A disastrous collision! Prices knocked to pieces by dynamite! Values of Ready-Made Clothing pulverized by a cyclone! Gents' Furnishings at conflagration rates.

I am determined to reduce my stock of Overcoats if prices will do it and it's the low prices that I am holding out as an inducement to the public. I have too many goods, no room for them.

It snows and it blows and the cold stormy weather will no doubt set every intending purchaser seriously thinking of how and where he can buy his winter clothing and buy them of good quality as well as cheap. I wonder what J. J. PHILLIPS has for you at the present time. Here it is first-class goods, best of make, just as good a fit as any tailor-make guaranteed, at prices lower than the lowest, and last, but not least, courteous treatment and always a good fair deal to every one just as advertised.

LOCAL SUMMARY.

ATHENS AND NEIGHBORING LOCALITIES BRIEFLY WRITTEN UP.

Events as Seen by Our Knight of the Pencil.—Local Announcements Boiled Right Down.

25 lbs. sugar for $1 at Phil. Wiltse & Co.'s.

We have received a second letter from Dr. Hall (which will appear next week) detailing his first experiences in Seoul, Corea.

Coal Oil 18c. per gal. at Phil. Wiltse & Co.'s.

An Arnprior hotel keeper was fined last week $20 and $7 costs for furnishing liquor to a man who drinks to excess, after he had been notified not to do so by the man's family.

Wanted—an active pushing agent for the Reporter in every school section, to whom a liberal commission will be paid. Any person sending us $4 for 4 new subscribers will be given a free copy for one year for their trouble.

A car load of boots and shoes to arrive this week at Phil. Wiltse & Co.

Mrs. Ida M. Kna[illegible] stanograph teacher, ha[illegible] college on the other side o[illegible]er, leaving a large class of pupils here to complete their lessons by mail. Some of her pupils are already filling situations and others teaching, which speaks well for her ability.

A few overcoats still on hand, which we would like to exchange for green maple wood.—Phil. Wiltse & Co.

Mrs. Eva Conway, daughter of Crafton Niblock of this village died at her father's residence yesterday morning. She had been suffering for over two years, with that dread disease consumption. Her husband and relatives have the sincere sympathy of the community in this their hour of affliction.

A Chamber Set worth $16 will be given to the person guessing the nearest to the number of seeds in a squash now on exhibition at T store. Every purchase of one pound of T or coffee entitles the purchaser to one guess. —T. W. DENNIS, Brockville.

Messrs. Williams & McLaughlin, have decided to have a clearing sale by auction, of their surplus stock before stocktaking, and have rented the middle store of the Dowsley block, and will have an auction at 2 and 7 p.m each day, commencing on Tuesday 26th inst., to continue until the whole stock is disposed of. See dodgers for full particulars.

Mr. Edgar Richardson of Thornhill, near Toronto, has been secured as teacher of commercial subjects and drill by the Athens high school board. He takes the place vacated at the Christmas holidays by R. Young, assistant teacher. Mr. Richardson has had seven years experience in teaching and comes highly recommended by the Educational department, Toronto.

For sale in Athens, a desirable brick residence containing nine rooms, two halls, pantry; woodhouse and summer kitchen; well and cistern; situated on the corner of Church and Reid sts., convenient to the high school and Methodist and Baptist Churches; also a comfortable house on Reid st. No payment required at time of sale. Terms to suit the purchaser. Apply to G. W. Brown, Owner.

An exchange says:—"A well known and successful farmer recently told us the following: When you pass a farm and see a large barn and a small house you may know the man is boss: when you see a fine house and a dilapidated barn, you may understand that the woman has things her own way; and when there is a new house and a good barn, you may take it for granted that the woman and man are equal and work together in harmony."

We see by the Courier published at Blair, Nebraska, that one of the former residents of Addison, Mr. Lewis G. Cameron, has settled down in that town as an auctioneer. We always thought Lew had "lots of mouth," but if the cut which adorns his ad. in the Courier is a correct picture of him as he appears when opening his face, we think he is perfectly capable of selling goods by auction every day in the year.

A New Ruling.

A novel case of interest to farmers was tried at Flasherton recently before Judge Creasor. According to the ruling any person purchasing agricultural machinery and paying for it with anything but cash is still responsible to the firm should the agent become a defaulter. The judge held that the agents must be paid therewith to settle with the employers. Thus the giving of horses, etc., in part payment for machinery is a risky transaction unless the agent is known to be responsible.—Ex

They must have some queer judges in western Ontario, according to the above. We always understood the law to hold the principal responsible for the acts of his agent, and if it is not good law it is good common sense at least.

There is said to be a splendid opening for a harness maker at Delta.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. Richard Arnold's on Wednesday afternoon, 27th.

A Demorest Medal Contest, in which only boys will take part will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 3rd. See program later on.

Parties who have promised or wish to pay their subscriptions to the Reporter in wood are requested to bring the same in at once.

Mr. Anson Coleman, of the Delta steam tannery, is advertising for a large quantity of deacon skins, hides, tallow and bark, and will pay cash.

Last Wednesday morning the mercury in the thermometer crawled down to 22 deg. below zero in Athens. Brockville claimed 31 below for the same day.

Don't forget that A. James has a first class horse shoer and will give you a first-class job at the following prices for cash: Setting shoes, 10c; new shoes, 20c.

John Churchill, lot 1, con. 13, Lansdowne, will offer for sale on Thursday, Feb. 4, at 1 p.m. his live stock, implements and household furniture. D. Dowsley, auctioneer.

A Vermont editor has invented a new way of stirring up delinquent subscribers. He writes obituary notices of them, assuming that they must be dead, since he does not hear from them.

An instance showing the success which attends the method of advertising pursued by Rob't Wright & Co. occurred the other day. A young lady entered an Athens grocery and asked for "a pair of D. & A. soda biscuit."

Wanted—at the Reporter office, 500 pieces Shumac 3 feet 2 inches long, and from 3 inches in diameter up. Must be straight and free from knot or shake. The highest cash price will be paid delivered in any quantities.

The insolvent estate of Wm. J. Earl of Temperance Lake will pay a dividend of 1½ cts. on the dollar. As usual the lawyers, assignee and inspectors get about all there is in the estate. 'Twere ever thus, and we suppose it is useless to complain.

A literary entertainment will be given in Greenbush Methodist church on Friday evening, Feb. 5. The names of Mr. Kennedy and Miss Harrison appear on the programme, and this alone should be sufficient to ensure a good attendance. There will be vocal and instrumental music and, in short, a first-class entertainment. Proceeds for school and church fund.

John H. Moulton of Delta has purchased the stock of dry goods etc., of A. Parish & Son of this place and has commenced to remove them to his store in Delta. Mr. Parish is giving up the mercantile business entirely and will in future devote his attention to his banking business and the lumber trade. This new factory at the station will be running the last of this week, and it is proposed to add several new lines of manufacture in the spring.

Last week we were shown by Mr. Geo. Nash the plan of a new building to be erected on the site of the old post office. It will have a frontage on Main st., of 44 feet, three storeys high, and 100 feet deep. The first flat will be divided into two stores, the second flat will be devoted to a fine public hall, having two entrances from the street, and the third will be used as a Masonic hall. It will be a fine structure when completed. All that stays the immediate commencement of operations is the absence of a capitalist to finance for the undertaking. But it is possible (if not probable) that a syndicate will be formed to provide the requisite cash, and that the building will be erected this year. It is thought that the investment would pay at least 6 per cent., and we believe the owner of the site has already signified his willingness to take a liberal share of stock in the enterprise.

We see it intimated that a taxpayer of Brockville intends to test in the courts the legality of the recently adopted by-law giving $50,000 to the coming carriage company. An Ontario statute now exists prohibiting municipalities from granting bonuses to established industries. The object clearly is to prevent rival municipalities outbidding each other and manufacturing companies taking advantage of it. As we understand it, there has been a mere evasion in the Brockville case. The existing company at Gananoque disbands and closes up its works there; a new company, largely of the old material, forms, gets a bonus and establishes itself at Brockville using the same men and machinery. How far such an evasion can be successful may be tested. If the law can be thus easily and successfully evaded it is certainly of little practical value at all.

Mr. John Frost, who went to Manitoba three years ago, returned to Athens on a visit a few days ago. While a resident of this town John was recognized as possessing an affinity for labor rather in excess of the average, and he was also fairly economical; but notwithstanding these excellent qualities, he failed to progress. As he says himself, when he made a dollar, "somebody was after it." He looked the future squarely in the face three years ago, and decided to go west. Accordingly he made such provision for his large family as he could, and started for Brandon. He located 160 acres about twenty miles from that town and for three years has labored to establish a home there. He did not "tire himself out" writing to friends in Athens during his absence, and now speaks with becoming modesty of his quarter-section and his grain in store. But with commendable pride and satisfaction he said, at the close of our brief interview, "I know that when I return to the prairie I have a home; that I have my living right there."

Election of Officers.

At the annual district meeting of L. O. L. of Rear Leeds & Lansdowne, held in Lyndhurst on Jan. 12th, the following officers were elected:

Delbert Danby, D. W. M.
William Witherall, D. D. M.
H. F. Metcalfe, D. Chaplin.
A. E. Moulton, D. Rec. Sec.
Jas. Somerville, D. Fin. Sec.
Willis Hollister, D. Treasurer.
William Charleton, D. D. of C.
Jas. Hunkins, D. Lecturer.

There were 420 arrests by the police of Brockville during last year—a smaller number than any of the past five years.

Sala Blancher started for Chicago and the western states this morning. 'Tis said—well we will explain when he returns.

Mr. Chas. Powell, of Montreal, is spending a brief vacation with friends in Athens. The eastern metropolis seems to agree with him.

It is reported that Dr. Oronyateka, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters, is likely to be appointed on the prohibitive commission as the representative of the Sons of Temperance.

Women are not only crowding the men out of profitable undertakings, but are also venturing into fields which the sterner sex have not dared to explore. The latest exploit is that of a St. Louis woman who has opened an office for the cure of "afflicted minds, cranks, fanatics, bigots and agnostics." This St. Louis benefactress will have a wide field of operation.

When you see an account of a person "buncoed" you may rest assured you have come across the name of somebody who wanted to get something for nothing. In trying to get another man's money he lost his own. Having it in his heart to cheat somebody he is cheated. The amount of sympathy he is entitled to would require a chemist's scales to weigh.

George F. Hubbell, teller of the Bank of Ottawa, at Ottawa, has been placed under arrest in his own house, where he is lying ill with grippe, on a charge of defrauding the bank to the extent of about $7,000. Hubbell, who is a married man with two children, has grown up in the service of the bank since boyhood, and was highly esteemed as an efficient officer. It is said that the cause of his fall was that stumbling block of so many young men, speculation in stocks.

There is a curious diversity of taste among smokers to as the kind of pipe they prefer. Some like the clay pipe best, others prefer the briar root, others again the meerschaum, some must have their pipe well seasoned before they can enjoy it, others again must have a new pipe and throw it away whenever it becomes a little old. But though this diversity of taste among them is curious, it is not at all curious that there is substantial unanimity among them about the kind of tobacco to be used. Experience has proved to them that the "Myrtle Navy" brand of Messrs. Tuckett & Son is the genuine article.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails.

A Woman's Fortitude.

A striking example of woman's courage and fortitude comes from near Bear Lake, in the vicinity of the depot of J. R. Booth, the Ottawa lumberman. A married stepdaughter of a well-known hunter named Peter Duck started to visit some traps and arranged to be away one night in the bush. She did not return, and her half-brother started to look her up, and after considerable search found her lying in the snow with a babe seven or eight days old pressed closely to her breast and as well wrapped up as possible. The little one was all right, snug and warm, but the mother was completely exhausted and almost famished. Being taken sick the night she left, she was unable for nine days to leave the shelter she managed to construct for herself. With her gun she killed a squirrel from where she sat which was the only sustenance she had during the whole nine days, beyond what she had taken with her for the one day.

9th Division Court.

The proceedings at the court held in Athens on Tuesday last were particularly interesting because the new court room would be used for the first time on that occasion. The alterations in the lower flat consists of tearing out the partitions and making one large room. The walls are wainscotted up nearly five feet from the floor, a raised dais for the judge is at one end and a small retiring room in one corner. One hundred chairs have been placed in the room, which number will be increased as occasion requires. The total cost of the repairs, chairs, &c is $157.47, a very reasonable amount for the improvements made. It was nearly 1 p.m when the Judge took his seat on the bench, having been delayed owing to the bad condition of the roads. Mr. J. B. Saunders, reeve of Yonge & Escott, stepped forward and welcomed his honor to the new court room, which he hoped would meet with his approval, and that of the members of the legal profession and those having business at the court. The Judge replied by saying that the court had a local habitation at last, and would be no longer under the necessity of being knocked around from pillar to post, as they had been for the past two or three years. He expressed himself as highly pleased with the arrangements and thought that his action in condemning the old court room had been productive of stirring those having the bell in charge to make the very much needed improvement that he saw before him. The court then opened.

Hawden, Starke & Co. vs. Abel Stevens.—Judgment by default, $97.-08.

B. D. Stacey vs. Abel Stevens.—Judgment by default for $15.50.

John M. Levingston vs. James Hall.—According to the plaintiff's testimony he was ploughing on a lot occupied by Wm. Mackley when he was called over to the road side and asked by Hall to give Mackley $40 and he would see him paid, in three months; supposed from the conversation that Hall owed Mackley and wanted to pay him; know nothing about a bargain made between the parties about building a house; had part of the money and got the rest in Athens and gave it to Mackley that day; did not take a note but simply charged Hall with $40, and made an entry of the charge in a book which he produced.

Wm. Mackley said he had taken a contract to build a house for Hall; had made part of the window and door frames, and on Hall coming for them he asked him to go security for $40 to Levingston, which he consented to do.

James Hall, the defendant, said he made a bargain with Mackley to build a house for him. About the 24th April went to Mackley's for a load of frames and he asked him to go security for $40 with Levingston. He refused to do so, but told Levingington he might give Mackley the money if he liked and he would keep back that much of the contract money and pay it to either of them when the job was done. About three months after Levingston accompanied by Mackley came to his place and Levingston asked him if he had any money and he replied that he had not. Afterwards, Levingston met him and said "don't give Mackley any more money, pay it to me." Mackley did not complete the job and witness was obliged to get another man to finish it. Had suffered $15 damage by Mackley not finishing the job. The statements made by Levingston and Mackley regarding his telling Levingston to give Mackley $40 and he would see him paid were false.

Thos. Mathews and Rich. Reid were called to prove the amount paid to complete the job and the damage defendant had sustained, but nothing new was elicited.

Judgment for plaintiff for $20, exclusive of plaintiff's witness costs.

Arza N. Sherman vs. W. W. Knapp.—Action to recover 21 on account. The plaintiff in this case had built a cheese factory at Colborne for deft. for which he had made settlement in full, by giving notes for balance. Some time after the deft telegraped him to come up and fix engine and other parts of machinery. When he got there he found the repairs made, and the deft. wanted him to go out into the country and see a couple of old factories that he proposed buying, and see what they were worth, to build over and to fit them up. He was gone three days and charged railway fare and $3 per day. The defendant tried to show that the contract was not carried out and that he was entitled to recover damages for imperfect machinery and loss thereby. Judgment for plaintiff for $10 and costs.

Fred Pierce vs. John Thompson.—Hearing transferred to Gananoque.

Geo. P Wight vs. Enos Stevens. Geo. W. Stevens, claimant.—Interpleader summons. This action was brought to prove the ownership of a horse taken under execution. A grandson of defendant claimed that the horse in question was his and that he had sold it to the claimant, Geo. W. Stevens, the consideration being that George Stevens was to take care of the old man. Judgment for Geo. W. Stevens, he to recover his costs in 15 days.

Wm. Hicks vs. W. G. Parish and R. N. Dowsley.—J. P. Lamb, garnishee.

The plaintiff sues for $25 claimed to be due him as per agreement with the Anglers' Association of Charleston Lake. The plaintiff is the fishery inspector at the lake and an honorary member of the association and was present when the offer of $50 per year was made; had received $25. The defendant Parish said he was present when the agreement was made. Minutes of the meeting produced and motion as moved by Mr. Beadle, of New York, seconded by Mr. Miner of the same place, read. Mr. Everitts for defence contended that there was no case against the parties named in the summons, as all the members of the association were liable, if any. His Honor seemed to take that view of the case and suggested adjournment until next court, which was agreed to.

Wilson Riley vs. Chas. R. Stevens.—Examination summons.

Geo. M. Beaumont vs. Mrs. Emily Hays.—Examination summons. No order.

Billy's Conundrum.

The genial Billy Brown, who has been acting as "devil" at the Reporter office for a few weeks past, yearned for a change of scene and a few days ago was given a roving commission as canvassing agent for the Reporter. Taking a good sized bundle of a late issue, he started out to interview a few of the very few who do not take the Reporter in this village. Billy always had an idea that he was quite a lady's man, and concluded to make his first attempt at persuasion on a marriageable maiden of uncertain age living on one of the side streets. Unfortunately for Billy, he had about half a dozen novels sticking out of his coat pocket when he entered the house. He carefully opened out the paper and began expatiating on the amount of good home news and foreign items to be found only in that paper. The lady listened to him with rapt attention for a time, when glancing down towards his coat pockets she espied the copies of the "yellow covered literature," and she waxed wroth in a moment. Pointing to the door, she commanded Billy, in tones of stern command, to "git." Any man of a family who would dare to canvas her for a subscription to a newspaper that recounted every dog fight in town and was "filled with stories," and who carried novels around in his pocket was unworthy of patronage. She wound up by declaring that she would as soon read a novel as the Reporter. Billy was thunderstruck. He imagined he had only to mention the name of the Reporter and the pocket book would fly open and the shekels drop into his hand. On his way back to the office he soliquized thusly:—Ho-w-in-th-u-n-der did she k-n-o-w wh-a-t was in the Re-po-rt-er if she did-n't bor-row it fr-o-m her neig-h b-o-r-s? Billy dropped canvassing, and now he is talking up a new electric lamp that don't cost anything for oil. By the light of his new illuminator he discovered that the lady aforesaid is a subscriber of that well-known sensational story (and double-dyed Tory) paper, The Toronto News!
