feetly erect, and without the slightest perceptible tremor, said "Good bye" to the Sheriff, and added, "I thank you for the many kindnesses you have shown me, my friend." The Sheriff then desended the ateps of the scaffold, and took his station by the pulley, and for a moment there was an agentizing pause. Harden stood un-flinchingly erect, muttering "God have mercy upon me! Lord Jesus save me in Heaven!" Then for an instant, and what an instant that must have been? he looked firmly and silently into the face of death, firmly and silently into the face of death, standing alone upon the shore of that wide ocean of eternity, beneath whose waves he was soon to sink. The white handkerchief fluttered, like a wounded bird, to the ground, the drop fell with a dull thad, the spectators recoiled, and closed their eyes as from the effect of a blow, and the unfortunate man hung suspended by the neck, in the clear sunlight, between earth and heaven. For a moment he hung perfectly still, with limbs separated and extended, then drew himself up with a stong contraction of the muscles, his pinioned hands strove to reach the cord pinioned hands strove to reach the cord which was choking out his life, his limbs were slowly bent, and as slowly relaxed seven or eight times; his body swayed backwards and forwards, and, without a moan or a murmur, his sprit passed to that God which gave it. As if his death are the back the statement of the stateme that the transfer of trans ieved against the murmers outside, the heved against the mitriners outside, the body hing perfectly still, the head dropped upon the shoulder, and almost touching the speciators, the corpes, still and stark awayed noiseylessly to and fro. The drop fell at precisely twenty-five minutes of two, and in three minutes all struggles ceased. Time could scarcely be accurately computed at a seene like this, when all hearts beat fast—all hands trembled, and all eyes were glazed with a sudden dinness; but in about five minutes Doctors Sharp. Brockley, Mattison and Clarke—the physicians in alternates—programmed this expiret. in altendance—pronounced life extinct; and at about twelve minutes of two all pulsation had ceased, and the flesh had assumed that reddish blue and gritty ap-pearance which betokens death. TO THE ELECTORS

KING DIVISION

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

GENTLEMEN:

GENTLEMEN:

II AVING obtained the unanimous nomination of the Convention held at Markham, on the 36th of Juree-composed, as that Convention was, of many of the most influential gentlemen residing within King Division; and having received many kind assurances of support from elections of all political shades, are every part of the Division, I am induced to ofter mysoff as a Candidate for your sufferages at the approaching election of a representative to represent your Division in the Legislative Council.

at the approaching election of a represental variety of the third position of a Legislative Councillor, and the power placed in his hunds, to be used for "the would or woe" of the whole Province, and the power placed in his hunds, to be used for "the would or woe" of the whole Province, are grave subjects for your consideration: and I frankly confess that it is not without many doubts as to my own ability to represent your interests, as efficiently as they ought to be, and as I could desire to de, that I now present myself before you.

A resident of the Division for nearly a quarter of a century, I holieve myself to be personally known to a majority of the Electors, who will therefore be the better able to j dge correctly whether in the event my being placed at the head of the poll, I would protect your inverse, and continues an all questions of public policy, and zeolously guard your rights,—as the inhabitants of one of the wealthest, most populous, and intelligent Divisions in Canada.

A Canadian born, I sarly learned those great greatment principles of progress and reform, which have been so happily and generating to us the most valuable rights enjoyed under the British Constitution, I consider the form of Government best adapted to his country, when honestly administered, according to the well understood wishes of the people.

Should I be honered with your support, and be your chosen Regresentative, I wil, to the

Should I be honored with your support, and Markham, July 5, 1860. and a conforce will your support, and o your chosen Representative, I will, to the import of my ability, advocate the following includes:—

Maintenance of the Union between the two INFRINGERS OF PATENTS,

1. Maintenance of the Union between the two Provinces.
2. Representation according to Population, irrespective of a dividing line between Upper and Lower Umada,
4. Encouragement to Emigrants.
4. Encouragement to Emigrants and subness being antical settlers.
5. A Homeste of Law.
5. A Homeste of Public Monoy without the consent of Parlament.
7. Provincial Works only, to be taken up the Government; and no Expenditure of Public Monoy without the consent of Parlament.
8. Referencement; and no Expenditure of Public Money to be made on Works of a Local observation; Public Money to be provided to the Printing in the Printing and unto a the necessaries of the poor.

9. A Judicious Bankrust Law.

oor. A Judicious Bankrupt Law. Reduction of Law Costs. Sum illeation of the Proceedings of Courts (Law.

15. Revision 6: the Court of Unincery, 14. Extension of the Municipal Law 15. Dection of Receives and Deputies, and Wandons of Counties, by the people; the same as Mayors of Cities and Towns. 16. Assimilation of the Laws of Upper and Lower Canada.

Lower Canada.
7. The restriction of the rights of Mortgagees to the property held in Mortgage—without allowing them the right to came upon the other property, real or personal of the Mortgagor. 18. H. Iding all Parliamentary Elections in one

19. A better mode of settling Contested elections.

21. A Prohibitory Liquor Law.
21. Payment of Criminal Witnesses.
2. Abelition of Newspaper Postago.
23. Abelition of the Franking Privilege-

33. Abolium of the Franking Privilege.

I believe that the above principles involve many valeable and important measures of Reform, which would tend to the material advancement of our rockil and political progress; but in the present disturbed state of political opinion, and considering the violent registrion for a complete disruption of our constitutional relations with Lower Canada, I feel bound to state freely and candicily, that the Union of the two Provinces I conce we to be the grand point at issue in this election. Any dissolution of the tie which now binds us together, to our great muttal advantage, must prove disastrous.

Consumption, when all other means had failed by a recipe obtained from a learned physician residing in the great city of Jeddo. This recipe has eared great numbers who were suffering from Consumption, Brenchitis, Store Threat Coughs and Colds, and the debility and nervous depression caused by these disorders.

Desirous of benefiting others, I will send this recipe, which I have brought home with ma, to all who need it, free of charge.

serve, nor private object to gain, and should I have the linear to be elected I will go to the House free and unbramelled and unpledged, to support any political party or set of men, "for the sake of the party." My policited views on the public questions of the day are now fairly before you. Those principles are such as I believe the true interests of the Province demand, and will mader every circumstance and condition find in me a warm advocate. Men may canne into power to-day and go out to-morrow,—Ministries may exist two hours or two years, but the welfare of the Province—and the fature greatness and prosperity of my native country, will slavays be my first consideration.

The above Harrows are far superior to any one to-day and go not to-morrow,—Windstries may exist two hours or two years, but the welfare of the Province—and the fature greatness and prosperity of my native country, will slavays be my first consideration.
