Self-Denial Appeals of Salvation Army

Annual Call Being Made for Funds for Social Service Work.

The annual Self-Denial Fund Appeal of the Salvation Army is being made at present for funds to carry on the Army's many good works for humanity. The name "Self-Denial" was given years ago to the appeal because of the suggestion of one of the captains that he was ready to go without tasting pudding for a year, the money that would otherwise be spent for the work of the Army. General Booth, then in command of the Army, did not adopt the idea of "going without pudding" but he did seize on the thought of some self-denial on the part of the Army officers and soldiers so that the needful would be ready to finance the work. The Army does not press the idea of self-denial on the general public, but does ask that those who can spare something, do so at this time to help the Army's social welfare work. It surely is a worthy cause and those who give to the Army are helping those in need and in trouble. Some idea of the extent of the work of the Salvation Army may be gathered from the following data of Army activity in Canada alone (and the Army does its notable work in 94 other countries):—Homes for women and girls, 22; accommodation, 1737; children's homes, 4; accommodation, 162; men's homes, 22; accommodation, 2023; prison aid centres, 34; prisoners received from courts, 2507; prisoners received on discharge, 3102; free meals during the year, 14,962; free beds during the year, 6441; hospitals, 14; schools, 71; social institutions for men and women, 76; women's rescue

Much Interest Shown in Cooking School

In a humorous and interesting manner that makes cooking an enjoyable hobby, rather than one of the necessities of everyday life, Mrs. Mary Barrett conducted the General Electric cooking school under the auspices of the Northern Power Co. at the New Empire theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, giving many helpful and delicious recipes to the very large number of local women who attended the school. Those who have not yet been at the school will take advantage of the classes this (Thursday) afternoon, and to-morrow (Friday) afternoon, when Mrs. Barrett will offer more tasty recipes and methods of preparation.

At the end of each class, a very young miss was asked to draw the winning cards, there being a special award each day besides the food which had been prepared and was also given as prizes. On Friday the major award, an electric mixer, will be drawn and some lucky lady will go home with a prize possession.

The winners on Tuesday were: Mrs. Ruth Settre, 44 Wilson avenue, special award—a toaster; Mrs. C. F. Hitch, 24 Hemlock street—the salad; Mrs. B. Richards, 86 Sixth avenue—the dinner; Mrs. Peter Amlin, 45 Fifth avenue—the cake; Mrs. Fred Tucker, 45 Windsor avenue—the cake; Mrs. S. Baranek, 37 Toke street—the cake; Mrs. E. Willan, 120 Third avenue—the cake; Mrs. G. H. Furniss, 67 Birch street south—lemon crisps; Mrs. Fitzwilliams, Mace Mines—lemon crisps; Mrs. W. J. Ramsay, 109 Maple street south—lemon crisps; Mrs. Ernest Keizen, Mace Mine—chocolate brownies; Mrs. S. H. Johnston, 109 Preston avenue—chocolate brownies.

The winners on Wednesday were: Mrs. Maude Carne, Dome Mines—ironer; Mrs. H. J. McIsaac, 114 Elm street south—salad; Mrs. McGowan, Schumacher—lemon pie; Mrs. Ian Gordon, 52 Cherry street—chocolate cake; Mrs. Roy Hardy, 46½ Third avenue—chocolate cake; Mrs. Violet Morrow, 7 Birch street south—crinkles; Mrs. A. Proulx, 44 Messines avenue—crinkles; and Mrs. D. E. Coombes, 14 Patricia—crinkles.

Mrs. Barrett illustrated the particular use that might be made of electrical equipment in the kitchen, showing that these handy "gadgets" could easily cut down the work of the housewife. Following her explanations, a hum of conversation would show the great interest the ladies took in her advice, bringing complete silence again when Mrs. Barrett continued in her instructions. It would be well for local ladies to remember that the school will continue to-day and to-morrow.
