IN MEMORIAM

McFADDEN—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, James McFadden, who passed away July 16th, 1940.

God knew that he was suffering, That the hills were hard to climb, So He closed his weary eyelids, And whispered "Peace Be Thine." Away in the beautiful hills of God, By the valley of rest so fair, Some time, some day, we know not when,

We will meet our loved one there. Ever remembered by wife and family. 57

Higher Taxes and Costs Affect Hollinger Profits

Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines earned a net profit of $2,562,587, equal to 52 cents per share, in the six months ended June 30, according to a preliminary estimated operating statement issued Monday. This compares with a net of $2,968,430 equal to 60.2 cents per share in the corresponding period of 1940.

Decline in earnings was attributable to various causes, including a decline of 13 cents per ton in the grade of ore mined, an increase of eight cents per ton in operating costs, an increase of $136,748 in taxes and a decline of $36,460 in miscellaneous income, while reserves for depreciation and expenses on outside properties increased $63,808. Production for the period under review was $3,335,819 from 890,098 tons of ore for an average recovery of 39.37 per cent. Operating costs totalled $4,484,200 or $5.03 per ton, while taxes amounted to $1,286,748 and write-offs took $266,667. Miscellaneous income was $264,384.

One expense item shows that the company paid its employees a cost of living bonus aggregating $99,326 during the period, a charge not previously included.

Watch Out for Any Counterfeit Ten Dollar U.S. Bills

Some Reported as Found in Circulation in Sudbury.

Merchants and others in Timmins are urged to be on the lookout for counterfeit U.S. $10 bills. Some such bogus bills have been passed recently in Sudbury, and that means almost a certainty that in a few days they will reach here. For years The Advance has watched similar cases and it has almost invariably happened that a few days after counterfeit money of any kind is reported from Sudbury or North Bay there will be sure to be some of the same stuff showing up here. This is particularly the fact in cases where one or more persons are attempting to pass the counterfeit money. It would appear that as soon as the game is worked in the southern towns and cities effort is made at once to carry it out in the rich areas of the North.

At Sudbury there has been a mild epidemic of this counterfeit money passing. This means that if a gang is concerned they are already on their way north. It would be well to be on the watch for them. In case attempt is made to pass a counterfeit bill the police should be promptly informed. This is the way to stop the game.

One Sudbury bank manager states he has recently received back from head office no less than five American bills taken in at Sudbury with the notation that they are counterfeit.

Sudbury police are making an investigation in an endeavour to find out the source of these bills.

The portrait appearing on the bill is one of the main means of telling whether it is counterfeit. On a legal $10 American bill the lines on the portrait are forty-two one-hundredths of an inch apart, according to the Sudbury bank manager. When this is attempted on a counterfeit bill the result is blurred lines, giving the picture a darker appearance than on a legal bill.

Another way of telling, according to the bank manager, is by the fine silk lines that run through the bill. These lines will be found different in a legal bill from a counterfeit bill only after careful inspection by a magnifying glass.

The United States treasury has recently instituted a change in bills by using nylon or rayon threads to replace the imported silk thread previously used, according to a bulletin from the United States treasury.

Previously, the silk used in making paper currency for the United States came principally from Japan.

Hiawatha Lodge Delightful Place for Vacation Time

Featured by Beautiful Scenery, Notable Hunting and Fishing.

One of the delightful new health and recreation resorts is Hiawatha Lodge, about 36 miles from Oba. There is one large lodge and five large log cabins. The trip from Oba itself is well worth while, the scenery along the way being of the most attractive sort. The resort is located on the Hiawatha Mines property, which is located on Kahenakagami Lake, a beautiful lake dotted with lovely islands. The trip from Oba to Hiawatha Lodge is all made by motor boat. Although Hiawatha Lodge is in the heart of the woods, and apparently far away from cities and towns, there is running hot and cold water, bathroom and other modern comforts at Hiawatha. There is enough of beauty to make a holiday at Hiawatha a delight, but there are other attractions—hunting, fishing and games. Speckled trout, pickerel and pike await the fisherman, while in the fall the moose hunting is the best there is.

Hiawatha Lodge is operated by Messrs Roy and J. McCarthy, of Oba. Mrs. Roy McCarthy was formerly Miss Eleanor Lawson, of Timmins.

Tourist's Body Recovered from River Near Sudbury

Sudbury, July 16—The body of Harry C. Redding, Columbus, Ohio, realtor, was brought to Sudbury late Saturday night after being recovered from the swift waters of the French river, about 12 miles south of Noelleville. The body rested at Jackson's Funeral Home Sunday and was shipped back to Columbus Sunday night.

The vacation which the American tourist was enjoying at Pine Cove camp, on Wolsley bay, ended tragically Friday afternoon while he was on a fishing expedition with a friend, L. Burrell, also of Columbus, and a guide, Alex Penassi, of Sturgeon Falls.

Gasoline Stations to Close Nights and on Sundays

All Sales on Cash and Carry Plan. Gasoline Also Up One Cent.

Commencing in a few days, the sale of gasoline and oil will be prohibited throughout Canada between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m., and on Sundays, entirely. This order will be gazetted shortly.

To restrict consumption further, the price will be raised one cent a gallon. This went into effect yesterday. These drastic moves were announced by G. R. Cottrell, Oil Controller for Canada. They are necessitated by the emergency which has pressed all available tankers into the transportation of oil to Britain and thereby cut down supplies of crude coming to Canada. A major part of the crude still reaching this country is needed for aviation and war industry purposes.

The order, coupled with an appeal to the driving public to reduce their driving by 50 per cent, also carried the warning that should these measures prove inadequate to combat the serious shortage, a system of rationing will be introduced in the autumn.

The use of credit cards will be prohibited and gasoline and oil can be sold in future only on the cash-and-carry basis.

It is estimated that the success of the Oil Controller's move will ensure 294,000,000 extra gallons of gasoline will be made available for Canada's war needs.

The appeal to the public will be made on patriotic grounds. It is understood that a gigantic campaign will begin almost immediately apprising the driving public of the dire necessity of conserving the supply of gas and oil. It will be pointed out that, without sufficient gasoline and oil Canada's war effort will be seriously handicapped. The appeal will be one directly to the citizen, and will be on lines similar to the Victory Loan campaign.

It is believed by officials in charge of the forthcoming campaign that the individual citizen will become so conscious of the critical situation that any person seen wasting gasoline or oil will be the target for severe public criticism.

A recent survey made by Federal government officials here shows that Ontario stands second high in the list of pleasure-driving provinces, with a percentage of 34.6. British Columbia tops the list with 42.5.

It is learned that the oil and gasoline situation in Canada is considered so serious that only lack of time, and the intricate organization necessary, prevented immediate introduction of a system of rationing.

"I have no faith whatsoever in a voluntary appeal to the public, backed by an expensive newspaper advertising campaign," was Premier M. F. Hepburn's comment on the announcement. "For God's sake let's come out once with a clear cut policy and make such restrictions mandatory. The people will acquiesce."

The Premier said the Ontario Government will back such a policy, even though it stands to suffer more from loss of revenue than any other province.

Consideration, he said, should be given to American tourists.

Two Suspects Are Arrested Here for Robbery in Swastika

Both Are Released on Monday After Police Find They Are Innocent. Police Claim Robber is Not in Timmins.

Wilfred Salomaa and George W. Down, described by Timmins police as "drifters," were arrested last Saturday morning on charges of vagrancy and were released Monday afternoon. They were being held on suspicion in connection with a robbery that occurred in Swastika early last Friday morning.

These two men arrived in Timmins "riding the rods," just after the robbery and were picked up by the Timmins police as suspects. After picking the men up, the Timmins police forwarded pictures and descriptions of the pair to the police at Kirkland Lake. On Monday police here were told by the police from Kirkland Lake that the pair arrested here were not the ones who robbed George Wing, proprietor of the Ideal Cafe in Swastika. The men were then released and the charges of vagrancy against them were withdrawn.

Wing was held-up and robbed of $45 early last Friday morning, but before his assailant left, the cafe proprietor was able to get a good description of the robber. Teck police immediately sent this description to all police organizations in Northern Ontario with the result that the next morning two suspects were picked up in Timmins. Timmins police ventured the opinion yesterday afternoon that the robber is not around Timmins or they would have him locked up by now.

Hon. Gordon Conant, Attorney-General, has started to use the bus service to go to and from his office each day, the purpose being to save gasoline in accordance with the spirit of the request from the government for the conservation of gasoline. Hon. Mr. Conant is putting away his own car so far as general use is concerned.

Some Humorous Slogans Seen in the Old Country

(From the Wireless School Review Slogans seen in England by Capt. T. R. C. A. F.)

W. Jones, Y.M.C.A. who has just returned from that country:
On a barber shop, next door to a house that had had a direct hit made by a bombing raid, was this one:
"We had a close shave — what about you?"

The front of a restaurant in Bloomsbury Square was destroyed and the proprietor has covered up the places where the doors and windows had been with black tar paper so as to comply with blackout regulations. He had scrawled in big chalk letters the following slogan:
"Never mind the blasted windows—come right in!"

In a building where the security element of training was being rigidly enforced was this typical Cockney humorous sign:
"Don't tell anything you know—be like Dad, keep Mum."

One of the best was on a paper hanger's establishment that was almost completely wrecked by one of Hitler's bombs. The discerning proprietor put up this sign:
"Hitler's bomb wrecked this building, we call this unfair competition for it was just professional jealousy that made the paper-hanger Munch attack us this way!"

Recruiting Situation Not Considered Satisfactory

Although the 32,000 recruits asked by Col. Ralston, Minister of Defence, have been secured, the recruiting situation is still considered as unsatisfactory. There appeared to be some difficulty in securing the 32,000 needed for the immediate present, while it is known that if the war continues there will be a steady stream of new recruits needed the minute that the Canadian Army overseas is sent to any actual battle front or is faced with battle conditions in case of a German invasion of Britain. The latter is not considered probable now, but there is a growing belief that Britain will at least make raids on the continent. In such an event it is likely that the Canadians would be in action and in that case a steady stream of recruits would be essential to keep the forces up to full strength and to provide the necessary reserves.

Expect United States in the War, Sooner or Later

(Turner Catledge, Washington Correspondent in the New York Times)
The preponderance of opinion in Washington, official and unofficial, still runs to the probability that the United States will become involved actively in the war before it is over. Responsible officials still publicly express the hope that it may be avoided, but few continue to insist that America can detour around the actual "shooting". And these few no longer include President Roosevelt.

As the capital views it, the only sure way this country has of keeping out of the actual fray is for peace to be restored quickly in Europe, and no one seriously entertains the notion that that is likely or even possible. All considerations, therefore, return to the question, "When?"

This does not mean at all that the administration has it in mind now to ask eventually for a declaration of war and is simply biding its time. It does not imply by any means that they want war.

It is meant to suggest, however, that most officials, administrative and Congressional, realize that we have come so far in our policies that actions to effectuate them will very probably, sooner or later, provoke actual combat.
