The following is the eulogy propounced by Wendell Phillips at the grave of John Brown, at North Elba, on Wednesday last:—

MR September last, the wife of Mr. John Cliff) d, near Weston, of a son. Mrs. Clifford has been married unwards of twenty years and

You think you have known him. - of the Humber !- D.B. None of us seem to have known him. Walking screne to the scaffold, we say: what courage! Stooping to kiss that negro child, he seems all tenderness. But he is only the centre of a group.—These quiet homes sent six to that accre of heroes. How bravely they died—each standing in his post till his voice said 'enough.' And these weeping chikiren and widows how blessed, since in the last throbs of the brave young hearts at Harper's Ferry, thoughts of them mingled with love for God and the second with the second of the brave shows here the slave. He has aboilised to the second of the brave shows here the slave. He has aboilised to the second of the brave shows here the slave. He has aboilised to the second of the brave shows the slave. He has aboilised to the second of the second o None of us seem to have known hope for the slave. He has abolished slavery in Virginia. Some may say that is too much. Bunker 44.8

Hill severed New England from the mother country. Yet men that night pitied Warren. We see him cutting the link. George III. ceased that day to rule here. History will date Virginia emancipation from Harper's Ferry. When the tempest uproots one of those pines, it may live months—but it is timber, not a tree. John Brown has loosened the roots of slavery—it may gasp, but it is dead. He said be could take the town with 20 men, and did it Who stopped him? Not Virginia; her he conquered. The Union seemed to check him. In reatity God *aid *that work is done; you have proved that a slave State is only Fear in the mesh of Despotism; now come up highest by marnia stands at the world's bar on trial; round her victures stand the apostles and martyrs all, who have said 'God is God,' and transdard wicked lane. said 'God is God, and trampled wicked laws under their feet. PHONOGRAPHY,

WRITING BY SOUND.

MONOGRAPHY was invented by ISAAC PLESIAN, or Barn. England, or the vea-1837. It is the most simple, most natural most rapid, and most easily learned system of Writ-ing which has ever been, or ever can be invented

During the past lifteen years, hundreds of thousance of persons, in England and Amenea, to both public and private life, have learned to write Phonography, and thousands of social, and hustiness letters annually pass through

and business letters annually pass through the post office.

Nor as its great popularity to be wondered at. The present system of writing is exceedingly camborsome, and totally unworthy these days of progress and inventign. Througraphy is equity as legible, can be learned in one-twentieth the time, and can how offer six days can be performed in one-one man can do the work of six. So sample as the system, too, that a person may learn to write it slowly, in a course of hours. An hour's dayly acute to a few weeks will enable my person to write prography with certainty, and with some degree of freedom. The same amount of practice continued for s.x months will secable a person to mke reports of speeches, len arcs, see mous, or conversation, and to read hour with accuracy.

Th. J. W. Stone, of Boston, says: 't deem Photography an invaluable adjunct to education with a certain.
