Arts Alive is published by the Arts and Culture Commission of North Vancouver

The Arts and Culture Commission of North Vancouver (ACCNV) is dedicated to enhancing the quality of life for the whole North Shore community through The Arts, thriving both as an industry and as a recreation. The Arts and Culture Commission of North Vancouver is jointly funded by the City of North Vancouver and the District of North Vancouver. It is an arms-length body created to serve as an advisory board to municipal government dealing with local cultural issues and servicing the arts/cultural needs of the community. Please visit our website for more info: www.arts-alive.ca

Advertise in Arts Alive

Arts Alive Magazine has the best print ad sales rates in town! For the price of one ad in many competitor magazines you can get six Arts Alive ads and have exposure for an entire year.

In keeping with its mission to build arts awareness, audiences, and support, Arts Alive's distribution objective is to make this publication accessible not only to the North Shore arts community, but to the community at large – the magazine is dropped off at 130+ key locations on the North Shore, at the Vancouver Seabus Terminal and at select downtown and gateway locations throughout Vancouver.
