The Conard screw steamer Aetna arrived at Liverpool on the 9th.

The screw steamer North Briton arrived at Queenstown on the morning of the 10th.

The steamship Tritonia, from New York, arrived at Southampton on the 12th. The steamship Fulton, from New York, arrived at Southampton on the 11th inst. GREAT BRITAIN.

There was no news of political importance.

The French and other continental journals accuse the English Parliament of favouring the recent contest in Spain, and the insurrection in Sicily.

A reform meeting was held in Hyde Park on Sunday the 8th. The proceedings were tame.

The submarine cable for Gibraltar will be ready by the middle of September.

Heenan was brought before the magistrate at Derby on the 7th, charged with the intention of being engaged in a prize-fight, and thereby causing a breach of the peace.

Mr. Leech appeared in his behalf, and said that Heenan had never broken the peace in England and had no intention of doing so. True, he may have made use of harsh language in the excitement of his capture, when his passions were aroused, but when he considered he had been hunted out of eight counties, while his opponent, Sayers, was allowed to go with the greatest of impunity, he did feel sore at the punishment he was receiving. He apologized if he had used expressions which he ought not.

Two respectable gentlemen were ready to give bail, to the amount required, guided by the station in the of the parties in America Heenan was a blacksmith. He hoped the Bench would assess the bail at a small amount.

The Clerk announced that the Bench agreed to take Heenan's own recognizance for £50, with two sureties in £25 each. (Loud applause.) He added that the authorities had no ill-feeling against him beyond the preservation of the peace.

It was stated by the Court that Heenan could not further be interfered with anywhere unless he broke the peace. The sureties were promptly signed and Heenan and his friends left Derby for London.

Bell's Life was most indignant at the capture, which it attributed to Heenan and his company going to a place where they were almost certain of arrest. A subsequent edition exonerates Heenan, and says he took all necessary precautions employing a man to sound the police and put them off the track. This person deceived Heenan and his friends and gave information that led to his arrest. Bell's Life indignantly scolds the idea that Sayers or his friends caused the arrest, and states that the Heenan party believed Sayers utterly incapable of such conduct.

It was considered certain that the fight would come off on the day fixed, the 16th.

The Government had reprimanded the Pays and Patrie for giving currency to rumours that England was blameable for the outbreaks in Spain and Italy.

The Emperor of Morocco had ratified papers of peace. Gen. Ortega, and three persons of the highest rank, had been arrested at Caladron. A small body of insurgents had been defeated at Bilbao, previous to Ortega's acts.

A concordat had been concluded between Spain and Rome and was promulgated.

GERMANY.

The Grand Duke of Baden, despite the vote of the second Chamber, had proclaimed the independence of the Catholic Church. He declares that the provisions of the Concordat shall be sanctioned and ordered. The German States of the Rhine are making special defensive preparations.

Affairs in Japan were unsettled.

NORTH YORK SPRING SHOW AND PLOUGHING MATCH.

We attended the above Spring Show on Tuesday, the 24th inst. The day was very cold, owing to this the company was not as numerous as was expected. There were, however, some good cattle shown; the number of brood mares entered for competition was large, and of first-class description. The entire horses shown was small—the two best being the celebrated draught horse, "Merry Farmer," belonging to Mr. Graham, of Markham; and for general purposes, the no less renowned "Brown Active," belonging to Mr. Newbury Button, also of Markham. PROVINCIAL PARLIAMENT.

Our own intelligence so far respects the doings of our worthy senators, must needs be brief. The "Joint Authority" resolutions, have not yet been discussed, although government has given every opportunity to Geo. Brown, to bring them forward. But there is a division in the camp, Mr. Foley and Dr. Connor called Arch Grit, some ugly names, few days since when "Joint Authority" was to have been discussed. Mr. Galt's bank of issue scheme, is laid over for another session. The budget has been presented to the House, and seems to give general satisfaction, its main features are, that the duty is to be taken off books, there are to be two new, free ports, one at Gaspe, the other Sault Ste. Marie. The grant to Agricultural Societies which was cut down last year, is to be restored to its former amount, this is decidedly a step in the right direction. We wish that Government had restored the grant to Mechanic's Institutes likewise. Amongst the Bills which have passed a second reading, is the Bill of Mr. Wright, "to separate York and Peel from Toronto, for Judicial purposes." It is not yet law, although we hope it will be. We think it an important measure, inasmuch as it will have the effect of putting a check on the reckless credit system of the country, which is a consummation devoutly to be wished. Amongst the Bills which have passed through committee, is the one "To confirm certain side roads, in the township of Vaughan, as the same have been opened out, and improved, and travelled, and to provide for the manner, in which the remaining side road allowances, and other boundary lines of lots in said township shall hereafter be defined." There has as yet, been no exciting debates in the House, everything going on as quietly as possible, the Grits are too much at war amongst themselves at present, to think of fighting with the Government. We believe the session will be brought to a close in about a fortnight.

WHOLESALE ROBBERY.

A few nights ago, thirty bushels, or more, of peas were stolen out of the bins in the barn of Mr. Newton Goddall, near Thornhill. The thieves must have been very familiar with the premises, for the bins were left carelessly re-locked. Thus the robbery was not discovered by the owner, so soon as it would have been, had things been left irregular in the barn.

The owner has strong suspicions of the guilty party, but hitherto has taken no legal proceedings.—Will wait a while.

Correspondence.

We wish it to be distinctly understood, that we do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents through our columns.

THE "ECONOMIST" AND ITS SLANDERS.

To the Editor of the York Herald.

Sir,—I perceive in a late issue of the Economist some foul slanders have been written over the signature "M," to which I would briefly reply. He says that you have prostrated yourself before "the shadow of departed nobility" but as this is a land of equality, I am at a loss to know what "M" means. The only nobility that I am aware of to whom you have humbled yourself, is the true nobility of an honest man—a nobility to which the editor of the Economist is a perfect stranger, or he would not resort to such artful dodges to gain fame. But again, this abusive writer says, "you have lost all principle." If you have, then it is proof positive that you once possessed principle, or you could not have lost it; and even in that case you are far superior to the popularity-hunting editor of the Economist, who never had any to lose. But rest assured, Mr. Editor, that the abuse of these political tricksters will not hurt you, as an ill-name from them is an honour in disguise. You stated that Mr. Resor secured the Wardenship by canvassing. Will "M" deny this? No, he cannot, because this fact is patent to all. Again, he says that you were wrong in your predictions relative to the North York Election. Perhaps this sapient writer will produce the passage in which you boasted that Col. Berensford was sure of being re-elected. If not, then he stands convicted of falsehood. But I come now to the most consummate piece of scandal in this whole trade of abuse—that is where M. insinuates that you sneered at "poor miserable beings, such as farmers, millers, mechanics, &c." Now I defy Mr. M. to substantiate this charge. It is a wicked and base calumny, only capable of being uttered by one full of the rancorous hate; and right nobly did you, Mr. Editor, in your last issue cast back with scorn upon your opponents the malicious libel. He says that Mr. Resor is a native genius, and has nothing but his talents to recommend him. Now I have watched Mr. Resor's manoeuvres for a long time, and the only talent I could discover in him, was that of the fox—namely, an immense amount of cunning. I rather think, however, that this trait it will be found that he has outwitted himself. Hoping, Mr. Editor, that you will still watch this artful dodger.

I am, yours &c., K.

Vaughan, April 19, 1860.

To the Editor of the York Herald.

Sir,—Would you allow me, through the columns of your valuable paper, to ask the Secretary of the Cashel and Victoria Square Agricultural Society, what has become of the funds of the Society? or, do they intend holding the second Annual plowing match? and if so, why has not the Secretary called a meeting before this time?

I remain, your obed't. servant, A MEMBER OF THE SOCIETY. Victoria Square, April 24th, 1860.

To the Editor of the York Herald.

Respected Friend,—The expected coming of the Prince of Wales, I fear, is going to drive half the folks out of their senses. M.P.P's, City Mayors, and Township Reeves, expect to be what they call Knighted, but if the greater part of them only knew it, they are that already (leaving out the K.) My reason for addressing thee and the public, through thy paper, is this, I heard it whispered, that friend D. Bridgford intends to move for some demonstration, on the part of the Vaughan Council, but, wishing to spare him that trouble, I beg to inform all whom it may concern, that all the necessary arrangements have been made for the suitable reception of Albert Em., and also to inform thee, and of course all the ends of the earth, through thy paper, that the following arrangements will be carried out, viz:—The Prince will leave Toronto by the 4 p.m. train, and arrive at Richmond Hill Station, at 5.02, where the Station Master in full Military uniform will introduce England's future King, to the Mayor & Corporation of Maple, a procession will then be formed, headed by the Maple Brass Band, playing, "Uncle Ned" and "Rule Britannia;" the procession will proceed to the Maple Arms Hotel where the Prince will partake of dinner served up in friend Dick's best style, after dinner the usual royal toasts will be drunk and responded to, last of which, and not least, the Town and trade of Maple, from the following addresses will be delivered, viz:—

History of Maple, VAL. McCANNIST. Plough Making, JAMES WOODS. Ecclesiastical Architecture, W. MILLER. Patent Churns, W. HELLSTROM. Office & Dental Surgery, J. INGRAM. International Postage, J. NORRIS. Horse Training, CAPTAIN McHUGH. Statistics of Mortality, DR. HACKETT.

The delivery of which will occupy considerable time, to the whole of which, nevertheless, the young Prince will be expected to listen with patience, becoming a Prince, this being over, he will be escorted in a suitable manner, to Kidney Bear Cottage, the residence of E. Broadbent, whose worthy daughters, Rachael & Deborah, will put him to bed, tuck his feet in, and leave him alone in his glory.

On the second day of his visit, the Prince will rise from his downy couch, as soon as the orb of day shows his bright beams in the eastern sky, and having performed his usual oblations, and partaken of a quantum sufficit of ham & eggs & coffee, will draw on his cow-hide boots, and sallily forth in search of sport. A party of gentlemen accompanying him on a shooting excursion en route, as follows, viz:—from the Railway Station through the hole in the fence, and along by Goodwill's sugar factory, thence by Mark Tricker's,

Foreign Affairs.

From the Norfolk News England.

The noble speech of Lord John Russell upon the question of Savoy has created a sensation throughout France. The French press displays afresh the Anglo-phobia—opens the wounds inflicted at Waterloo and St. Helena, and talks defiantly and in ambiguous phrases, of what may occur one day. The foreign policy of England is denounced as egotistical, anti-liberal and stirred. Everywhere French blood is jealous. Everywhere the object of the most scornful allusions.

We apprehend no immediate mischief from this angry talk, but it is manifest that no real friendship exists between the two countries, and that at any moment heavy rudies on either side of the channel, may provoke a rupture.

The French Government have found it necessary to give assurance to Belgium and Prussia that there is no intention to extend the French frontiers on the north or east. These assurances, though given in unequivocal terms, follow too closely on the Savoy felony, which was committed in violation of the most solemn promises, to be accepted by the distasteful powers to whom they are addressed. Europe had never much faith in Napoleon, and what little it had, is gone.

Spain has been made the theatre of a trumpet insurrection. A rebellion in the interest of the Carlist general state—applied a match to the powder of Spanish disaffection, but found it too damp for an explosion. The plot ended in the rapid dispersion of the insurgents, and the summary flight of their chief. Marshal O'Donnell has taken into unpopular and disgrace, owing to the unglorious terms of the peace and the inadequate concessions exacted from the Moors.

The State of Naples has not changed materially since our last. The Pope also still remains at Rome. But on every side like wildfire on a beach, the conflagration seems spreading towards Southern Italy, and we see no means by which it can be extinguished, or even checked. Sooner or later, the rapidly rising power of North Italy will absorb the entire Peninsula or shrink back into its former limits, or limit its narrower still. Victor Emmanuel is waging his life on the next throw.

Accident near Barwick.—An accident occurred near Barwick, in the township of Vaughan, on the 13th inst., by which Mr. John Elliott, blacksmith, a respectable inhabitant of that place, was severely hurt. As he was proceeding on horseback to the ploughing match at Mr. Dalzell's, in the 5th concession, he overtook on the road a party of men also on horseback. The horse of Mr. Wood, who was one of the party, backed up against Mr. Elliott and gave him a severe kick on the right knee, fracturing the pan, and rendering him insensible. Fortunately, Dr. Develyn, of Barwick, was in the vicinity and dressed the wound. Mr. Elliott was immediately removed to his residence, and is now recovering, though it is feared he may lose the use of his knee. —Globe.

The Queen's Birth-Day.—The following Militia general order issued from local quarters, Quebec, and signed by Lieut. Col. Macdonnell, Deputy Adjutant General of Militia in Upper Canada, we find in the Canada Gazette:—

"His Excellency the Governor General and Commander-in-Chief is pleased to direct that, in pursuance of the provisions of the Militia Law, the Annual Muster of the Service men, not exempted by law, of 18 years of age and upwards, but under 45 years, in the several Battalions of the Sedentary Militia of Upper Canada, shall take place on the Queen's Birth-Day, Thursday 24th May, next.

"Officers Commanding Battalions are requested to give due notice accordingly to the officers commanding companies of the time and place of such muster; and His Excellency recommends the muster to take place by companies, in all cases where such a course may be deemed advisable by the officer commanding the Battalion, in consequence of the distance of the limits of certain companies from the Head Quarters of the Corps."

The wife of Mr. Fry, station-master at Aurora, on the 19th inst., as she was about to step on board a train, was seized with a paralytic stroke and expired in a few hours. She leaves a large family.
