Kiwanis Carnival This Evening and To-morrow Night to be Happy Event

Named "Win-the-War" Carnival Because of Its Patriotic Associations. Proceeds for War Work and Social Welfare Activities of Kiwanis Club. Interesting Programme Promised.

Everything is all set for the Kiwanis Win-the-War Carnival to-night and to-morrow night, August 8th and 9th, to be a complete and enjoyable success. Good weather will make the occasion the best yet, and the Kiwanis street carnivals have been a popular feature for years. The Kiwanis has been granted permission by the town council to use Cedar street from Third avenue to Fourth for the purposes of the carnival. There will be booths of all kinds, and games of all kinds, and a good time of every kind. Bingo, and other popular games will be featured and it is worthy of note that all games will be in charge of well-known local residents. This plan has been adopted to assure everyone a fair deal and a fair chance. Everybody will profit by the occasion. There will be fun for all and even the money anyone may spend will be patriotically invested because it will go to the Kiwanis funds in aid of war work and social welfare effort for community benefit.

There is no charge for admission to the street carnival. The only charges are for the various interesting and amusing games. There will be a tempting array of prizes and awards. Much interest is centred in the valuable new Peterborough launch and engine (8 h.p.) to be given away free. This handsome prize has been won by display at the Goldfields Hotel corner, and has been attracting crowds of interested people. Four young ladies have had desks near the same corner and anyone admiring the launch has the opportunity to purchase tickets for this pleasing prize.

As in past years one of the extra features of the carnival will be the street dancing. There will be good music for this, and as the dancing is free, it ought to add to the happiness of the occasion. Refreshment and other booths will assure the convenience and interest of the carnival.

The Kiwanis Club has issued a very hearty and sincere invitation to all to attend this year's carnival and enjoy its many features. Remember the place and the dates—Cedar street from Third to Fourth—Thursday and Friday evenings, August 8th and 9th.

Be sure to be there one night—or both.

Collection of Old Articles for Red Cross Big Success

The collection of articles conducted by the Red Cross Society in Timmins on Friday and Saturday was very successful, in fact so much so that the workers had to continue their collection work for an extra two days making four full days in which members of the Red Cross, and Boy Scouts devoted their time to the collection of waste paper, rags, metals and miscellaneous articles. These articles will be sold by the Red Cross and will be used again by the Canadian people thus conserving the country's wealth.

Timmins residents were especially generous in their donations to the collection, and although no definite amount can be estimated, the total amount collected was exceptionally gratifying. Those in charge of the work endeavoured to call at every home, but if by chance, any home was neglected, the Red Cross wishes to state that the collection will be monthly and that residents of the town will be advised well ahead of time, of the dates of the next collection.

The president, Mrs. H. Friedman, and the campaign committee in charge of the collection of miscellaneous articles conducted by the Red Cross throughout Timmins on Friday and Saturday of last week, wish to thank all those who assisted in making the collection the great success that it was, and also to extend a special "thank you" to those who contributed so generously to the collection.

FODDER FOR PLANES

With the tremendous speeding up of airplane production in Great Britain, the need for metals has become an ever-increasing demand. In particular, aluminum is needed to make parts for darting fighter planes and heavier bombing craft. Scenes like this are common as British housewives give up their extra pots and pans so that the aluminum can be converted into needed plane parts.

Mrs. J. G. Sipprell Passes at Noranda Monday this Week

Former Valued Resident of Timmins Succumbs to Pneumonia.

A large number of friends in this district were greatly shocked at the news this week of the death of Mrs. J. G. Sipprell at Noranda on Monday. Mrs. Sipprell had been ill for about two weeks with pneumonia, and although her condition was not reported as greatly improved, the news of the death came as a sudden shock to her family and to the numerous friends throughout the North Country.

The late Mrs. Sipprell was the wife of Mr. J. G. Sipprell, who was employed at the Pamour Mines for several years, the family moving to Noranda only about a year ago, where Mr. Sipprell took a position with the Noranda Mines. In Timmins and district, Mrs. Sipprell was a respected and admired citizen, and was known for her musical activities, being a fine pianist. She was a member of the Porcupine Women's Music and Literary Society, and was one of the active members who aided in building this organization to what it was before disbandment last fall.

Left to mourn her loss are her husband, two sons, Roy and Robert at Kirkland Lake, and her parents in Halifax, N.S.

Mrs. H. Leduc, of Gravenhurst, is the guest of Mrs. Robitaille, revisiting Timmins after many years absence and finding the town so changed and developed that she can scarcely believe it the same place in which she lived years ago when Mr. Leduc conducted a grocery and meat store next door to The Advance office.

Aerial Warfare Sharper

British Attacks Cause Evacuation of Ruhr and the Banks of Rhine.

Two waves of German warplanes raided an unnamed town in the southwest of England last night and early today as German airmen suddenly accelerated their attacks on Great Britain.

At least nine German planes were shot down along the southeast coast. Two R.A.F. planes were missing.

The Germans twice dropped brilliant flares to light up the whole town. Immediately after the dull boom of bombs was heard on the outskirts and then the roar of R.A.F. planes rising to intercept the enemy.

Scores of searchlights swept the sky as the engines of the bombers were distinctly heard. First reports indicated that there were at least one or two casualties and property damage.

Meanwhile the R.A.F. has intensified its attacks on Germany and German-held Europe. Two persons were killed and six others wounded and considerable damage done to hangars and fields in the "intense bombing" of LeBourget field, outside Paris, by British raiders.

Information from Moulins, France, said that the German authorities were evacuating the Ruhr and banks of the Rhine, sending civilians into eastern France to escape the terrific British bombing.

Today's attack was confined to one locality.

British forces are likely to make a stand against the Italian offensive into Somaliland it was reported today. They are expected to take up position along a range of hills south of the important port of Berbera, on the Gulf of Aden.

The Italian offensive, already having resulted in the occupation of Zella port, permitted the Italians to proceed along a coastal road but that path was said difficult. Military sources said it was not certain what progress, if any, the Italians were making along the coastal road from Zella to Bulhar and Berbera, a distance of 150 miles. It was emphasized that forces advancing along that road would be vulnerable to attack by British naval forces in the Gulf.

Military sources suggested that the Italians were establishing long lines of communication and that this might make British counter attack possible or might result in severe punishment of the Fascist forces.

British aerial forces today struck at Italian Libyan bases from which an attack might be launched against Egypt. Bardia and other Italian Mediterranean aerial and naval bases were bombed.

The R.A.F. issued the following communique:

"There was considerable activity on all fronts yesterday, many valuable reconnaissance flights being made. At Bardia (in Italian Libya) the shipping harbour and store buildings were attacked.

"One large building was demolished. "While carrying out reconnaissance work in the Tobruk area, August 6, one of our flying boats was shot down and one of our crew killed. The remainder, three of whom were wounded, were taken prisoner."

"The Italian East African submarine base at Massaua was raided by R.A.F. bombers on August 6 and 7. Reports indicate direct hits were registered on a naval vessel, the quay and one submarine. All aircraft returned safely.

The British troops were reported today to have had orders to inflict as much damage as possible on the advancing Italians without making any stand which would have necessitated considerable casualties to themselves.

The hills south of Berbera were said by military authorities to be "natural lines of defence" and first stiff British resistance is expected there.

Messrs. Dave Morgan, Bill Cummings, and Bert Morris of Hamilton left last week after spending a few weeks in Timmins the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Greenidge of 199 Toke street.

South Porcupine, Aug. 7.—(Special to The Advance).—Five people were taken to hospital here late on Saturday night suffering from injuries incurred when the cars in which they were riding came together in a head-on collision on the Pamour paved highway.

The cars in the South End Garage and have provided sight-seers with food for speculation and thought these past few days. The engine of one car is shoved in so badly and the car such a wreck that the occupants are indeed lucky to be alive.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Walker, of Kirkland Lake, and Mr. Dan Walker, of 171 Huot St., South Porcupine, were driving to Connaught from Timmins. Mr. Dominic Tanarelli and Aaro Ristamaki, of Schumacher, were returning home to Schumacher when the two cars collided on the first turn in the road from the Pamour Mine going west.

The official enquiry has not been held but it would appear that one car failed to make the curve.

Mrs. Walker, besides minor bruises and shock, has two fractured legs, and after preliminary treatment at the Porcupine General Hospital was put on the train on Tuesday for Toronto where she will receive special attention at the Toronto General hospital.

Mr. Walker received treatment for bruises and lacerations as did his brother, both leaving hospital next day. Tanarelli is suffering from a broken foot, and Ristamaki from a smashed elbow.
