MR EDITOR,-Being a man of shallow Intellect and hating work at this time of the year, as the elections were all over I thought would take a ramble round our incorporation to speak of the Post Office Depart-I would take a ramble round our incorporated Village, so I pops into Mr Wright's Carriage Shop. The first thing I saw was the Hearse looking me full in the face. "My goodness," said I to myself, "is my time come;" but I being a soldier took courage and pased it by, and went into another department in the same building. There I saw seven or eight men all at work; some making buggics, others sleighs and some at waggons. Between painters and fitters Mr Wright employs ten hands and is doing a large business.

I next strolled across to Mr Moodie's but large business.

I crossed the street and gave Mr William as that gentleman has sold out in favor of Mr Wm. Sheppard I will pass that by until peration—four men and himself at work—some at tubs, some at barrels and the remainder at other small articles. Mr Pogue Millinery Establishments also. mainder at other small articles. Mr Pogue is doing a large business.

My next visit was to Mr Soules. I found two bakers working up the staff of life as fast as they could. I visited the shop also and found it crowded up with all sorts of the best bread and confectionery, besides other things too numerous to mention. Mr Soules is a pushing man and he is doing a large

Mr Hopper's Butcher Shop was the next place I visited, there I found a large supply of the best beef I ever saw, besides fowl of every description; but what took me down altogether was a large gobbler weighing 21 lbs. Mr Hopper is doing well.
I thought I would give the Pump Factory

a call—and it paid me for so doing. The business is conducted by Mr Miller and Mr John Hall-two business men. They send out seven and eight pumps every week, be-wides pumps for eisterns. They cannot fill their orders at present owing to the large pressure of business. I believe those two two gentlemen intend to do their own castings after a while.

My next visit was to my old friend, Mr David Hopkins' Grocery Store. When I got as far as the door says I to myself I'm far enough. But then, as I am a free citi zen, I thought I would take a peep through the window. So, behold you, the first thing I saw was some of the firest red herrings I ever saw in my life, besides some of Lamb's Penny Cake Blacking. Some of the win dows were out of repair, so I thought I would make myself scarce for fear I might go for the fish. Altogether Mr Hopkins is doing business; perhaps I might vote for him in a year or two.

My next visit was to Mr McArthur's New

Tin Store. I found him busy at work. His shop is well supplied with everything in his 132 Adelaide Street East. line, and all of his own manufacturing. He is a practical man, and he is determined to sell as low as possible. He was wanted badly in the village and ought to be encou-

My next place was into Mr Robert Law's My next place was into Mr Robert Law's Drug Store; there I found the shelves all AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS! WINTER GOODS full of everything in his line, from a dose of Salts up to the highest Patent Medicines in the world, besides tooth pulling in all its

My next place of loafing was at Mr Isaac My next place of loaing was at Mr Isaac Crosby's. As usual I found the shop full, counters and all, besides his back ware-house crammed up with all sorts of hard-ware. Mr Crosby is doing a large business this winter.

Clothing Store. I found that gentlemen cutting out clothing to keep the hands inside going. There are four hands constantly employed in this establishment, and as usua My next place was into Mr Jessie Grant's Shop, which I found all replete with every thing requisite to a small country store. I believe Mr Grant intends enlarging his shop this Spring.

My next visit was to Mr Harrison's Sad-dlery Establishment. 1 there found something to look at. Double and Single Harmess in all its branches, whips, curry combs and not forgetting the large Scotch Collars.

Mr Harrison is doing well and getting pro-

I pushed my way into Mr Peter Savage's
Groccry Store, and found it stuffed up with with some splendid articles in that line. I thought I would get one of his spring beds but again I thought it would not agree with emy constitution. I believe Mr Savage i going to enlarge his premises and so he

I got across to Mr Sanderson's large Drug Store, Talk about medicine, but that is the place where you can be supplied from a bilious pill up to a dose of cattergenia. Mr Sanderson is agent for most of the Patent Medicines in the Dominion. In this Phar macy Establishment is where you will see the sights preparing for sick horses. Mr Sanderson and his Sons are doing well.

Well, I thought I would go over to Mr John Brown's and see what I could there I found in the Grocery Line all I wished for, besides his stock of Boots and Shoes, and they baffled all description. His Feed Store is always ready; for whatever you want he has it. John will do well. His improvements cost him about $900.

I next went to Mr Coupland's Photograph Callery, I found himself and his pictures all right. This young artist is all that could be wished for. He shaves, cuts hair, and does shampooneing in all its branches. Some people will say I will go to Crawford to get my hair cut. No; another will say, go to Coupland he will do it better; I wou't have a Sargel's cut. have a Soger's cut.

My next visit was to W. Atkinson's big store. In all the sights I ever saw it was there. It was coming on night when I went into the store and I really thought it was Walker's on King St., the goods lying in all directions, I asked one of the clerk's, Mr Sheppard, and he told me they could not help it till they got into their new store next Spring. I was leaving Mr Atkinson's when I heard that the glass for his new store had arrived. There will only be four lights in each window, each light costing $111.

I then went across to Mr Skeele's Jewel-ery Store. I don't know much about Jewelery so I am afraid to say much but after all I would know a Sovereign from a copper My next place of calling was into my old friend's G. A. Barnard. As usual there is tion in the Grocery Line, and Ready Made Clothing of every size and suitable for all ages. In the Bardware Line he is well supplied. You can get anything from a pig ring up to a screw jack at all times of I thought I would not forget Messrs Wil Jiam and Reuben Pugsley. I thought I was in the shambles when I first went into their shop. There I saw Beef, Pork, and fowls of all sorts. They had a beef there which weighed 18 cwt. These young men work shard and pull together and as the old saying is, are doing well.

Now for the Mammoth Blacksmith shop. I am no tradesman, but this establishment beats all. There are nine hands employed in this shop every day, it is more like a toundry than a blacksmith shop. Any per-son who may peruse these "Rambles" knows I do not tell lies, so you can believe

My next visit was to Mr Thomas Wilson's Fanning Mill Manufactory. I can't do this establishment justice but from what I have seen I know that they have a large atock ready to ship to fill orders. The STATIONERY OF ALL KINDS AT motto in this shop is to "pull together."

My next place was to Mr Sedman's Waggon Making Establishment. I found in fine working order. They send out ten and a great deal of job work.

My next call was to see Mr Teefy. His shop, as usual, is well supplied with every—

BOGUS MEDICINES. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND

HAVE for a considerable time past considered it to be my duty to advertise the public of the British North American Provinces against buying from unprincipled dealers medicines em-anating from New York, and sold as my "Holloway's Pills and Cintment," in which rity has been displayed in hem off as of my make. It is very difficu indeed to attempt to enumerate the many de vices to which the parties have had resource. They say, amongst other things, that a new label has been adopted by them, and with bare-faced effrontery caution the public against being deceived by spurious imitations. t

A poor man by the name of Holloway is
