

TISDALE COUNCIL MEETING DISCUSSES MANY MATTERS

Busy Session for Township Fathers at South Porcupine. Visitors to and From South Porcupine. Other Items of News from South Porcupine and the Dome.

South Porcupine, Ont., Aug. 13th, 1930. Special to The Advance.

The Tisdale township council had a lengthy session for their regular meeting on Monday evening. The reeve and all the councillors were present. After the reading of the minutes or the previous meeting they reverted to court of revision to deal with the many tax cases present. The first was a woman from the Moneta section with two children who got her taxes on two shacks cut in two. Then came a business man of the town who has several properties that have not paying tenants at present. No rebate was granted as it was thought that many of the other property owners in the district were in the same predicament. The property had been bought as a personal investment and the fact that after several years of profitable tenancy this last year was not so, councillors felt that it was a personal matter and not one for the consideration of the township. He stated that some of his lots he could not at present give away. The next was a woman who also complained that some of her property was untenanted. One house was in the flood district and the township renewed its offer to rescind taxes for the title to the land if she would remove the building. She stated she had not a lot to move it onto without buying another. Then came a woman whose husband had come in last year for a rebate on a house that had been gutted with fire. The rebate that had been allowed was only half what they had counted on, owing to a misunderstanding that the tax stood as it was on the lots. She thought there would have been a stronger Scotch streak in herself she said, if she had come instead of her husband, and that she could have got a better rebate. A widow on Workmen's Compensation is going to Saskatchewan and wanted to arrange for the taxes for her house here. The clerk was instructed to write and find out if she endangered her chance of still receiving her compensation by taking up residence elsewhere. Then came the complicated case of the evening. A had bought some property at a tax sale which formerly belonged to S and now found that he was billed with taxes for 1930 on same. He had promised to pay S another sum to get the transfer as he was informed that the dwelling but he was informed that unless S redeemed the property he had no power to give a transfer and that if A tore down the building and removed it, upon such a contingency as S redeeming it he could be required to put a building of equal value back on the property. Meanwhile A is the legal owner and the one to whom the tax notice must necessarily be sent. H. M. Wilson, manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, was present to see if some rebate could not be given on the taxes on the company's property here, owing to the fact that the good had heaved the new brick addition added a few years ago until it was necessary to team it down and rebuild in frame. This rebate was not granted. A widow from Schumacher supporting herself and three children had her taxes cancelled. By the time court of revision was over Tax Collector Smith had so many of the township's books out there for reference it looked as though a special carrier would be needed to get them all back in place again. A letter was read re the convention of the Dominion Fire Chiefs being held at Port Arthur and the request was made that the chiefs from this township, also delegates from the council attend. Immediately after the Dominion convention at Port Arthur the International Fire Chiefs' Convention is being held at Winnipeg. Grants were made to cover the travelling expenses of Chief Jacksch, of Schumacher, and Chief H. M. Wilson, of South Porcupine, to these two conventions. Some time was spent in the discussion of the police protection required for the township, some thinking the township now being so law-abiding that there would not need be so much protection especially as there are not so many people. The reeve replied that there might be fewer people but that some were bad enough that were here and the general opinion seemed to be that were the police force weakened the township would not long be very law-abiding. Sidewalk construction material was also discussed. The garage bills of the township were also discussed, the engineer explaining that the truck was used all the time instead of ever employing a team for a minute for cartage purposes. It was decided to see about coal for winter right away. H. M. Wilson thanked the council on behalf of the Porcupine Goldfields band for the new bandstands being provided both in South Porcupine and Schumacher, and said it was the purpose of the band to give two or three open air concerts a week. One had been attempted here on Sunday night but the weather had forced them indoors. Another would be given here later in the week and one on Tuesday night in Schumacher. C. Jacksch explained that the athletic grounds in Schumacher had been chosen for the band-stand in preference to down town so that there would be a place for the band on their sports days there and also so that the grandstand, such as it was afforded a resting-place to mothers and children who wished to listen to the band concerts. The routine bills and accounts were passed for payment. Among the many hostesses entertaining in honour of Mrs. Mooney one of the most enjoyable parties was given by Mrs. F. Laforest on Saturday evening. Mrs. Kincaid won the first prize and Mrs. McLennan the second. Mrs. Mooney left for her home in Ottawa on Sunday after a pleasant sojourn with her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. McLean, at the Dome Mines. Mr. Jack Dunstan, of Noranda, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Libby. Mr. Alf. Scott, of Noranda, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Beard over the week-end. The Dome softball team won over their Schumacher opponents in a game at the Dome on Monday night being on the better side of a 10-5 score. TIMMINS WINS FIRST GAME IN THE SOFTBALL FINALS

Campbell Starred in Tuesday's Game for District Honours. Second Game with Dome at Timmins To-morrow (Friday) Night.

The first of the play-offs for the softball championship was played on Tuesday evening and left Timmins with a win. With beautiful weather for the first game of the play-offs for the Marshall-Ecclestone cup given to the champion team of the Cochrane district to hold for a year, Timmins won against the Dome with a score of 6 to 4.

Leo Campbell was the big stumbling block for the Dome players. They got two runs in the first innings and looked bad for Timmins at that time, but Campbell settled down and blanketed them until the ninth innings when they scored. Campbell got himself in the hole in this innings by walking two men; in fact, he walked five altogether; but he struck out seven. Campbell also hit well as did Platus. Timmins team hit Cattarelli hard, getting twelve hits in the seven innings that he worked, but left too many men stranded on bases.

Jemmett was the best man for the Dome and his double in the fifth, the only extra base hit of the game, scored two men. He later scored himself on a wild throw by Campbell. His muff of Godin's hit in the first, however, let in two Timmins runs. Platus and E. Laflamme did the black honours for Timmins, both errors being unnecessary.

HUMMING BIRDS IN DISTRICT FOR 12 YEARS, SAYS SETTLER

A settler on a farm up the river this week was kind enough to inform The Advance that he has seen humming birds on his farm every season since he has been there, which is some dozen years or so. He noted the item in The Advance last week and was rather surprised that these little birds should be considered an oddity in the North, as he has been accustomed each year to watching them near his house, finding them very interesting little visitors. He confesses freely that he hasn't any idea whether they are new to the town or not, but he knows they are old-timers at his farm. One interesting fact he gives about the humming birds is that they are only found where there are flowers. They have a special fondness for larkspurs, he says, and the more larkspurs there may be the more humming birds there will be around. In these facts may be found a reason why there may have been no humming birds noted in the town of Timmins while there are plenty in the settled area not far away. The larkspur on the farms may have attracted and held the humming birds while the fewer of these and similar flowers in town and the greater dangers and distractions to little birds in the larger centre of population may have discouraged these interesting little birds from making their homes in Timmins. It is a fact that there are far more birds, and more varieties of birds, in the adjacent country than in the towns and villages, the more the pity. Friend settler also ventures the opinion that the humming birds stay in the North all winter. "Perhaps, I should not say that," he remarked, "but I have that idea, though I could not give many reasons for holding it." All of which is very interesting, and in the meantime, Timmins and South Porcupine have their humming birds, and are inclined to take pride in the fact. The little birds appeal to those who notice them as a novelty and they are watched with much interest.

SONS OF ENGLAND WIN IN NICE FOOTBALL TUESDAY

Win by S. O. E. Throws the Championship Race in the District League Into Doubt. Some Good Football Shown in Tuesday's Game.

In a regular district league game played on Tuesday at the athletic grounds the Sons of England won out from the Cornish by a score of 3-1. The win has made the race for the district championship very doubtful as will be seen by the league standing in another column of The Advance.

The teams lined-up as follows—S. O. E.—McDougall, goal; Thomson and Collins, backs; Hicks, Lloyd and Southcott, half-backs; Leach, Burt, Morgan, Morris; at half time Landers came on to make the full team.

Cornish—Rowe, goal; Tonkin and Hooper, backs; Strong, Hitt and Rice, half-backs; M. Tonkin, Taylor, Oliver Salter and Doddridge, forwards.

A Cadman, referee. From the very commencement of the game the S. O. E. played good football and kept it up the entire game. The Cornish defence was also giving a good account of themselves. Both teams played nice combination, the slight touches of Oliver being a feature. The S. O. E. missed a good chance when Morris kicked over the bar. The Cornish forwards paid a visit to the other end but McDougall was right on the job. Morris went down on his own, and Rowe had to make a nice save to hold his goal intact. Morris was playing his best this season. The S. O. E. maintained pressure and were rewarded at last by a lovely goal from Leach. Rowe had no chance with this fast hard drive to the corner of the net. Salter who was in fine form for the Cornish took the ball down but missed a good chance by being too eager to shoot. The Cornish were out for the equalizer and soon they were on level terms once again, Taylor scoring a fine goal. The half ending 1-1.

The S. O. E. opened the second half with a determined attack on the Cornish goal. The Cornish soon transferred the danger, Hitt clearing and Salter taking the ball down. Oliver finishing the play by giving McDougall a hot one to clear. The Cornish pressed but to no avail, the S. O. E. holding their goal clear. Morris went down the wing in fine style and got right in and passed Burt. Rowe came out to meet him and Burt headed in a nice goal before coming in collision with the goalkeeper. Burt was carried off to receive St. John Ambulance first aid attention, coming back on the field near the end. The S. O. E. had most of the game from then on, Morgan scoring the third from another pass by Morris. The game was well contested and the return to early season form of the teams will help to make championship honours a good race to the end of the season.

English and Scottish To Play Football Here

In another column reference is made to the game played by the Probables and Possibles last Thursday, and also to the fact that the team picked would play the Lake Shore of Kirkland Lake. It was suggested at the commencement of negotiations that this would make an ideal game for the benefit of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, and a date was set for the game—August 30th. The N.O.F.A. have since received a letter from Kirkland Lake to the effect that the team desired a guarantee, and this is at present having the attention of the executive; but in the meantime, Saturday, August 30th, was open and the local committee felt that in view of the circumstances, the game should go on and two teams picked from the district. One team will be all players of English birth and the other Scottish birth. This should make an interesting game of soccer. The St. John Ambulance Brigade taking the total gate, the players giving their services and also the officials. All those interested in soccer will no doubt be disappointed in the action taken by the Lake Shore but an exhibition game will be held between the District team and Lake Shore as soon as the guarantee business is settled. In the meantime plan to see the game between England and Scotland on Saturday, August 30th. Proceeds for the benefit of the St. John Ambulance Brigade.
