CITY AND VICINITY.

BEST black tea at 60c per lb at Stroud Bros', 109 Princess street.

RICHMOND & BOYDEN have received a large importation of new and handsome carpets to which they invite the attention of intending purchasers.

S. BURGESS & SON received to day a special lot of ladies and children's white underware, aprons etc., which they will sell at very low prices.

GRAIN TESTERS.—The Government has given new and specific orders in regard to the instruments which are to be used in testing the weight of grain.

PROBS.—Light to moderate winds, fair weather with possibly a few local showers; stationary or slightly lower temperature. There is a possibility of some rain to morrow.

COTTON MILL SUPPLIES.—A mechanic from McDougall's foundry, Montreal, has arrived here for the purpose of learning what shafting will be required for the cotton mill before tendering for it. To day the final orders for mill supplies were despatched to England.

THEFT OF A WATER WHEEL.—Some parties last week stole the Turbine water wheel from the old mill on the Cartwright estate, Napanee, now being torn down. The wheel was taken out of its place in the mill, a depth of about twelve or fourteen feet, and carried away.

WELCOME RAIN.—Everybody felt very thankful last night when the rain gently descended. The shower was cooling, and did some good, but vegetation has not been as much benefitted as was hoped for, and the bush fires have been but partially checked. We are thankful, however, for the smallest favour in the shape of rain.

PROBABLE SURPRISE.—The mother and daughter, who visited the WHIG office to-day so highly indignant over the appearance of a young man's name in the Police Court report, are informed that he was not only arrested for drunkenness, but also fined for it by the Police Magistrate. The information may or may not surprise them.

THE CHARCOAL WORKS.—The construction of the charcoal works at Sharbott Lake is rapidly progressing under the superintendence of Mr. S. D. Mills, who has about twenty men employed. Everything will be in readiness for the furnaces and machinery when they arrive. Mr. H. Cunningham visited the works yesterday.

A BRICK STRUCK HIM.—Yesterday a laborer, engaged in piling bricks at the Barrack street wharf, was severely injured by one of them falling from a high pile and striking him upon the head. The article struck him edgeways, cutting through the scalp and exposing to view a large portion of his skull. Dr. Fenwick sewed up the wound.

FATHER O'DONOGHUE'S PIC-NIC.—Upwards of 1,300 people attended Rev. Father O'Donoghue's pic-nic at Erinsville, on Wednesday, and had it not been for fighting bush fires there would undoubtedly have been a much larger turn out. The proceeds amounted to $900 and are to be devoted to the purchase of a bell and the erection of a belfry on the church.

SUPPLIES OF EVERYTHING.—There is nothing which families want in groceries and provisions but can be had at the Golden Lion Grocery, such as ham, bacon, fresh butter and eggs, choice roll bacon and flour. The value given in teas, sugars, coffees, ales, porters and other fine groceries is such that the proprietor cannot afford to give away presents at the end of the month.

A WESTERN DROUTH.—We have too much of the bitter reality in drought here to joke, but an Ohio paper does so quite cheerily over the dry wave the folks there are having. It is told that a stern wheel boat going up the river in sight of Pittsburg kicks up such a dust that she looks like a frame house on fire. The river is so low that even turtles, terrapins and tadpoles can't get a drink at the bars.

PICTON CAMP.—On Monday next the troops to comprise the military camp will arrive at Picton, and at once begin tent life. Several of the officers will be accompanied by their families, who will reside at Picton. It is 18 years since anything like such a military display was made at that town. On that occasion Lt.-Col. Kirkpatrick, M.P., 47th Batt., was Ensign and Adjutant of the 16th Batt.

POLICE COURT—FRIDAY.

The Magistrate's Morning Lever. A Poet Again Heard of—A Lively Sculling Episode.

Two ordinarily peaceable citizens publicly offended yesterday but did not appear in court, having left $2 and been liberated. A sailor was discharged.

John Higgins again "bobbed up serenely" this morning, but did not address any familiar remarks to the "hoss," as he has called the magistrate. He promised to shake the dust of the city from off his feet if once more allowed to go at large. He was shown the road leading to Montreal.

Several cases were adjourned owing to the absence of legal gentlemen in connection with them.

A Princess street inn keeper paid $20 and costs for a breach of the liquor law. He had his bar opened on Saturday evening.

John Barton, a citizen of Kingston for many years, was first charged with having been drunk, which offence, after some hesitation, he admitted. He was then charged with having a revolver on his person when arrested. The witnesses present were Arthur Fields and Wm. J. Garrigan. The former took the stand and swore that about 10.30 p.m. Barton passed down Princess street giving "chin music."

"What's that?" asked the magistrate.

"Well, he was using 'slack,' or language not fit to be heard by anybody," was the reply.

Fields, continuing, said that when he reached his place of business, he "chinned up," but afterwards broke out with ungentlemanly invectives, which resulted in his (Barton) being pushed aside and told to go. Barton with a yell, drew a revolver and vowed he would exterminate the barber. A tussle ensued, and then, with the assistance of Garrigan, the prisoner was arrested and conveyed to the police office. When nearly opposite the Police Court door Barton managed to pass the revolver from his left to his right hand and fired off the weapon. Fields alleges that Barton pointed the revolver at him, and that its contents went so close to him that his hand was scorched by the powder. The police, after the shooting, took Barton in charge. Garrigan corroborated Fields' statement in every particular, and said, further, that Barton pointed the pistol at Fields "with an upward tendency." He firmly believed that Barton fired the revolver with the intention of doing Fields bodily harm.

P. C. James Nesbitt gave his testimony and then Barton offered a defence. He said that he drew the revolver to defend himself against Garrigan and Fields, who would have robbed him. He thanked God that he had the revolver, otherwise he might have been a dead man. The statements of the witnesses were concocted with the object of doing him an injury.

The Magistrate said he would adjourn the case until to-morrow. The shooting was a more serious charge than that of carrying a revolver. He asked Fields if he would lay an information against Barton anent the shooting. Fields would not say whether he would or not. The case attracted much attention.

TWO UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENTS.

Runaway and Death of Mr. Lawrence Joyce—A Woman in Gananoque Family Burned.

About 4 o'clock yesterday a telegram was received from Battersea to the effect that there had been a serious accident at Battersea and that a physician's attendance was desired as speedily as possible. The message, we believe, was addressed to Dr. Sullivan, in whose absence (in Montreal) and some little time was spent in finding a substitute. About 4.30 Dr. McCammon started from the city. He knew only Mr. Lawrence Joyce, who was mentioned as having been very seriously hurt, and concluding that the message came from Battersea because a messenger had been travelling hence drove to the village of Joyceville, where he learned that the accident had occurred at the place from which the telegram was dated. By the nearest route he pushed on towards Battersea but met en route to his late home the remains of the injured man. Joyce had been to the village for a load of lumber, and his horses being frightened he was thrown from the load, and the wheels of the heavy vehicle passed over his chest and neck. Just what the feature of the fatal injuries were we cannot say. Joyce lingered for about three hours and then passed peacefully away. He leaves a family and a very wide circle of friends and relatives to lament his death.

A telegram from Millhaven says Joyce's horses were made to run away by the lumber, which had been untied on the waggon, slipping and striking them. Deceased's neck was so badly bruised that it was swollen even with his chin, and his breast was also much swollen. He was carried back to the Granite House and shown every attention, but he gradually sank and expired at 7 a.m. He was 60 years of age.

Thursday night about 11 p.m. some young men, passing the fruit store and oyster saloon of Mary Dillon, Gananoque, observed a fire in the store. They broke open the door and extinguished the flames. On entering the next room they found Miss Dillon lying on the floor in fearful agony, her clothing entirely burned off and her body literally roasted and the room on fire in three places. As soon as the fire was put out medical and other aid was immediately summoned, but death put an end to her agonies in less than three hours. Miss Dillon has kept an oyster saloon and fruit store there for years, and lived alone. From the appearance of the store and surroundings she appears to have been going up stairs for the night, carrying a coal oil lamp which either was broken or exploded. Her clothes taking fire were burned off and it seems she struggled from the flames and got into the next room, staggering against the wall in two or three places, and set it on fire. Finally she fell on the floor where she was found.

Horse keepers studying economy should buy their tea at Stroud Bros'—109 Princess street.

DESERONTO'S NEW CHURCHES.

A Gift from Mr. H. B. Rathbun—Ceremonies of Wednesday—An Active Village.

While the village of Deseronto is most actively engaged in pushing business on every business day it seems quite evident that the people are not wholly given up to "mammon worship," for just at the present time two very neat and commodious churches are in course of erection. The new Church of England was begun last year, but did not get completed beyond the foundation. It is now, however, approaching completion. The walls are completed, the roof is on, and the building is now in the hands of the joiners and plasterers for the finishing process. It will be a neat and substantial Gothic church, very finely located and finished in excellent taste.

The new Presbyterian Church was commenced but a few weeks ago, but already the foundations are complete, the work is being pushed with energy and will probably be completed before the end of the present season. The church is being erected at the sole expense of Mr. H. B. Rathbun, and presented to the trustees. At the same time a large substantial brick manse is being erected by the congregation.

On Wednesday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, the corner stone of the new church was laid by Mr. Rathbun with appropriate ceremonies. Not much notice had been given of this, but some hundreds were present. Rev. Mr. Craig, the pastor, conducted the religious exercises, opening with prayer and the reading of appropriate passages of scripture, and the choir of the congregation sang several appropriate hymns. Rev. Dr. French, of New York, assisted. On the platform, besides others, were Miss H. B. Rathbun, Mr. E. W. Rathbun, Mr. W. R. Aylsworth, Reeve of the village and Warden of Hastings county, and the trustees of the church.

The church is a fine Gothic building, the main audience room of which is 40 x 65ft., with a school room in the rear 24 x 36ft. There will be a tower and spire at one corner, and double porches over the two from the entrances. The walls are being built of Kingston limestone and they are being laid in a first class manner. The windows will be filled in with stained glass, and the whole finish will be of the best. The total cost will be about $9,000.

The manse will be a neat two storey brick building 36 x 36ft., with a wing 22 x 22ft. The walls of the first storey are about up, and probably in a couple of weeks will be enclosed.

To show how the Presbyterian body is advancing a brief sketch of the parish will not be uninteresting. The parish was instituted in the Fall of 1873, being disconnected from Napanee on the resignation of Rev. John Scott, previous to his departure for the North-West. From the following April Rev. Mr. Craig, the present minister, presided over its mission state for two years. At the end of that term he was regularly inducted. At the first communion in 1875 there were only twenty-seven members, now the communicants number sixty-five, not counting thirteen who have received letters of demission, the communicants and adherents numbering seventy-five.

Probably there was never more business activity, at Deseronto, than this year, and it is difficulty to obtain sufficient mechanics and other labourers to carry on the business required.

At such a time it will not be uninteresting to note that a fine portrait of Mr. H. B. Rathbun, by Mr. Sawyer, is now on exhibition in the book store of Messrs. Stacey & Walpole. The likeness is considered very good, and the painting artistic. It has yet, however, to receive some finishing touches.

A Fine Authority.

Having made enquiries at Ottawa we are informed that the position, made vacant in the Penitentiary by the superannuation of Mr. John Flanigan, has not yet been filled, nor is it likely to be filled before Sir John's arrival from England.—Daily News.

The value of the denial of the Tory organ is illustrated by the above. The official letter, notifying Mr. Sullivan of his appointment, was received by him on the day preceding the WHIG's announcement of it. But there is a hitch, as usually occurs in local Conservative appointments, and the period of entering upon his duties is deferred. Still the appointment was made, and until it is formally withdrawn the position is filled as completely as any office can be. If it is the intention to have a pow-wow over the matter after Sir John's return it is entirely a new idea and one which comes rather late in the day.

Captured in Kingston.

Last evening a telegram from Toronto was received here by the police officers who were asked to detain a lad who had run away, and who, they supposed, would get off the steamer 'Corsican' at Kingston. Policemen were at the wharf when the steamer arrived, and the boy, who is said to be a son of the City Commissioner, of Toronto, taken into custody. He had a companion, but the latter was allowed to go where he liked. Young Coatsworth or Cotsworld is a nice looking boy. He says he has been working hard in John Macdonald's wholesale establishment and wanted a holiday. He has been away from home since Monday. His brother was to arrive this afternoon and take the youth back to Toronto. "If they say anything to me at home," said the lad, "I'll run away again."

Prospecting for Salt.

Mr. H. L. Hildreth, of Saginaw, Michigan, has examined a sample of the brine and salt secured from a well belonging to Mr. J. H. McCrea, of Wolfe Island, and which has been mentioned by the WHIG on former occasions. Mr. Hildreth is an expert in salt mining, and reports the sample shewn him as being of the first quality. The brine from the Wolfe Island well, which is only 102 feet deep, he says is as good as the brine from the Holcomb well of Saginaw Valley, which is 1,285 feet deep. He also asserts that the deeper the well is sunk the purer will be salt. The good report received has caused quite a sensation on the island, and probably a company will be formed to work the well in question.

DAMAGE BY FLAME.

FURTHER ACCOUNTS OF THE DISASTROUS FIRES WHICH PREVAIL IN THIS VICINITY.

Loss Greater than can be Imagined—Wreck not Confined to our Locality—Opinion of Some of our Men.

There is a bad fire in the woods between Lonsdale and Selby. It has extended over three miles, burning the fences and woods. It has not as yet destroyed any of the houses. Mr. Winter's house and barns are in the greatest danger, but the farmers are working hard to subdue the fire. Day and night they are drawing the fences out of line of the fire and plowing up the grounds. Water is very scarce in this section of the country.

A SCARE AT YARKER VILLAGE.

A correspondent writes us from Yarker: Fire commenced on Tuesday evening in Perry's woods, near Clark's Mills, on the north side of the Napanee river, and on the line of the railroad it is supposed to have originated through the carelessness of some of the men setting fire to a stump to burn it and clear it away. The fire spread to W. Sam's woods, burning fiercely all night and extending next morning to Mr. Foster's and John Galbraith's. Towards noon a North West wind arose which made the fire travel rapidly in the direction of Yarker, filling the village with smoke and causing a general turnout of the inhabitants. Horses drew water from the river, and it was placed in different parts of the village ready for use. Mr. Conly had water placed upon the foundry, and Mr. West set the men to work to dampen the Hub factory, and Mr. Ewart had water ready at his woollen factory. The excitement was very great, women as well as men, carrying water and fixing their things for sudden flight. Such, however, was not necessary, the wind having changed the direction of the fire. A large number went from the village to help the neighbouring farmers, notably Jas. and Robert Ferris whose barns and houses are on the south side of the river on a line with the fire. The fire was surrounded and brought under subjection. Welcome rain fell last evening.

EFFECTS AT WARTMAN'S AND DAY'S.

The fire burned briskly upon the farm of Mr. Wartman, lake shore road. The rain of last night, light as it was, lessened the conflagration to some extent, and has possibly put it under control. Mr. P. W. Day, who resides to the north of Mr. Wartman, says the fire has entered upon his property, but he has not much bush to burn, and does not expect to suffer much in consequence. The rain, he says, checked the flames in places where it was running along the ground, but a sufficient quantity did not fall to penetrate the earth and extinguish the fires which have been burning with disastrous effects beneath the surface.

THE BLAZE AT BALLANTYNES'.

A gentleman who arrived in the city per Grand Trunk says fierce fires prevail along the line of railway from Prescott to Kingston. About the worst blaze visable on the cars is that at Ballantyne's, the appearance of which was very impressive.

Telegrams indicate that bad fires are burning in several parts of the Province. We have only noted those which interest us most.

INTERVIEWING A FARMER.

The amount of damage done in this county can hardly be estimated. For upwards of three weeks the fires have been burning, eating their way into the earth and destroying the vitality which it contains. A farmer said to a WHIG reporter to-day: "We don't care for the woods being destroyed, although we all know how precious they are to farmers living in the front townships, but we grieve at the way in which the ground has been burned. For years after being burned it is not worth working."

Thousands of cords of wood have been reduced to ashes, consequently the citizens may expect to pay higher this fall and in the future. Who are to blame for the fires? "In many instances the locomotives have started them, but many farmers may also be charged with carelessness in setting fires to brush heaps and stumps. If only the woods of those setting out the fires were burned they would then know the cost of their lack of prudence, but in the majority of cases the culpable ones escape and their neighbors become the losers."

TELEGRAM FROM COLLINSBY.

A correspondent writes us from Collinsby: The worst fires two miles above here are all seemingly on the line of the Grand Trunk. There are no reports of damage around Westbrook or Odessa, except McCnow's (already reported. The fire at John and Samuel Purdy's, Fairfield's and McKendrie's was dreadful but grand on Wednesday, running fully two miles in twelve hours. The people turned out and worked through the night. Yesterday's calm and last night's rain have caused a lull, but the fire is still smouldering and a high wind is dreaded. The people of Collinsby felt that the whole village was in danger on Wednesday, expecting the fire to reach it. One incipient blaze in the village itself created a great excitement. The fire ran along the grass with great speed. Last night a high blaze was seen on Ward's farm, Front Road, a continuation of the fire from Wellburn's.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

Yesterday the barn, crop and crops of Mr. James Rutledge, a resident of Oso, were destroyed. The sufferer is a poor man, and the calamity that has befallen him will be severely felt. The fires in the woods in Oso are very bad. Strenuous efforts are being made to keep them within bounds.

A few days ago three stacks of hay on the farm of Mr. William Barr, who lives in the township of Bedford, near Farmoy, caught fire and were soon heaps of ashes.

The rain of last evening did not extend northward farther than Verona. Farmers are paralyzed with the fear that the destruction of their property by fire will be made complete.

There are no severe fires in the vicinity of Sharbott Lake.

The Grand Trunk Railway authorities have issued orders to trackmen to watch along the lines and prevent any fires that so often originate from flying sparks from the engines, from spreading. Large numbers of men are at present engaged along the line in putting out small fires and in preventing the fences from being burned. The authorities of the road state that last month was one of the most severe ever experienced in the matter of fires. It cost the Grand Trunk Railway considerably over $30,000 last year to settle all claims by farmers for damages sustained through fires caused by sparks from passing engines, and an equal loss is expected this year.

A VERY CLOSE QUESTION.

Odessa, Sept. 1.—There is a heavy bush fire between Ernestown and Collinsby, two miles south of Odessa. The fire extends about six miles in length, and from one half to one mile wide. A quantity of hay in stacks has been burned, and several barns and dwelling houses are in great danger, viz., Messrs. Sprouls', Gunn's, Hillier's, Morrison's and those of others. The fire is now within 35 ft. of Mr. Gunn's barn and house. The view from the second concession road is sublime, having a wall of fire to the west from a mile and a half to two miles in length, running north-east and south-west, and on the south a continuous stretch of fire for five miles along the track of the Grand Trunk RR. The whole of this section is dark with smoke, the sun appearing as if under a cloud. The fire is supposed to have originated by sparks from a passing train on the G.T.R. The loss is variously estimated from $55,000 to $80,000.

CONDITION OF NAPANEE SECTION.

The fires yesterday, mentioned in our former despatch, on the Russell property in front of the 5th concession of Richmond, spread a mile in length, after 12 o'clock through the Hemlock swamp, sweeping everything before it, and had reached the farm of Tobias Sexsmith last night. Twelve sheep were burned to death owned by Simon Sexsmith; 50 cords of wood and 2,000 cedar rails of David Winters, besides a large amount of other property, such as fences, etc. During the night the wind changed to the north, and the fires were working towards the buildings. The neighbors were assisting each other at daylight this morning, trying to check the flames and to save their buildings. The wind has changed again to-day to the west. Another fire was started on the Hayes farm, on the boundary between Tyendinaga and Richmond, in the rear of the 2nd concession of Tyendinaga, and has crossed the line into the fourth concession of Richmond into McGreer's woods. The neighbours there were appealed to this morning for assistance, as the fire was making great headway and destroying valuable property, and would soon endanger the farm buildings, etc. A fire started yesterday about two p.m. between the ninth and tenth concessions of Richmond, twelve miles north of Napanee, near John Brandon's farm, on the west side of a large cedar and tamarac swamp, near Mud Lake. The swamp contains over one thousand acres, and the fire was making terrible havoc with the timber, sweeping everything in its course. The flames would leap for fifty feet and catch, breaking out in other places, running at a faster gait than a race horse. Buildings have been destroyed, but particulars have not as yet arrived.

PEOPLE RENDERED DESTITUTE.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Mr. P. White, M.P., for Renfrew, who is at present in the city, has just read the following telegram from Pembroke:

"Upwards of thirty families in the townships of Wilberforce, Stafford and Bromley have been rendered homeless by bush fires since Wednesday evening, and are in great need of assistance. Many of them are without food. Their crops, buildings, in fact everything they possessed, have been swept away."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. W. H. Nagle, late an Ottawa journalist, is now publishing the Sun at Winnipeg.

The Winnipeg Times announces that Mr. E. Hooper, M.P., for Lennox, will live in Southern Manitoba.

Rev. A. C. Chambers, formerly of Portsmouth, now located at Easton's Corners, is visiting friends here.

Mr. R. J. Macdowell, of Kingston, is opening a branch office in Westport for the sale of musical instruments.

Capt. Wm. Collier, of Port Dover, and family, have arrived here. They go to Sharbott Lake for a few days, thence to Montreal and Quebec.

Sheriff Sweetland, after visiting Kingston, made with Col. Allan Gilmore, a cruise of the lake and river, arriving at home to-day.

N. C. Polson has established a business at Clayton, that of manufacturing, wholesale, Putnam's corn extractor, one of the most popular articles in which druggists deal.

Mr. C. E. Taylor, now of Brantford, is acting as manager of the Kingston branch of the Bank of British North America, in the absence of Mr. Breden, who is enjoying his holidays.

Landlord Parry, at Sharbott Lake, is coining money fast this season. Keeping a first-class hotel, remark. Cape Vincent Eagle, he has increased the business of this famous fishing ground wonderfully.

Mr. C. R. Hosmer, late Eastern Superintendent of the Dominion Telegraph Company, does not desire a position under the Great North Western Company. It is rumoured that he will have office under a new opposition company.

A Deserved Promotion.

About two months ago we had the pleasure of copying an article from the New York Spectator relative to the promotion in the insurance business of Mr. S. F. McGurn, formerly of Kingston, from the Liverpool to the London office of the Royal Insurance Company. Now we have to note his appointment as general agent for Ontario of the City of London Fire Insurance Company, one of the strongest organizations extant. He was to sail on Wednesday for Kingston. Mr. McGurn's success has been remarkable. He has to be congratulated by his many friends.

N. McNEIL,

Practical Plumber & Steam Fitter.

HAVING SUCCESSFULLY HEATED THE TWO LARGEST PUBLIC BUILDINGS that have been heated in this city—the one by hot water and the other by steam—is of itself conclusive evidence that I am competent to give satisfaction in heating buildings or dwellings of smaller dimensions.

All work done at the lowest remunerating rates for first-class work at the

Old Established Kingston Plumbing Works
