

'Tis the Season

TREE OF LIGHTS: The Ian Anderson House hospice raised nearly $10,000 during a Tree of Lights ceremony on Sunday. Money was raised by selling lights on the 50-foot-high tree for $20 each. In a poignant ceremony, friends and family gathered to sing Christmas carols, light the tree and remember loved ones who have passed away. (Above) Glenda Craig and her daughter Heather, aged 7, huddle over the carol sheets. Mother and grandmother Carol Smith was a resident who passed away at the hospice. (Far right) A choir leads the carol singing in front of the Tree of Lights. (Right) Ian Anderson House founder Margaret Anderson gives a brief speech at the start of the event.
