

Library Week Winds Down, Busy Winter Season Expected

"In three weeks one could become the second best authority on any subject, given access to a decent library with a good librarian."

H.L. Mencken

PETAWAWA - As this special week for libraries right across the province of Ontario comes to an end. Petawawa Library gears up for a winter season of heavy reading, all manner of school projects by students, increased Interlibrary Loan transactions and a new season of special children's programs and exhibits.

An exhibit of oil paints by both Betty Casselman and the late Murray McNab are on display in the library as part of the celebrations and will remain on the walls until the end of the month.

Scheduled for November are two programs one for children and one for adults. "How to Start an Independent Business" is the subject of a seminar presented by Ledoux, Sonogo and Associates Ltd. of Ottawa which should appeal to budding entrepreneurs in this area. This will take place on Tuesday, Nov 3. 7-10 p.m. For further information call the library at 687-2227. The Great Canadian Theatre Company will perform "The New Canadian Kid" in the Petawawa Civic Centre Hall at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 18.

Preschool storytime has started up again, parents and tots are welcome at 9:30 a.m. on Thursdays for this activity. Contact the library at 687-2227 for further information.

The library board is also looking for volunteer workers. Anyone interested should contact librarian Pat Pollard.
