

Cornelia Hoogland will read from her new children's book, Marrying the Animals. Jose Ventura, who exhibited at the SAG earlier this year, did the artwork featured on the cover the book. Also, Susan Musgrave will be doing a reading at the gallery next spring.

— Carole Badgley, Administrator
/Curator, Seymour Art Gallery.

"yuba-10" by Taiga Chiba. Dye, Fabric Paint.

Showing at the
Seymour Art Gallery
September 13 -
October 8.

I am over the moon about the Centennial Theatre's terrific Family Festival. We've booked five shows for kids and their families starting with Eric Nagler (a "Parents Choice" award winner) and his musical magic in September. Following right along, to light up our stage in October, is another favourite, Charlotte Diamond and her Hug Bug Band.

Next the puppets of the Mermaid Theatre of Nova Scotia are back with a show about a mouse born into a human family living in the upper east side of New York City.

The Family Festival has two performances each month until March. I think that's lots to be excited about.

— Oksana Dexter, Cultural Services Coordinator, Centennial Theatre Centre.

Trent Arterberry will be part of Centennial
Theatre's Family
Festival on December 17
at 11:30am &
2:00 pm.

Win Free Tickets To Join The Crowds At The Vancouver Playhouse For "Three Tall Women."

(a Canadian Premiere!)

"... a unique look at the three stages of a woman's life, an elderly woman facing death is confronted by her twenty-something and middle-aged selves, who demand to know how they could have become her."

Answer the following questions:

1. How many productions will Susan Cox direct this season at the Vancouver Playhouse? (See Susan Cox profile for help)
2. Where did you get your copy of Arts Alive?

Fax (984-3563), e-mail (aalive@wimsey.com), mail (148 East 2nd St. North Vancouver, V7L 1C3), courier, or Pony Express your correct responses with your name, address and telephone number to Arts Alive by Friday, September 29 at 5pm and you will be eligible to win one pair of tickets to "Three Tall Women" at the Vancouver Playhouse.

Sorry, one entry per person.

ARTS
A L I V E

The Vancouver Playhouse
Theatre Company

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO THE

FANS AWARD 1995

(FUND FOR THE ARTS
ON THE NORTH SHORE)

PRESENTED BY THE NORTH SHORE ARTS COMMISSION

1995 Award sculpture by North Shore artist Marina Pappas

HONOURING AN INTERNATIONALLY RENOWNED
NORTH SHORE ARTIST

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1995 8 PM

PRESENTATION HOUSE ARTS CENTRE,
333 CHESTERFIELD AVENUE, NORTH VANCOUVER

A CELEBRATION FEATURING LIVE ENTERTAINMENT,
PRIZES, HORS D'OEUVRES, WINE AND MORE!

TICKETS $20 EACH AVAILABLE FROM THE NORTH SHORE ARTS
COMMISSION, 148 E. 2ND ST., NORTH VANCOUVER.
CALL 980-3559 TO RESERVE YOUR TICKETS