CITY AND VICINITY.

Paces.—Winds mostly between the west and south, with fine, hot weather.

RAN AGAINST A FIST.—A man named Marsh struck John Bell in the eye with his fist, causing a bad looking optic. He will tell the police magistrate tomorrow why he did so.

THE CROPS.—The hay crop, which has nearly all been harvested, is about an average. Farmers in the eastern part of the province have begun to cut fall wheat, which is reported to be exceedingly good.

PORTSMOUTH ORANGE HALL.—The Orange Hall, began in Portsmouth in 1879, is now nearing completion and has a very neat appearance. The lower story will be used as a dwelling, and a most comfortable one it will make.

CROWDED ASYLUM.—Rockwood Asylum is now very much crowded, so much so that in all probability a number of the inmates will be removed to London Asylum. Inspector J. W. Langmuir made an inspection of the institution to day.

A DEPOSITION TAKEN.—This afternoon Chief Hance and the Police Magistrate visited John Pidgeon, on whose information a warrant was issued for the arrest of Kinchelar, charged with doing grevious bodily harm to the deponent by stabbing him.

CRICKET MATCH.—To-morrow the match between the Kingston and Prescott clubs takes place. It should be very interesting and attract a large number of spectators. The visiting club have a good reputation, and will, no doubt, do some fine playing.

LACROSSE CHALLENGE.—The Peterboro Lacrosse Club have declined the challenge of the Athletics of Kingston, on the ground, that, as mechanics, they cannot spare the time to visit this city for the purpose. An effort will now be made to get on a match with the Ontarios of Toronto.

PICNIC TO-MORROW.—St. Paul's Sunday school and parish picnic will be held to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon at Hatwood, near the asylum. The place can be reached by the street cars and the excursion van, which will run from 1:45 to 3:30 o'clock between the penitentiary hill and Hatwood.

POLICE HELMETS.—The London police have received from London, England, white helmets of the same style and pattern as those now worn by our police. These helmets are said to be adopted by the British soldiers in South Africa and India, and are made on the best known principles for protection from sun.

A RECKLESS RUNAWAY.—Last evening the dray horse belonging to Mr. J. McMahon, builder, started at Heathfield, to run away. It raced into the city at a break-neck pace, and down Princess street as far as Wells' livery stables, where the wheels were wrenched off the vehicle and the horse fell in an exhausted condition.

DEMAND FOR LABOUR.—The emigration agent here, Mr. Macpherson, cannot meet the demand of the farmers for labourers. On Saturday night, and again last night, there were arrivals, altogether thirty-four, all of whom were immediately placed. Farmers are paying $28 and $30 per month for men and cannot be served.

NEAT WINDOWS.—Mr. R. M. Horsey has finished his work upon the windows of St. George's Cathedral. Out of the old large one, formerly in the chancel, he made three small ones, which, with new borders, he placed in the north side of the edifice. An entirely new one (to make the series complete) has been added by Mr. Horsey. The work is most creditable to the contractor.

TORONTO INSPECTION.—Major Walker, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, inspected the Second District Engineer corps under command of Col. Scoble, at Toronto, last night. The inspection will be final appearance in public of that organization. Col. Scoble has determined to resign his command, and has received orders to turn his arms and equipments in to store.

I.C.B.U. PICNIC.—This event occurs to-morrow and promises to be a great success. The committee of management have certainly made proper arrangements for it, and if favoured with fine weather there should be a large gathering and a series of incidents having no superior in point of merit and attraction. The assembly will be augmented by the arrival of the Belleville sister society, accompanied by the fine Oddfellows' band. The Kingston branch have engaged the 47th band.

POSTPONED ONE DAY.—It has just been ascertained that Rev. Mr. Vincent and his colleagues cannot arrive at the Thousand Island Park in time for Thursday afternoon. In consequence of this the the Queen Street Church excursion has been postponed till the following day, when the real work of the Parliament will begin. The excursionists will be in time for the opening address by the Conductor of the Parliament, a "chalk talk" by Prof. Frank Beard, and for other interesting exercises.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—The people of this church will have their annual excursion to Clayton and Thousand Island Park, Wednesday, 27th inst., in the new and commodious upper cabin steamer "Hero."—The committee of management will spare no pains to make this excursion one of the most enjoyable of the season. The boat leaves Gunn & Co's. wharf at 1:15 p.m., sharp. Gents tickets 50c.; ladies 35c. Tickets limited to 350, positively no more. Don't miss this excursion.

POLICE COURT.

Beat to Mercer Institute—Rough Treatment—Magistrate's Judgment.

Elizabeth Aubin again appeared before the police magistrate more cleanly and thoughtful than she has been for several months. The magistrate addressed her in an earnest manner, informing her that he had learned from reliable sources that she had long been leading a bad and dissolute life. Having considered all the circumstances he intended to place her in an institution where she would, for a couple of years, be taught to act more respectably and virtuously. She, in reply, denied the soft impeachment conveyed in his worship's remarks. Continuing the magistrate said he had conferred with the lady managers of the Orphans' Home, who had consented to take the three youngest of her children and educate and care for them, while Col. Hance had intimated his willingness to take the eldest boy (14) and act as his guardian and friend. Mrs. Aubin said her folks would take the children, that she did not wish them to go to the Orphans' Home; but her appeal was powerless. She was then committed for drunkenness and disorderly conduct to the Mercer Institute for 18 months, and for malicious injury to property an additional six months, besides being ordered to pay $2.50, the extent to which she had damaged Mrs. Dine's windows.

UNFILIAL ATTACK.

After her case had been disposed of accompanied by her youngest child, a boy 4 years of age, she was escorted by officers Hinde and R. Nesbitt towards the cells. On her way thither she was heard to mutter that she would murder her offspring before Col. Hance "or any other b——r would have them." Hinde suggested that the lad should be taken from her, whereupon she suddenly seized him and attempted to strangle him upon an iron bedstead, to the left of the entrance to the cells. The police quickly checked her in her murderous designs, and after a wicked and forcible struggle succeeded in taking away the boy, little the worse of the assault made upon him, and in putting her into the dungeon.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Mary Redfern, one of the oldest frequenters of the court, who went off to Toronto not long ago but failed to appreciate lodgement in that city, made her bow before his worship and appeared to be anxious for committal to some of our public institutions. She has been a lodger in the county gaol about two-thirds of the time since her arrival in Kingston, now many years. She was remanded until to-morrow, by which time Mr Duff will have made up his mind what to do with her. She, too, will probably be sent to the Mercer Institute. Her faithful ally in sin, John Doyle, is in the Central Prison.

AN APPEAL ANNOUNCED.

Mr. J. McIntyre intimated that he proposed appealing from the decision of the magistrate in the Pearl Reed case. The grounds were not stated, but we believe it will be held for one thing, that there has been a misinterpretation of the law in consequence of which she suffers excessive punishment. The magistrate took time to consider (1) whether there could be an appeal under the circumstances and (2) if so at what amount the bail should be fixed.

TAKING IMPRISONMENT KINDLY.

Pearl Reed is apparently taking her sentence kindly. She is now in gaol, dressed as persons usually are when incarcerated in this place. Her luxuriant hair has been shorn. She refuses to give her proper name, not even to the Inspector. She don't want her folks in Rochester to know the disgraceful conclusion of her trip to Kingston. She says that she has been married over seven months. Several persons met her in the saloons on Friday evening dressed in male attire. She was dancing and drinking with her male companions.

WHAT'S THE NEWS?

Laconic Replies given by some of those to whom the above Stereotyped Question has been Addressed

The children of All Saints' Church Sunday School pic-nic'ed to-day at Bryant's farm.

The regatta to-morrow will be a prominent feature of the I.C.B.U. picnic.

The Thousand Island News is the title of a neat little daily hailing from Alexandria Bay.

Moses Oates' last article is on the night experiences of a traveller on Lake Ontario. It is interesting.

An exchange says an unusually hirsute man, who was bathing in the river near Kingston, was mistaken for a seal. Kingston, N.Y., of course.

New iron gratings will be put on the outside of the police cells, which will prevent outsiders from passing liquor (as complained of) to the prisoners.

The ground along the front of the market battery is being prepared for a new track. The crib work along the lake front is also receiving attention.

A young man who went to Brockville yesterday says Kingston can furnish more easy acting fellows on some occasions than any other place in Eastern Ontario.

A new manager has been secured for the Kingston knitting factory. The first officer was an efficient workman, but lacked discretion in some important matters.

The Sunday School teachers, children and friends, connected with Chalmers' Church, had their annual gathering this afternoon at Channel Grove, Simcoe Island.

There are only ten prisoners in the county gaol—eight women and two men. The Inspector, who visited the institution this morning, will have the insane women confined in it moved to the asylum at once.

Two Bad Wounds.

One of the city physicians was called upon to close two serious wounds—one on Sunday evening and the other last evening. In the first case a great gash was made in a man's knee by the misdirection of a sickle with which he was cutting grass on Barrifield; in the other instance a wood chopper struck a clothes line with an axe and caused it to rebound, laying the flesh open for some distance on the side of his head.

MARINE NOTES.

Sailors' Claim for Wages—Steam Barge A Fast Half Trip.

The work on the new harbor is progressing favorably.

The schr. D. M. Foster is loading iron ore for Milwaukee on private terms.

The steam barge Water Lily is having her shaft repaired at the ship yard.

The barge Adventure is loading at Gunn's wharf from cars, tan bark which goes to Portsmouth.

The schr. Julia, of Kingston, was tied up at the foot of Scott St., Toronto, yesterday on a claim for sailors' wages.

The tug Ellswood and barges have arrived from Ottawa, the latter carrying 150 tons of phosphate, consigned to A. Lozier & Co., Montreal.

Calvin & Son's sixth raft made the run from Garden Island to Quebec in a little less than eight days. This is about the fastest time on record.

The schr. Singapore is loading salt at Gunn's wharf for the Welland Canal, on her arrival at which instructions will be given for the delivery of the cargo at either Detroit or Chicago; rate not yet fixed.

The steam barge Belle Wilson, recently burnt at Picton, is now at the Kingston foundry, receiving the engine and boiler which have been built for her. The engine's cylinder is 6 in. in diameter.

The steam barge Indian, owned by Capt. Fraser, of this city, with four barges, is in trouble at Fighting Island, one of the barges being aground, with her fore quarter stove in. They are loaded with timber.

The yacht Gorilla, which left Oswego on Sunday for Port Hope, was driven into Little Sodus by the shifting of the wind to the westward. Her windows were shattered by the seas, so that there were three feet of water in her cabin. She was wind-bound yesterday.

The boy who attends the horses on the schr. Bismarck was nearly drowned at Wheatley on the last trip up. The captain asked him to swim out and tie a line to a piece of timber. The rope was fastened around his neck, and he jumped into the water. He had not gone more than two boat lengths when he was seized with cramps and would have gone under had not the yawl boat been sent to his rescue.

When the steamer "Passport" ran by the "Corsican" this morning the latter was still upon the beach. Captain Donnelly had begun work upon the "Corsican" and hoped to have her off soon. The steamer listed over so much that the aft rail was in the water and the kitchen had about a foot of water in it. Pumps were placed aboard last evening and got to work. The steamer will be taken to Montreal for repairs. She will resume her trips probably at the end of this week.

Charmed Lives.

On Saturday the Flora Emma was on her way from Oswego to Oshawa with about 360 tons of coal on board. When she was abreast of Port Britain, and working up the lake, a gust of wind struck her, taking off her jib-boom and straining the hook of the block till it was almost straightened. The topmasts were the next to go, then the mainmast and foremast below the trestle trees, all over the starboard side bringing down the rigging to the deck with a run. The mainsail was split in two. It is simply a marvel how the crew escaped with their lives in such a crash, large spars falling over seventy feet, and bringing with them the heavy iron wire shrouds, blocks and tackles. The men were all on deck, and yet not one received even a scratch. The damages is estimated at from $800 to $1,000; fully covered by insurance.

Corsican's Mishap.

A Montreal merchant, in conversation with a Star reporter, gives the following details in regard to the Corsican's accident:

Yesterday morning, between 7 and 8 o'clock, we were going up the Galloop Rapids (to avoid, I suppose, the Edwardsburg Canal dues.) When near the head of the current the boat was not able to stem the stream, stopped, and then had to fall back. She made a second attempt, but did not get so far as the first time. When making a third attempt, the wind, which was blowing rather fresh at the time, took her near shore and she scraped over a rock, but still kept going up stream. This time, however, she made less progress than ever, and the captain would have to go down again and enter the canal. Ten minutes later the boat commenced to lurch heavily from one side to the other. The passengers, of whom there were about thirty on board, were just then at breakfast, but the crockery began to play such antics that the steward had to interrupt the repast, saying, "Gentlemen, we shall have to discontinue this breakfast." As there was a considerable quantity of water in the hold, Capt. Sinclair, who acted with great judgment and coolness throughout, brought the steamer down along the American shore until he found a "soft" spot to beach her. The purser was despatched in one of the "Corsican's" boats to Prescott for assistance, and returned with the str. "Cultivateur." Meanwhile the attention of the stranded passengers was engaged by the appearance of an individual driving furiously for the "Corsican." This gentleman introduced himself as a deputy officer of the United States Customs, and actually insisted on the "Cultivateur" paying $200 tonnage dues before he would allow the "Corsican's" cargo to be transhipped.

TORONTO AND OTTAWA RR.

Progress of the Survey—Country Traversed.

The engineering party engaged upon the survey of the above route are now at Richmond and expect to reach Manotic early this week, en route for a point upon the Canada Atlantic Railway, probably in the vicinity of Casselmans. The survey has been a long one and has been carried through portions of this most rough and inhospitable districts of the province. Starting from Peterboro in December last the route lay through the ridges of Otonabee and Asphodel to Norwood, where the line crosses about one mile to the north of the village, thence through a good farming district to Marmora, where the difficulties usually found in mineral ranges of securing a good line commenced. Much time was spent in this locality, and we must bear in mind that hitherto the work had been carried on amidst the rigours of an unusually severe winter when the snow was deep everywhere and the frost hard and severe. Every man was swathed like an Esquimaux, but unlike them the latter gentlemen invigorating to themselves and astonishing to outsiders. The crossing of the Crow river was made upon the ice in the same manner as the Otonabee, Indian and Ouse rivers had already been crossed. From Marmora the work towards Madoc was through a very rough district, but Madoc was reached and the line located to that point before the breaking up of the ice. The staff proceeded thence to Bridgewater, and were now amidst the mineral bearing mountains that attracted considerable attention thirty years ago, and which cause the Hon. Billa Flint to invest heavily in lands and to lay out the above named village. The Scootamatto river was crossed here a short distance above the rapids known as "Hell-gate." The first camping ground after leaving Bridgewater was in the vicinity of the Caniff marsh, and from this point difficulties were encountered and overcome which will, doubtless, at some future time reflect great credit upon those engaged. When perusing accounts of bush and frontier life we cannot help feeling a certain degree of pity for those who under such very unpropitious circumstances, but we must not overlook the fact that a party who are pushing forward from day to day, and compelled by virtue of necessity to follow one line from which there must be no divergence, however tempting the surroundings may be—must endure far more privations than those who are settlers in the district. The Bald Mountains were passed through the now famous gorge and a good run made to Arden, near which point the Salmon River was crossed at Newton's mill. The party were next heard from at Mountain Grove, where they encamped for a few days previous to reaching the Narrows between White Lake and Sharbott Lake at Newman's mill, thence to Sharbott Lake, three miles north of which the line crosses the Kingston and Pembroke Railway. The weather at this time was commencing to get warm, nature was assuming her delightful spring garb and everything was lively; but civil engineers and surveyors, look at these things in another light and saw only myriads of famishing mosquitoes, squadrons of deer flies and their allies in black. The bright green grass was the picturesque islands lost their beauty, and their black snake denizens remained unmolested. Lovers of nature must be healthy, wealthy and wise before they can fully appreciate her beauty. Imagine a hungry engineer meeting a deer in the woods. One thought is paramount, "venison steak," and the beauties of curved neck, flashing eye, or symmetrical antlers are dilated upon when the bones are picked. At Sharbot Lake a long stay was made, and lines run upon both sides, one line crossing the lake upon a string of islands, there are ninety islands in the lake; a short distance east of the Narrows. The Fall River was now followed to Maberly, where some time was spent owing to the drowned land, through part of which the line was run. Perth was reached early in the present month, and the party enjoyed themselves in endeavoring to recall the various modes and

MANNERS OF CIVILIZED LIFE.

The citizens of Perth endeavored to make the short stay made by the party as pleasant to them as possible, and they succeeded so well that Perth will evidently become a favorite rendezvous for the officers of the road. Franktown was the next stopping place and together with Richmond were soon passed, being nearly all cleared and the grade slightly falling towards the Rideau River. The next halt will, as we said before, be at Manotic. In conversation with the officers engaged we were unable to elicit any information upon the probable construction of the road or its future prospects, but we were answered that they are each and all prepared for any emergency, would be surprised at nothing, and were ready at any moment for "foreign service." Mr. J. C. Bailey, the Chief Engineer, is at present upon the Georgian Bay, but has several times traversed the present route of the T. & O. RR. The party now at work consists of Messrs. A. L. Hogg, J. H. Patterson, D. G. Charles, S. H. Sykes, T. Hammond and W. Mackenzie, with a staff of fourteen picketmen, chainmen and axemen.

Painful Accident.

This morning about 8 o'clock, Mr. Henry Germain, aged about 33 years, employed in Cowan & Britton's nail factory, Gananoque, was in the act of putting on a belt, up a ladder, when his sleeve caught on the shaft, making 125 revolutions per minute, carrying him around, and before it could be stopped his left arm was severed at the elbow and torn from the shoulder. His legs were fearfully mutilated, and one of them badly broken by striking the timbers three feet above the shaft. Drs. Giles and Dumble are caring for the sufferer, but it is feared he cannot recover.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

Sketch of the Career of the Pious Priest—Canonized Yesterday.

To-day is the festival of St. Vincent De Paul, who was one of the most eminent saints of the modern Catholic Church, and was born at Ranquines, in the diocese of Dax, in the year 1576. He was educated at Toulouse, and was admitted to priests' orders in 1600. On a voyage which he was making from Marseille to Narbonne his ship was captured by corsairs and he with his companions sold into slavery at Tunis, where he passed through the hands of three different masters. The last of these, who was a renegade Savoyard, yielding to the exhortations of Vincent, resolved to return to the Christian faith, and, with Vincent, made his escape from Barbary. They landed in France in 1607. Having thence gone to Rome, St Vincent was, in 1608, entrusted with an important mission to the French Court, and continued for some time to reside in Paris as the almoner of Marguerite de Valois. He was appointed Almoner General to the galleys in 1619. He afterwards founded the Society of Lazarists, which established themselves in Paris, with the approbation of Pope Urban VIII. To him Paris owes the establishment of the foundling hospital. He devoted himself to other works of charity and benevolence. The pious Sisterhood of Charity is an emanation of the same spirit, and Vincent was entrusted by St. Francis of Sales with the direction of the newly founded order of the Sisters of Visitation. Queen Anne favored his exertions, and Louis XIII. chose him as his spiritual assistant in his last illness. His preaching was of the most simple kind, and was singularly affecting and impressive. He died at the advanced age of 85, at St. Lazare, September 27th, 1660, and was canonised by Clement XII. in 1737. The members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of this city celebrated his feast by attending Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral this morning, and partaking of Holy Communion. The Society is busily engaged at present in making preparations for the annual picnic to raise funds in order to enable them to continue their good work. The picnic is always a large one, and it is expected that this year there will be no exception to the successes which it has had year after year. The picnic will be held early in August.

The Bonus Subject.

The following balm of consolation, from the Hamilton Times, strikes oddly upon the public mind just now when regret over the rejection of the bonus by law is so general. We give it as an evidence of outside opinion merely. We should have been quite willing to accept the risks had the bonus been granted:

"We congratulate the good people of Kingston upon their escape from the necessity of paying a bonus. The cotton business has surely protection enough in the Tilley tariff, and should not go begging for financial aid. The experience of Kingston's neighbor, Napanee, ought to be a warning against voting the people's taxes to bonus manufactories. If an enterprise is fit to succeed at all it can succeed without it. In Hamilton we have gone quite too far on the same line, granting exemptions from taxation and free city water to every factory making application for those favors. At first the municipal liberality seemed to pay, but now it is difficult to refuse any application after having granted so many. Kingston will do far better to make no discriminations in favor of particular ratepayers. A low rate of taxation makes a city attractive, and no money should be frittered away in bonuses or lost by needless exemptions. Kingston is to-day a more desirable location for honest business enterprises than it would have been if the cotton factory bonus had been granted."

The Greatest Blessing.

A simple, pure, harmless remedy, that cures every time and prevents disease by keeping the blood pure, stomach regular, kidneys and liver active, is the greatest blessing ever conferred upon man. Hop Bitters is that remedy, and its proprietors are being blessed by thousands who have been saved and cured by it. Will you try it?—Eagle.

A SOUND MIND IN A HEALTHY BODY.—The old Roman idea of the highest degree of happiness. The liver rules the roast, indigestion creates anarchy in the physical system. Costiveness, biliousness, dizziness and bad taste in the mouth, yellow skin and eyes, loss of appetite, loss of energy, and low spirits, pains in the back and side, wind and foul stomach; all these create bad blood. Regulate the bowels, stomach, liver, and kidneys with Zoressa, (from Brazil) try a 10 cent sample, and ask Henry Wade or Heath & Gunn about it.

A GREAT SUCCESS IN SERGE FOR SUITINGS.—Z. Prevost, at the New York Clothing Store, is having great success in his serge suitings, having on hand English, Irish and Canadian serges. His English serges at $10 a suit (made to order) are taking the trade in the city.
