ATTENTION HOMEOWNERS: Does your home harbor an electrical hazard?

Don't miss this important home safety seminar in your neighbourhood.

Listen to industry professionals who understand the dangers of degraded and faulty electrical.

Did you know?

- An electrical fire happens every eight minutes in North America.
- Knob and tube wiring is ungrounded - imagine driving your car without brakes!
- Renovations completed in the 1960s and 1970s used aluminum wiring, creating a dangerous mix that poses significant risk.
- Many older homes have outdated service panels that are often 'over-fused', creating fire and shock hazards.
