

gift ideas

Arts Alive's Holiday Gift Ideas

The District of West Vancouver will be selling Christmas cards, designed by the winner of the Kids Christmas Card Competition at the Ferry Building Art Gallery (925-7290). Pictured above is last year's winning card which was designed by North Shore artist Elizabeth J. Austin.

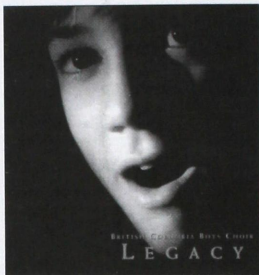

Cornucopia of Creative Gifts. A juried sale of original art and craftwork from B.C. artists will take place at the Seymour Art Gallery, November 27-December 1, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Pictured above is North Vancouver resident Trevor Guernsey holding one of his metal designs that will be for sale, and Tracey Tarling, one of the sale's organizers, showing off decoupage boxes and journals designed by local artist Colleen Bonus.

ARTS

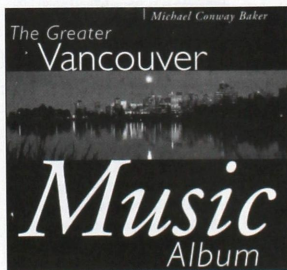

A L I V E

A year's subscription to Arts Alive is only $15 plus GST. It's one of those gifts that keeps on giving.

Call 984-9537 to order your subscription.

The British Columbia Boys Choir has an excellent CD, Legacy, for sale for $18.95. It's a wonderful selection of season music spanning the choir's 27-year history and would make a unique addition to anyone's music collection. The choir's other CD, Jubilate, is a recording which commemorates the choir's 25th Anniversary Tour and contains a wide range of songs, including folk songs, 16th-century motets, 17th-century recessionals and a cappella pieces.

North Vancouver composer Michael Conway Baker was commissioned to make this lyrical walk through some of Vancouver's many cosmopolitan scenes. Vancouver AM Tourism Association is promoting this CD to Vancouver's tourists as an alternative to the traditional maple syrup and salmon souvenirs of Canada.