Daily British Whig.

The News deferred explanations of the favoritism shewn by the Government to Mr. McCallum, M.P., in admitting his coal duty, and asked the Times for its authority for the statement. Our London contemporary refers the local Tory organ to the official documents fyled in the office of the Minister of Customs at Ottawa.

The polling on the Quebec Elections takes place to-morrow. There is, of course, much speculation in regard to the result. There can be no doubt as to the need of a change of Government in Quebec, the Chapleau Ministry having given ample evidence of its incapacity, but not until the ballots are counted will it be known how the electors have regarded the issues placed before them.

The attempt to snatch an expression of opinion on the coal duty was a pretty trick characteristic of the little minds which can see nothing except through the clouds of prejudice which darken them.—News.

Poor things, we feel sorry for them. They must be in a bad way when they can see nothing unless up in the clouds of prejudice which darken them, and it's questionable if they can see anything then. The air is clearer and the sun light constant on the north side of Princess street, between King and Wellington streets.

"MEASURES, NOT MEN."

Our critical contemporary, the Belleville Intelligencer, thinks that we are losing faith in the Provincial Cabinet, or that "we begin to realize that our friends of the Ontario Government are not solons and all their actions exceedingly wise." What has led it to come to such an erroneous conclusion? Does it imagine that because we have chosen to indulge in a little independent criticism therefore we are withdrawing our support from the Mowat administration? Governments like individuals are not infallible, and sometimes acts are performed which do not seem to be calculated to merit unanimous approval. Within a short time this paper has stated its disapproval of two propositions, both of which have been variously regarded by the public. We have opposed the abolition of the market tolls in cities and towns unless there be an equivalent or counterbalancing consideration of some kind. And yet we must remember that the Government cannot do as it likes in this matter, that the will of the majority of the members of the Legislature must be respected. The article that seems to have somewhat unsettled the Intelligencer is that which dealt with the administration of justice, the opinion being expressed that the municipal councils should have more to say about the management of those things they have to pay for. We have said nothing to indicate that we have lost confidence in the Government, and nothing that would induce the Government for a moment to suspect that we believed they were not acting, generally, with the best intentions. Our Belleville confrere, however, is a good party paper, accustomed to applaud and commend everything which the party feel disposed to do, irrespective of looks or consequences. If it were not an out-and-out partizan machine it would not have misrepresented our position. "Measures, not men," is supposed to be the motto of the Tory party. To all intents and purposes, however, it is "men not measures." We question if the Dominion Government could commit an iniquity too great for the Intelligencer to condone.

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.

A new feature in connection with the Provincial Exhibition has been developed, as will be perceived by the following extract taken from the Toronto Telegram:

"No doubt it will be found that the truth in regard to the postponement of a decision on the part of the Agricultural and Arts Association as to where the Provincial Exhibition will be held in 1882, is that the Association really does not desire to have an exhibition in 1882 at all, and will try to get authority from the Legislature, in the shape of an amendment to the Act, allowing it to skip a year when it deems such a step expedient. The Legislature will meet early in the year. If it declines to grant the amendment the Provincial will likely go to Kingston; if it grants the amendment the exhibition will not be held next year. The action of Toronto in declining the exhibition no doubt upset the calculations of the Association, so that it is not altogether to blame for the unsettled state of affairs that prevail."

We scarcely know how to regard the information which is conveyed in the above paragraph. We have been under the impression that the delay in appointing the place at which to hold next year's Fair was attributable to the desire of some of the members of the Arts and Agricultural Council to await the action of the Legislature, the annual grant usually made by which will certainly not be allowed to pass unchallenged if it be passed at all. There has been so much criticism that the Directors are anxious to see how far it extends and what has been the effect of it upon those who have the power to sustain or crush the peregrinating institution. Toronto does not wish anything to interfere with its "great fair," but it does not like to resign and reject that out of which any good can come. Hence we find that a spirit of reconciliation is setting in, that the President of the Industrial Exhibition says he has had no differences with the representatives of the Provincial show, that the correspondence was carried on between the latter and a committee of the City Council. Lastly the Telegram suggests as the proper plan that "the City Council arrange a meeting at which representatives of the Agricultural and Arts Association, the Industrial Exhibition Association and City Council could be present, so that the whole matter might be talked over and all ground for soreness obviated." Recent advices have led us to believe that Kingston would have the fair next year. There's many a slip twixt cup and the lip. Until a final decision is made the chances are precarious enough.

POWER OF EXAMPLE.

Recent disclosures, no doubt elicited by the searching methods of campaigning, have explained the dismissal of one of the Government Inspectors of Schools in Quebec Province. He was found guilty of grave immorality, so bad that the children of the schools could not be safe in his charge. The evidence was declared to be too disgusting for publication, hence the quietude of his removal. The Quebec educational department, by its summary action, had done the cause of morality a public service. In no place do the early vices make so insidious an advance as in the public schools. If the teacher be a "sport," as the saying is, his pupils are sure to be precocious "sports" also, or Kingston straws do not signify how the wind blows. Like teacher like scholar. If then it is necessary for a teacher to walk the narrow plank of virtue and furnish daily examples of good living how much more urgent it is for Inspectors, who influence teachers to a far greater degree than teachers can bend a scholar, to strictly observe the moral code! The educational authorities should have a care that a loose way of living does not gain a foothold on the character of any one who has the care of youth. Any indication of such a weakness should call forth a severe scrutiny. It does not always do to wait until a scandal breaks forth for tangible ground of action, for there is much mischief lurking in the delay. The pulpit and the school desk should alike be as near like Cæsar's wife as human frailty can approach.

Rackett's Orchestra.

We learn from the Lake Shore News, Walcot, N.Y., of what the Rackett family are doing. The orchestra, composed of the family, father and four sons, forming an excellent quintette, is attached to the Sterling Comedy Company. Mr. H. J. Rackett also plays in one of the dramas, exhibiting good dramatic abilities. The News says: "Their brass band with their beautiful horns purchased from C. G. Conn, Elkhart, were the admiration of all who saw them and their repetoire of music first class. Mr. Rackett's polka solo was fine and gave evidence of artistic ability."

Rideau Canal.

Navigation on the Rideau Canal began this year on the 1st of May and continued until the 30th November, seven months; the total number of lockages through the canal at Ottawa was 965, some 25 less than last year. The smallest number of lockages was in October, and the largest in May. The vessels locked consisted of 396 steamers and 563 barges. Low water, says the Globe, was one cause of the falling off in traffic, but owing to railway competition the Rideau Canal is not likely to pay more than expenses and repairs.

Ward Representation.

Mr. Wm. Hyssop, a resident of Rideau Ward for thirty years, and who has a good practical knowledge of street work, is a candidate for Alderman in Mr. Gage's place. Mr. W. Melville Drennan is also offering for St. Lawrence Ward in Ald. McMahon's place. He is a popular, rising young merchant and would make a spirited representative.

EUROPEAN TRAVEL.—The great London, Brighton & South Coast Railway has become the most noted and popular line between London and the continent for American and European travel. During the past year the American travel over this route has been immense. It passes through the most lovely portion of England and France, and is the shortest route between London and Paris, as well as the most economical line. The fare is one-third or more less between London and Paris than by any other line. While the boats which cross the English Channel are new, they are the largest and finest vessels on those waters.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

An Exciting Rumour—Duplicate Houses Desired—A Financial Question.

Washington, Dec. 1.—It was falsely reported last evening that a crank had fired at the President at a hotel and also that a lunatic had tried to shoot him at his residence.

It is believed that rumours have been circulated by a practical joker.

The Executive Mansion will not be ready for the President until the latter part of next week. An employee of the at the Mansion House says but little idea can be formed of the delapidated condition of the premises by those not employed there. At the coming session a number of bills will be introduced providing for the erection of a private dwelling for the President. The plan perfected by Senator Morrill, of Vermont, is to duplicate the President's house nearer the Potomac River. Another plan provides for the building of a dwelling on the Meridian Hill, a mile and a half from the White House.

The Tribune says Folger's call for the 5½ per cents, issued yesterday, is to be interpreted as his decision not to purchase four and four and a half per cents until the extended bonds have been redeemed.

ONTARIO BANK.

Squabble Among the Directors—Glass Party May Win.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—It is just reported that Sir W. P. Howland and the Directors of the Ontario Bank have resigned in a body.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—G. M. Rose, director, says the Ontario Bank directorate has not resigned though they are anxious to do so constitutionally. They will not, however, be forced out by the Glass party.

Quebec, Dec. 1.—The brokers deny that the policies of Ontario Bank shareholders in this city have been sent to to the Montreal gentlemen who are opposing the cutting down of the capital; on the contrary it is said there is a large short interest in the banks' stock in this city.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—Senator Vidal holds that Sir W. P. Howland's letters show that he knew the true state of affairs when the last Ontario Bank report was issued. A reporter moving among the shareholders to-day found a general feeling of desire to probe the matter to the bottom. The Directors will not resign upon compulsion; but are willing to make way in the statutory method. At 1:20 p.m. the stock rate was still in progress. A few objections have been taken to votes upon stock held by corporations outside of the country. Mr. Bethune, Q.C., will give an opinion and until this is given the vote cannot be declared. The impression prevails that the Glass party is carrying the day. In this case no reduction of stock will be resolved upon until the new directorate be appointed.

The Mayoralty Canvass.

To the Editor of the British Whig.

DEAR SIR,—Would it not be a good idea to hire a hall so that whenever the thumping candidate for the Mayoralty has any scientific pummelling to do he and the men "who will not vote for him" can go there and fight it out. If we are to have a Mayor whose laurels are to be won by his fists let us by all means have a view of what he can do, and if he is the "king thrasher" of course we can all gracefully submit. I have a man picked out who will be pleased to meet the gallant captain, and if he don't wipe the floor with the candidate then I'll treat.

Yours truly,
ONTARIO STREET CITIZEN.

Kingston, Nov. 30, '81.

Origin of the Word Grog.

SIR,—For the information of the Montreal Witness, the Halifax Recorder, and your Portsmouth correspondent I give you the derivation of the word "grog." It was used by the sailors of Admiral Vernon, who commanded the British fleet in the West Indies in 1742. It seems that the Admiral was in the habit of wearing in foul weather an overcoat made of the kind of cloth called Grogram. The sailors with whom he was no favourite, nick-named him Old Grog. He was the first naval commander who ordered water to be mixed with the men's allowance of rum, and the sailors named the mixture grog after himself.

JOHN STRACHAN.

Kingston, Dec. 1st.

No Waste, but Thrift.

Falstaff's pun in the "Merry Wives of Windsor" has been read by all readers of Shakespeare: "Indeed, I am in the waist two yards about; but I am now about no waste, I am about thrift." How greatly people err regarding thrift. Members of the family are sick with coughs, colds, lung diseases, asthma, or it may be consumption, the family doctor is called in, and prescribes, and makes visit after visit without any apparent advantage to the patient. A large bill is presented which is often paid with great reluctance. This might have been avoided by the timely use of N. H. Downs' Vegetable Balsamic Elixir. It is without doubt, the most reliable, and safest family medicine ever invented.

"On the Hip."

This rather inelegant expression, used popularly to indicate that condition of things in which one person holds another securely by some circumstance, word or act, finds literal exemplification in the following narrative by Mr. John Rourk, of Ottawa, Canada. Mr. Rourk says; I have been subject to hip disease for 8 or 9 years, and have tried all kinds of remedies, but found nothing to give me any relief until a friend advised me to try St. Jacobs Oil. I tried it, and after using 1½ bottles I am entirely relieved of pain, and have not been troubled since, now nearly six months. This is what people would call getting hip disease "on the hip."

BOSTON PRESS.—The literary authorities are increasing in their commendations of the great book publishing house of James R. Osgood & Co., of Boston, Mass. James R. Osgood is one of the best known and popular publishers in the world. His books find their way to all parts of the earth, being the works of the best writers sold at a very moderate charge. The style and finish of the "Osgood" books are much in their favor. The catalogue of new books for the holidays is very large and attractive. It comprises the new works by the best authors, bound and finished in the new, beautiful fashions. These books will be in great demand in Canada, as elsewhere.

PERPLEXING CASE.

Guiteau's Trial Still More Remarkable—A Threatening Letter Received.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Scoville has read the following from Milwaukee addressed to C. J. Guiteau, Judge Cox, and the jury, and signed "The President of the Garfield avengers":

"Gentlemen—You are hereby notified that if the trial of Guiteau, for the murder of Gen. Garfield, results in the acquittal of the prisoner, he and you may commend your souls to a merciful God, and say farewell to your friends. We are now 1,000 strong in the city. Branch organizations are being formed in all the principal cities of the country. We expect at least 20,000 from New York and the whole state of Ohio. Have you heard of Lou Williams? Our object is death to Guiteau and he cannot escape us. If he is acquitted or declared insane we are sworn to march to Washington and lynch the assassin together with Judge Cox and the jury. Outraged justice demands a sacrifice for the deliberate murder of noble Garfield, for the farce which has been permitted to invade her solemn temples, for the prostitution of the law at the hands of the miserable Cox. One has failed but there are thousands who have yet to fail. Beware."

The World says it is probable that Guiteau will leave the stand to-day. Most of the testimony to follow will be that of experts. About thirty experts are in attendance. Most of them are retained by the prosecution. Guiteau showed no lack of shrewdness during the cross examination yesterday.

The Herald says the general belief is that Guiteau's cross examination so far has damped the cause of the defence.

Guiteau yesterday lectured to a great audience and he knew it. He spoke with animation, sometimes talking almost eloquently as he employed the arts of the orator and piled picturesque phrases one upon another. He held universal attention. The changeful moods of the man were wonderful in their number and intensity.

The Sun says the only time Guiteau seemed to be affected during the terrible cross examination was when Judge Porter reminded him, with great power, of the days of suffering which the President endured. Porter asked the prisoner whether he thought the Deity intended that in the President's removal he should suffer in that way? Guiteau was silent a long time. His glance was cast upon the floor.

Guiteau addressed the audience saying, "Two weeks ago I sent out an appeal for money. I did it on my own account and the day afterward Scoville publicly announced that it was without his authority. I again invite my friends to send me money in the interest of the cause of justice and for my defence. They can send $5, $10 or $15 or $1,000 if they wish. If they don't want to be known they can send without the name to Scoville."

Judge Porter resumed his cross-examination, eliciting from the prisoner that physically he was a coward and always kept away from personal danger; morally he was brave as a lion when he thought Deity was at the back of him. The Diety influenced him to remove the President. In his opinion the doctors killed the President, not he. The acts of Jones and Mason in attempting to kill him, were wrong and they ought to be punished unless they can show that they are inspired by the Deity. The witness soon showed signs of impatience and excitability, and striking his hand upon hand emphasized every sentence he uttered. When pressed for answers he finally became obstinate and shouted to Porter, "I know you well, and I know bigger men than you are. I've seen you shake your finger at witnesses in New York, but you can't scare me." Shortly after, when asked if he believed in the ten commandments, to which he responded in the affirmative, and if he believed the commandment, "Thou shall not kill," which ought to read in his case, "Thou shalt kill," he became exceedingly violent and refused to discuss that matter at all. There was no murder in his case and no killing it was simply for the jury to determine whether or not his act in removing the President was inspired by the Deity or not. It was all nonsense to split hairs any longer over that word. It must be distinctly understood that the removal of the President was the act of the Deity.

Garfield Monument.

Paris, Dec. 1.—There was a meeting of the American Legation last evening, who appointed a committee to collect subscriptions for the Cleveland monument to Garfield.

Washington, Dec. 1.—A marble tablet was placed in the ladies waiting room of the Baltimore and Potomac depot yesterday to mark the spot where Garfield was shot. The inscription is: "James Abraham Garfield, President of the United States, July 2, 1881."

Quarantine Investigation.

New York, Dec. 1.—In the quarantine investigation yesterday the President of the Shipowners' Association declared that the fees fixed under the State laws were illegal, being a restriction on commerce. The witness thought the fees ought to be abolished and a health officer paid a salary. He thought the quarantine ought to be in charge of the national Government.

Sale of Cheese.

Ingersoll, Dec. 1.—Twenty-six factories registered 20,843 boxes of cheese, mostly soft, the balance of this season's make. 3,740 boxes were sold as follows: 200 boxes at 11c; 1,860 boxes at 12c; 980 boxes at 12¼c; 460 at 12½c; and 240 at 12¾c. This being the last market day for this year the factory men treated the buyers to an oyster supper, when a few hours were pleasantly spent.

A Plot Revealed.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 1.—Sankowski confessed that he and three other Nihilists had sworn to kill Generals Ignatieff and Tcherevine and Koslow, Prefect of Police. Tcherevine owes his life to the precaution of wearing a coat of mail under his clothes.

Hanlan's Challenge.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—Hanlan's cabling that he will row Boyd on the Tyne for £1,000, if allowed £50 expenses, in March next, has created a favorable impression among sporting men.

Report Denied.

London, Dec. 1.—The loss of the yacht 'Lucerne' by a collision with the clipper 'Dundee,' is denied.

AFFAIRS IN IRELAND.

Anti-Rent Outrages—Rent Paying Tenants Shot—Evictions at Castletown.

London, Nov. 30.—The evictions on the estates of Lord Bantry, at Castletown, proceeded quietly. The tenants were two years in arrears. Most of them offered to pay a year's rent, which in some instances was accepted on account.

Killen, barrister, has been re-arrested under the Coercion Act for inciting people not to pay rent. Michael Boyton has been released from Kilmainham gaol on account of ill health. He was conveyed to a hospital.

Three rent paying tenants on Lord Kenmare's estate in Millstreet were shot last evening, and wounded in the legs by armed men. Three cows belonging to a rent paying farmer near Fermoy were ripped open. This class of outrage is getting more frequent. Lord Doneraile discharged all the labourers on his estate because he was unable to discover who battered his entire flock of sheep to death.

Mr. Henry Egan, Chairman of the Town Commision of Tullamore, has been released from prison.

The opposition to rent paying is especially marked in county Limerick. The Sheriff holds three hundred writs of evictions against tenants for rents due.

A new branch of the Ladies' Land League has been established at Boyle. The police attended the opening meeting, and took the names of the participants.

One thousand tenants in Roscommon refuse to pay any rent or apply to the Land Commision.
