ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.—The old squabble between Hunter and Leader was again aired at the Police Court. Hunter was charged with using abusive language towards Leader on Saturday last. The magistrate took the matter en delibere.

PICTON V. SYRACUSE.—A cricket match was played at Picton yesterday between the Picton and Syracuse Clubs, resulting in a victory for the home team by 50 runs. Picton—First innings, 55; second innings 53. Syracuse—First innings, 21; second innings, 37.

WITHDRAWN.—The difficulty between A. McCorkell and L. Francis, anent the use of a wharf has been arranged. The case has been withdrawn from the Police Court. The hearing of the Robb vs. Robb dispute, which occurred yesterday on Gunn's wharf, has been adjourned for a day.

FRIDAY'S REGATTA.—At the request of the yachting fraternity the ferry company will run the "Princess Louise" to Clayton on Friday next, leaving here at 9 a.m. and Clayton on the return at 4 p.m. This will give the friends of the "Emma" a fine opportunity to see the whole of the race.

HOLIDAY AND PICNIC.—The Garden Islanders intend celebrating their usual holiday to-morrow, by having an excursion and picnic at Channel Grove. Mr. Calvin has kindly granted the use of one of his steamers to convey the excursionists to and from the grove. The first boat leaves the island at 8 a.m. and the second boat at 9:30 a.m.

WEDDING THIS MORNING.—A popular young merchant, Mr. John Ward, this morning wedded Miss Anna M. Stacey, whose amiability and accomplishments make her a fitting life partner for him. The ceremony was very interesting, and the happy couple have left, burdened with the good wishes of a host of friends, upon their honeymoon tour.

A CHINAMAN'S INFORMATION.—The constant annoyance to which the Chinese laundry man is subjected has caused him to enter information against several of his tormentors, who will be brought up with a short turn before the Magistrate at the Court to-morrow morning. Fung Lei's signature, appended to the information, was a matter of much curiosity.

NEW ENGINEER.—Last evening there was a trial of the Merryweather steamer by the new mechanial engineer, Mr. N. Cartmill. The engine was placed at the corner of Earl and Bagot street. The water pumped was used for flushing out the Earl street drain, which was reported to be in a bad condition. The Committee were well satisfied with the performance of Mr. Cartmill.

ONE EXCURSION under the auspices of the young people of the M. E. Church will take place to Alexandria Bay on Wednesday, 31st of August, calling at Clayton and the camp ground. The popular steamer "Hero" will leave Gunn's wharf at 1:15 p.m. The young people expect to make this the best of the season. Come one, come all. Tickets—gents 50c., ladies 35c.

BUSH FIRES.—Through the careless ness or mischief of some boys a fire was started on the farm of Mr. Wellbourn, about four miles from the city. It has burned considerable of the bush, and when last reported had entered Mr. Wartman's property. The loss has already been heavy, and it may be still greater before the conflagation is closed. Mr. Wartman had difficulty in saving some of his grain.

THE BEST ROUTE.—Dr. J. G. Hollard says the finest scenery in the St. Lawrence is from Gananoque to Fiddler's Elbow through the lost channel and back of Westminster Park. The grand trip is to be taken by the Mechanics' Institute for their first excursion. The band of "B" Battery will enliven the trip with good music. Boat leaves Gunn & Co.'s wharf on Friday at 1 p.m.

THE NEW ROUTE EXCURSION.—The Mechanics' Institute excursion does not take the old channel, now so familiar to all, but an entirely new route to the islands. "B" Battery band accompanies the party. Good music and the finest scenery of the St. Lawrence will make this the most popular excursion of the season. Boat leaves Gunn & Co's wharf on Friday afternoon at 1 p.m.

SERVANT AND MISTRESS.—This morning a disagreeable case of non payment of wages came before the Police Court. A servant sued her mistress for $6. The complainant stated her case. The defendant, on the other hand, introduced a list of articles that had been broken during the servant's engagement. A settlement was effected by the mistess paying $3.50 wages, and the costs of the action. The girl paid for the articles broken.

A LOCAL DEFEAT.

THE "BRANTS" WIN THE LACROSSE MATCH YESTERDAY IN THREE STRAIGHT GAMES.

The Local Team in Need of Practice—Lessons Given by the Visitors—Better Luck Will Surely Come Next Time.

Yesterday the "Brants," of Brantford, on their return from Montreal, played a match with the "Athletic" Lacrosse Club, of this city. They came up by the mail steamer, reaching here at 4:30 o'clock, and after donning their suits of scarlet and crimson, with dark knee pants, at the "Windsor," marched to the field. They looked much heavier than the "Athletics," and were certainly more agile. The composition of the two teams was as follows:

"Athletics"—R. Mills, J. Macdonald, S. Gray, W. Lindsay, R. Filtz, F. Lenes, W. J. Meek, J. Perry, P. Filtz, G. Robinson, L. Hunter, C. Greaza, P. C. Creegan, Field Captain.

"Brants"—J. H. Oldham, A. V. Lee, Jas. Edmondson, Jas. Heath, J. H. McGlashan, C. Henderson, D. S. Sagar, Fred. Westbrook, L. Brady, Ed. Ford, R. Fax, John Fax, R. M. Orchard, Field Captain.

Mr. A. H. Auston umpired for the "Brants" and Mr. D. Callaghan for the "Athletics." Mayor Pense acted as referee.

THE FIRST GAME.

Game was called at 5:15 with Meek and Sagar facing each other. Meek got the ball and sent it to Gray, who threw it up the field. It passed around the enclosure, Perry and Robinson doing good service and working it towards the Brants' goal. Edmondson got it and put it down field, when a struggle for the rubber occurred between Macdonald and John Fax. They were well matched. Macdonald, however, took the ball and by a good throw again sent it up field. Brady took it for the Brants, and by a good shot nearly drove it through the Athletics' goal. Some very fine defence play followed, Henderson, Heath and Fox for the Brants, and McDonald, Gray and Hunter for the Athletics moving the ball about in a lively manner. Meek got in a good throw, and several times the ball was in close proximity to the Brants' goal, but it did not remain long in that quarter. Several excellent shots were made for the Athletics' goal, but they either went over or passed it. Finally Brady, by a good throw, lodged the ball close to the goal, and John Fax got it between the flags. Time, 19 minutes.

SECOND GAME VERY SHORT.

In the second game the teams reversed positions in the field. James Perry, of the Athletics, being injured in the first game his place was taken by John Renton. Meek and Sagar again faced the ball, which went up to the Kingston goal. John Fax caught it and tipped it to Brady, who passed it through the goal. Time ½ minute. The Athletics doubted the close of this game. They, however, bowed to the decision of the umpire.

THIRD AND LAST GAME.

The third game was but a repetition of those preceding it—in results. The ball went down to the Kingston gaol and was kept there. Some good play was, however, exhibited on both sides. Unfortunately the Athletics did not seem to be possessed of their usual vigour. Defeat had discouraged them. Brady and Heath did effective service for the Brants, but there was no brilliant play on the Athletics' side, with the exception of that of Macdonald, Renton and Meek. McGlashan took the ball from the side of the field and tipped it to John Fax, who sent it through the flags. Time 11 minutes.

A FEW OBSERVATIONS.

Several times during the match there were interesting tussles, but on the whole the contest was rather tame. The "Athletics" were evidently suffering for want of practice, and put little vim into their work. The "Brants" are excellent runners. The throwing of the ball by them is really good, but their great forte is defence. The players are all gentlemen, and a pleasing feature of the match was the absence of offensive and ungentlemanly language. The "Brants" run a great deal at home for practice, as well as follow the game itself. They are a well trained team in almost every way. Frequent practice is the price of success in lacrosse as in other games, and the "Brants" have learnt the lesson far in advance of the "Athletics." They meet, to the number of thirty, for five evenings of the week for practice, running a mile afterwards. No wonder they showed off so well yesterday.

EVENING ENTERTAINMENT.

Messrs. Keough, of the Inland Revenue Department, and Freeman, local manager for the Bell Telephone Company, are former Brantford citizens, and last evening added to the pleasure of the lacrosse visit by entertaining both clubs and a few representative men at supper in the Anglo-American Hotel. At their request Mayor Pense presided. The toasts of "The Brants," "The Athletics," "The City of Brantford," "The City of Kingston," "Messrs. Keough and Freeman," "The Press," "The Mercantile Interests," "Our Wives and Sweethearts," were proposed in turn. An uncommonly jovial evening was spent in toast, song and sentiment. The Brants have a repertoire of songs and freely opened it, the whole team joining heartily in choruses. Mr. Fair, a merchant of Brantford, responded on its behalf for the honours paid. The Kingston men handsomely acknowledged the superiority and good fellowship of the Brants, and they in turn felt grateful for a warm reception. The Brants were escorted to their hotel.

DOING THE CITY.

To-day the visitors have viewed the leading attractions of the city and will leave this evening by mail steamer en route to their homes, there being no more matches arranged for their present tour. This year they have played twelve matches and won eleven. Their only defeat was administered by the Montreal Club, which stands so very high in lacrosse records that it is no disgrace to be defeated by it.

Teachers' Examination.

Of the nineteen candidates who went up for examination from the Collegiate Institute, eight were successful, viz., Maggie Spooner, Bella Cormack, Clara Ryan, Minnie Shiels, Bessie Thomson, Jane McConville, Francis Berry, and David Kellock. Thus forty-two per cent. of the Institute candidates were successful. Thirteen candidates were from the Model School, and two passed viz., Mattie Crawford, and Annie Minnes, fifteen per cent. The other fourteen candidates—none of whom passed—were from various public and private educational institutions in the city. Thirty-nine candidates wrote at Sydenham, of whom thirteen were successful, or thirty-three per cent. The average for the province was twenty-nine per cent. The Kingston and Sydenham High Schools, are, therefore, both above the average.

Case of Scarlet Fever.

A woman upon Gordon street, with four young children, was reported today to be in a bad plight. Having been deserted by her husband and not being able to work steadily she had been very kindly assisted by her neighbors until yesterday, when scarlet fever began to rage in her home. She is laid up with it, as also two of the children, and, though the people are willing to continue the support, they cannot in justice to their own families visit the afflicted family with it. In this emergency an admission ticket was granted to the General Hospital, and the whole family will be treated in the small-pox building, which has been unused for many months. Without food and treatment the position of the helpless family would be a terrible one.

SCHOOL QUESTIONS.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE AND PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARDS HAVE A CONFERENCE.

Suggestions for the Harmonizing of the Boards and the Prevention of Alleged Overlapping—Little Accomplished.

Last evening a conference between the Public School Board and the Collegiate Institute Board occurred in the Board of Education's rooms. The following gentlemen were present: Messrs. Fee, Allen, J. S. Kirkpatrick, Rogers, Horsey, Waldron, Jas. Wilson, Irving, Anglin, Polson, Woods and Drennan, of the Public School Board; and Messrs. McCammon, Price, J. Fraser and G. A. Kirkpatrick, representing that of the Collegiate Institute. Mr. J. S. Kirkpatrick was appointed Chairman, and Mr. S. S. Phippen acted as Secretary.

Mr. John Fraser said that they were prepared to state their reasons for calling the meeting.

Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick then read the report of the Collegiate Institute Board as follows:

INSTITUTE'S PROPOSITION.

The Committee of the Board of Trustees of Kingston Collegiate Institute, appointed to consider the question of increasing the usefulness of the Collegiate Institute as one of the public schools of the city, and of preventing any clashing of interest between the Public School Board and Collegiate Institute, beg leave to report:

1. That the attendance at the Collegiate Institute has of late fallen off to such an extent that the Collegiate Institute grant of $750 from the Government will be withdrawn and the Institute reduced to the status of a High School unless the average attendance is increased and reaches an average of 60 or more.

2. That this result would, in the opinion of your Committee, be greatly deplored by the citizens at large because of the historical interest which attaches to the Kingston Collegiate Institute as one of the oldest schools in the Province and within whose walls many men, whose names are household words in Canada, were educated.

3. That every other city and many of the towns of Ontario support and encourage Collegiate Institutes as conferring upon their citizens advantages for a thorough education not to be found where only High Schools exist.

4. That the loss of the Government grant would necessitate a heavier drain upon the City Treasury to maintain the school.

5. That the Institute Board, in common with the Public School Board, represent the tax-payers and your Committee suggest that steps should be taken to secure the harmonious working of both Boards in the interest of the tax-payer as well as of the efficiency of the public school system.

6. Your Committee submit that the Institute should be regarded as the highest and most important public school in the city; that both Boards should aim at this end, and that no efforts of a rival nature should be encouraged by either Board.

7. Your Committee fear that the establishment of 5th and 6th classes by the Public School Board has a tendency to absorb the pupils who would otherwise be drawn into the Institute, and that thus the two systems of education paid for the tax-payer instead of being supplementary and helpers are concurrent and injurious to one another.

8. So many reasons present themselves for believing that the citizen and tax-payer "would not willingly let die" the school whose history and name reflects honour and credit on the city nor lose the Government grant which goes a long way to lessen the burden which would, otherwise, fall on the tax-payer for the support of higher education, that your Committee suggest that a conference should be held between the two Boards for the purpose of discussing the best plan of continuing and improving the system of higher education at the least possible expense and if utilizing the spare class rooms in the Institute building and thereby obviate for a time the necessity which has arisen for increased accommodation in the public schools if it be found advisable and practicable and draft as many pupils as possible into the Institute from the public schools.

9. The same subjects are taught in the fifth and sixth classes which are taught in the Institute, while the latter has the additional advantage of imparting a thorough knowledge of Latin and Greek and is the only public school where the classics are taught. This is the greatest importance for any young man whose abilities may fit him for an University and professional career. No child attending any of our public schools should be deprived of the opportunity of studying Latin and Greek if so inclined, and thereby allowed to ascertain his fitness for a career which will open to him the highest positions in the country. This your Committee submit is another great advantage possessed by the Institute.

10. Your Committee recommend as a solution of the matter referred to them that the Public School Board be asked to avail themselves of the accommodation afforded at the Collegiate Institute, and to transfer to that building as many of the pupils now in the fifth and sixth classes as can pass the entrance examination and in that event the Institute Board should make such changes in the staff of the Institute as, after a conference with the Public School Board, may be thought advisable with a view to continuing as far as possible the system adopted by the Public School Board.

Your Committee believe that the adoption of this course will result in a saving to the taxpayer and in increased efficiency of public education in the city.

All which was respectfully submitted.

JOHN FRASER,
Chairman.

OPENING OF THE DISCUSSION.

Mr. Irving asked, Is it suggested to transfer the fifth and sixth classes to the Institute from the public schools? He had heard it discussed that they could not do so, as a citizen could determine where to send his child. If this was true a serious bar had been placed in the way of any arrangement.

Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick asked what the objection could be if the education given in the Institute were made free. The Institute was really a public school now.

Mr. Horsey asked if it was the intention to have the Institute made free.

Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick—If it is possible to do so.

Some Public School trustees thought the Collegiate Institute Board should give their reasons, more especially for asking for a transfer of the 5th and 6th classes from the Model School to the Institute. The subject of bringing the school systems into greater harmony was discussed but it was thought advisable to return to the matter of the alleged overlapping. The report of the trustees was asked to be read clause by clause, but this was objected to. Several gentlemen said that the Institute Board should make the explanations, and the Public School Board could privately discuss them.

Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick pointed out that the salaries of some two teachers could be saved to the city. If the Institute lost the Government grant of $750 the city would have to make it good.

THE POINT AT ISSUE.

Judge Price said they had been called together for the purpose of doing all they could for the advancement of education in the city and that in the most economical way. He, for one, opposed free education, after a certain point had been reached, and so far as the Boards of Education were concerned he did not think them necessary. The City Council, which provided the finances, should see to the working of the schools. Free education beyond a given stage was simply preparing girls to enter matrimony and boys to enter professions. He could not see why a boy learning a trade should not be provided with tools at the public expense, as that another should have a free education of a technical and professional character. He referred to the crowded state of the public schools and held that room could be provided for more pupils in the Institute while by removals the public schools would be relieved. If the fifth and sixth classes were dispensed with in the public schools there would be more accommodation for other pupils and the salaries of two others could be saved. By the transference of the pupils the Institute would save $750 per annum. If similar classes were sustained in both schools the expense of them would naturally fall upon the taxpayers. By the savings he had mentioned the Institute could be made free and the two Boards made to work more harmoniously. He showed the advantage of the Institute as a stepping stone to the University and would regret any circumstance that would tend to injure it. It would please citizens better to pay $5.75 per annum than to have their sons sent from home for a preparatory education. He could see no other way out of the dilemma than to ask for the removal of the fifth and sixth classes to the Institute.

DOING ILLEGAL WORK.

A discussion ensued on the subject of entrance to the Collegiate Institute. It was held not to be compulsory upon pupils of the common schools to pass the entrance examination. Another thing came to light—that the city paid a teacher in the Collegiate Institute who was engaged in preparing pupils for entrance. It was contended that such was illegal, that such a class could not be conducted in the Institute building.

Dr. McCammon said certain boys had been advanced to the 5th and 6th classes in the Model School without passing the 4th class examination.

Mr. W. Allen—Name them.

Dr. McCammon—My own son for one. He did not pass the 4th class examination, but was promoted to the 5th class at its organization.

Mr. Allen said the promotion of him and several others had been made at the request of Mr. Summerby, who had hoped to bring them up to the standard in a short while.

It was represented that the Model School was a necessity, and could not be dispensed with, and also that there was work for all the teachers employed by the Public School Board.

Judge Price contended that the education of men's sons, after passing the 4th class, should not be at the expense of the city.

Mr. Waldron argued that the poor man's sons should receive a thorough education free.

The question was asked, Can the public School Board dispense with the 5th and 6th classes? That remained yet to be decided.

DISTINCTION AND A DIFFERENCE.

Mr. Woods stated that if the 5th and 6th classes were removed from the Model School there would be no reduction in the number of teachers employed, and if the services of any were dispensed with they would be those of poorly paid teachers. The Model School would have to be continued, and neither Mr. McArdle nor Mr. Woods could be lopped off. He showed that judging by the result of the Intermediate examinations the teachers of the Institute had all they could do; and an influx of 50 or 60 pupils would probably lead to the employment of more teachers. The salaries paid the teachers of the Institute were high, aggregating $8,800. In Stratford four teachers did the work that five were doing here, and their combined salaries only amounted to $3,250. The hours here were too short also.

A general discussion ensued, but no new features were developed.

At 10:30 o'clock the conference came to a close.

The Public School Board will take the report into consideration.

MARINE NOTES.

The schr. Nevada brings wheat from Chicago to Kingston at 6½c. The rate is increasing.

The yacht General Garfield is cruising down the river in the vicinity of Brockville. A party of Canadians and Americans are aboard.

The amount of grain which has been coming into Kingston during the past few days has been quite large, but it has been handled with despatch.

It is now anticipated the Welland Canal will be completed so that large vessels can pass, with certain drawbacks and dangers, about the 1st of September.

The Kingston vessel owners are well satisfied with this season's work. Some of them report that they have made more so far this year than during the whole of last year.

Capt. Trowell says the masters of vessels experience great trouble with small craft at nearly every port in the province, but Cobourg is the worst. Here the oarsmen go out in small canoe-shaped boats and stop right in front of approaching steamers and succeed in stopping vessels. Small boats should carry lights.
