

Some Tongue-Twisters Tried Out at T. T. Contest

(The Listener (London))

Here are some new tongue-twisters which were tried out on listeners to a Tongue Twisters' Bee between teams of actors and singers; each phrase had to be repeated quickly three times in succession. Actors won by one point, the score being 27 to 26.

Will Willie Wilkins wink or will Willie Wilkins walk?

Six thick thistle sticks.

Should such a shapeless sash such shabby stitches show?

Proudly the prancing prancing panther passes.

The sea seetheth and it sufficeth us.

The shuddering soldier shrugged his shoulders.

In which ditch wishes rich Miss Dish to fish?

My sister has a silver thistle sifter.

A glowing gleam growing green.

Flesh of freshly fried flying fish.

Which switch, Miss, is the switch for Ipsich, Miss?

Cracked cricket critics.

Are you copper-bottoming 'em, my man? No, I'm aluminiuming 'em. Mum.

She sells seashells, sherry and sandshoes.

A selfish shellfish smelt a stale fish.

Sixty-six sick sheep need sixty-six shepherds.

United States twin screw steel cruisers.

A poor pauper paused on purpose to pawn a porpoise.

Royal Train Job Re-Unites Family Parted 25 Years

Montreal, July 5.—When Chef Tommy Gear was put in charge of the Canadian National Railways dining car on the train which conveyed their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, across Canada and back and down to the United States, the news somehow got into the home-town papers. Tommy hails originally from Shelburne, Nova Scotia. On the far side of the continent, in a place in California called Mill Valley, Mrs. Annie McKenzie read the news. Nova Scotia is "back home" to her, too, and she takes the Yarmouth paper to keep in touch. The result was that Tommy got a telegram from a sister he hadn't heard of for a quarter of a century. He didn't even know she was in California. The wire was delivered to him when the Royal Train was in Halifax.

"Are you going out to see her?" a reporter asked. "No," said Tommy. "Not until I'm rested up." With the other members of the Royal Train crew he is now on vacation. "Later on, I'll probably go," he said. "I wrote her a letter and sent her photographs of the King and Queen."

Town Fathers Prove Selves Followers of Goddess Terpsichore

"Tamarack Her Down" and "Jitterbug Jive" No Strangers to Members of Council.

Discussion by the council at its meeting on Monday of whether or not Rival Fournier would be granted a licence to run a public hall on the lot at the eastern extremity of the Town, over Mountjoy Creek, evokes a surprising amount of terpsichorean lore from the members of Council.

They proved themselves no strangers to the old fashioned perhaps but very popular square dance, not unfamiliar with the modified forms of present day dancing such as the fox trot and the waltz, and even conversant with the terminology of "swing".

Police Inspector Olson said that he knew Fournier and always found him to be a reputable citizen and a gentleman. Still, he was inclined to believe that a dance hall in that section of the town would attract a rough crowd and that only cheap and rough dances could be run there. He favoured refusal of the application.

"Well," said councillor Homer Gauthier, "it would keep that class of people in one place. Down there it would be 'Go to the left and go to the right and tamarack her down on the old pine floor'."

"What," said councillor McNeil with a surprised look on his face, "no jitterbugs?"

The matter was finally deferred. Perhaps the Town Fathers will look into the matter of square dance technique as opposed to "jive" and "rug cutting."

Gerald D. O'Meara Named Candidate for Temiskaming

Overwhelming Choice of Conservative Convention.

Engleheart, July 6.—(Special to The Advance)—The expected happened at the convention of the Conservative party at Engleheart yesterday afternoon, when an enthusiastic gathering chose Gerald D. O'Meara, Kirkland Lake lawyer who is a former reeve of Teek township, to contest Temiskaming in the party interest at the forthcoming Dominion general election. Mr. O'Meara carried the convention on the only ballot taken, unofficially being reported as having secured all but 21 of the 258 votes cast, the balance being split between George Mitchell, K.C., of Kirkland Lake, and David C. Ross, of Halleybury, who also contested the gathering.

In announcing the result, the chairman, John Hough, of Charlton, merely said Mr. O'Meara "has such a predominance of votes that I need not mention the number." In all, six names were submitted to the meeting, but three of the nominees, Dr. E. F. Armstrong, of Cobalt, former M. P. for the riding, Captain Thomas Maglader, of New Liskeard and one-time M.P.P. for Temiskaming and Dr. J. A. H. Joyal, of Halleybury, all withdrew, although it had been announced previously Dr. Joyal would allow his name to go forward.

Mr. O'Meara, who has practised law in Kirkland Lake since 1922—he moved north then from North Bay, where he had first established himself two years before—told the convention he would do his utmost "to deserve your confidence." All nominees were asked to pledge themselves to a resolution prepared by Cobalt asking the successful candidate, if elected, to take steps to have legislation introduced to give aid the silver mining industry, and on this point Mr. O'Meara expressed his sympathy and support.

The meeting was held in the theatre building, and the heat was so intense speeches were cut short, Gordon Graydon, M.P. for Peel and Hon. W. A. Gordon, K.C., confining themselves to brief addresses to the delegates on hand. At the outset of the meeting, the delegates unanimously went on record as giving "heartily and sincere support" to Dr. R. J. Manion, Dominion leader, in the forthcoming campaign, and as being "in hearty accord" with the party platform. Nominees were each allowed ten minutes in which to address the gathering, and in the time at his disposal Captain Maglader said he was retiring from politics so far as this convention is concerned, and he thanked supporters for their help in the last provincial fight. He intimated also that the successful candidate then "did not receive a majority of the legal votes" cast at the polls. Mr. Ross spoke briefly on the railway problem, saying he expected to see more railways built in the future, and Mr. Mitchell dealt with unemployment and also the silver question.

Mr. O'Meara, described by his proposer, Dr. R. J. Neelands, as of "Cabernet timber," asked for a fighting organization behind him and said he was looking forward for voluntary financial support, as distinct from what he termed "the disgraceful spectacle" in this riding of money bags behind certain candidate. He promised to do nothing at Ottawa "that will betray the trust reposed in me." Dr. Armstrong spoke of the Cobalt resolution, which had asked that the "candidate pledge himself to do all in his power to introduce legislation by which the Canadian government would purchase newly-mined Canadian silver at a fixed price, sufficient to keep in operation Canadian silver mines and thus keep the silver industry alive."

Ask Organization of Drug Employees by Council Members

Council Urges Department of Highways to Correct Dangerous Condition of Road.

Organization of drug store employees was seen by the Mayor and Councillors Armstrong and McCabe as the only way to enforce shorter hours of employment in those businesses at a meeting of the council on Monday evening.

The matter, which has been the source of much discussion, was precipitated on Monday when Councillor Gauthier asked the Mayor why he made a recent statement to the effect that there would be no more meetings between the Council and the druggists.

"What I said," corrected the Mayor, "was that, so far as I was concerned, there would be no more meetings. We can't take on the business of the local pharmaceutical society and enforce their laws. It seems hopeless to try and negotiate with them."

"Well," said Councillor Gauthier, "they are still wide open selling hard-ware on Sundays. We would have the Lords' Day Inspector come right here and settle the matter."

What, asked the Mayor, was the public going to say when it could not buy cigarettes or newspapers on Sunday. The public wouldn't stand for it.

The idea, said Councillor Armstrong, was to limit the hours of work of drug employees. It was a difficult problem and the only solution seemed to be for members of the Council to get out and organize the employees and have them set up their code.

"Yes," said the Mayor, "it is up to them to take the initiative."

"The bakers and carpenters got what they wanted. It is up to us to get out and organize," said Councillor McCabe.

Amendments to the Mining Act passed at the recent session of the Legislature include Part VIIIA, known as the Refinery Provisions.

Under these amendments a refinery is defined as any apparatus or equipment which may be used for the treating by any method of any ore, mineral or substance for the purpose of recovering or determining the quantity of gold, platinum, silver or any other precious metal therefrom or therein; and no person shall own, operate, use or have any refinery in his possession, under his control or upon any property of which he is the owner, licensee, lessee or tenant unless a Refinery License has been granted in respect of such refinery.

The above amendments come into force on August 1, 1939. For further information apply to the Department of Mines, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.
