Massacre in New Zealand—The Conference.

London, Jan. 21.

Advices from Madeira to the 14th make no mention of the whereabouts of the thirty missing passengers and crew of the Hibernian, who were said to have been landed there. The story of their being picked up is now believed to be unfounded.

London, Jan. 21.

The amount of bullion in the Bank of England has increased £99,000 stg since the last report last Thursday.

London, Jan. 21.

Late advices from Auckland, New Zealand, report that a frightful massacre of the whites by the natives had occurred at Pourty Bay on that island.

It is officially stated that the Paris Conference awaits the reply of the Greek Government to the resolution which has been adopted. When that is received the Conference will dissolve.

Constantinople, Jan. 21.

There is a rumor here that the Greek ship Syriatte fired into a French sloop, and that several persons on board the latter were killed.

How the Richest Man in the World Lived.

As every one is interested to know how so rich a man as Baron Rothschild lived, correspondents are particular as to every movement in his daily life. It is related that he rose every morning at six o'clock. His body servant shaved and dressed him. Meantime, M. Boudeville (a teacher of elocution, who fits people for the stage,) read the newspapers and told him the gossip of the green-rooms of Paris theatres. He was dressed for the day at this early hour, putting on even a white cravat. He next received a Prussian named Bernardi, with whom he examined the quotations from the great Exchanges of Europe, and decided upon and gave orders for the transactions of the day. He next received the correspondence clerks, took from them the more important letters which required a reply from the Baron, and approved or modified the proposed replies to other letters. Then the Almoner came in and reported on the poor relieved, and received new instructions. He then went to M. le Rothschild for her instructions. After the Almoner retired, the Baron received his experts, men who kept him informed of all art and book sales; by whom reports or received instructions. He then went to breakfast. All the family met at breakfast, and usually one or two of his married children were present. After breakfast, the Baron went to his office (which was immediately on the street, and separated from his house by the courtyard) a covered way reaching from one to the other) to receive people. At two o'clock he would go to the Bourse, or officer to the auction-mart, for he was fond of having objects of curiosity and pictures. He would return to his office, and at four o'clock drive down to Chateau de Surenes or Bonde Bologre, returning at five o'clock to his club, where he would play whist at ten sous a point until dinner time. During the last part of his life he became eccentric in a good many small matters. He carried a port-monnaie which was closed by a lock, although he never carried more than fifty francs about him (if a man carried more he is sometimes led to extravagant expenses,' he used to say,) and often nothing at all. He carried the key of this lock on his chain. The members of the Rue Royale used to laugh to see the Baron fumbling for his key, and even his lock (his sight was latterly impaired,) and when, at last he managed to open the port-monnaie, to find it empty. After dinner he received company at home, or went to some theatre.

United States.

Colonel Warden, President Johnson's private secretary, asserts that Spain is indirectly negotiating for the sale of Cuba.

President Johnson gave a grand party at the White House, which was one of the most brilliant affairs of the kind that has been seen in Washington since the reign of President Buchanan and Miss Harriet Lane.

Pfau had a fall from the height of a swinging trapeze in New Orleans. Instead of breaking his neck, he alighted on his feet, turned a somersault, and kissed his hand to the horrified audience.

District-Attorney Courtney having written to Attorney-General Evarts for instructions respecting Lieutenant Blaine, the ex-Confederate naval officer, who captured the steamer Chesapeake, who has been in prison nearly two years. Mr. Evarts decided to-day to recommend his release, as entitled to pardon under the amnesty proclamation.

Arnold, one of the men arrested for complicity in the assassination of the late President Lincoln, wrote a lengthy confession, which has just been made public. It states that Wilkes Booth was the leading spirit in the conspiracy; it also gives some details relative to the plot to kidnap Mr. Lincoln which had been concocted some time before his death.

DOMESTIC.

Coburg is organizing Relief Committees for the Red River settlers.

It is believed in Halifax that the Dominion Government will appoint Mr. Howe a delegate to Washington, to aid in obtaining Reciprocity.

The Toronto Telegraph warns Mr. Howe that if he accepts the situation, his bitterest foes will be Ontario Oppositionists.

The Grand Trunk Company have purchased the Rees property, Toronto, for the purpose of extending their freight yards and giving better access to the new passenger station. A freight shed is to be erected of the same dimensions as that in Montreal.

A meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade was held to reconsider the Georgian Bay Canal scheme. The meeting was largely attended and great excitement prevailed. After four hours' debate a formal resolution was passed sustaining the former decision, that neither the commercial, shipping, nor agricultural interests of Canada or Ontario require its construction.

A Quebec correspondent, alluding to a prominent wedding which took place in the English Cathedral of that city about a month ago, says—'the Rev'd. bridegroom insisted upon having the holy communion administered at the conclusion of the marriage service, and adds,—'this custom is unknown, except in extreme churches, and should be exposed.'

A case was determined the other day at Orillia, of which the counterpart has not as yet come up since the new Act came into force, but which will be interesting to all branches of the volunteer service. A member of the local company was charged before Mr. King, Magistrate, for refusing to attend drill. The man was fined $5 and costs, it having been proved that he was duly notified and warned of the consequences of his refusal.

BILLIARDS.—We learn by the New York papers that the grand billiard tournament which is announced to come off in that city in April next promises to be a splendid affair, if the proposed arrangements be properly carried out. A golden cue will be manufactured and played for as the champion cue of America, and the game will be the four ball, push barred, on a second size four pocket table, with two and three-eight inch balls. Among the contestants will probably be Randolphs, Dion, Foster, Garne, Derry, and Goldthwait. Some difficulty may arise from there being too many entries.

QUITE LIKELY.—Many clever men have made mistakes during their lives, and, possibly, many more are quite likely to do so too, and why should not Sir William Logan, the eminent geologist? If Mr. Low's report, which appears in the L'Original Advertiser, be correct, then Sir William's predictions will be greatly at fault. The paper says: "That Mr. James Low, one of Sir William Logan's explorers, has discovered coal on the Gatineau River, about 14 miles from the Digaire, the bed being apparently about four or five feet in depth."

A TEDIOUS TRIAL.—A trial which lasted thirty days has just terminated in Dublin. It was a suit for £12,000, brought by a builder against the priests of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, at Philsboro, as due him on part of the contract for repairing that edifice. An English architect estimated the contract at £1,000. The suit was resisted on the ground that the contract was made with their superior, who has left Ireland, and also that the plaintiff had been fully paid. An army of witnesses — architects, surveyors, measurers, builders, artists and workmen was produced on both sides, every word of whose evidence was taken down with most laudable conscientiousness by the judge, whose notes filled seven large folio volumes. The expenses of the trial were enormous. A large bar was employed on each side, and the daily 'refreshers' to counsel amounted to nearly £1,000. The result of which all the time and money expended was a disagreement of the jury and a gigantic model of, there parts of the building in dispute, the base of which covered the whole of the bar benches.

New Zealand.

An unexampled budget of horrors comes in the shape of intelligence from the Pacific. The telegram from New Zealand announcing that fifty European families have been massacred shows how formidable the rising of the Maories has become, and how complete is the disorganization of the colonial forces. The miserably small and ill-equipped body of police which was raised as a substitute for the British regiments has been defeated and demoralized, and the country is left practically defenceless. The Maories have occupied many miles of colonial territory, have burned the homesteads and driven off the cattle of the settlers, and emboldened by success, have at length perpetrated a wholesale massacre. There can be no doubt as to whom the responsibility of these events must be attributed. It is not the incapacity of Colonel M'Donnel or any other officer, but the negligence of the Colonial Government, that has brought about these disasters. The authorities entertained upon a policy of aggression without any means of upholding it. They confiscate, says the Times, native territories in the plentitude of military superiority which the presence of ten British regiments gave them, and then they dismissed the troops which had inspired them with confidence to exact such a penalty from the rebel tribes. They proposed to raise a force of 1,500 men, but in reality the number never exceeded 300. The rising will ultimately be put down, the English so greatly outnumber the natives that a final organization must speedily ensure the defeat of the Maories. But is this poor satisfaction for the disasters which have already been suffered, but which might have been avoided. The leaders of the Maories have done everything to excite a general rising, though happily without the success which was expected. They have even, says the Wellington Evening Post, forwarded to the island tribes some potted meat made of the flesh of the soldiers who fell in the recent encounter. The object of this horrible and scarcely intelligible practice is to inflame the ferocity of the interior natives. The treacherous massacre of five French soldiers in New Caledonia completes the dismal intelligence from the Pacific.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN'Y 23, 1869.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH.—On Sunday evening, the Rev. W. B. Moffatt will resume his weekly lectures on the book of Leviticus. The subject for Sunday evening will be "The Fall of Nadab and Abihu," Chap. 10.

FIRE AT ODESSA.—On Wednesday morning last the barn, shed and stables of Mr. John K. Booth, Odessa, were set on fire through the carelessness of a hired man in carrying a lighted candle while feeding the horses. The horses, cattle and sheep were rescued with great difficulty, with the exception of two cows, which it was impossible to save. The whole of the buildings were destroyed, with their contents, a large quantity of grain, hay, straw, &c., three hundred dollars worth of which belonged to Mr. Allan Montgomery, a worker of the farm on shares. Mr. Booth's loss will amount to $700, against which there is not a particle of insurance.

MISSIONARY MEETING.—The Annual Missionary Meeting of St. George's Cathedral will be held on Tuesday evening next, January 28th, at St. George's Hall. The Bishop of Ontario, and several Clergymen, will address the meeting. St. George's Church Choir, assisted by several leading singers, will be present.

THE "CANADIAN NEWS."—Such is the title of a very excellent weekly journal which has for some years been established in London and devoted to the interests of this country. The proprietor being determined to obtain for the News a wide spread circulation among that class of English society from whence emigrants for Canada are most likely to be favored, has reduced the price of the Canadian News from fourpence to two pence per number. Messrs. Dawson Brothers, of Montreal, are the agents for its sale, and orders may be sent through them, or through local news dealers.

THE LATE MR. GEORGE BAXTER.—The remains of this lamented gentleman, whose decease we have previously referred to, were yesterday conveyed to their last resting place. The funeral took place from his late residence, Catarraqui Grange, Pittsburg, and was largely attended by all classes in the city and township. The Funeral Service was read in St. Paul's Church, Queen Street, and the body was conveyed thence to the Waterloo Cemetery, where it was left to the sleep that knows no waking.

MARCH OUT.—The Royal Canadian Rifle Regiment had another march out in the bracing weather yesterday morning.

DONATION PARTY.—On New Year's Eve the Rev. Wm. Shortt, Rector of Amherst Island, was surprised by a visit from a number of his parishioners, who paid the compliments of the season in a most substantial manner. Besides furnishing an ample supper, they left a larder well supplied with beef, pork, poultry, flour, apples, etc., nor did they forget his dependents, as many well filled bags of oats, buckwheat, and a general provision of hay, gave very satisfactory testimony. As the offertory on Christmas Day amounted to over $35, we think the people of this parish are giving a pleasing evidence of their appreciation of the Church, and of him who is appointed to minister unto them in spiritual things.

POLICE COURT, Friday.—Julia Ann Mullet, charged with being a vagrant, was sent to her home at Brockville. William Proctor, a youthful vagrant, was sent to gaol for 30 days. These were the only cases.

Arsenic has been known for many years to have the power of imparting a wax-like complexion and a roundness to the features, and is said still to be used in some countries for that purpose; its employment, however, is attended with considerable danger, because of the fatal effects of its discontinuance after its use becomes a habit, and the shortening of life if continued. The plumpness and disposition to take on flesh imparted by FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP, is due solely to its strengthening influence on the Nervous system. It creates a healthy action on all the organs of the body necessary to existence, assisting nature in building up and developing to the fullest extent, the human frame, and enabling the body to performe its functions with vigor. It is safe and reliable, and its use may be discontinued at any time without prejudice to the health from any unpleasant effect.

Sold by Apothecaries. Price $1.50 per bottle, or 6 for $7.50.

PERUVIAN SYRUP.

A PROTECTED SOLUTION OF THE PROTOXIDE OF IRON supplies the blood with its LIFE ELEMENT, IRON giving strength, vigor and new life to the whole system.

If the thousands who are suffering from Dyspepsia, Debility, Female Weaknesses, &c., would but test the virtues of the Peruvian Syrup, the effect would not only astonish themselves but would please all their friends for instead of feeling cross, 'all gone' and miserable, they would be cheerful, vigorous and active.

A DISTINGUISHED JURIST WRITES TO A FRIEND AS FOLLOWS

'I have tried the Peruvian Syrup, and the result fully sustains your prediction. It has made a new man of me, infused into my system new vigor and energy; I am no longer tremulous and debilitated, as when you last saw me, but stronger, heartier, and with larger capacity for labor, mental and physical, than at any time during the last five years.'

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give its trial.

The Perfection of Prepared Cocoa.

Maravilla Cocoa.

Sole Proprietors, - - - TAYLOR BROTHERS, LONDON.

THE COCOA (or Cacao) of MARAVILLA is the true THEOBROMA OF LINNÆUS. Cocoa is indigenous to South America, of which Maravilla is a favored locality. Taylor Brothers having secured the exclusive supply of the unrivalled Cocoa, have, by the skilful application of the simple principle and elaborate machinery, produced what is so undeniably the perfection of prepared Cocoa, that it has not only secured the preference of Homœopaths and cocoa-drinkers generally, but many who had hitherto not found any preparation to suit them, have, after one trial, adopted the Maravilla Cocoa as their constant beverage for breakfast, luncheon, &c.

"A Success Unprecedented."

[See following Extract from the Globe of May 4, 1868.]

"Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success had been achieved until Messrs. Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of 'Maravilla' Cocoa. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which exceeds every other Cocoa in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a rare concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. For Homœopaths and invalids we could not recommend a more agreeable or valuable beverage."

Sold in packets only by all Grocers, of whom also may be had Taylor Brothers' Original Homœopathic Cocoa and Soluble Chocolate.

Polonius—To thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day
Thou canst not then be false to any man.
Hamlet, Act I. Scene 3

PUFFS are the known devices of quacks and cheats,

RAPACIOUS striving by unscrupulous feats
To mislead hearing, sight, and reason;

VERTISING is a science, which, if rightly used,
Is a benefit to all concerned.

SOME advertisers imagine they can cheat,

THEREFORE M. MORRISON takes the right name
No custom's sought where value's not intended.

SUCH as his scheme. Adulteration's spurned!
