"In conclusion," said the orator, "we must stand shoulder to shoulder, put forth every effort, call up all our energies and enthusiasm, let nothing dampen and discourage us, feel that we will sacrifice our very lives, if necessary, to—to—to—"

COUNTY NEWS.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

A Budget of News and Gossip.—Personal Intelligence.—A Little of Everything, well Mixed up.

TEMPERANCE LAKE.

Monday, March 31.—We think we shall have to resort to the old system of using padlocks again, for some of our friends on entering the school-room the other morning, were astonished to find things in a very disorderly state. We wish such callers would please sign their signatures to their writings.

Mr. J. Ronan is now recovering from the hurt which he received from his fall.

ELBE MILLS.

Mr. Leith expects to be all moved away this week.

Our post office has not yet been transferred to the new appoin'ment.

The farmers in this vicinity are busy hauling logs and wood.

M. Brown and E. Haskins loaded a car with lumber here last week, for Brockville.

Our ex-miller recently invested $30 in a cow and for a few days was loud in praise of his purchase, but some one who had formerly known the bovine informed him that she would jump a ten rail fence, and then the Methodists came in for a scarifying.

For sake of the peace and quiet of our neighborhood, Mr. Editor never let it be known who sent you last week's news from this place, for our Englishman's Irishwoman is wrathy and there would be war and some person killed if she knew who your scribe is here. Our cheesemaker was accused of being the guilty one and narrowly escaped losing what little cranium adornment he has.

ADDISON.

Saturday, March 29.—Mayor Wescome passed through our village on Thursday last en route to see his friends at Saginaw. He reports times very dull out north where he has been living for the past season. He thinks he will return to his old house and manage the affairs of his estate himself, as they have become very much mixed during his absence.

Mrs. A. Davis, of Brockville, is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. C. Lewis.

Miss Adda Wiltse, of Athens, is visiting her many friends here.

Mr. Geo. Hooper has severed his connection with Maple Grove Cottage, and has decided to try his luck with Uncle Sam.

Mr. John Stinson and lady, of Brockville, have been spending a few days with their friends in this section.

A severe snow storm has been raging here since yesterday morning, with no signs of abating.

Mr. Wm. Quinn, our village blacksmith, has moved to Rockspring where he hopes to establish himself in business. He has the best wishes of his many friends here that he may be successful.

Mr. John Jeakings has arrived safely from the Old country, where he has been on a visit to friends. He reports times very good in that country just now.

LYN.

Monday, March 31.—The sleighing on Saturday was a great boon to the Eyre Mfg. Co., as over 100 logs were delivered at their mill on that day. They have started their engines and found everything in good working order. Will commence sawing in a few days.

A terrible accident occurred early on Sunday morning at the G. T. R. here. Willie Clow, son of Henry A. Clow, who works in some factory at Gananoque, came down on a freight train and in jumping off was thrown under the wheels and had one of his arms crushed at the shoulder. A friend who was with him gave the alarm and he was removed to the home of Mr. Wm. Stafford where he died in about an hour. He leaves a wife and child.

Charles H. McNish, of Elm Grove, has accepted a position as manager of the splendid stock farm of a Mr. Davis, of Toronto. This farm is situated near Markham and is said to be as well equipped with modern conveniences as the Model at Guelph. He left here last Tuesday to enter on his duties.

Whisky has held high carnival here for the past few weeks, as if Satan was bent on get all the work in possible before the proposed amendment to the license act becomes law, as it will then be very difficult for any man, be his moral character ever so good, to get a license here.

DELTA.

Monday, March 31.—La Grippe has returned to visit those whom he passed by in his former sojourn. Those afflicted now are, Mrs. A. Wiltse, Mrs. P. Bush, Mrs. A. Hicock and D. Pratt.

The slight fall of snow was very favorable for numerous parties in our vicinity. I, your correspondent, was enabled to draw my last load of logs to the saw-mill, on a sled.

Rev. Mr. Rilance is continuing in the Methodist Church, the late revival.

The Methodists gave a tea-meeting and sugar social in the church on Friday evening last. We need make no comments in regard to what was placed before us in the basement, because, the ladies of Delta are noted for their skill in preparing for such an occasion. After tea we were told that an extensive programme had been prepared and we accordingly went into the upper part of the church where we listened to readings, recitations, music by the choir and instrumental solos. Prof. Lewis of Addison was present and added much to the general enjoyment by his choice instrumental selections. The proceeds were about sixty dollars. We might just remark that some who attended on Friday night, did eat a little too much sugar.

NEWBORO.

Monday, March 31.—Herb Layng returned from Manitoba last week after negotiating for the sale of 1,670 gallons of maple syrup.

After a well deserved vacation, Mr. Oatis returned from Brockville, where he spent a very pleasant week with friends. He looks quite refreshed and says he will now be prepared to hold his own with the boys.

I am very much pleased to see our Dr. making his mark by vigorously threshing out the reasons for the extravagant cost and quantity of school books now in use in the province. He is the right man in the right place. I take great delight in seeing a man speak from experience and where the shoe pinches. The exorbitant cost, say nothing of the quantity of books necessary for school purposes, is no doubt a very great hardship to him and his fellow heads of large families who have children to educate.

The lady passenger on the Saturday train from Brockville would like to know if it was absentmindedness on the part of the young gentleman, or did he want to act the gallant, by passing his own station and getting off with her at the crossing. Neither should think seriously over the matter, as doubtless it was nothing more than the ordinary and perfectly "legal" railway flirtation peculiar to young people out for a good time.

A very disgraceful sight occurred on the road a mile from here on Thursday evening. An old woman from near Westport was found in the gutter in a helpless state of intoxication, clothes all mud and nose badly peeled. She was loaded into a passing farmer's wagon and taken to a neighboring house where she was cared for, otherwise she might have frozen before morning.

We are having considerable difficulty in finding out the difference between a lawful drygoodsman and the spurious article. One man has imortalized his name in detective annals by proving beyond a doubt that the "Kingston cheap store" sells goods. On the strength of this shrewd piece of Pinkerton strategy, they were fined $50 and costs by Squire Shaver which amount was promptly paid under protest. Whether this will prove another Corporation-Blake catastrophe time and a higher court will decide.

Young business men having lady friends up street should, on leaving their office for the evening, leave a note with particulars of their whereabouts, the necessary proceedings requisite for securing an interview, and thus save their "paws" looking for them till midnight and annoying everyone met with their enquiries. I have advised some of the youths of this place before now; they, however, managed to brook restraint by saying "That's all right, I wont be caught." In my experience, such dare-devil advances are sure to bring the young Lothario to his knees and prove him to be a very easy victim of sunny smiles, which are always on the alert and are said to be more fatal by moonlight than at any other time.

And in those days there cometh into the city a young tiller of the soil, yea even a farmer, with a coat of many colors called a Saginaw smock, and he saith unto the boys, "let us take something for our stomach's sake which will make us rejoice, for behold to-morrow we must draw wood." And he filled himself up with the spirit of unrighteousness, then driveth his horse and chariot down the sidewalk into the very door of the tent of Levi, who being a peaceable and goodly man, not a man that loveth much display in his dooryard. When he lifteth up his eyes and beheld this great uproar, he vexed for such actions were an abomination unto him, whereupon he sent his servant Ezra for the police to deliver them unto the magistrate, and the magistrate unto the prison. And the boys winked the wink of the ungodly, saying one to another, "the mosshock will be captured, for verily a messenger hath been sent unto the chief." As the multitude stood there melting misery for a time, awaiting the magnets of the law, their conscience began to trouble them and several of the old corner men took counsel together, saying one unto another, "peradventure, we may be standing on dangerous ground. We may be shackled for our offence, for verily the force hath had an evil eye upon us for some time." Whereupon the multitude, together with the man filled with the spirit, betook themselves away to the land which lieth to the West, breaking neck-yokes and hitching posts in their haste. After all these things had come to pass, the force arrived and found everything lovely even unto the tick of the clock which could be distinctly heard.

REAR YONGE AND ESCOTT COUNCIL.

The Rear Yonge and Escott Council met at the town hall on March 29. Members all present, Reeve Saunders in the chair.

Petition of David Hall and others asking that Nicholas Ronan be changed from S. Section No. 3 to No. 14, was not granted.

Auditors' report received and adopted.

Petition of John Dockrill that a part of lot No. 10 in the 6th con. be annexed to S. S. No. 14, was granted.

Messrs. Scovil and Wight were appointed to confer with Eber Wiltse regarding widening the side road between lots 13 and 14 in the 10th con.

Report of the committee respecting the settlement of business in connection with the separation of the village from the township was confirmed. By this agreement the township acquires the town hall by paying $300, and assuming ⅓ of debenture debt and maintenance of the high school.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—Irwin Wiltse, ltae treasurer, $5.00; B. Loverin, for printing and salary as clerk $25.52; J. P. Lamb and Albert Morris, auditors, each $5.00; for charity, Wm. Williams, $10.00; Wm. Henderson, $5.00; Mrs. B. Livingston, for support of Mrs. Wiltse, $13.00.

Council adjourned until May 26, at 9 o'clock, then to meet as a Court of Revision.

R. E. Cornell, Clerk.

A suit has been brought in a New York court which throws a strong light on the Louisiana state lottery swindle. The evidence in this case goes to show that one of a number connected with this institution, which thrives on the offerings of a generation of fools, has, within ten years, cleared $15,000,000. This little fact indicates more clearly than anything else possibly can do how little chance there is of securing a return for the money invested in a lottery ticket. It would be difficult to estimate how much of the money, which has gone for the purchase of race tracks and blood horses by lottery managers, was taken from the hard earnings of Canadian clerks and mechanics.

Spring Assizes.

The spring assizes opened at Brockville on Tuesday, Chief Justice Armour presiding. To many the case of chief interest was that of Miss Mattie Brownbridge, of North Augusta, against W. J. Lawrence, of the vicinity of Spencerville, for breach of promise. The large audience was rather disappointed in the case, as the proceedings were not nearly so spicy as such cases usually are. The evidence showed that after a brief courtship Lawrence had proposed and was accepted. The wedding day was fixed, and Miss Brownbridge's preparations for the event were well under way, when she received from Lawrence the following note:—

North Augusta, May 14th, '89.
Miss Mattie Brownbridge:
As I came home I considered the matter over. I thought it better to quit keeping company with you as every time I went to see you I found you was sick and I think you are not a fit woman for me, and I am not coming to see you any more; and you have babbled it all over that we were going to be married, and I think you were a little too fast. So good-bye and forever. God be with you.
W. J. Lawrence.

The case was given to the jury and after a brief consultation they awarded Miss Brownbridge $250 and the costs of the court.

Destitute Dakota.

The Governor of South Dakota accompanied a deputation from that State which visited St. Paul for the purpose of securing aid for the destitute farmers of the State. The deputation met the St. Paul joint relief committee, and among its speakers was Judge Holdridge, of Miner county, who said:

"Those who represented there was abundance in his section of the country were certainly egregiously mistaken. He had lived in Miner county nine years and knew every man in it, and spoke with perfect knowledge of the situation. The county commissioners had devoted nearly all of their time gratuitously to this matter. Statistics showed that last year wheat raised in that country averaged only one bushel to the acre, corn one bushel, and flax one bushel. There were practically no oats at all, and potatoes averaged only ten bushels. Grass, which was depended on for fuel by many, was almost a total failure also. The people are poor. * * * It was owing to the contribution from the outside that the people lived through the winter, and in the teeth of all statements to the contrary he declared if it had not been for the generosity of the outside people and the railroads, and if they had an ordinary cold winter, hundreds would have perished by hunger and cold. Not one farmer out of five has seed, and they dont know where to get it."

The ferry steamer Armstrong has been brought to the dock and the mystery of its sudden disappearance beneath the waves of the St. Lawrence will soon be explained.
