JUNE LIBRARY NEWS

SUNDAYS AT THE LIBRARY

Sunday opening has now ended for the summer months, to resume on the Sunday following Thanksgiving, i.e. October 16th. If you or members of your family use the Memorial Library on Sundays, perhaps you could take a moment during the next week or so to jot down on one of our pink suggestion forms whether you think:

- the present 1-5 p.m. Sunday openings between mid-October and the end of April are about right, or
- the number of Sundays should be increased (starting earlier in the Fall or running later in the Spring - or running right through the year?), or
- the number of Sundays should remain the same but the hours should be increased to e.g. 10 a.m. - 5 p.m., or
- a combination of (b) and (c).

When we first introduced Sunday opening four years ago we closed the Library four hours earlier each Friday (at 5 p.m.) in order to offset the costs of Sunday operation. This was not a very popular move and the Library Board was pleased when Council provided the funding to reinstate the Friday evening
