REMEMBER—to attend the lecture in Sydenham Street Church this evening. The Rev. E. Armstrong Telfer, of London, Eng. Subject, "Scottish Covenanters."

PROTECTIONISTS.—Last night four persons sought protection in the police station; one was a crazy housekeeper and the remainder laborers. During the month many tramps have sought protection for the night.

WE again remind our readers of the lecture to be delivered in Sydenham St. Church this (Friday) evening. The Rev. E. Armstrong Telfer is a talented lecturer, and his subject, the "Scottish Covenanters," is considered his best.

A FIFTH INDEX.—The electors of Cataraqui Ward were summoned to assemble last evening at J. King's. It was the intention to interrogate the new representatives on certain points, but these gentlemen not being present the meeting fizzled out.

THE COTTON MILL.—The Directors of the Cotton Mill are greatly put out owing on account of the non-arrival of the English machinery. It was to have been here a month ago. It arrived in Boston on December 14th, but has not reached here yet.

A LOCAL INTEREST.—The death of Rev. Mr. Matthews, President of the P. M. Conference, has a local interest. He it was for whom the Church here would have asked in the event of the removal of Rev. Mr. Jolliffe. Deceased was not a brilliant preacher, but a most successful, pious man.

THE STREET RAILWAY.—The Manager of the Street Railway reports that the receipts for the past five weeks have been larger than heretofore. They have been increasing weekly. To prevent the horses getting the mud fever their legs have been washed with warm water immediately after entering the stables.

A SENTENCE APPROVED.—Some days ago Patrick Reynolds was court-martialled for insubordination and striking a superior officer, Bom. Mason. A sentence of 167 days close imprisonment was pronounced and forwarded by Commandant Strange to Ottawa. Yesterday it was returned approved from the Militia Department. The soldier will be confined for the term stated in the county gaol.

A MATRIMONIAL VENTURE.—Another popular young vessel captain has taken unto himself a wife. The contracting parties are Mr. Ellman and Miss Emma Brand. The ceremony was performed under the most favourable auspices last evening, and subsequently they left for the East upon their honeymoon tour. In the language of a friend "we wish the gallant captain and his lady bon voyage upon the matrimonial sea."

NEW YEAR'S ASSEMBLY.—The city branch of the I.C.B.U. will hold a grand assembly in the City Hall on Monday, the 2nd January, 1882. A deputation of the Belleville brethren will honor the assembly with their presence. Dan Reilly's orchestra will furnish the music. Successful as have been the assemblies of this Association in the past the committee are determined to do all in their power to make this assembly surpass them all.

THE HOLMAN COMPANY.—The Holman Opera Company will give two performances on Monday next in the Opera House, and the occasion promises to be satisfaction to performers and patrons. The operas chosen for production are "Cinderella" and "Olivette," "in which," says the Ottawa Herald, "everything moves along with the utmost harmony. Every one is well up in his part. There is nothing stagy about the performance."

TABLEAUX VIVANTS.—Those of our readers who witnessed the tableau representations in St. George's Hall last winter will be glad to notice by advertisement in another column that another entertainment of a similar kind will be given on Wednesday evening next, the 4th January. We are informed that an entirely new set of tableaux are being prepared. None of the old ones will be repeated. All should go and [illegible] Besides the tableaux good music and singing will be heard.

Gift to Mr. Cooper.

On Monday, the 26th instant, the officers of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary and a few friends met at the residence of Mr. Cooper and presented him with an illuminated address and a beautiful silver tea service, on the occasion of his retirement from the office of chief keeper, to take that of disciplinarian of the Penitentiary. The address was read by the Rev. John Allan, Protestant Chaplain of the Penitentiary, and was ably answered to by the recipient, Mr Cooper. Mr. Cooper has been for 29 years in the service of the penitentiaries of Kingston and St. Vincent de Paul.

A Plucky Proceeding

Detective Sullivan undoubtedly won his spurs upon the Christmas holiday. When he dashed into a crowd of fighting men and despite their attacks and the opposition of the mob carried off two of them by the ears. Whenever they killed or flounced about he put an extra twirl on to the ear of the gymnast and brought him to time. Like policeman Campbell he may be relied on to bring his man single handed at any time, or to handle a couple when the emergency calls for it.

Sydenham St. Sabbath School.

Although the evening was very unfavorable there was a large attendance of the children of the school at their annual tea meeting. Tables were spread with provisions of the best description. After tea the exercises consisted of music, readings, and short addresses by Rev. Mr. Hagar, Dr. Skinner, Mr. J. Chown, of Oregon, and the Superintendent, Dr. McCammon. Before the meeting closed each scholar was presented with a bag of candy. All were very much pleased with the evening's entertainment.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Special Service is Arranged for—General Change of Pulpits—Collections for the Poor

The Evangelical Alliance have been making preparations for the proper observance of the Week of Prayer. It has been decided to hold the following meetings:

Monday evening, Jan'y 2nd. St. Andrew's Church—Addresses by Rev. Messrs. Young and Ball.

Tuesday evening, Jan'y 3rd. First Congregational Church—Principal Grant and Rev. J. M. Hagar.

Thursday evening, Jan'y 5th. Primitive Methodist Church—Rev. Messrs. Huxtable and McCuaig.

Friday evening Sydenham St. Church—Addresses by Messrs. Cook and Smith.

Saturday evening. Bethel Congregational Church. Addresses by Rev. Messrs. Jolliffe and Mackay.

Meetings will also be held at Portsmouth every evening during the same week.

The addresses will not be longer than ten minutes each; the various pastors to preside at the meetings in their own Church.

THE VARIOUS PULPIT CHANGES.

At the suggestion of Dr. Jackson it was agreed to have an interchange of pulpits on the morning of January 8th, the following nominations by the President of the Alliance being agreed to:

St. Andrew's Church—Rev. J. M. Hagar.

Chalmers' Church—Rev. J. Young.

Brock Street Presbyterian Church—Rev. G. Huxtable.

Sydenham Street Church—Rev. Dr. Smith.

Queen Street Church—Rev. T. Hall.

At the meeting held on Wednesday it was decided to take up a collection at each of the meetings during the week of prayer on behalf of the Poor Relief Fund.

It was also decided to hold meetings during the day time in the Mission Hall, a committee being appointed to make necessary announcements for the same.

OTHER INTERESTING MATTERS.

Rev. C. Cook is, for the present, conducting regular services on Garden Island. The Alliance is considering the advisability of having the supply made permanent. There is also under consideration the desirability of engaging a Mr. Owens, sent to this country by the Evangelization Society.

A Committee was appointed to draw up a suitable memorial to be presented at the next meeting relative to the necessity of better protection to property etc., in the city.

Compliments of the Season.

Messrs. W. R. McRae & Co., proprietors of the Golden Lion Grocery, wish their many friends and patrons "A Happy New Year." They return sincere thanks for the liberal support they have received from the citizens during the many years they have been in business and solicit a continuance of this confidence and favour. They have in stock everything that the public require at this festive season. They have liquors and temperance drinks of all kinds—wines, ales, porter, delicious coffees, cocoa, chocolate, confectionery, marmalades, jams, jellies, cigars, cheroots, cigarettes, cheese, fish, butter, ham, flour, fruit, vegetables and everything else that families need. A perfect selection of goods can be had in the one place.

"The Lady of Lyons."

The performance of this play last evening at the Opera House, was witnessed by a very good audience. The beauty of the piece largely depends on the acting, which was very good and added greatly to the reputation of the company. Miss H. E. Jennings, as "Pauline," did justice to her role, her acting being realistic and natural. Mr. Wallace's "Claude Melnotte" was excellent, his elocutionary powers being of a high order. On these two artists depended the success of the piece, and the applause which they received showed that they had given satisfaction. The others in the caste did well, performing their various roles very creditably. The dressing was rich and gave an additional effect to the scenery. The company is a good one and deserved the liberal support of the public.

POLICE COURT—FRIDAY.

The Continuation of the Harris Cutting Case—One Prisoner Discharged and Another Convicted and Fined.

Cecil Hitchcock was charged with drunkenness, but owing to the absence of the prosecuting policeman was remanded to the cells.

The case of Dion and Leadbeater, adjourned from yesterday, was resumed. Albert Lee swore that Dion and Walker were in his barber shop on Monday evening from 6 to 6 o'clock until he closed at 6:30 o'clock. He could say nothing as to their after operations. In cross-examination witness said he would swear that the men were in the shop longer than ten minutes. He thought they were in it nearly fifteen minutes. The previous evidence was considerably riddled. Frederick Sargent said he lived on his income. He saw Walker and Dion about 6:15 o'clock at Lee's barber shop, where they remained a quarter of an hour. The cross-examination brought out facts at variance with the previous witness's statement.

John Stacey saw Dion and Walker in Lee's barber shop between 6 and 6:30 o'clock.

Patrick McCloskey, in rebuttal, swore that on Monday evening between 5 and 6 o'clock he met Pogue and Leadbeater on Johnson street. Was assaulted by them, and afterwards dragged from Sinnott's house and again beaten. The two fellows were going up Johnson street. He swore positively to the day.

John Kehoe saw Leadbeater and Pogue assault McCloskey on Johnson street between 6 and 7 o'clock on Monday evening. Harris was being taken home at the same time.

Patrick O'Brien testified to having carried Harris home after the assault. It was at 6:30 o'clock. He saw Pogue and Leadbeater at Sinnott's. They denied having beaten Harris. The wounded man bled profusely.

Harris was recalled and gave a few facts of minor importance.

Mr. McGuire made a long address, carefully reviewing the evidence, and holding that Dion was implicated. So far as Leadbeater was concerned there was no doubt at all that he was one of the assailants of Harris.

Dion was discharged, the Magistrate holding that there was not sufficient evidence to convict him. In the case of Leadbeater his Worship said there was evidence clearly showing that he was guilty. His punishment was, however, mitigated by the fact being established that he had not kicked Harris. He was fined $5 and costs and ordered to pay Harris $14 for the loss of time and doctor's fee, which the assault involved. The whole assessment was $23.05. Leadbeater will receive a lesson that he will remember. He has been a quiet and steady person but his use of liquor and the company he kept on Christmas have brought him into disgrace. He is a married man.

L'Hotel Dieu—An Appeal.

With a knowledge of the circumstances we feel disposed to appeal to the public in the interest of the Hotel Dieu. For a long time it has received nothing from the citizens except a few contributions towards the Christmas dinner, a small item in consideration of the heavy tax upon its resources for doing an excellent but unfortunately unappreciated service. It costs a large sum to maintain the hospital refuge and orphanage in its present state of efficiency, and to perform the charitable work in which the good Sisters have been unremittingly engaged. Its position at present is just this: that admittance cannot be refused to any. So many young and old and ill persons have received shelter and care that, despite the exercise of the utmost economy, the treasury has become depleted. The Sisters are very devoted to the service, but they must be supplied with funds without which their operations will be crippled and rendered more or less ineffectual. We feel that it is only necessary to explain the condition of affairs, to induce those who have the means to give liberally to so worthy an object.

Entertainment at Portsmouth.

The annual tea meeting in connection with Presbyterian Sabbath School, Portsmouth, came off last evening in the Orange Hall. Although the weather was extremely disagreeable the hall was well filled. After tea had been served addresses were given by several clergymen from the city, and in the absence of Dr. Smith, Mr. Murray made a few pleasing remarks. The musical part of the programme was of a very high order. Among other items we might mention the piano duetts of the Misses McKay, Adams, and the Misses McMillan. The last named gave "Cardinal of Orleans." It was played with much taste and deserved the applause which it received. Miss McFarlane gave a reading with good effect. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Craig contributed two pieces on the violin and piano in a most creditable manner. The piece taken from the "Bohemian Girl" was unusually well rendered. A quartette by Messrs. Cooper, Routley, Middleton and Grefaza on the violin, mouth organ and two guitars, was also encored. Miss Bates contributed two songs and fully sustained her reputation.

Christmas at Battersea.

On Wednesday evening, the 29th inst. the annual Xmas tree in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Sunday School at Battersea, was held in the Methodist Episcopal Church. After appointing Mr. Steinburgh, Chairman, the choir sang the opening piece. The literary part of the programme consisted of the following: Speeches by Messrs. Steinburgh, Joseph Thorne, John Sears, and Thomas Hartley, readings were given by Miss Arthur and Mr. Lewis Hoppins. The musical part was well sustained by the Misses Campbell and Vanluven, playing instrumental music. Songs were also given by the Sunday School scholars; solos by the Misses Sutherland, Thorne and Vanluven; a duet by Miss and Mr. Lewis Hoppins. After the distribution of the presents the audience sang the doxology and then dispersed to their several homes, all praising the successful entertainment.

ST PAUL'S CHURCH.

A Description of the Christmas Decorations—Fine Work of the Ladies.

For Christmas week the decorations of St. Paul's Church, are very fine. Over the altar is the word, "Emmanuel," in white letters, and on either side "Alpha," "Omega," in gold upon a scarlet background. On the recredos are the words, "Very God, Very Man." On a scroll surmounting the chancel window are the words, "The Lord is in His holy temple," on two banneretts, "Hosannah to the Son of David," and on a ribbon, "Alleluiah." Across the chancel arch, in a transparency, is the sentence, "Glory to God in the highest," and over the arch, on a scroll, "Worship God in the beauty of Holiness." Over the vestry door are the words, "The Lord will hear." Over the organ chamber, facing the congregation, "Stand in awe of Him," and over the organ chamber, facing the choir, are the words, taken from the Te Deum, "Heaven and earth are full of the majesty of Thy glory." There were here two banneretts on each side, with the words, "Unto Me a child is born, unto Me a son is given." The handsomest feature of the decorations is the ribbon on the west wall, over the gallery, upon which were the words, "Lord, now lettest Thy servant depart in peace," presented by a member of the congregation before moving away. The walls under the windows are hung with evergreens, the pillars are handsomely wreathed, and over the wreaths are shields with appropriate devices. The font, pulpit, and lectern have been decorated with evergreens, autumn leaves, and scarlet berries, the whole reflecting creditably on the ladies who performed the work.

THE LATE J. B. DAWSON.

County Warden's Death This Morning Close of a Useful and Well Spent Life

John Robert G. Dawson, Warden of the County of Frontenac, rests from earthly labors. Within the few years he served his township as Reeve, and in the discharge of his duties as Crown Land Agent for several townships he worked with a rare intelligence and ability, and won the regard of all by his gentlemanly deportment. His principal municipal work was the consolidation of the county debt, respecting which he had reason for chagrin that his efforts were in some degree foiled by the sale of the county debentures in such a manner as to deprive the municipality of a large measure of the financial benefit secured by the consolidation scheme. No one laboured more zealously for the interests of the settlers in the rear townships, guiding them by intelligent counsel and assisting them in the work of securing their titles. The influence of his bright and amiable example gave character to the settlement in which he lived. His death is indeed a public calamity. The writer of this remembers the last occasion upon which he grasped the attenuated hand of the deceased. It was just after he had, for the last time, left the Warden's chair in November. The ex-Warden of the County, Mr. D. J. Walker, in a few eulogistic words, had spoken of the careful way in which Mr. Dawson had discharged his duties, and hoped that next year as honorable a gentleman would be their presiding officer. The Council for 1881 was then dissolved, and among the first to shake Mr. Dawson's hand was the writer. He said he had reached the height of his ambition and would go into private life. At that session it was the general opinion that his useful life was fast ebbing away. His friends here will deeply sympathize with his wife, family and relations.

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Made simply with boiling water or milk. The Electors of Victoria Ward

GENTLEMEN,—It is my intention to again be a Candidate for Aldermanic honours at the forthcoming Municipal Elections. In making this announcement permit me say that I am opposed to the principle and practice of canvassing amongst the electors by a personal address of their Ward, as I hold that such practice is an insult to the intelligence and good sense of the Electors; therefore, I do not propose making such canvass. I challenge the other Candidates to receive a similar course, and leave the matter entirely to the free will of the Electors.

Gentlemen, I take this method of asking you for a renewal of your confidence and of thanking you for past favors.

Your obedient servant,

JAMES WILSON.
