Waterfront rocks

Despite the dire predictions for last weekend's weather, the Waterfront Festival's shows did go on across town, from Bronte to the downtown core. Oakville was the place to be on all three days as big-name headliners as well as local performers entertained large crowds at a number of venues. On Friday night Moist, with lead singer David Usher, right, drew a crowd of young people to Coronation Park where, of course, a mosh pit was soon established (bottom right). Saturday attracted a more eclectic group to the Coronation stage when Chantal Kreviazuk, below, sang to a crowd sporting raincoats and umbrellas. Then on Sunday afternoon Adele Kozak sang with the Oakville Symphony Orchestra on the Heritage Stage at Lakeside Park and Leahy, bottom left, performed at Coronation. For reviews on some of these and other shows, see pages B7 and B6.
