ADDISON.

Saturday, June 13.—The smiling countenance of Mr. John O'Connor is again seen on our streets, he having secured a contract on the Victoria road.

Again death has entered our midst and taken away one of our oldest residents in the person of Mrs. Thornhill, relic of the late William Thornhill. Diseased was an invalid for same time but bore her sickness with christian patience longing to be relieved from this world of sorrow and to be with Christ which is far better. She leaves a large family of grown up sons and daughters.

Mr. Frank Hayes of Reynard Valley who has been very sick for some time is slowly recovering.

LYN.

Monday, June 15.—The sale of the G. T. C. Eyer estate under chattel mortgage came off to-day in the presence of a number of men who had worked for months without pay and quite an audience of farmers who had worked hard last winter getting out logs and bolts for which they have not yet been paid. The comments of some on the injustice of a law that would allow such a transaction to hold good was not very complimentary to our law makers. The plant and stock in trade brought between $3,000 and $4,000.

Early one morning last week a young man from Athens, backed by a few of his friends, came out to Lyn and carried of our best girls.

QUABIN

Monday, June 15.—Early last week Tom Donava met with rather a serious accident. Whilst drawing milk to the Tilley factory his horses took fright, throwing him to the ground, the result being a serious inwardly bruising. Dr. Lane was called in and gave him his usual skillful attention, and he is now on the rapid road to recovery.

Our county constable, Mr. T. Weston, has moved back to his old stand. He was on duty here last week looking after a crooked horse transaction.

Mr. T. Gavin's twelve year old boy Lawrence, got kicked by a vicious horse last Tuesday. The unfortunate little fellow remained unconcious for several hours but under Dr. Lane's care he is getting around nicely.

The deadly barbed wire fence has been again getting in its cruel work in this neighborhood. Last week, Pat Cosgrove's blooded colt got badly cut on its front leg, but with care may come out alright.

We are plessed to see Bob Leader running his meat wagon again. This is a great convenience to the public and we hope to see him well patronized accordingly.

It seems hard for a good looking young Romeo who has a nice house and farm to remain single, particularly when we have such a number of charming young lasses in our neighborhood. Why not some of these useful charmers use their puresuasive eloquence? We hope they will take this tip, and Charlie will also receive this as a good-natured point. Besides it would save him that one mile trip to his dad's which is really labor lost.

A young sprig of a boy from Ballycanoe (but who assumes the airs of a man) has had the audacity and cheek to pay his addresses here to a young girl of the tender age of thirteen. A few evening ago he made his appearance and was received by her pa with open arms, and a big hickory stick, and a bulldog in the rear. We may state that the young kid flew over the garden wall, jumped into his buggy, and started away at a Maud S. pace. We presume he would give this neighborhood a wide berth in the future. It will be wise for him to do so.

We are pleased to see that our school teacher Miss L. Thompson is having good success in her school, and the attendance is above the average.

Mrs. Charles Monroe of Athens accompanied by her little son was on a visit here last week to her father Mr. A. H. McDonald.

We are pleased to say that Miss Agnes Ruttle who recently underwent a very delicate operation in the Brockville hospital, is now at home and seems to be perfectly convalescent.

Martin Kavanagh our road master in this division has been doing some good work in gravelling the roads. Anyhow Martin is a hustler of the first water.

One of our farmers and a widower of about forty is looking for a mate. Will not some of your "not on the shelf" maidens come to his assistance. It is too bad but it seems difficult for him to keep a hired girl, and of course by again joining the benedicts this part of the business could be dispensed with.

The bear is again on his rounds, and instead of shouldering his own despicable acts is trying to place the blame on another. This has reference to an apology of a being whom I will designate "Timid," who presumes to call himself the Andresburg correspondent of the Brockville Recorder. This man has mistaken his occupation as I should hire himself to some respectable farmer to act as a scarecrow, and supposed to be stuck.

FORFAR.

Monday, June 12.—Miss Morris is having good success in school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart of Montreal, are visiting at Mr. Smith's.

The Foresters attended the Methodist church in a body on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Stewart preached a very appropriate sermon.

Mr. M. Halladay of Athens, is buying wool around here at present.

Herbie Jacqueth is gaining in health

Merchants and tradesmen report business very dull at present.

Mr. Morris and his assistant are making a good quality of cheese.

WESTPORT.

Saturday, June 13.—The hurried clanging of the church bells, the shrill screams of the locomotive and the excited yells of fire! fire! at two o'clock Friday morning June 12th awakened the residents of our busy burg to the fact that the fire fiend had at last made a break in the history of our village and that the latest addition to the business of the town, the building of the Westport Stove Foundry, was in flames. Soon willing hands were busily engaged in fighting the hungry monster but in vain, and in a short space of time the structure was a mass of smoking ruins, while the fire had already commenced havoc with the tinshop of Mr. John McGuire which soon too fell a prey to the flames. By strenuous efforts and untiring willingness the residence of Mr. McGuire was saved and the progress of the flames checked. The origin of the fire is unknown, but circumstances point strongly to incendiarism. No fire had been used in the part of the building where the fire commenced, for two days previous thus giving no possible chance of fire from that quarter and the fact that some articles of Mr. McKee's had during the night of the fire been stolen from the office clearly indicate that some one had at least been through the premises. The loss of the Stove Co., borders closely on $6000 with an insurance of $1500 but beyond this all is a total loss as not even a hammer was saved. Mr. McGuire's loss is estimated at $1500 with $500, insurance and the saving of some of the stock. Now while the generous are kindly aiding Mr. McGuire in the matter would it not be well for the council or the business men of the town to offer a bonus to the company to rebuild their works and thus aid an industry which will beyond doubt prove a benefit as well as an addition to our town business.

One thing that Grit and Tory are like minded in at present is that a few good showers of rain would prove a greater blessing than either National Policy or Free Trade.

The revival services conducted by Misses Giles and Knowlton at Salem were closed on Friday evening. The evangelists take with them the well wishes of the good people of Salem who have been greatly aided spiritually by the efforts of the ladies.

A number of the residents of Westport attended the funeral of Canada's late Premier at Kingston on Thursday

The remains of a gentleman named Healey, who was killed by lightening on Thursday were brought to Westport for burial to-day,

Messrs. Jas. McGuire and George Gorrel, students of Athens high school arrived home on Friday evening. They report great progress in educational matters and the teaching of the modern Athenians and are almost confident of success at the coming examinations in July.

A distinguished judge once addressed the prisoner as follows: "Prisoner at the bar, your counsel thinks you innocent: the counsel for the prosecution thinks you innocent I think you innocent. But a jury of your own countrymen, in the exercise of such common sense as they possess, which does not seem to be much, have found you guilty, and it remains that I should pass upon you the sentence of the law. That sentence is that you be kept in imprisonment for one day, and, as that day was yesterday, you may go about your business."

An adventure was related over a soldiers' camp fire at San Carlos, Tex., that is worth preserving. The captain said that he had been fishing in one of the smaller canons near Fort Apache shortly before, and hooked an immense trout. He played him up and down stream, became intensely excited, and was just about to land him when he heard a fierce growl and, looking up, perceived a tremendous bear on the opposite side of the narrow creek. The captain was not anxious to lose his life, and the bear was making for him. Neither did he care to lose his fish. So he quickly transferred the fish pole to his left hand, drew his revolver with his right killed the bear and then landed the trout. There was a lull at the end of the story. The hearers waited to hear what the general would say. He asked, What did you do with the bear, captain? Gave him to some Indians, was the reply. And the fish? continued the General. He was such a fine one that I put him back in the creek. I don't believe in spoiling the sport of future generations. There was another lull. Presently the general asked: "Do you call that a 'bear story' or a 'fish story,' captain?" The captain replied: "I don't call it either." Then again came the general to the charge: couldn't you fix that story up so that you could be killing a rattlesnake with one of your feet at the same time? The captain rose and walked away.

MAGGIE BELLAMY, Teacher

Newspapers and their Friends.

A newspaper, if it has any brains, conscience and muscle back of it, must continually decide between doing its duty and injuring its pocket. In any position but that of an editor the public is able to separate the individual homie from the collective citizen. But if the editor does not please them, it's his pocket they aim at. Thus it is that newspapers learn who their friends are. The man who reads a newspaper and admires it all the year around, yet gives his business support to some other concern, whose principles he destests, is not a friend of the former paper.

Admiration alone will not run a newspaper. Sooner or later such admirers will find that the object of their affections has become wedded to other ways that they do not admire—in other words, a newspaper is compelled, in order to live, to seek the friendship of those who are not so platonic in their love, but unite that practical esteem with sentiment that binds mutual admiration in other professions. There are too many men who expect an editor to slave in defence of their pet notions and hobbies, advocate their views against the strongest opposition and cooly withhold the business support by which alone a small newspaper can live.

Talk about a newspaper having a public duty to perform, and an editor having to labor for his principles, is cheap when others stand back and, while extending a lukewarm neutrality with one hand, are filling their pockets with the other hand as a result of the editor's labor for his principles, which they admire but do not support.

Village Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the municipal council was held on Wednesday last 10th inst. The reeve, clerk, and councillors Berney and Greene, present.

Minutes of regular meeting read and adopted.

Leave was granted to introduce a by-law to appoint a pound keeper for the village of Athens, which passed through its several readings and was finally passed. The provisions of the by-law being that H. C. Phillips was appointed pound keeper for the year 1891 to act under the provisions of by-law No 286, passed by the municipal council of old township of Rear Yonge and Escott, which said by-law is to remain in force in the village of Athens until repealed. NOTE.—A copy of this by-law is hung up in the clerk's office for the inspection of the public.

Mr. Berney moved, seconded by Mr. Greene, that this council is of the opinion that the practice of ball playing on the streets of this village is a public nuisance and that the clerk be instructed to print 25 copies of a notice warning all persons that grazing or allowing horses, cattle &c, to run at large. Racing or furious driving, rowdy conduct, swearing, being drunk or disorderly, and disorderly conduct so or in any public meeting are strictly prohibited within the corporate limits and that all officers of the law are instructed to see that the law in respect thereto is enforced.

The council then adjourned until the next regular meeting unless sooner called by the reeve.

B. LOVERIN, Village Clerk.

Brockville Cheese Board

SPECIAL TO REPORTER.

Ashwood Hall, June 11th.—To all parties connected with the Board of Trade, with the possible exception perhaps of the few opposed to the auction system, the meeting was one of the most satisfactory held for years. It was pleasing to the salesmen who were out in force, pleasing to the "small fry" gentlemen, (the card by which some of the buyers who favor the open bid for the goods have come to be known), pleasing to the officers, and also the newspaper men who rejoice to record business done in a business way.

After business was opened by the President, Mr. Webster again brought up the question of sales made off the board. M. K. Evertts took objections to Mr. Webster's insinuations respecting such sales. Mr. Webster in reply said if necessary he could name the men who had thus transgressed, he could also name the buyers and the confidential price paid by them.

Mr. Lang of Ogdensburgh moved, Mr. H. Bissell seconded, that no cheese under special offer or sold be registered on the board without conditions of offer on sale being also registered. The motion was carried strong.

The offerings totelled 6,218 boxes, 3,193 colored, balance white. Bidding was sharp. The small fry boys had fairly good orders to fill. Nearly all was sold at from 8 1/16c, to 8 1/8c, ruling price 8 13-16. Colored goods got the preference for first time this season. Liverpool cable remains at 48 shillings for white and colored.

The export statistics thus far this season show a shortage of 10,225 boxes Total shipment to date 84,784 boxes against 94,009 same period last year.
