WATERLOO – The Robert Langen Art Gallery will showcase the talents of on-campus artists during the annual Laurier Art Show, which runs from February 27 to March 15. The event offers artists in the Laurier community the chance to display their work in a non-juried show.

“The annual Laurier art exhibition continues to showcase an exciting and diverse range of artwork,” says curator Suzanne Luke. “The enthusiasm to participate in this non-juried exhibition is outstanding.”

The show, sponsored by the Laurier bookstore, is an open call, which means any interested member of the Laurier community can submit artwork. Some of the artwork will be for sale by the individual artists.

As Wilfrid Laurier University’s visual arts centre since 1989, the Robert Langen Art Gallery provides knowledge, stewardship, appreciation and enjoyment of Canadian art and culture to the community. The gallery is located in the John Aird Centre and is open 12 noon to 5 p.m. from Wednesdays to Saturdays. Admission is free.
