Open House Offers Look at University Life

November 01, 1999
77-99

Academic programs, extracurricular activities and life in residence – senior high school students are now reviewing these and other aspects of university as they draw up the short list of schools they hope to attend. To help families make the right decision, Wilfrid Laurier University is again opening its doors to prospective students and their parents.

Laurier will host its annual open house this Friday (November 5). More than 1,000 visitors – most coming from within a 100-kilometre radius of Waterloo – will tour campus, speak with faculty and students, and learn about typical students' projects and research.

The day begins at 9:30 a.m. with opening remarks in the Athletics Complex. Campus tours will leave from there. Each of Laurier's undergraduate faculties will hold an information session in the morning, while afternoon seminars will cover such topics as admission requirements, residence life and financial aid.

Parking is free for the day, though visitors should avoid reserved spots.

For more information about the University's open house, or to book a tour for another day, please contact Laurier Liaison Services at (519) 884-0710 ext. 3385.
