The Leeds Shooting Affray.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

The Brockville Recorder says:

On Thursday morning of last week, the town was thrown into a state of great excitement, by a rumour that a portion of the "Leeds Gang" of plunderers had shot Mr. S. Halliday of Farmersville, and severely wounded another man, in attempting to capture two of the gang for the crime of house stealing.

The notoriety which this gang has earned for themselves by numerous high-handed acts of robbery and assault, rendered the rumoured murder of Mr. Halliday a very probable circumstance, but no one could tell exactly what had taken place, and as the news went from mouth to mouth, each relater had a somewhat enlarged and more wonderful tale to tell.

Information was received on Wednesday by the Ontario Mutual Detective League at Farmersville, that proof of horse stealing had been found against Milton Wing and Thomas Chapman. Warrants to arrest these men were at once issued, and a party consisting of Mr. Stephen Halliday, David F. Booth, Wm. Robinson, T. W. H. Leavitt, and Constable Fife, at once proceeded to Leeds to arrest the parties. On arriving at Morton, Booth was detailed for a special service, while the remainder of the party proceeded to the residence of Thomas Chapman. On arriving there, Halliday was stationed at the front door, and Robinson at the back door, while Fife and Leavitt entered the house. The inmates at that time consisted of Carey Chase, George Chapman, and Miss Chapman. As there has been a Bench warrant out for some time against Chase, Fife informed him that he would have to arrest him, and Chase consented to go. At this instant Thomas Chapman entered the house, followed by Halliday. Fife then turned to Chapman and arrested him. Chapman instantly struck Fife, and Fife seized him by the coat collar, when a scuffle ensued, in which Halliday stepped forward to assist Fife. Chapman then drew a revolver, and as it was thought shot Halliday, while George Chapman struck Fife with a stick of wood. Miss Chapman, not to be outdone by her male companions, struck Leavitt, who had Chase covered with a revolver, with a stick of wood, and the shock discharged his revolver which was pointed at Chase to guard him. The ball missed Chase, who immediately sprang out of doors. Thomas Chapman then fired at Leavitt, missing him. Leavitt, returned the shot striking Chapman in the arm. Leavitt was again struck by Miss Chapman across the neck, and fell out of the door, Chapman jumping on him, while Miss Chapman endeavoured to beat his brains out with a billet of wood. Chapman then drew his revolver and fired at Leavitt, missing him again, but supposing he had killed Leavitt, Chapman entered the house followed by Robinson. Robinson saw Halliday apparently dead upon the floor. Robinson then fired his pistol at the Chapmans, who had wounded Fife, cutting his head open in several places. The robbers then rushed at Robinson, who escaped by breaking down a door, leaving the house. Fife escaped by the back door, and succeeded in reaching the sleigh just as Robinson also came to it. They then both drove off, supposing Halliday and Leavitt dead. In the mean time, Leavett reached the road and hailed them, when they took him on board, and at once proceeded to Sweet's Corners for help. As no guns could be found there, they pushed on to Lyndhurst, raised a party of men, and returned to the house, but could find no trace of Halliday. A little boy (son of Miss Chapman, it is said) informed the party that the boys dragged Halliday out of doors and then hid themselves in the barn. After procuring a light, Halliday was tracked by the blood to a house near by, where he was found in an insensible state. The little boy having informed the party that the boys were in the barn, the barn was at once surrounded, and the rogues were demanded to come out, not doing so; the barn was fired. Information was at this juncture received that the guilty parties had fled towards the White Fish, and pursuit was at once made, and they were traced towards Briar Hill, where the clue was lost. Halliday lay for some time in a precarious state. Fife is at Lyndhurst, with his head cut in a terrible manner.

The Sheriff left town at an early hour of the morning to aid the arrest of the thieves. On arriving at the proper locality, he had warrants made out in such a way as would cover all the phases of the case likely to arise. He found, however, that the guilty parties had kept themselves concealed till the crowd of pursuers left, and then made off towards the front. Being satisfied on this point, scouts were sent off, and he returned to town on Friday evening in the belief that had the watchers remained at their post till his arrival, some arrests would have been made, but owing to their leaving too soon, the birds were unsnared. Miss Chapman was, however, secured, and after undergoing an examination at Farmersvill, was sent to Brockville gaol to await her trial for her bold and amazon conduct in the rescue of her male friends from the hands of the hands of the constabl. In fact, to her in a great degree may be ascribed the rescue of the thieves, as, armed with a billet of wood, she flew from one struggling party to another, and wherever she could put in a blow she did so in behalf of her companions.

We are happy to state that Mr. Halliday is again moving round. The most dangerous wound received by him was on the back part of the head. The wound was either made by the edge of a stick of wood or deeply grazed by a pistol ball. Mr. Fife, although fearfully battered about the head and face, is also rapidly recovering.

The people are becoming thoroughly aroused and are determined to scatter the gang root and branch. As an evidence of this, three constables arrived here on Tuesday morning about four o'clock with the persons of Hiram Chase and George C. Chapman, one of them being charged with aiding in the robbery of the store of Sanders and Ruddick in 1866; and the other in aiding and abetting in the rescue of the horse thieves arrested by Constable Fife, for whom the Deputy Sheriff is still in search, they have been seen to make for the river near Rockport. The Detective League have offered a reward of $200 for their capture.

The people of Leeds appear now to have wakened up and are pushing the gangs hard. At one time members of the gang were not afraid to present a revolver to a man's heart and tell him if he did not mind his eye and keep silent, he would get the contents of the revolver. Now all this is changed, the people are up and the magistrates active, and robberies of two years ago are brought against the gang and parties are arrested. Besides the men mentioned above as being now in gaol here, another man belonging to Lansdowne, named Seriniah Palmer, was lodged in jail yesterday morning, on a charge of stealing a buggy from George Tompkins of Bastard in 1867.

The Deputy Sheriff returned to town on Tuesday evening, after an exciting but unsuccessful hunt after Chase and Chapman. These men had crossed the river opposite the Lansdowne Station, about four o'clock in the morning, having driven from the scene of the assault as fast as the horse could carry them. The horse they turned adrift on the road, and the cutter was shoved into an air hole in the ice. The poor horse was so tired out that it was found lying on the snow. It is thought the reward offered will yet cause the arrest of the thieves.

DEATH OF AN AGED NUN.—Mother Marie Catherine Huot, in religion, Sister St. Magdalen, superioress for 24 years of the Congregational Notre Dame, and for twelve years mistress of novices, died on Wednesday last, at the age of 77 years. She had been a nun for sixty-two years, and had witnessed in her time the reception of 450 nuns. The service over her remains took place in the Church of the Congregation, and was very imposing. Twelve different orders of nuns took part, and two Bishops presided. Her remains were interred in a separate place in the vault under the church, and in a black walnut coffin of an unusually magnificence, as the nuns are generally buried in common deal coffins. The Bishops of Montreal and St. Hyacinthe, laid the deceased in her last resting place. She had been a great favorite amongst the poor, and was deranged somewhat before her death, to the great regret of her followers who thereby lost her dying words.—Montreal Witness.

SCANDAL.—We learn from a Quebec paper, that a young woman of sixteen or seventeen, appeared in St. John street in the over-dressed style which the demi monde affects, concerning whom there is a melancholy history. She is, it is said, the daughter of a respectable physician in London, Ontario, and was seduced by an officer of the 53rd Regiment. She followed her seducer to Quebec, and was there cast off to take up her home in a brothel. And for this more than fiendish wrong our laws afford no redress.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Reciprocity with Canada.

Washington, Jan. 12.

The Secretary of the Treasury sent to the House to-day the report of Hon. Israel Hatch, of New York, upon the commercial relations of the United States with the New Dominion of Canada. He advocates reciprocal free trade, but gives great weight to the question of revenue and taxation and our commercial superiority. The past relations are briefly sketched. During the treaty the United States collected annually $75,000, or $850,000 in ten years, on Canadian productions, while Canada taxed and collected large imports from American producers which were omitted from the free lists in the old treaty. He stated that in the fiscal years which have elapsed since the termination of the treaty we collected $14 000,000 without loss of trade. He discusses very elaborately the merits of the channels of trade from the west to the sea board, via the Hudson river and Erie Canal and the St. Lawrence, showing the superiority of the American over the Canadians themselves, as exhibited by the natural course of trade. He speaks of the designs of the Canadian tariffs in admitting free of duty all material which enters into the construction of railroads and ships, placing American consumption at a great disadvantage. He advocates makes the Erie canal as free as the Hudson river from the lakes to the ocean, subjecting property to the payment of only such tolls as may be necessary. He gives a brief historical sketch of the views of Clinton, Morris and Fulton upon this point, and states that Madison and Gallatin both recommended Congress to appropriate eight millions dollars to make the Erie Canal a free canal. He regards the right of way as the right of the million, and held in trust by each State for the benefit of all the others, and that by the judicious improvement of the Erie Canal the cost of transportation upon it can be reduced one half, which would insure to the benefit of the western farmer and eastern consumer and shipper, and that the Erie Canal now in six months every year is carrying as much freight as the Trunk railways carry from the west to the seaboard in twelve months and at half the cost. A saving of eleven millions in the economy of transportation to the people. He also states that any of the agricultural States in the west now furnishes more tonnage to the Erie Canal than the State of New York. The report shows much research and comprehensive knowledge of the subjects considered.

PERUVIAN SYRUP.

A PROTECTED SOLUTION OF THE PROTOXIDE OF IRON supplies the blood with its LIFE ELEMENT, IRON giving strength, vigor and new life to the whole system.

If the thousands who are suffering from Dyspepsia, Debility, Female Weaknesses, &c., would but test the virtues of the Peruvian Syrup, the effect would not only astonish themselves but would please all their friends for instead of feeling cross, 'all gone' and miserable, they would be cheerful, vigorous and active.

A DISTINGUISHED JURIST WRITES TO A FRIEND AS FOLLOWS:

'I have tried the Peruvian Syrup, and the result fully sustains your prediction. It has made a new man of me, infused into my system new vigor and energy; I am no longer tremulous and debilitated, as when you last saw me, but stronger, heartier, and with larger capacity for labor, mental and physical, than at any time during the last five years.'

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give its trial.

The genuine has 'Peruvian Syrup' blown in the glass.

LOOK TO CONSEQUENCES.—Remember that Dyspepsia is not only a terrible disease in itself, but the direct cause of a whole host of maladies. No human being is so susceptible to all unhealthy influences as the confirmed dyspeptic. Why, is the name of reason, does any one continue to risk the consequences of Indigestion, when a course of Radway's Regulating Pills will effect a perfect cure in any case, however aggravated.

Arsenic has been known for many years to have the power of imparting a wax-like complexion and a roundness to the features, and is said still to be used in some countries for that purpose; its employment however is attended with considerable danger, because of the fatal effects of its discontinuance after its use becomes a habit, and the shortening of life if continued. The plumpness and disposition to take on flesh imparted by FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP, is due solely to its strengthening influence on the Nervous system. It creates a healthy action on all the organs of the body necessary to existence, assisting nature in building up and developing to the fullest extent, the human frame, and enabling the body to perform its functions with vigor. It is safe and reliable, and its use may be discontinued at any time without prejudice to the health or any unpleasant effect.

Polonius.—To thine own self be true;
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.
Hamlet, Act 1. Scene 3.

Puffs are the known device of quacks and cheats,
Rapacious, striving by unscrupulous feats
Of turgid boasting, deftly to deceive
Victims unwary who their tales believe.
Eschew their arts, and vaunt no spurious ware—
Soundness in quality's my constant care
In each transaction 'tis my anxious aim
To MORRISON to keep the upright name.
No custom's sought where value's not returned.
Such is my scheme. Adulteration's spurned!

M. MORRISON.
