The Late Mathieu Matheson.

Mr. C. O. Perrault, Vice-Consul of France, has received in his official capacity two letters from "R. Fraise, widow of Mathieu Matheron," the unfortunate victim of the recent Rouse's Point murder, asking for full particulars of the circumstances attending her late husband's tragical end, preparatory to a power-of-attorney being sent to him, Mr. Perrault, authorizing him to act on behalf of the deceased's heirs in liquidating his estate. In one of these letters, dated the 8th August, she states that on the day previous there had been a meeting of the family at a notary's, when it was decided to authorize him to take the necessary steps. The family is composed, she says, of Mathieu Matheron's mother, four brothers, one sister and herself, his widow. She states that her husband abandoned her several years ago, coming to Canada in company with one Coste and his wife and their two children, intimating that Matheron's relations with her were too intimate. She says she had no children, and that there was no communication between them after he deserted her, although he sometimes came to St. Etienne, France, where she resides, to purchase ribbons, which she believes he sold in Canada. She speaks very unfavorably of the Coste family, and promises the Vice-Consul that she will re-imburse him for his expenses. The letter is written by a trader of St. Etienne, named Charles Cros, who also guarantees the means to enable Mr. Perrault to look after the interests of the deceased's family.—Witness.
