SALES, MEETINGS, AMUSEMENTS, &c.

SECOND ENTERTAINMENT on behalf of the House of Industry and General Hospital this evening at 7.15.

The London Canadian News of Jany. 21st, contains the following:

"The President and Directors of the Great Western Railway Company of Canada have invited Sir George E. Cartier, Bart. (Minister of Militia and Defence), and the Hon. William M'Dougall, C. B. (Minister of Public Works), to a banquet to be given in their honour on Thursday, the 28th of January, at the St. James' Hotel, Piccadilly. It is expected that the Colonial Ministers will be present on the interesting occasion."

"We understand that the Company has sent in its answer to the recent despatch of the Imperial Government which set forth the terms upon which they (the Government) would be prepared to recommend the Dominion of Canada to take over the North-West Territories. The reply from the Company is not an absolute positive refusal to accede to the proposed terms for the surrender of their territorial rights, and therefore there is a door left open for further negotiation; but we are in a position to state that the Canadian Delegates, to whom of course the contents of the Company's letter have been communicated, will not consent to depart from the principles of settlement heretofore laid down."

It will most probably be decided to-day at Ottawa, in the Privy Council whether further respite will be granted to the prisoner Whalen.

We see by the Nor-Wester of Jan. 12th just received, that the people of Red River are longing for the termination of the abominable rule of the Hudson's Bay Company, and the inauguration of a more progressive system of Government by the Dominion of Canada. They cannot see the beauties of annexation or of Company rule. The Sioux Indians are still troublesome, but the Council of Assiniboia declines to take action to drive them out of the settlement.

☞ James Webster, Registrar of the County of Wellington, died at Guelph, on Saturday afternoon. He had been in office for a number of years.

☞ The English mails by the ss. Hibernian were delivered here yesterday.

NOVA SCOTIA.

Preparing for a Struggle.

Halifax, Jan. 6.

There was a meeting of the Repeal League last night to organize opposition to Howe's election. Another meeting will be held shortly, at which delegates from the county of Hants, will be present, when an opposing candidate will be nominated. Both parties seem equally confident of success. Bets are freely offered and taken for and against Howe. There is a great commotion in both the Union and Anti ranks.

Halifax, Feb. 8.

At the Repeal League meeting last night several Hants men who have gone through the county this week, reported Mr. Howe's defeat certain, if a good man is brought out against him.

THE EDITOR'S TABLE—No. 477.

Among the new periodicals on 'Our Table' the most important is—

THE OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE between the Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, K.C.B., and Hon. Joseph Howe. With an APPENDIX. A Blue Book. Folio, pp. 44.

The Dominion Government lost no time in laying before the country, through the medium of the Press, Copies of the Correspondence between Sir John A. Macdonald and Mr. Howe, together with copies of the Correspondence of the other parties privy to the negotiation, reconciling Nova Scotia to her place in the Dominion of Canada. The heavy Blue Book before us tells the story fully and plainly, a story that has run the rounds of the Press, British Whig included. Consequently, there is no necessity for criticism, and the book is only useful for future reference. It must have been printed while the negotiation progressed, for it was sent down to us, almost with the news of its successful termination.

PUTNAM'S MAGAZINE—Nos. 13 et 14—for January and February, 1869. G. P. Putnam & Son, New York. $4.

Some few years ago 'Putnam's' was an institution amid the periodical literature of this continent, and was greedily read and cherished. Reverses came upon the Publishers, and the Magazine ceased. Better times ensued, and a new series of 'Putnam's' appeared, but a king reigned over Egypt that knew not Joseph, and 'Our Table' was not honored with the New Series, until very recently, when two Nos of the XIII. volume gladdened us. If anything the Magazine has improved; it is well got up, and its articles have a European dash. Among other good things 'Treasure,' that could figure among the best tales of Washington Irving. A Romance by Mr. Kimball, 'To-day,' is highly graphic and full of incident, but wants reality. The conventional usages of society are the same in London, Paris and New York, and who ever heard of ladies returning the bows of gentlemen in the streets, except Mr. K. who tells us so in the first chapter of his romance? These lapses destroy reality, and make the reader believe that the writer never could have moved in good society himself. There are fourteen papers in the January No., all of which are good.

The No. for February we have not had time to read carefully, but a contemporary says:—"The February number of 'Putnam's Magazine' is an unusually interesting one; indeed it may be said that this revived monthly is rapidly regaining the pre-eminence it originally enjoyed as an American periodical. In the first paper on "The Ass in Life and Letters," Mr. H. T. Tuckerman writes very humorously and exhaustively on that despised but faithful friend of the human race; in "Work, Wages, Combinations, etc," C. C. P. Clarke discusses the old problem of labor in its relations to capital; "A New Œdipus," by Leonard Kip, is not a very fresh story of an American who was crazed by the sphinx; "In the Saddle, on the Plains," is a brisk sketch of Western life F. G. Gedney; "A Sermon at Notre Dame," by the author of "Still Life," is an extremely puzzling description of a cholera visitation in Paris; "Men's Rights," by Mrs. R. Harding Davis, is another contribution to the "Women's Right" question; and "The Gallows in America," a plea for the abolition of capital punishment by Mr. E. C. Siedman. The stories of the number are "Substance and Shadow," by Eugene Benson, "A Violin Stop," to be continued, by Mrs. E. Stoddard, and Mr. Kimball's "To-day." The poetry comprises "An Invocation" by Mr. R. H Stoddard, "Without and Within," "The Tryst," and "Love Cancels All."

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST—A Philadelphia Literary Newspaper. H. Peterson & Co. $2.50, with a beautiful Premium Engraving.

This old and favorite paper has been enlarged and beautified, and is now one of the best, as it is much the cheapest, of the first class Weeklies. Its literary contents are of the most interesting character. The historical story of "The King of the Gamblers," by Miss Mohlbach, possesses alike great interest and a sound moral. A novelet, by Miss Douglas, called 'Cut Adrift; or, The Tide of Fate,' will shortly be commenced—to be followed by other novelets from other talented authors. We advise our readers to send for a specimen number of 'The Post,' which will be furnished gratis by the publishers.

THE NEW DOMINION MONTHLY for February. John Dougall & Son, Montreal. $1.

'The New Dominion Monthly' for February has come to hand. The contents are:—The Two Gardeners; the Forest in Winter; the French Fisheries; the Child and the Reaper; the Teacher's Lesson; To a Humming Bird; Early Scenes to Canadian Life; Three Symbols of Life; the Crucible; Vox Dei; Cruise of the Galatea; The Sun's Distance; A Turkish Custom House; Music and Miscellaneous.

THE AMERICAN ARTISAN for February. Brown, Coombs & Co., New York. $2.

A second No. has reached 'Our Table,' and we think very highly of its contents.

THE CANADIAN BUILDER. No. 1. Vol. 1. T. W. Dyas & Co., London, Ont. 25 cents per annum.

This is a little Monthly sheet devoted to the same laudatle purpose as the more ambitious 'American Artisan'—but Rome was not built in a day, and who knows but that it may grow bigger and better the longer it lives.

THE INTERNATIONAL GUIDE for February. Montreal.

OUR YOUNG FOLKS for February. Fields, Osgoode & Co., Boston. $2.

THE AMERICAN STOCK JOURNAL for February. N. P. Boyer & Co., Parkesborough, Chester Co., Pa. $1.

In the February Number just received, we notice a number of articles that should be read by every Farmer, among them, 'Prevention of Diseases among Animals,' 'Castration and Spaying Hogs,' 'Treatment of Sows During Pregnancy,' 'Feeding Stock,' 'Cutting and Steaming Feed,' 'Feeding Horses,' 'Listemper in Horses, &c.,' 'Paying Farming,' 'Grain Killed Horses,' 'The Various Breeds of Cattle,' 'Different Varieties of Geese,' 'Colley or Scotch Shepherd Dog,' 'Treatment of Cows during Calving,' 'Raising Dairy Stock,' 'Swelled Legs on Horses,' 'Chester Whites, &c.'

THE CANADA LAW JOURNAL for January. W. C. Chewett & Co., Toronto. $3 cash.

STATEMENT of Geo. R. R. Cockburn, Esq., M.A., Principal of Upper Canada College. A Blue Book. 8vo., pp. 36.

This is, as might be expected, an exaggerated statement of the benefits conferred on Upper Canada College by a continuance of its endowment. Mr. Cockburn makes as good a defence as is possible with the materials before him, but truth is great and must prevail, and we trust the time is not far off when the overgrown endowment of this Boys' School, for it is neither more nor less than an ordinary Grammar School, will be properly lessened, and the residue proportioned among its fellow Schools throughout the Province.

THE PROOF SHEET—Vol. 2, No. 4—for January. Collins and McLeester, Type Founders, Philadelphia. $1.

This is one of the very best Specimen Books extant. The Types used in it are truly beautiful, nothing like them in America.

THE LONDON JOURNAL for February. 332 Strand, London. A Monthly Part. Sixpence Sterling.

THE COURT SUBURB MAGAZINE for February. F. Aiken Cortwright, Kensington, London. Sixpence.

THE EUROPEAN MAIL for Jannary 16th et 23rd. A Weekly Newspaper. 44 Cannon Street, London. $13 per annum, postage included.

Mr. John Henderson has sent us two Nos. of this excellent English newspaper, comprising a full and complete summary of Home and Foreign News. The European Mail will cost a shilling a week, but it is fully worth the money.

NEW MUSIC.

We have to acknowlege the receip of several Sheets of new Piano Forte Music, from Messrs. Oliver Ditson & Co., of Boston and New York:—

WALKING IN THE PARK. A Minstrel Song, adapted to the melody of 'Walking in the Zoo.' By Alfred Lee. 3.

A very pretty melody, and very popular in New York.

THROUGH THE JESSAMINE. Words and Music by Claribel. 3.

We can confidently recommend this charming ballad. Who Claribel may be we know not, but she writes very pretty music.

THE PASSION FLOWER WALTZ. By C. Coote, Jr. 4.

A lively Waltz four times varied—not too difficult or complicated as some modern Waltzes are.

THE TOMAHAWK GALOP. By V. L. 4.

This Galop, on the contrary, is not only pleasing, but complicated. Very good.

Orders sent to 277 Washington Street, Boston, or 711 Broadway, New York, will be promptly attended to per mail. The price in dimes U.S.C. is marked on the sheet.

NEW FLOWER SEEDS.

We have to thank Mr. James Vick, of Rochester, N. Y., for a Parcel containing Fifty Varieties of Garden Flower Seeds, many of them new to this Continent. We anticipate much pleasure from their cultivation in Canada, and shall duly record success should it be obtained.

THE LATE MR. BAXTER.—The following Resolution was unanimously passed at a meeting of the Directors of the City of Kingston Water Works Company, held on the 4th inst.:—

At this, the first meeting of the Directors, held since the decease of George Baxter, Esq., we desire to express our sincere regret for the loss that this Board and the Company have sustained by his demise. It is therefore moved by Mr. James Linton, seconded by Mr. Noel Kent, and

Resolved,—That it having pleased Almighty God to remove from amongst us, by death, one who has been an esteemed and energetic member of the Board since the commencement of the Company, and its Vice-President for many years; we hereby record our high sense of his moral worth and integrity of purpose to advance the interests of the Company; and we heartily sympathize with his family in their great and sudden bereavement; and that a copy of this Resolution, signed by the President and Manager, be sent to them.

A prize of two dollars was recently offered to any member of the Connecticut Teacher's Institute who would write and spell correctly the words in the following sentences: "It is an agreeable sight to witness the unparalleled embarrassment of a harrassed pedler attempting to guage the symmetry of a peeled onion, which a sibyl has stabbed with a poinard, regardless of the imendoes of the ishes of cornelian hue." Thirty-eight teachers competed for the prize, but not one was successful.

 Very possible; nevertheless, if thirty-eight ordinary types had been asked to spell the sentence, not more than one would have failed.

OTTAWA.

Financial Statement—Sir John Young.

Ottawa, Feb. 6.

The following is the statement of the revenue and expenditure of the Dominion for the month ended 31st January, 1869, as published by the auditor:

The Governor General returned from Montreal this afternoon. Messrs. Rose, Campbell, Bryd̲ges and Fleming have also arrived. Further arrivals of Railway men have also taken place.

An officer's guard of 30 men was placed on the outside of the Ottawa gaol tonight, and a sergeant's guard of 15 men in the inside.

It is rumoured here but not credited that the Hon. Mr. Blanchard is to be appointed Railway Commissioner for Nova Scotia.

QUEBEC.

AVALANCHE—TELEGRAPH LINE.

Quebec, Feb. 6.

During the recent great snow storm an immense avalanche loosened from a cliff at Hadlow, South Quebec, and buried eight houses. Fortunately no one was injured. Two children were rescued with difficulty.

Ten Quebec gentlemen have subscribed $10,000 each, for the construction of a telegraph line from Quebec to Ottawa, to go into operation early next summer, to be designated the "People's Telegraph Company."

The Chronicle lacerates the Government terribly for consenting to an adjournment.

A drunken man was killed to-day by falling down stairs and breaking his neck.

Death Bed Confession.

A singular story is related by the Dundas News respecting a death-bed confession said to have been made by a young man, formerly a resident of that town. It will be recollected that, some seven years ago, a clergyman named McLean was found near his own house, in the village of Morriston, Puslinch, in a state bordering on death from an injury received from some party unknown. When found he was unconscious, and never rallied; but died, carrying the secret of his murderer to the grave. Much excitement prevailed at the time, but this was soon allayed, and the matter remained enshrouded in impenetrable mystery until a very recent date. The guilty party (as the sequel partly shows) shortly after left the scene of his crime and emigrated to the United States, where he led a sort of nomadic life, roaming here and there, endeavoring to blunt his feelings to the weight upon his mind by changing his abode, and finally seeking to drown the evil spectre by draughts in the cup that not only cheers but inebriates. For a time he worked at his trade (harness maker,) then we find him in a concert saloon singing and playing the banjo; another step brings him as a hanger-on or habitue of dance houses and saloons of an unenviable character; then as a teamster for a circus company, seeking in every way to dispel the gloom which continually haunted his racking brain. Eventually he was stricken down by disease and the hand of death laid upon his wretched body. In his last moments he revealed to the priest who attended him that he and he alone was the murderer of the unfortunate Rev. Mr. McLean. It appears that upon the fatal night he had been engaged in a religious discussion with the deceased minister, and as is frequently the case in such controversies, high words engendered ill-feeling and subsequently blows, which ended in the clergyman being thrown down stairs and receiving such injuries in the fall as to cause his death. This unlooked-for confession was forwarded to parties in Moriston by the kind pastor, and thus became public. Out of respect for the family of the young man, who has thrown them into such a world sorrow by his confession, his name is withheld, but the facts are substantially as stated.

NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLOSION.—Further accounts of the late nitro-glycerine explosion at Troy, New York, confirm the opinion, which is getting pretty generally entertained, of the great danger attending the use of this powerful explosive. The accident happened from nothing more than the gentle tapping with a hammer of the small cartridge containing the substance. This exploding, the concussion led to the explosion of the larger can of nitro-glycerine, which was near by. The effect was perfectly frightful. The man who held the cartridge was blown into a hundred pieces; two others were mangled so horribly that their remains were with difficulty identified; and seven others were seriously injured.

New York.

New York, Feb. 8.

The proposed annexation of St. Domingo is said in Washington to be a big job, as most of the territory has become the property, by grants and purchase, of parties in this country.

The World says the President has issued an order directing that the remains of Mrs. Suratt be delivered to her family.

Canada.

The total exports from Montreal were $16,898,554 in 1868, against $15,641,745 in the 1867.

Generals Early and Breckenridge left Toronto on Thursday for their homes in the South.

Large numbers of young men are leaving this country for Kansas.

Mr. Page, the Government Engineer, has reported on the St. Louis Hydraulic Company's bill unfavorably.

The two soldiers who obtained a horse and cutter from the livery stable at Ottawa the other day with a forged note and deserted, await examination at Ogdensburgh for forgery.

The York County Council has decided to grant the land of the old gaol site to the Toronto and Nippissing Railway, at a nominal rent, for thirty-two years.

Petitions are said to be in circulation in Montreal and Quebec, praying the Governor General to reprieve Whalen. We should like to see the names.

The defalcations of Mr. Camp, late town clerk and treasurer of St. Catharines, who recently skeddadled to California, turns out to be $17,000. Not so bad for such a saintly town.

Crossing on the ice from Prescott to Ogdensburg is rather dangerous, several horses and sleighs being lost. The family of Mr. J. P. Wiser, of Prescott, recently had a very narrow escape, the sleigh having broken through the ice.

At St. Patrick's Society's readings at Ottawa last night, when the National Anthem was sung, an attempt was made to stop the music by hissing and other disordanly noises. Many respectable citizens who were present denounced the insult and refused to remain.

Rumors have been prevalent in Griffintown, Montreal, that Whalen was about to confess, and that the disclosures implicated not a few of our Montrealers, some of whom are contemplating a visit to the United States. There is, however no news from Ottawa to justify these rumors.—Montreal Star.

Since the falling in of the roof at Montreal of St. Patrick's Hall, the authorities have instituted an examination of many large buildings, erected within the last few years, and that several apparently handsome and substantial structures will be condemned as unsafe to be occupied until certain alterations are made of a substantial and strengthening nature.

The eldest son of Mr. W. C. Little, M. P. for South Simcoe, a lad of about fourteen, met with an accident a few weeks ago which resulted in his death. When sliding down the hill near his fathers residence, the small sleigh he was on struck a stump, against which he was also thrown with violence, and sustained an internal injury which proved fatal.

We have in the Barrie Advance an account of a strange occurrence recently at Orillia. Lance Corporal Bailey appeared at drill without the stripe on his arm, which the Captain noticed with a reprimand, but did not stop there, for he sent Bailey home in charge of a Sergeant to have the stripe sewed on his tunic. On their return the Corporal was ordered to fall in, and then being called to the front, at the desire of the Captain the Bugler cut off the stripe. The affair has naturally caused a sensation in the quiet little town, and may have the effect of creating a very bad feeling among the Volunteers

Two prisoners made their escape from Woodstock gaol, a few days since, under somewhat extraordinary circumstances. The prisoners, Dace and Clark, made a key from a piece of wood, with which Clark managed to turn back the bolt of Dace's cell. Dace then, the turnkey being asleep, in the same way opened Clark's cell. They then passed to the turnkeys ward, and taking the pistols and keys from under his pillow, threatening his life, they shut him up, and left, making good their escape, and have not been heard of since. This is without question one of the cleverest escapes from prison that we have heard of, and shows how utterly helpless a jailer may be rendered. It is quite clear that in this instance the Woodstock jailor could only submit unless he was ready to sacrifice his life by resistance.

A NEW CASE FOR A WRIT OF HABEAS-CORPUS.—We have heard it stated that a gentleman from one of the neighboring parishes has lately came to Montreal to consult members of the bar upon the means of removing from a convent two young orphan girls, who had been confided to the nuns on their parent's death. The case is stated thus: The bereaved family consisted of six girls. The neighbors took the four eldest ones in their families, and the two youngest ones were received into the convent. They are said to possess most beautiful voices, and to sing admirably; consequently, they have created some interest in the parish. However, wherever they met their sisters, they complained of the treatment they received and particularly of the want of sufficient food; and their emaciated appearance confirmed their story. Some persons resolved to offer them homes, and applied to the tutor to have them withdrawn from the nunnery. He notified the ladies of the convent, who said they could do nothing without the consent of the cure. The tutor insisted upon taking the girls, and went to the convent, when he was told that the little girls had no clothes of their own, and would have to go away naked. This incensed the tutor, who at that time met the parish priest in one of the passages. An altercation took place, intermixed, it is said, with blows; and, consequently, the tutor, a respectable habitant, was expelled from the convent without being able to accomplish the object of his errand. The legal steps taken to obtain the orphans will, if the ladies of the convent resist, elucidate how far the stated facts are true.—Montreal Witness.

BREAKFAST.—A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.—The Civil Service Gazette has the following:—"There are very few simple articles of food which can boast of so many valuable and important dietary properties as cocoa. While acting on the nerves as a gentle stimulant, it provides the body with some of the purest elements of nutrition, and at the same time corrects and invigorates the action of the digestive organs. These beneficial effects depend in a great measure upon the manner of its preparation, but of late years close attention has been given to the growth and treatment of cocoa, that there is no difficulty in securing it with every useful quality fully developed. The singular success which Mr Epps attained by his homœopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalists. Far and wide the reputation of Epp's Cocoa has spread by the simple force of its own extraordinary merits. Medical men of all shades of opinion have agreed in recommending it as the safest and most beneficial article of diet for persons of weak constitutions. This superiority of a particular mode of preparation over all others is a remarkable proof of the great results to be obtained from little causes. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtile Maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame. 11naw23.

A PROOF OF THE BENEFIT.—A student of a State college had a barrel of ale deposited in his room—contrary, of course, to the rule and usage. He received a summons to appear before the President, who said: "Sir, I am informed that you have a barrel of ale in your room." "Yes, sir," "Well what explanation can you make?" "Why, the fact is, sir, my physician advises me to try a little each day as a tonic, and not wishing to stop at the various places where the beverage is retailed, I decided on having a barrel taken to my room." "Indeed! And have you derived any benefit from the use of it?" "Ah, yes, sir. When the barrel was first taken to my room I could scarcely lift it; now I can carry it with the greatest ease."

SORE THROAT.—Gargle the throat with a mixture of Davis' Pain Killer and water and the relief is immediate and cure positive.

For a cough, a few drops on sugar, eaten, will be more effective than any thing else.

For diarrhœa and dysentery, take a teaspoonful of Pain Killer, well mixed in a gill of milk and water, and sweetened with sugar. It will never fail if taken in time. 32

SAVE YOUR WOOD AND COAL
AND SECURE
Good Health for Your Families!
BY USING
BARNES' PATENT
Draught Regulator & Ventilator.

NO Noxious Vapors or Foul Air can exist where any of those are in use, either in the Kitchen, Parlor, Bed-room, or Office.

It also prevents the accumulation of Soot, rendering it impossible for the pipes to take fire, or leak, which is a consideration where there are carpets.

It is guaranteed to save One-third your Wood or Coal by concentrating the heat in the Stove (instead of allowing it to escape up the chimney). It will cook, and heat irons, &c., in one-half the usual time.

By putting an extra stick of wood in the Stove at night, in the morning you will find live coals, thus rendering it unnecessary to re-light your fire, and saving the expense of kindling wood.

Certificates of several thousand persons could be procured in Toronto testifying to the above.
