From the Leader of Saturday 25th.

Yesterday afternoon, Coroner Scott held an inquest in Letz's Hotel, York street, on the body of James Estley. Deceased shot himself about one o'clock in the afternoon by putting the muzzle of a in the atternoon by putting the indexte of a landed gun into his mouth and firing it off with his toe. He took off his boots and stockings for this purpose. He was a married man between 40 and 50 years of age and lived with his family in Boulton street. At the time of committing the rash act it is conjectured that deceased are in a first temperature of the first temperature of the inhabitants of the village was in a fit of temporary insanity, caused by the destitute condition of his family.

WILLIAM BARRETT deposed—I have known the deceased for a long time. He known the deceased for a long time. He saled on me to-day at rup place in King street, between twelve and one o'clock. He asked my wife it I was in. She said yes. He asked me if I would lend lim my gun, and I said 'yes,' as I had lent it to him before for the purpose of fowling. He appeared in his wasta state of health and mind, and not under the influence of the length of the sale was of a most satisfactory character speakand mind, and not under the influence of drink. He said he wanted to go to the island with some friends to shoot birds. In my house he tried the gun once or twice to see if it was in order-taking some powder out of the flask he carried. He told my write that if he succeeded in killing any birds he would bring her some. Then he left to all appearance in good spirits. Know no more about him.

MARY JANE ESTLEY deposed—I am the wife of deceased My husband has been out of employment better than two needle. I did not observe anything in my husband's conduct of late. He sought imployment every day but without success. This morning he left the house after breaklast, to look for work; but found none, he returned at tweive. To reply to me he said he had heard of no-thing and that he did not know what to turn to. I said 'Never mind-the Lord is and thay during the week. He said he might. The children then began to cry for bread, and he said 'God help you children, I don't know what you'lt do.' Then he sat down and remained sitting at the end of the table with b th his hands under his head, after which he got up, put on his morning. head, after which he got up, put on his coat and went out. In a few minutes he returned with the gun in his hand, and went into the brd room. I said, James what are you going to do.' He replied he what are you going to do." He replied he was going to the island to shoot. He then shut himself in—I being busy at the washtub. I heard him, as I thought clearing out the gun for his trip. But took no notice of it. Subsequently he passed through the kitchen to the back door where he washed his hands. Meeting one of the children he stooped down to kiss it, saying God bless you, Dear, after which he passed into the bed room and shut the door tight. Feeling uneasy then I went to the door and tried to push it is. Not succeeding I opened the front door, and ran to the window to see what he was don't be the push of th ing. I saw imm standing near door, with one foot on a chair. I did not see the gun in his hand; but my heart misgave me-the sight left my eyes, and I ran to Mrs. Douglas shouting 'murder,' I told her to run in for God's sake-that someher to run in for God's sake—that some-thing was the matter with James. Just as we got to the window of my house we heard the shot. Running into the house and opening the door I saw him lying on the floor, apparently dead. I never had any reason to suspect his committing sui-cide. He was low spirited on account of our misfortunes. One after another we had to self nearly exerctling in the house. had to sell nearly everything in the house to procure food, and to-day there was not a morsel of food in the house, nor were there any means of procuring it. I can attribute the net to nothing else than his desp'rate state of mind for destitute position desp'rate state of mind for destitute position of his family. I think, he served ten years in the 82nd Regiment, leaving them in Kingston, C. W., shortely after which he got into Mr. Holdworth's employment. He was between 40 and 50 years old.

Mrs. AGNES DOUGLAS deposed I her part door to Exthes. A hout one o'clock.

next door to Estlev's. About one o'clock Mrs. Estley ran into my house requesting me to follow her. She ran to her own door, I followed her, and looking into the window I saw deceased standing with his back to the door, and having a gun in his land. He was stooping over the muzzle of the gun with the toe of his right foot near the trigger. I called out to know what he was doing, but he paid no attention to me. I then can for other neighbors, shortly after which I heard a shot and on returning, I found him lying on the floor dead, I believe the family lived quietly together.

The jury rendered as their virdict that deceased came by his death by a gun-shot wound, given by his own hand, and recommended the family to the benevolence of the Corporation and the public.

A subscription was then taken up among the jurymen and others present, for the relief of the family of deceased.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT ON THE MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

33 Killed .- 50 to 60 Wounded.

CHICAGO, June 28. The accident on the Michigan Southern Railroad last night, occurred near South Bend, Ind. The stream where it took place is naturally a small rivulet, but was nuch swollen by rains the previous after-noon and evening, and the flood-wood which passed down probably choked the culverts, converting the embarkment into a dam, and the great weight of water, with the concussion of the trains crossing, with the concussion of the trains crossing, caused the calamity. There were about 150 persons on the train. Thirty-three were taken from the ruins dead, and from fifty to sixty were wounded.

On Tuesday the 23rd inst. the Grammar school in Markbam village, under the superintendence of Ewd. Crowle, Esq., A.M., F.L.C.P., was examined by Superintendent the Rev. Geo. Hill. A.M. assistnumber of the inhabitants of the village and neighborhood. The examination was minute and searching. By the manner in which they acquitted themselves the pupils gave evidence of having been under the ng highly for master and pupils alike. The discipline of the school is excellent. A well-merited compliment, which was most heartily responded to by the audience, was paid by the Rev. Superintendent to the amable and accomplished lady of the Principal, for the success which had attended her efforts to imbue the pupils under her especial charge with a love of the true and beautiful in art. We most heartly congratulate the inhabitants of Markham Village and neighborhood on the excellent and most efficient state of their Grammar school, and venture to predict a distinguished University course for some of the alumni whose answers reflected so much bonour on Mr. Crowle and them attended her efforts to imbue the pupils been out of employment better than two years during which time he has earned nothing worth speaking. He used to drive Mr. Holesworth, and has earned accreeky anything since then. He fired nine years with Mr. Holesworth. But the latter died and left my husband not a copper. PHONOGRAPHY,

WRITING BY SOUND

PHONOGRAPHY was invented by ISAAC PITMAN, of Bath, England, in the year 1637. It is the most simple, most natural morphid, and most easily-learned system of Writing which has ever been, or ever can be invented.

rapic, and most assistive arms a system on writing which has ever been, or ever can be invented. During the past fifteen years, hundreds of thousands of persons, in England and America, in both public and private life, have learned to write Phonography, and thousands of social, and business letters annually pass through the post office.

Nor is its great popularity to be wondered at. The present system of writing is exceedingly combersome, and totally unworthy these days of progress and invention. Phonography is equally as legible, can be learned in oue-twentioth the time, and can be written siz times as fast! In other words, the labor of six days can be performed in one—one man can do the work of six! So simple is the system, too, that a porson may learn to write it slowly, in a coupie of hours. An hour's daily practice for a few weeks will enable any person to write Phonography with certainty, and with some degree of freedom. The same amount of practice continued for six months will enable a person to take reports of speeches, leciness, serious, or conversation, and to read hem with accuracy.

10. J. W. Stone, of Boston, says: 'I deem Phonography an invaluable adjunct to education, and one which, when acquired in youth, would not be parted with in manhood for thousands of dollars'.

The late Hon. Thes. H. Benton, upon be-

Those who wish to be able to put their thoughts to paper at the rate of from 100 to 250 words 'per minute," should send for the above-mentioned works at once.

The instruction given by the Manual is as plain as A. B. C., and ten times as easy to understand.
