Soon It'll Be "Back To School" But Until That Day, Let's Play

Although visions of school books move in their heads, Oakville's tots 'n teens are making the best of what's left of the summer holidays.

As the accompanying photographs show, a good many youngsters were in Oakville last weekend to take advantage of clear skies, bright sun.

"This has been one of the finest summers to date," reports recreation director Jack Ross.

The popular summer day camps have ended, however. Mr. Ross reports Oakville youngsters still have lots to do right here at home.

MINOR SPORT, TOO

"With the programs and minor sports that are available there is no reason why a youngster has to leave town during the holidays," he stated.

One program that has not yet ended is the Red Cross learn-to-swim classes being conducted at the Lions' Club pool.

Also in full swing are the minor sports programs, little league baseball included.

Equally satisfied with the past summer is W. W. Bateman, parks superintendent. Since the amalgamation of Oakville and Trafalgar parks boards, Mr. Bateman has been busy redesigning the local parks system.

MAJOR MOVE

One of his major moves this summer was transferring the Wallace Park floodlights to Bronte Athletic Field.

The parks superintendent's move paid off on Saturday night when over 1,200 spectators gathered at the Athletic Field to watch the Oakville Black Knights opening game.

"The park is a natural for fields sports such as football and soccer," claims Mr. Bateman.

He is also pleased with the colorful floral displays in the town's "sit-down" parks. The arrangements in George's Square are considered among the finest in southern Ontario.

PLENTY OF PARKLAND

The Parks Board has developed nearly 105 acres of parkland, has eight acres under development and another 246 acres undeveloped.

"In other words," explained Mr. Bateman, "We have room for expansion."

He feels by far one of the most popular local parks is Coronation Park. It has 19 acres and fronts on Lake Ontario. Major activities at this park are family and group picnics, bathing and passive recreation.

But despite all the recreational programs available, and the acres of parkland to roam, there are still some summer holiday-ers, like the student below, who prefer just to lay around, soak in the sun, and wait for the call "back to school."

Esperantists Plan Trips Overseas

Students of Esperanto, the international language, in this district, will have an opportunity to try out their linguistic ability in other countries by means of annual trips overseas.

Mrs. Vilma Eicholz, of Esperanto Domo, 1309 Town Line, has announced that at least one trip will be made to Europe next year, with visits to Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Rome. Another excursion may be made to Japan in 1964 or 1965, when the International Congress of Esperantists will be held in Tokyo.

Those students who complete an Esperanto course starting this fall will be eligible to join next year's tour. Meetings, with speakers and demonstrators taking part, are held at Esperanto Domo on Wednesday evenings. Mrs. Eicholz will open night classes this fall at Esperanto Domo, at Streetsville and Brampton high schools, and McMaster University, Hamilton.

Brantford Man Charged

BRANTFORD (CP) — Robert Fergus Hunt of Brantford was charged Saturday with the abduction of a 12-year-old girl from her home Friday night.

The girl was found unharmed early Saturday after an hour-long hunt by police. She was taken from her home by a man who told a babysitter he had been sent to take the girl to her mother.

The youngster said she was taken to a restaurant where she had potato chips and a bottle of pop. Later she was taken to a park, and then to another restaurant where she was given candy and money.

She was found with a man, crossing a bridge.

Hunt will appear in magistrate's court today. Bail was set at $5,000.
