service Reform which should abolish the patronage and party idea from all Government appointments.

We strongly endorse a resolution adopted by the Medical Association of Ontario, strongly recommending the teaching of the rudiments of physiology and the principles of hygiene in the public schools of the country. Some objected to the resolution on the time honoured ground that "a little knowledge was a dangerous thing." The objection was overborne, however, by the consideration that even a partial acquaintance with the above subjects would be far more useful than dangerous, and would go far to remove in the next generation of adults the lamentable ignorance which now prevails in reference to personal and general public health. There is no danger to the profession in the dissemination of such knowledge, except indeed it should be in the prevention and consequent diminution of disease. The Association has done a public service by adopting such a resolution, and we hope to see the recommendation it contains promptly adopted by our educational authorities.

Becoming alarmed not only at the continued existence but the rapid growth of Mormonism, some American journals are advocating a system of anti-polygamous colonization as the only effective means of extirpating the evil. It is pointed out that in this way Kansas and Nebraska were originally made free states, viz., by the settlement in those territories of a sufficient number of anti-slavery men to outvote their opponents, and that similarly Mormonism could be stamped out in Salt Lake valley. "Colonise Utah and all the adjacent country with Christians or 'Gentiles.' That is one way to check Mormonism. We have heard all your fine speeches; now please organize some effective work, and work to a point—to outvote the Mormons on their own chosen battle field." This is a specimen of the appeals now being made by certain journals to the American people to expatriate themselves to Utah for this noble purpose. The next and principal thing will be to find martyrs and exiles enough willing to undertake the enterprise, and to accomplish the erasure of the worst remaining blot on the American escutcheon.

As a panacea for Ireland's ills and wrongs a contemporary strongly recommends that the Queen or some other members of the Royal family should visit the Green Isle and thus show an interest in Irish affairs and a personal sympathy with the unhappy people. Her Majesty is blamed for going to Lake Como in Italy instead of to Killarney in Ireland, and the Prince of Wales is reflected on for taking the long journey to India, instead of crossing the channel to one of the nearest as well as fairest portions of his future realm. There is some force in these suggestions and contentions, and it is certainly the duty of Royalty to devote more attention to so adjacent and important a part of the Home Empire. At the same time any amount of complimentary visiting, even from Royalty itself, would not begin to allay the present popular discontent and disaffection. Let the disabilities and grievances under which the Irish people labour be removed, at least in part, by Mr. Gladstone's remedial legislation, and then the Queen or any of her sons would be doubly welcome to the grateful and warm-hearted people of Ireland.

There is a growing likelihood lately that the prolonged absence of Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise will have the effect of abridging the intended stay in Canada of his Excellency Lord Lorne. Whether the Canadian climate, or its society, or the runaway accident of which Her Royal Highness was the victim, has been the cause of her extended stay in England there is no satisfactory means of determining, but present appearances certainly favor the impression that the Princess has had enough of this country and is not inclined to return to it. The consequent grass-widowerhood of the Marquis of Lorne has already been prolonged much beyond the general expectation and doubtless his own as well, and it is too much to expect him to extend it to the end of an ordinary gubernatorial term. The relations between the Vice Roy and his Royal spouse, on the one hand, and the people of Canada on the other have been of the most auspicious and cordial kind, and could the Princess Louise have enjoyed Canadian life and society to the end of her husband's term of office no vice-regal pair that ever bore away in Canada would have ever carried away more wishes for their happiness or left behind them more sincere regrets at their departure.

ASSEMBLY MEETINGS.

The meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church is not attended with the same display as that which characterizes the opening of the Assembly of the Church of Scotland. At this time it will not be uninteresting to note the ceremony of the latter.

The Lord High Commissioner (usually a nobleman to whom the Royal allowance is acceptable) arrives at Holyrood Palace on the evening previous to the meeting of the Assembly, and is waited on by the Lord Provost and Magistrates of the city, who present him with the keys of the city, which are returned with the usual formality. Next day, at 12 o'clock, the procession sets forth for St. Giles' Cathedral, in High street, amidst the thunder of a Royal salute from Edinburgh Castle, Leith Fort, and the ironclad guardships in Leith Road. The route of the procession through the principal streets is lined by the cavalry, artillery and infantry in garrison. The procession consists of the Lord High Commissioner and suite, Judges and Sheriffs, Retiring Moderator, the Commander-in-Chief and staff, Procurator of the Church, Lord Provost and Magistrates of Edinburgh and Leith, state heralds, trumpeters, cavalry, band and escort. The Commissioner is received by guards of honor with band and colors. The city is en fête. There is a general holiday. Crowds from the district flock in, bunting is profusely displayed. In entering the Assembly Hall, amid the booming of cannon from the castle, the High Commissioner takes his seat on the throne, attended by his purse bearer, aides and pages, while the retiring Moderator (after the sermon) takes the chair, arrayed in antique costume, knee breeches and shoe buckles; the Procurator and Clerks of Assembly, in wigs and gowns, take their seats within the Bar. After prayer and praise the Moderator, in name of the Lord Jesus Christ, the alone King and head of the Church, pronounces the Assembly open, followed by the High Commissioner, who, in the name and by the wishes of the Queen, makes a similar proclamation. With less pomp the Free Church Assembly meets, almost on the opposite side of High street, where, save the presence of the Royal Commissioner, a similar scene is enacted. In the Free Assembly Hall there is no High Commissioner, but a seat has been provided for such a functionary should the Queen see fit to appoint him.

"A" Battery.

Sergeant Athos, of "A" Battery, on Saturday gave himself up as a deserter from the English navy. He had previously reported one of the officers of the Battery as being intoxicated, and an investigation into the matter is now going on.

A young man, hailing a Quebec carter on Monday afternoon, gave him a trunk to convey to a certain street, and there to await for a few minutes his arrival, but as the young man did not make his appearance within a reasonable time the carter conveyed the trunk to the Central police station, which, on being opened, was found to contain a quantity of military clothing. An officer of "A" Battery, who was sent for, recognized the uniform as belonging to a soldier named Pownall, who had been two or three days absent from the Citadel. He was subsequently found and arrested.

Choral Union Meeting.

The last meeting of the Kingston Church Union took place at their rooms last night. There was a large attendance of members. After the usual music had been gone through Mr. J. B. Walkem, the Vice-President, laid before the members a statement of the affairs of the Union, showing them to be in a very satisfactory condition. The number of active members is 43; and after payment of all expenses there is a surplus on the Treasurer's hands of about $20, including stock. The thanks of the members were tendered to Rev. Mr. Gilmore, who has acted as conductor, and to Mrs. Gilmore, who has presided at the piano at the several meetings. Votes of thanks were also passed to the officers of the Association, and after some solo singing by a few of the members the meeting adjourned to meet again on the 1st Oct.

Hazzard in the Far West.

The Napanee Chief of Police yesterday received a letter from a man named Lasher, of Moore Head, who says he travelled with Hazzard, of Tamworth, the man over whom there has been so much excitement, some supposing he had been murdered and for whom the river was dragged last week. Lasher is from Addington county and says he travelled with Hazzard from Toronto to Chicago and from there to Moore Head, where Hazzard stopped a week. He says Hazzard was perfectly sane and had lots of money. Lasher says he will find Hazzard in Manitoba. He says he saw the account of the dredging of the river and wrote a letter in justice to his (Hazzard's) family.

HO! FOR MANITOBA.—Upon our well-shaded sidewalks in Kingston may now be found what would be a welcome gift in many Manitoban homes. The seeds of the soft maple planted four years ago in Manitoba are reported in one case to have produced trees now twelve feet high. Those who wish to remember emigrant Kingstonians can send them no more useful present than the seeds of this rapidly growing tree, whose shelter from the biting northern blasts will, no doubt, cause the donors to be long and pleasantly thought of.

REVENUE CUTTER.—Yesterday a United States revenue cutter, commanded by Mr. Haywood, U.S.N., Inspector of Lighthouses for No. 10 District, with headquarters at Buffalo, N.Y., called here for the purpose of getting a buoy which belonged to the American Government. The Commandant and Consul Twitchell exchanged courtesies. At 5 p.m. the craft cleared.

DENTAL SOCIETY.

[illegible] Vigorous Opening Speech.

Ottawa, June 8.—Dr. L. Clements, of Kingston, was re-elected President of the Eastern Ontario Dental Association. In his address last night he made a severe attack on the way in which dental education is at present administered by the Dental College, said it was not in the interest of the profession or the public, that it had degenerated into a huge speculation for a few persons who controlled the board and delivered the lectures, for which they received about $4,000 per annum. The President added: "Young gentlemen turned out in two years as full fledged dentists, and we claiming to be placed on a par with other professions. What a farce!"

PURCELL ESTATE.

Action Instituted for the Recovery of Several Millions Dollars.

Cincinnati, June 8.—The suit against the Catholic Church property, Cincinnati diocese, brought by the assignee of Archbishop Purcell, was called yesterday. The suit is against all the property held by the Archbishop, and includes churches, school houses, hospitals, cemeteries, and property given by benevolent persons for the use of the Church. The creditors are represented by the assignee, to the number of 50,000, and their claims aggregate $4,000,000. The case will go to the District Court, where it will be heard upon its merits. It will then be taken to the Supreme Court and a final decision secured. The expected trial will consume six weeks. The chief point at issue is whether the property held in trust by the Archbishop for the Church is liable for his debts.

Detroit—Grain freights continue dull, and rates are quoted nominal at 8c. on wheat to Montreal, 5½c. to Kingston.

Port Dalhousie—Nellie Theresa, wheat, Port Dalhousie to Kingston, 1½c.

Dangerous Sidewalk.

To the Editor of the British Whig.

DEAR SIR,—I wish to call the attention of the corporation to the dangerous condition of the sidewalk on Ordnance street, on the premises of Mr. Patrick Burns. The sills seem to be decayed and for some time the boards have been loose. Several children have been knocked violently down by the loose planks, and yesterday a delicate little child received a cut on the lip and might have had its limbs broken by falling over this dangerous place. Several complaints have been made, but no attention is paid. It may be that these complaints have not been made in the proper quarter. Permit me through your columns to draw the attention of those whose duty it is to see that the sidewalks are safe to this very much needed repair in front of my house.

Yours truly,
A CITIZEN.

Kingston, June 8th, 1881.

EXCURSION.—About 250 excursionists left Kingston this morning for a trip over the K. & P. RR. About a hundred more were picked up along the line. Nearly all went to the mines, where, at 12 o'clock, the big blast was set off and several tons of iron ore thrown up. Sharbott Lake was visited this afternoon. The party will arrive home about 10 p.m.

OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. Hartz, had not a good house last evening but he performed nevertheless, giving a novel and excellent entertainment. The tricks were performed with marvellous rapidity and the results elicited considerable applause.

HITCH UP YOUR HORSE to the carriage and drive five miles out to see Wm. David's farm, to be sold on the 16th of June at J. H. Metcalfe's Auction Room. Will you ever see a better chance to purchase a nice little farm? This farm of David's that is to be sold would suit a butcher or a gardener. The purchaser could get big interest by renting it. It is situated in a pleasant and healthy place, and would make a desirable country residence. Go and see it; and be on hand at the sale at Metcalfe's auction room on June 16th. Terms—One half down, balance in ten years, with interest at six per cent.

IRISH AGITATION.

[illegible] Critical—Disturbances the Order of the Day.

London, June 7.—Twenty-four arrests have been made under the Coercion Act of members of Milestreet, county Cork, branch of the Land League.

Five writs of ejectment were served yesterday upon tenants of the father of Mr. Meldon, Home Rule member of Parliament.

In county Cork roads have been torn up with pickaxes and made impassible, and the telegraph wires cut in many directions.

One Lea, a tenant farmer of Cahir, has been arrested under the Coercion Act.

A proclamation has been issued declaring that all assemblages to obstruct the process of law will be forcibly dispersed. Other proclamations place King's county under the Arms Act, and three more baronies in county Meath under the Coercion Act.

AN ALARM AND ITS RESULTS.

The rumour that Father Murphy, of Schull, had been arrested proves unfounded, but it threw the people into a violent state of ferment. Thousands of men and women crowded into the village of Schull, wrecked the police station and post office, tore down the telegraph wires and cut up portions of the road. The excitement was taken up by the people of Skibbereen, who supplied cars to the police. Their indignation became unbounded when they discovered that a special train, with 300 military, had been sent from Cork, and then tore down the telegraph wires to Ballydehob.

DIFFICULTY IN CORK.

A despatch from Cork says Ballydehob and Schull are inaccessable by the ordinary roads, which are broken up and the bridges pulled down. Five hundred foot soldiers, twenty dragoons, and seventy service corps men, with one gun, have been sent to the scene from the west. A despatch from Skibbereen says Father Murray has given no definite intimation of his arrest to the public, fearing a collision with the police, but the grounds for suspecting that he is under arrest are very strong. He was seen with the police several times on Monday, when a document of some kind was handed to him. A force has been sent to the disturbed district fully provisioned for a month.

STATE OF CONSTERNATION.

Dublin, June 8.—The authorities here are reported to be in a state of consternation over the troubles in Ireland and are taking every precautions to meet emergencies.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN WRECKING.

Cork, June 8.—A train with troops arrived at Skibbereen this morning. An obstruction placed on the track was discovered in time to prevent a disaster.

ARRAIGNING THE GOVERNMENT.

Lord Carnarvon, formerly Colonial Secretary, yesterday at Burton, strongly condemned the policy of the Government, who, he said, were responsible for the civil war in Ireland. They would find the question not to be one of land merely, but that every class of property would be menaced. He did not think Englishmen would long be hoodwinked by the reckless rhetorical demagogues or plausible nostrums of political quacks.

Sir Richard Asheton Cross, formerly Home Secretary, said at St. Helen's no Government had ever made so many serious mistakes in so short a time, and he had no doubt in regard to the result when they came to be tried at the bar of public opinion, unless they are much altered.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S DEFENCE.

Mr. Chamberlain, President of the Board of Trade, said at Birmingham: "It is perfectly evident that the causes of disorder in Ireland are more deep seated than they are supposed to be, and they are not to be found in the action to this or any previous Government, but in the condition of the people themselves. Force was no remedy, but a certain amount of force was necessary to uphold the law." He said: "The Government staked its existence upon the Land Bill. Mr. Parnell and his followers never concealed the fact that their chief object is not the removal of Ireland's grievances but the separation of Ireland from England. Hundreds and thousands of tenants are following the baneful advice of the leaders of the Land League, to pay no rent." Mr. Chamberlain concluded by stating: "The Government is striving to steer an even course between the extremes. I believe the Land Bill is the maximum which any English Parliament will pass."

CONSTABULARY RESIGNING.

Dublin, June 8.—Large numbers of police in Ireland are resigning because, under the stringest instructions of the executive, the men are almost afraid to defend their own lives against the mobs.

Difficulty Unsolved.

New York, June 8.—The Times says the overtures of the Conkling men for a caucus meets with very few favorable responses. It is said that some of the Conkling men intimate that they will soon feel discharged from all obligations to vote for Conkling. The meeting of administration men, last night, was one of the largest, most enthusiastic and harmonious yet held. It was the opinion that there should be a still closer vote for Depew.

Albany, June 8.—The first ballot vote was: Jacobs, 50; Conkling, 34; Rogers, 15; Bradley, 11; Wheeler, 21; Cornell, 19; Folger, 1; Lapham, 9; Tremaine, 2; Harris, 1; Crowley, 1; Dutcher, 2. Second ballot: Platt, 29; Kernan, 51; Depew, 51; Lapham, 4; Cornell, 10; Folger, 4; Tremaine, 1; B. F. Tracy, 1; Crowley, 4. Adjourned.

Dorsey Prostrated.

New York, June 8.—The Graphic's Washington says the members of the Star route ring are greatly alarmed. Dorsey is at home. His friends say he is completely prostrated for fear of exposure and punishment. The contractors are desperate. Through their organs they daily heap abuse upon every body suspected of aiming at the prosecution of the ring. The case of the Government is nearly complete.

Grading Commenced.

Yarker, June 8.—Grading was commenced to-day on the Napanee, Tamworth and Quebec Railway, at Yarker, and other points along the line. The contractor W. H. Stevenson, is very busy putting men to work. The people in this section are very much elated over the prospects of a railway, and are doing all they can to further it.

Sheriff Imprisoned.

San Francisco, June 8.—Sheriff Desmond, elected by the sand lot party, has been imprisoned and fined $100 for refusing to turn over certain property to the receiver under the order of the court.

Cases Compromised.

Chicago, June 8.—The National Millers' Association, in session here, have compromised the Cochrane patent cases, representing claims to the amount of $36,000,000 against members of the Association.

SPECIAL DESPATCHES.

Condensed into Small Compass.

It is intended to run trains through St. Gothard tunnel by electricity.

Eleven hundred men are now employed on Section B of the Canada Pacific.

The strawberry crop of Long Island, which promised to be large, is threatened with destruction by a minute worm.

A number of Dominion land surveyors leave Ottawa to-night for the North-West Territories to lay out townships.

Early this morning John Coulter, section boss on the Grand Trunk R.R., committed suicide by jumping into a mill pond. Drink the cause.

A number of the Brooklyn firms have withdrawn concessions to the striking brewers. It is expected that this will cause a succession of renewed strikes.

Three more of the ringleaders in the anti-Jewish riots at Kieff have been sentenced to twenty, ten, and six years' penal servitude respectively, two to be exiled in Siberia.

The Treasury hopes for the breaking up of the blackmailing system, practiced for several years against the owners of steamboats, under threat of prosecution for overcrowding.

The Herald reports that Blaine and Lowell, Minister to England, may exchange places, is renewed, and prominence is given thereto by the intimate friends of the President.

By instructions issued yesterday to the collectors of all American ports, they must give especial attention to the matter of overcrowding excursion and other steamers in their district.

A dynamite mine has been discovered under the metals close to the Gatschina railway station, connected with the battery in the railway telegraph office. All the telegraph officials have been arrested.

In the Toronto police court this morning fourteen of those who attended the recent hard glove fight were summoned to appear, as well as one of the principles, Mark Checkley. The cases are adjourned.

Assessors of Brooklyn will this year assess the parsonages, all which have hitherto been exempt. This will add $500,000 to the amount of taxable property. The assessors are also adding to the valuation of property all over Brooklyn, in some instances doubling and even trebling the valuation last year.

A Big Suit.

Philadelphia, June 8.—The heirs of Barnabas, Hammage and Joseph Noble, sue the estate of the late Asa Packer for over $2,000,000. The suit grows out of business transactions between Packer and Noble, Hammet & Co. The suit by Packer against the above firm, for a large amount, is still undecided.

The expenditure of brain power too early or too severely in children often results in physical debility. The use of Fellows' Hypophosphites exerts a singularly happy effect in such cases.

MARRIED.

BOSTON HAT STORE.

Hat Chat.

Our Young Men's Broadway Silk Hat is meeting with Decided Success. Young Men who heretofore could never be prevailed upon to wear a high hat, are readily captivated by this charming LITTLE PLUG.

Gen Garfield has a larger head than any President of the United States of modern times. He takes a No. 8 hat—similar in style to our superfine $3 hat.

We are showing, in Manila, Golden Mackinaw, Silver Mackinaw, Cardinal Rustic, Straw Mixtures, &c., hats that excel all previous importations to this city.

The newest of the new, and finest of the fine, in a Young Man's Straw Hat is our new hat the "Victory," pronounced by all odds the Nobbiest Straw Hat in the City. It is obtainable only at THE BOSTON HAT STORE.

Gen Grant has an extremely large head. He wears size 7⅞. Great men have great heads.

We have had quite a demand for Light Colored Stiff Hats of which we have yet a very large stock.

Our Broad Brim Pearl Soft Hat received this day, gives promise of being very popular with lovers of fine hats.
