FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 5.

A PICTURE.

Two little souls, a boy and a girl,
Wandering along to the foot of the hill;
Bushes of green and blossoms of pearl
Laugh at themselves in the roadside rill.
Crossing the lane a gorgeous jay,
Bathed in the light of a fluttering ray,
Jauntily chatters, "some day, some day!"

Two sweet souls, a man and a maid
(Beeches branches twisted above),
Picking the daisies which sprinkle a glade,
And trying their luck at a game of love:
'This year?' 'Next year?' What do they say?
And out of the beeches the curious jay
Peep and chuckles "Some day, some day!"

Two old souls, and the end of the day
Follows them home to the foot of the hill;
One late gleam which has wandered astray
Breaks from a corpse and dimples the rill.
Autumn leaves are strewing the way,
And hoarse from the larch the hungry jay
Shouts out to the night, 'some day! some day!

Two poor souls in the dead of the night,
Side by side lie stiffened and still;
And the winter's moon just softens her light,
As it solemnly rests at the foot of the hill
Remembering the bees and the buds and the May,
The summer gold and the autumn gray,
And the warm green lane where the beetles play,
In the crisp cold night the shivering jay
Croaks out of his dream, 'Some day, some day.

The Ten Days' War.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)

Now that we can calmly look back on it as an historical event, the recent military campaign into Canada was one of the most extraordinary on record. It shows that the prowess of American arms are as prow as ever they were. For the benefit of future ages it may be well to recount the causes and results of this wonderful invasion, which will probably be historically known as the 'ten days war.' It is well known that Canada, by the adoption of a protective tariff, shut out many of our American articles from the Canuck markets. This was more than a free-born nation could stand, and the Government was just going to take steps in the matter when Mr. Beecher called on it, on his way South, and told it not to bother itself as he had a little regiment of his own, and as soon as he delivered his lecture he would go over the border and knock some sense in the Canadians. The Government said 'all right,' and Mr. Beecher delivered his lecture in Nashville. On his return the Thirteenth Regiment let slip the dogs of war and Mr. Beecher cried 'Havoc.' They adopted completely new and untried military tactics. Instead of moving cautiously on the enemy and throwing up earthworks, etc., they bought return tickets to Montreal. This insured their safe arrival and return, otherwise a suit against the railway companies would ensue. The Canada companies guarded the frontier, but of course it being against the law to molest passengers with through tickets, they could do nothing. The brave Thirteenth marched directly on to Montreal and took the city triumphantly, notwithstanding the fact that the Governor-General in person led the foe. The triumphant Thirteenth marched through the streets of the conquered city, which it is understood capitulated on their own terms, and were back in Brooklyn in ten days' that being the limit of their excursion tickets. Of course the return of the noble 400 was an ovation. The wonderful celerity with which Canada was conquered is due no doubt to the fierce and warlike appearance of Mr. Beecher. He was dressed in full regimental uniform with golden epaulettes, while a velvet and gold cockade was fastened on his plush hat. He had a terrible sword, and two gilt spurs decorated his boots Mr. Beecher now looks around for other worlds to conquer.

A Noble Reporter.

(From the London World.)

The ungazetted office which Lord Barrington fills, of special parliamentary reporter to Her Majesty the Queen, is by no means a new one, though Mr. Courtney's heavy wit has drawn special attention to it. All through the reign of the present Sovereign it has been the custom of one of her Ministers to report to her the salient points of a night's debate. During the last Ministry, Mr. Gladstone, who never left anything to his subordinates, performed this irksome duty. When the present Prime Minister came into office he gaily placed the labour on the shoulders of Lord Barrington, observing that as he never made speeches he might write summaries of them. The task is no sinecure. It requires unwearying attention, and is performed without even that meagre accommodation which is supplied to Lord Barrington's brethren in the press gallery. The Vice Chamberlain, having no desk, is compelled to write his notes on his knee, and must withal make them with sufficient legibility to obviate difficulty at the telegraph office. The responsibility necessitates his attention through the greater part of the evening, and the lateness of the hour at which an interesting or important speech is made is not held an excuse for non-fulfilment of the duty. It of course often happens that the leaders of either side make their speeches after midnight. It would be thought that here Lord Barrington's duty might be intermitted. Her Majesty must surely be in bed before the telegram reaches her; and she would find a fuller, though, of course, not a better, report in the morning papers. But whatever the hour be, Lord Barrington is faithful to his post, painfully writing longhand on his knee, and listening the while lest some plum of the debate should escape his notice.

MAYOR BEAUDRY.

PLAINTIFF'S ANSWER TO THE PLEA—THE LEGALITY OF THE ORANGE ORDER DISCUSSED.

(Witness.)

Mr. J. Doutre, Q. C., counsel for Mr. David Grant, in his action for $10,000 damages for false arrest on the 12th of July last, has fyled his answer to the plea fyled by the City Attorney, and in it discusses the legality of the Order. The following is an extract:

The law referred to by the defendant is Chap. 10 of the Consolidated Statutes of Lower Canada, but was originally passed in 1838 as an ordinance by the special counsel.

That the said ordinance was passed for more effectually preventing the administration of unlawful oaths and for better preventing treasonable and seditious practices, the unlawful oaths therein mentioned being meant oaths administered and taken for and practices, as is shown by the whole bearing of the said ordinance, and by the circumstances under which the said ordinance was passed.

That the said ordinance was continued and kept in force for preventing the recurrence of the same treasonable and seditious practices as were in existence at the time of the passing of the said ordinance, to wit: for preventing the state of insurrection and unlawful and seditious practices, which were prevalent at the passing of the said ordinance, the plaintiff stating it as a fact derived from the preamble of the said ordinance, and from the history of that time, that when the said ordinance was passed several parts of the territory of Lower Canada were in open rebellion against Her Majesty's Government, and large numbers of persons engaged in seditious enterprises against the safety of Her Majesty's rule in Lower Canada, and described in the preamble of the said ordinance as wicked and evil-disposed persons attempting to seduce divers of Her Majesty's subjects from their allegiance to Her Majesty were confederating together and with other persons in the neighboring states of the American Union, and were combining together by means of unlawful oaths and associations of new and dangerous nature to ensure secrecy over their treasonable proceedings, and impunity if brought to trial for the same that the members of the Orange Association in any part of the [illegible] and especially in Lower Canada, have never had other ends or objects by associating together than protecting Her Majesty's Government and supremacy against such treasonably and seditious enterprises, that it is utterly false that the members of the said Orange Association and the plaintiff as a member there of ever countenanced or authorized the administration of an unlawful oath to any person whatever, or an oath not required by law, that an oath of allegiance and

FIDELITY TO HER MAJESTY

and her crown and supremacy has ever been and is still lawful and authorized by law, and was exacted extra-judically from all professional men, justices of the peace, and other public officers on entering the performers of the duties of their respective offices or functions, and even from every votes presenting himself to vote at any parliamentary and other election; that even since the passing of a recent statute by the Dominion Parliament forbidding extra-judicial oaths, the governor-general, lieutenant-governors, the judge of all courts, the bishops of all creeds, the members of the Senate and House of Commons are bound to take and subscribe to the oath of allegiance, and no law or statute ever intended to forbid swearing allegiance to Her Majesty, whether judically or extra-judically, or to consider such oath as not required by law in any wise.

"German Syrup."

No other medicine in the world was ever given such a test of its curative qualities as BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. In three years two million four hundred thousand small bottles of this medicine was distributed free of charge by druggists in this country to those afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Croup, severe Coughs, Pneumonia and other diseases of the throat and lungs, giving the American people undeniable proof that GERMAN SYRUP will cure them. The result has been that druggists in every town and village in the United States are recommending it to their customers. Go to your druggist and ask what they know about it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Three doses will relieve any case.

THE PRE-EMINENT REMEDY.—No one disputes the fact that, whether as a laxative or cathartic, Castor Oil stands pre-eminent as the mildest and most efficient that can be administered. It not only thoroughly cleanses the system, but at the same time has a healing property peculiarly its own. Especially is it unequalled in cases of chronic constipation, or a stoppage. Moreover it is par excellence, the medicinal regulator which best agrees with children. But everybody says it is so nasty. So it was until Scott & Bowne's Palatable Castor Oil was put on the market. They have deprived it of its unpleasantness, and placed it within the reach of all. Only 25 cents a bottle.

If those who have never tried that unrivalled preparation for colds, coughs, hoarseness, asthma, sore throat, etc., HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM, will but receive the testimony of the many thousands who have successfully used it, they will be acting wisely. It is one of the oldest and best known remedies in the Dominion. For sale by all dealers, at 25 cents per bottle. Milburn, Bentley & Pearson, Proprietors.

THE National Pills are a perfect cathartic, and a remedy that works on the bowels and secretive organs with the most astonishing and beneficial results, and thus removes all impurities. They do not leave the bowels costive after their use; are not attended with nausean or griping pain like mild and searching. Are also sugar coated. For sale by all dealers.

DR. SYORY.—Dear Sir, I am to day truly thankful that you have brought to my notice your very simple and efficacious "Diamond Catarrh Remedy." For many years I have suffered from the Catarrh—the disease being brought on by a too persistent effort in singing. I had laid myself "on the shelf," having received no benefit from the various nauseous remedies which I had tried. A few trials of your remedy relieved my head at once, and now after a three months' trial I am able to sing with a clearness and ease that delighted and astonished me. I wish you great success and shall not fail to recommend it wherever I see a need of its use. Respectfully yours,
PROF. W. B. TAYLOR,
Willoughby Ave., Brooklyn, Sept. 13, 1877.
